

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1910

Former U. E. Mistletoe Dead.

Rev. Freeman S. Voght, a retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a pastor of the Evangelical church in Centre Hall twenty or more years ago, was found unconscious on the pavement in front of his residence in Berwick and died a few hours later.

Rev. Mr. Voght was placed on the retired list at the last session of the Central Pennsylvania conference. When in Centre Hall, as indicated above, he was the pastor of the Evangelical church.

Announcement of Grain Show.

The Pennsylvania Seed Improvement Association announces a show of corn and other grains during Farmer's Week, which will be held at State College, Pennsylvania, December 19th to 24th, inclusive.

Those who are interested should write Prof. Frank D. Gardner, secretary of the association, at State College, for a circular giving rules, etc.

The agitation to close the polls in Pennsylvania earlier than seven o'clock will not suit the rural districts, but it would no doubt be of some advantage in the cities.

Tusseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deihl and son Earl spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Floray.

Mrs. Mariah Wagner returned home after spending several months at Altoona. She was accompanied home by her son, William Wagner.

Matthew Swab, of Johnstown, spent several days at the home of A. B. Lee.

Mrs. R. R. Rickard and children spent Saturday at the home of Ezra Ripka and family.

Mrs. William Neff has been nursing a very painful thumb for the past week. Although the member is improving, she is unable to use her hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wert made a business trip to Spring Mills one day last week.

Dorothy Mildred is the name of a little daughter who came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lingle, of this place, recently. But the Lingle household is not the only family who have cause to rejoice, for on Wednesday morning of last week a little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wagner.

Aaronsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCormick were the guests of the latter's parents over Sunday. Everybody that knew they were here were ready to extend their hand to welcome them.

Dr. Charles Gutillus, of Mifflinburg, was calling among his many friends. This was his home for a good many years.

Sparr Wert and his mother visited at Tusseyville and Linden Hall for a few days.

Helen Bower is visiting among her many friends and playmates at Fiedler.

Mrs. Laura Burd returned home from Wolfs Chapel, Friday.

Bertha Thraswell, of Millheim, spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Calvin Weaver.

Mrs. Mary Haffley and her daughter, Jennie Sylvus, spent a day among friends in Millheim.

Mrs. Sadie Wolf, of Green Burr, Sugar Valley, is spending a few days at the home of her brother-in-law, William Haines.

Fay Stover went to Coburn to spend the winter months with Mrs. Laura Harger.

Estella Stamm, of Wolfs Chapel, spent the Sabbath with her friend Verma Stover. In the afternoon they took a drive to Coburn.

Katie Stover who spent the summer at the home of Seymour Winkleblech, is home for the winter.

William Haffley, who is employed at Renovo, is spending a few weeks with his parents. Of course "Katie" just knows how to entertain him.

Ezra Burd and his wife, of Coburn, spent the Sabbath with Mrs. Burd's mother, Mrs. K. E. Swabb.

Mrs. Emma Brungard, of Rebersburg, was the guest of Anna Guise-wite one day last week.

Mrs. Jane Bell, of Altoona, is the welcome guest of her friend, Mrs. Willmer Stover, and many other friends, who were glad to see her.

Charles Wolf, Sr., went to Akron, Ohio, to seek employment; he may start in some kind of business there.

Mr. Emerick, of Lock Haven, was seen on the street on Saturday. He remained for a few days.

Thomas Hull and Beatrice Corl were some of the home comers from State College.

She Was the Ghost.

"A certain lady and her family," says Sir Mountstuart Grant-Duff in his "Diary," "hired a place in Scotland which was haunted by the ghost of a woman who was to be seen constantly at night wandering through the rooms and passages. When the family arrived the lady was much struck with the place and said, 'I must have been here before, for I know this place so well, only there ought to be two rooms here, and there is only one.'"

"The agent replied that within a few weeks the owner had caused a partition to be taken down and made the two rooms into one. Still the lady was puzzled at her knowledge of the place till she remembered that it was a house she used to go to in her dreams. 'Well, some time passed, and the agent was up at the house again, when the lady complained that one part of the contract had not been fulfilled. They had hired a house and a ghost for the summer, and no ghost had she seen. The agent replied: 'Of course not, because you are the ghost. We recognized you the moment we saw you.'"

Why They Were Selected.

It has been recorded that General Henry Knox in 1783 was the "greatest" of eleven distinguished officers of the army, weighing 280 pounds. Noah Brooks in his book entitled "Henry Knox" gives the following incident relating to the general's full habit: With a Captain Sargent he was selected to present the hard case of the starving and naked men at Valley Forge to the attention of a committee of congress. One of the congressmen, wishing to show his wit and sarcasm, said that he had never seen a fatter man than General Knox nor a better dressed man than his associate. Knox managed to keep his temper and remained silent, but his subordinate retorted, "The corps out of respect to congress and themselves have sent as their representatives the only man who had an ounce of superfluous flesh on his body and the only other man who possessed a complete suit of clothes."

Wanted a Pattern.

A ragged Irishman was charged in a London court a short time ago with tendering a counterfeit shilling in payment for a penny loaf.

Though fortiori in aspect, he was not destitute of that shrewdness which is characteristic of his countrymen. He stated that he was sent for the loaf by a person at a public house close by, who gave him the coin to pay for it, and that on discovering it was not good he bought the coin for three half-pence.

The Magistrate—How came you to buy the shilling after you had discovered it was a bad one?

The prisoner, with much apparent gravity, replied:

"Sure, then, your honor, I bought it so that if I should happen to have a bad one offered to me I might know it by looking at the one I had with me!"

There was a burst of laughter, and the rogue was dismissed with a caution.

When the President Lost His Hat.

The Crystal palace exhibition opened at New York July 15, 1853, was the first affair of this kind in the country for which foreign exhibits were solicited. The "big show" began with a procession, in which President Franklin Pierce, mounted, was a conspicuous feature. The hero of the day rode a mettlesome steed, and while proceeding up Wall street the presidential headgear, a new silk hat of the prevalent style, was incontinently tumbled to the pavement. Another horse recklessly stepped upon the unfortunate tile, crushing it out of the semblance to itself, besmearing it with mud—real Wall street mud. What was left of the misshapen and bedaubed hat was worn by the president, to the great amusement of the spectators, until a substitute could be secured.

A Witty Retort.

One day while dining with the secretary of the admiralty William IV., then heir presumptive to the British crown, said: "When I am king, sir, you shall not be the secretary of the admiralty, I promise you. What do you say to that, eh?" "All I can respond in such case," returned the witty official, "is, 'God save the king!'"—St. Louis Republic.

Fido's Tail a Mystery.

Little Willie was tugging at Fido's tail. "What are you trying to do with the dog?" asked the child's father. "I tink his tail is coming off." "Oh, no, Willie. That's impossible. What makes you think so?" "Cause Fido's tail is so loose that it wiggles."—New York Press.

Bright Thought.

"Oh, dear," sighed small Elmer. "I wish I had another pocket!" "You have several now," rejoined his mother. "Why do you want another?" "I've looked through all of them for my knife," explained Elmer, "but couldn't find it. If I had another pocket it might be in that."—Chicago News.

A Calamity.

Tammias (to McTavish, whom he has just pulled out of the water)—Man, Donald, ye sud be lookin' happy! Aye ye no' thankfu' yer life's saved? McTavish (sourly)—I djuna see nase caused to be thankfu'. The glass o' whisky I mad afore I fell intil the water's gotten fair drowned!—London Tit-Bits.

Their Turn Out.

Ella—They had a very smart turnout. Bella—Indeed? Ella—Yes; they were ejected from one of the best hotels in the town.

MURRAY & BITNER'S UNUSUAL OFFER

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Murray and Bitner to a Reporter man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis."

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty-cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and everyone has more medical power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water."

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to our store and we will cheerfully refund their money."

The second issue of Adventure, The Ridgway Company's new monthly, reveals the fact that the editors have thought of more kinds of adventure than were previously known to exist. The perils of Nihilists, winter, the deep sea, a forced marriage, the arctic regions, heredity, Wall street, aviation, war, ghosts, love, lions, pirates, and building railroads are a few of the varieties of which they treat.

CAPITAL $25,000

FIRST STATE BANK

Arlington, Ia., April 23, 1903

Mr. J. Cooper, Decora, Iowa.

Dear Sir: Your letter of inquiry received and noted. The fact that I have two policies of $12,000 in The Royal Union Insurance Co., and that I am perfectly satisfied with the same, is the strongest evidence of my confidence in the company. Any financial institution that is limited by law in the investment of its funds in non-fluctuating, non-speculative securities such as farm mortgages, municipal bonds, and loans on the cash surrender values of its own policies is certainly entitled to public confidence. Add to this the fact that the state of Iowa requires sufficient of these securities on deposit with the Auditor of State to more than equal the amount of the Company's entire liability to its policyholders, and I am unable to conceive of a more complete and absolute protection. This is the law under which The Royal Insurance Co. operates, and for this reason it has my unqualified endorsement and confidence.

In addition to this it is an Iowa Company and has for eighteen years been steadily growing stronger and better. It is securing the highest rates of interest from its invested assets of farm mortgages in Iowa and adjoining states; this enables the company to pay its policy holders the highest possible earnings.

After a most careful and thorough investigation, I take pleasure in commending The Royal Union Life Insurance Co. as I regard it one of the safest and best.

Very truly, D. B. ALLEN.
