

DEATHS.

After suffering from a complication of diseases for some months, Mrs. John A. Woodward died at her home in Howard. Interment was made Monday of last week in Williamsport.

The deceased was the youngest daughter of ex-Governor William F. Packer, and born in Williamsport, March 16, 1847. After her marriage to Mr. Woodward, she and her husband lived for a while in Williamsport, but almost forty years ago they moved onto the Packer homestead, near Howard, where they continued to reside until a few years ago when they moved to Howard borough.

The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church. She is survived by her husband and these three children:

Annie Harriet, of Howard; William P., of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and Charles V., of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Reese, one of the twenty-four real daughters of the Revolution, died on Muncy Mountain, in Patton township, aged ninety-seven years, seven months, thirteen days. She was the daughter of Eleazer Evans, who came to America from Wales. He enlisted in Capt. Hallman's company and served until the close of the war. She was born at Pine Grove Mills, but shortly after her marriage to Christian Reese moved to the home where the aged lady died.

Cow Bobber at Rebersburg.

Rebersburg has a cow tail bobber according to the Reporter's correspondent in that town, and some time ago bobbed the tail of a cow belonging to Harvey Limbert, while in the pasture lot. The correspondent says there is strong suspicion resting upon a certain individual, and it is thought proof can be produced that will convict.

Long ago bobbing was practiced to a large extent, and was one of the evils resorted to by the meanest and most contemptible beings to even up imaginary and real wrongs, but the fact that the Rebersburg case is the only one reported to this office in ten years indicates that bobbers are almost extinct. Brush Valley should make every possible effort to rid itself of the scoundrel who has brought that section into prominence by bobbing.

Tusseyville.

After a period of five years spent at Cresson in teaching music and acting as cashier in a large department store, Miss Effie Ishler returned to her home. Miss Ishler has handed over her work to another, and will remain at home for an indefinite length of time.

Miss Rebecca Spangler, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is improving.

Harry McClellan spent two days of last week on business at Philadelphia.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. A. F. Heckman had the members of her Sunday School class meet at her home. Later they went to the church at Tusseyville where they had their pictures taken by Ernest Zettie.

PASSPORTS.

Method of Applying For Them to the State Department.

Passports are issued to citizens of the United States upon application to the state department in Washington. The application must be accompanied by an affidavit attested by a notary public or other officer empowered to administer oaths stating that the applicant is a citizen and giving the place of birth and age, and it must be accompanied by the certificate of one other citizen to whom he is personally known that the declaration made by the applicant is true.

The application must be accompanied by a description of the person, particularly as to age, height, complexion, forehead, eyes, nose, mouth, chin, hair and face. Blank forms are furnished by the state department on application. The fee for each passport is $1. Citizens traveling abroad may also obtain passports by applying to United States ambassadors and ministers.

Where any person has made a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States and has resided in the United States for three years a passport valid for six months may be issued to him. This passport is not renewable and does not entitle the holder to the protection of this government in the country of which he was originally a citizen.—New York American.

MOUNT ETNA.

It is Said to Hold All the Climates of the Earth.

Mount Etna has furnished more material for travelers' tales than any other mountain on earth. Astonished Englishmen of a century ago, who fell into the fashionable habit of climbing to its highest peak—and some did so, to the amazement of the Sicilians, even in the dead of winter—have left on record in the exuberant language of their day the emotions that thrilled their soul. "The man who treads Mount Etna," wrote one of these, "is a man above the world. Every river on the island can be traced from its mouth to its source.

"The characters," the same writer continues, "of all the climates of the earth can be detected—the frigid close around one, the temperate with its belt of trees just beneath and the tropical at the base of the mountain, with its vineyards and luxuriant groves. The great ocean around, with the islands of Lipari, Panari, Alicudi, Stromboli and Volcano, with their smoking summits, appear under your feet, and you look down upon the whole of Sicily as upon a map."

In addition to all the climates, Etna is reported to have trees that rival the giants of California, lakes that never thaw, bottomless caverns and salable snow.—Chicago News.

Why We Laugh.

Laughter seems to be a specialized form of either the scream of a startled or injured animal or the cry of triumph common to many beasts of prey. In children the cry of terror and the shout of laughter often shade into each other, and the young child escaping from pursuit will scream with laughter or fear, according to his chances of escape. Some unexpected event that causes slight alarm short of actual terror is the commonest cause of children's laughter, but in adults some sudden event that gives a sensation of triumph over others has much more influence. Really clever jokes seldom cause laughter, and it has been pointed out that a man chasing his hat will produce laughter far more hearty in character than the best efforts of the cleverest wit. The sight of ill fortune in another causes by contrast a feeling of triumph in ourselves. The ticklish parts of the body are for the most part the sites of important blood vessels, and the laughter produced in children by tickling is even more closely allied to the cry of pain.

The Cuckoo.

Where does the cuckoo lay its eggs? What is its staple diet? What course does it take in its autumn migration when it returns to its African haunts? These are questions that await satisfactory answers. Until it was found that the cuckoo laid its egg on the ground and subsequently carried it in its bill to a neighboring nest it was supposed that the bird fed largely on the eggs of smaller birds. This fallacy has been disproved. Probably in the whole range of British birds there is no other that can boast such curious domestic traits as the cuckoo. It makes no nest, does not attend to incubation duties and rears no young and apparently never sees the bird that is hatched from the egg that it surreptitiously places in the nest of some smaller bird.—London Globe.

Served Him Right.

"You're looking very gloomy today, Tomkins. What's the matter?" "Matter! Do you know Miss Parno, the old maid that lives over the way? Dawkins told me that she was engaged to him, so just for the fun of the thing I went and proposed to her, and she accepted me. Now I'm looking for Dawkins!"—London Tit-Bits.

Light.

Father—You seem to look at things in a very different light since your marriage. Newly Married Daughter—Well, so I ought after receiving fourteen lamps and nine candelabra for wedding presents.

It is easier to appear worthy of a position one does not hold than of the office one fills.—La Rochefoucauld.

Our New Hair Vigor

Ayer's Hair Vigor was good, the best that was made. But Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, is better. It is the one great specific for falling hair. A new preparation in every way. New bottle. New contents. Ask your druggist to show it to you, "the new kind."

As we now make our new Hair Vigor it does not have the slightest effect upon the color of the hair. You may use it freely and for any length of time without fear of changing the color. Stops falling hair. Cures dandruff.

Horseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

Who Has It?

A wire stretcher was borrowed from the Reporter's farmer, and has been lost track of. The owner is a firm believer in advertising, and if the tool is in the hands of an honest man, it will be found through the publishing of this item.

CAPITAL, $5,000
FIRST STATE BANK
Arlington, Ia., April 23, 1903
Mr. J. Cooper, Decorah, Iowa.
Dear Sir: Your letter of inquiry received and noted. The fact that I have two policies of $12,000 in The Royal Union Insurance Co., and that I am perfectly satisfied with the same, is the strongest evidence of my confidence in the company. Any financial institution that is limited by law in the investment of its funds in non-fluctuating, non-speculative securities such as farm mortgages, municipal bonds, and loans on the cash surrender value of its own policies is certainly entitled to public confidence. Add to this the fact that the state of Iowa requires sufficient of these securities on deposit with the Auditor of State to more than equal the amount of the Company's entire liability to its policyholders, and I am unable to conceive of a more complete and absolute protection. This is the law under which The Royal Insurance Co. operates, and for this reason it has my unqualified endorsement and confidence.
In addition to this it is an Iowa Company and has for eighteen years been steadily growing stronger and better. It is securing the highest rates of interest from its invested assets of farm mortgages in Iowa and adjoining states; this enables the company to pay its policy holders the highest possible earnings.
After a most careful and thorough investigation, I take pleasure in commending The Royal Union Life Insurance Co. as I regard it one of the safest and best.
Very truly,
D. B. ALLEN.
