

CROPS IN 1910.

Corn Leads With $1,523,68,000—Drop in Prices of 8.5 Per Cent. on All Crops.

Final estimates for 1910 by the crop reporting bureau of the agricultural department give the total value of all important crops on December 1st as $3,755,464,000 against $3,971,428,000 on December 1st last year.

The averages of prices was about 8.5 per cent. lower on December 1st this year than last.

Following are the estimates of bushels in weight:

Corn, 3,125,713,000 bushels, from 114,002,000 acres; total farm value, $1,523,680,000, or 48.8 cents a bushel.

Winter wheat, 464,044,000 bushels, from 29,427,000 acres; value, $413,575,000, or 89.1 cents a bushel.

Spring wheat, 231,399,000 bushels, from 19,778,000 acres; value, $207,868,000, or 89.8 cents a bushel.

All wheat, 695,443,000 bushels, from 49,205,000 acres; value, $621,443,000, or 89.4 cents a bushel.

Oats, 1,126,765,000 bushels, from 35,288,000 acres; value, $387,716,000, or 34.1 cents a bushel.

Tobacco, 984,349,000 pounds, from 1,233,800 acres; value, $91,459,000, or 9.3 cents a pound.

Rice, 24,510,000 bushels, equivalent to 5,930,000 bags of 186 pounds, from 722,800 acres; value, $16,624,000, or 67.8 cents a bushel.

Flaxseed, 14,116,000 bushels, from 2,916,000 acres; value, $32,554,000, or $2.30 a bushel.

Barley, 162,227,000 bushels, from 7,257,000 acres; value, $93,785,000, or 57.8 cents a bushel.

Rye, $33,039,000 bushels, from 2,028,000 acres; value, $23,840,000, or 72.2 cents a bushel.

Buckwheat, 17,239,000 bushels, from 826,000 acres; value, $11,321,000, or 65.7 cents a bushel.

Potatoes, 338,811,000 bushels, from 3,591,000 acres; value, $187,985,000, or 55.5 cents a bushel.

Hay, 60,978,000 tons from 45,691,000 acres, $747,769,000, or $12.26.

State Grange Officers.

Before the meeting of the State Grange, at Butler, there was some opposition to Hon. W. T. Creasy for a second term as master of the state organization, but the opposition was of such a character that it vanished when the body assembled. He was the only candidate presented, and was elected without a dissenting vote. The officers are:

OFFICERS ELECTED.

- Master, W. T. Creasy, Columbia county.
- Overseer, S. S. Blyholder, Armstrong county.
- Steward, Theodore M. Klein, Wayne county.
- Assistant Steward, G. D. Appleby, Potter county.
- Chaplain, H. G. Teagarden, Jefferson county.
- Treasurer, S. E. Nevin, Chester county, re-elected.
- Secretary, J. T. Altman, Juniata county, re-elected.
- Gate Keeper, Alex. Strittmatter, Cambria county, re-elected.
- Ceres, Hannah McK. Lyons, Chester county.
- Pomona, Mrs. Louis Bluet, Bradford county.
- Flores, Mrs. J. J. Procter, Wyoming county.
- Lady Assistant Steward, Mary D. Howden, McKean county.
- Executive committee, three years, Charles D. Diddle, Columbia county; executive committee, two years, William Armstrong, Luzerne county; finance committee, two years, J. A. Herz, Clinton county; finance committee, one year, D. B. McWilliams, Millin county.

Officers Installed.

The officers-elect of Lady State Rebekah Lodge, No. 322, I. O. O. F., at State College, were inducted into office by Mrs. Mary Hoy, district deputy grand master, of Bellefonte. The officers are: Noble grand, Mrs. Clyde Sheffer; vice grand, Mrs. R. Heverly; financial secretary, Miss Maude Hoy; recording secretary, Miss Carrie Gast; treasurer, Mrs. Hattie Evey; supporters to noble grand, Mrs. O. F. Shaw and Mrs. William Thompson; supporters to vice grand, Miss Nannie Gast and Mrs. Rebecca Shuey; conductor, Mrs. Bridge Hartner; warden, Miss Jennie Womer; guardians, M. C. Meginney-Hood and Mrs. Mary Womer; chaplain, Mrs. George T. Graham.

At the close of the session bounteous refreshments were served. Altogether it was an evening well spent in social intercourse.

Large Porkers.

Millheim and Coburn are coming forward with their usual quota of heavy porkers. Here are a few weights given together with the names of the parties who grew them:

MILLHEIM.
L. A. Shawyer, 5	2418
L. E. Stover, 2	798
H. E. Duck, 1	468
J. C. Hosterman, 2	1090
F. O. Hosterman, 2	965
J. G. Eby, 2	880

COBURN.
Nicodemus Loe, 2	1182
Jacob Kerstetter, 1	1414
J. W. Kerstetter, 1	444
W. J. Harter, 1	518

Col. Talking Roosevelt is lecturing again, but he does not undertake to say how it happened in the beginning of November.

Delige Sentenced.

Bert Delige, who was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Hulda Baudis, was on Saturday sentenced by Judge Orvis to be hanged.

The court gave the condemned murderer a lecturing before pronouncing the final sentence. Delige stood erect, and kept his eyes on the judge.

The date for the execution will be fixed by the governor. The likelihood is Governor Stuart will leave this bit of business for his successor, John K. Tener, to perform.

Party at McKinney's.

The home of Assistant Forester William McKinney, on the state lands above Pottery Mills, was enlivened Wednesday evening of last week with music and tripping to time. Those present were: Frona Royer, Bessie Harshbarger, Ruth A. Royer, Nona Smith, Anna Parker, Alice Decker, Bessie Krise, Maude Meeker, Lydia Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Ashbridge Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Krise, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parker and family, J. F. McCoy, George H. Thomas, R. V. Thomas, L. E. Smith, Perry Koonsman, Max Harshbarger, J. Harrison Faust, Harry Harshbarger, James Lingle, Harry Wilkinson, Fred H. Royer, L. E. Meeker, Bruce Meeker, J. Sidney Royer, John H. Bitner, violinist.

Hennigh Farm Sold.

About one year ago the Hennigh farm, east of Old Fort on the old turnpike, was purchased at public sale for $7000 by B. D. Brislin & Company, a lumber firm, and last week it was sold by them to Capt. G. M. Boal, of Centre Hall. The farm contains one hundred acres. During their ownership, the lumber company cut off the timber lying to the south of the buildings.

C. W. Slack, now on the Ross farm at Farmers Mills, Mr. Boal's son-in-law, will occupy the farm in question after next spring. The farm is well located, which added considerably to its selling price.

Plans for a New Milling Building.

Professor Dedrick, head of the department of milling engineering, has practically completed a set of drawings for a proposed milling building for the school of engineering. The mill as designed is to be of the latest and most improved type and will be equipped with the best machinery. Several leading manufacturers of flour mill machinery have already agreed to present valuable apparatus for this equipment.

Sledding Party.

Friday evening a sledding party enjoyed themselves at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brooks, west of Centre Hall. The young people, who are from Pleasant Gap, Linden Hall and Centre Hall, were these:

- Cora Peters, Mable Keen, Hazel Coll, Leona, Rebecca, and Guy Wieland, Zella Ery, Ethel Zettle, May Rice, Estle Herman, Esther and Virginia Markle, Romie and Tevora Reish, Alta Rimmer, Marian Gettig, Harry Kuhn, James Meyer, Frank Reish, Lee Zong, Joe Ross, Lester Shuey, Lloyd Shawyer, Earl Rimmer, Clarence Blasler, Douglas Brooks.

Board of Health Appointed.

At a special meeting of the Centre Hall borough council, the following persons were appointed members of a permanent board of health to be legally organized, the terms of office to be from one to five years:

- Dr. W. H. Schuyler, one year;
- Dr. G. W. Hoeterman, two years;
- G. L. Goodhart, three years;
- W. A. Krise, four years;
- J. V. Foster, M. D., five years.

No Paper Next Week.

The Centre Reporter will not be issued next week. This will give the office force an opportunity to enjoy the holiday season with the rest of humanity.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

DEATHS.

William T. Speer died at Corry, Monday of last week, aged seventy-four years and a few days. The remains were interred at Bellefonte Wednesday afternoon following his death, Rev. Hewitt officiating. The members of Constans Commandery conducted the services at the grave.

For some time Mr. Speer suffered from a foreign growth in his mouth and face, and was taken to the sanatorium at Corry with the hope of finding relief.

Mr. Speer had been prominent in affairs in Bellefonte since 1873, at which time he located there, coming to that place from Franklin county, where he had been employed on a railroad. He was interested in the Bellefonte car shops when they were erected, and later on together with Jack McClellan conducted the same as a planing mill. He was a successful candidate on the Democratic ticket in 1890 for the office of county treasurer, and served with credit. He was a good citizen and was held in high esteem by all his acquaintances.

After coming to Bellefonte he was in 1877 united in marriage to Miss Kate Larimer, of Pleasant Gap, who survives, together with five children by the first union, namely: Francis Speer, of Bellefonte; Edward, of Hoxie, Kansas; Mrs. Harris Mann, of Lewistown; William, of Pittsburg, and Irvin, of St. Louis. He is also survived by three brothers and one sister, as follows: James, of Abilene, Kansas; Hon. David Speer, of Chambersburg; Mark, of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Martin Ramp, of near Shippenburg.

Mrs. H. W. Dingee, of Centre Hall, was shocked to hear of the sudden death of her father, David C. Stine, in Tipton, which occurred sometime Thursday morning, due to heart failure. Interment was made Monday afternoon, from the home of his son in Tyrone.

Mr. Stine was born in Lebanon county, and was aged seventy-four years and seventeen days. He was a carpenter by trade and for a number of years was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss E. A. Wagner, daughter of Rev. J. P. Wagner, an Evangelical minister located at that time in Millheim, to whom two children were born, namely, Edward W. Stine, of Tyrone, and Mrs. H. W. Dingee, in Centre Hall. The second wife, who survives, was Margaret Zintmyer, of Alexandria. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Weaver, of Unionville, and Mrs. C. B. Wagner, of Lebanon, also survive.

Early in the sixties Mr. Stine located in Centre Hall, and erected the tannery plant which now exists only in history, and the Bitner property, owned by Cook Hubler. During the beginning of the seventies he sold out the tannery and his holdings here, and moved to Old Fort, from there to Millheim, then to Bellefonte, and about 1873 he located in Tyrone.

Prof. John F. Harrison died at his home at Jersey Shore, Tuesday afternoon of last week. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases.

He was a native of Pleasant Gap, and when a boy attended school at Centre Hall. He began teaching school early in life, and was successful in that profession, and for a number of years was principal of the Bellefonte grammar school. He was a candidate for the office of county superintendent about nine years ago, and was supported by a number of directors.

Mr. Harrison was united in marriage to Miss Jennie E. Barnes, who survives with one daughter, Miss Laura, an instructor in the Jersey Shore High school. The following brothers and sisters also survive: William, of Petersburg; Bruce, of Boalsburg; Charles, of Altoona; Mrs. William E. Hoy, of State College; Mrs. William Rimmer, of Jersey Shore, and Miss Nell, of Williamsport. He was a member of the Methodist church, the Bellefonte Lodge I. O. O. F., and the Modern Woodmen. Interment was made in Bellefonte on Saturday.

Mrs. George D. Johnston died at her home near Curtin, after an illness of some weeks. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes and was born in Howard on January 29th, 1842. She was married to Mr. Johnston in 1863 and most of her life since was spent in Curtin. Surviving her are her husband and the following children: Harry H., of Fresno, California; Mrs. Crissie D. Tanner and J. Kennedy Johnston, Esq., of Bellefonte; Mrs. Bessie C. Brooks, of Waterville, Lycoming county; Mrs. Ella M. Foreman, of Howard, and Miss Lula, at home.

Mrs. Boston Campbell died Satur-

LOCALS.

The ice men began harvesting the crop last week.

If it is cold now we have the satisfaction of knowing that Winter began yesterday (Wednesday).

With this issue the Centre Reporter publishes its fiftieth paper during 1910, consequently the issue of next week will be omitted.

The farmers and the school teachers are having the great opportunities of the year this week. The former are being instructed at State College and the latter at Bellefonte. Lasting results will come from both institutes.

Lyman L. Smith purchased a driving horse a short time ago which will be used by him during the winter months to gather in shipments of hay, straw, etc. Next spring Mr. Smith expects to again take up the work with the International Harvester Company.

Dr. Francis V. Ely, well known in Phillipsburg, having married Miss Edna Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howe, of that city, and who practiced medicine a little while here and at Morrisdale and Smiths Mills, ended his life at his home in Pittsburg by shooting himself in the right temple.

One dollar will buy a Christmas gift that will be delivered fifty times during the year right to the door of the person you designate. Reference is made to The Centre Reporter. It will carry the news good and bad, joyous and sad (but always true) one year for one dollar. Remember some member of your family who is away from home who is not now a subscriber.

W. A. Carson will next spring become tenant on the Coburn farm, near Spring Mills, as was stated in these columns some weeks ago. The parties interested in the Coburn farm have selected Joseph K. Bitner, of Farmers Mills, as their representative, who leased the farm to Mr. Carson. Samuel Alters, the present tenant on the Coburn farm, will move to Brush Valley on a farm near Rebersburg.

The Pennsylvania State Grange, at Butler, was well attended by members of the various subordinate Granges in Centre county. Those in attendance whose names came under the notice of the Reporter are these: Hon. L. Rhone, Miss Florence Rhone, Mrs. D. W. Bradford, Mrs. Samuel Durr, Mrs. R. D. Foreman, George W. Geringer, Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dale, Dales Summit; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace White, Axe Mann; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Campbell, Linden Hall; Prof. Thomas I. Mairs, Prof. H. E. Van Norman, State College; Harry Koch, Milo Campbell, Pennsylvania Furnace; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gobbie, Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sankey, Coburn; Zwingley Hoy, Zion; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Eves, Half Moon; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Poorman, Milesturg.

[Continued from Previous Column.] day morning at her home near Meek's church, above State College, after but a few days illness with typhoid pneumonia. Her age was about seventy years. Interment was made Tuesday forenoon, at Meek's church.

Before marriage, Mrs. Campbell was Mariah Potter. She is survived by two daughters—Agnes and Bertha, and one son—Isaac. Her husband also survives, as do one brother and three sisters, namely, Fergus Potter, Misses Asantha, Mary Ann and Phoebe Potter, all of Linden Hall.

Miss Eva Archey, daughter of John Archey, of Mackeyville, died Thursday morning of pneumonia. For eight years she had been an operator in the Commercial telephone exchange in Bellefonte. She was aged about twenty-eight years. Five weeks ago Miss Archey underwent an operation in the Bellefonte hospital.

Mrs. Mary Lyons died at Milroy. Interment was made Saturday. She was aged about fifty-five years, and was the daughter of Henry Gulswite, deceased, west of Centre Hall. One son, Samuel Meyer, survives, as do also several sisters.

Charles Miller, of Salem, Snyder county, member of the State House of Representatives in 1877 and 1883, died at his country home after an illness covering a period of five years. He was aged seventy years.

William Reese died at his home in Bellefonte, Friday night, aged ninety years. Death was due to old age. He was the father of Deputy Revenue Collector G. W. Reese.

Ruth, aged three years and six months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnstonbaugh, of Pine Grove Mills, died recently. Interment was made at Pine Hall.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers Correspondent Column—New Department.

DENVER, Colorado, Dec. 12.

Editor of the Reporter:

We have been seeing a little of the world, outside Pennsylvania, and now as we are settled here for a few weeks, at least, we begin to feel that a little Centre county news would be a very agreeable chance. Mrs. Homan and myself left Altoona, November 19th. Three days were spent in Bellevue, Ohio, with George Eike and family; from there to Fostoria, Bloomdale, then the beautiful historic Perryburg, on the beautiful historic Perryburg river. We walked over the battle field where a fine monument has lately been erected on the site of the old Fort. The cemetery at this place is worth a journey of many miles to see. It is most beautifully kept; the evergreen trees are trimmed into lovely and fanciful shapes. If you are ever in northwestern Ohio, go to Perryburg; you will find both place and people delightful.

Just a few hours in Toledo—rattle, rattle, boom, and I began to wonder: is this the west? One day more, and we entered Chicago. Then we walked with who had ever been in Chicago, on the battle field where a fine monument has lately been erected on the site of the old Fort. The cemetery at this place is worth a journey of many miles to see. It is most beautifully kept; the evergreen trees are trimmed into lovely and fanciful shapes. If you are ever in northwestern Ohio, go to Perryburg; you will find both place and people delightful.

We were entertained in Chicago by Reuben Swartz, who thirty years ago was a resident of Millheim. Mrs. Swartz is a cousin of Mrs. Homan. I was glad to shake hands in a strange land with a Centre county man, and we talked a little, and then some more.

From Chicago we went St. Joseph, Missouri, where we were glad to rest for a night. Going through Nebraska by daylight, we seemed to see only miles of corn fields and droves of hog—black and brown hogs, no white ones. At five o'clock on the evening of December 8th, we reached the pretty little town of Diller, Nebraska, where we stayed over Sunday with another cousin of Mrs. Homan's, B. F. Lightner, whose wife, though born and brought up in the west, is a descendant from an old Pennsylvania family. The highest compliment I can pay these charming western women is this: as cooks they equal our Centre county women.

At five p. m., December 8th, we took up the last stage of our delightful journey, and at 7 a. m. on the following day, we entered Denver. We are doing what is known here as "light housekeeping." It seems to me much like the "play house dinners" we used to have when mother made us "sauce pies." Now if you will kindly change the address from Altoona to 215 West 14th avenue, Denver, Colorado, the Reporter will be a most welcome visitor, as will also the Editor should he choose to come this way.

Very sincerely yours,
HOWARD HOMAN.
[Mr. Homan formerly lived in Centre Hall, where he followed the carpenter trade, but has lived at Mingo-ville and Altoona for some years.]

To My Friends in Centre County:

For the benefit of those who have not personally seen or investigated the Winnie-Stowell country, I would state that it is every thing it has been represented to be. The climate, the soil, the opportunities and the enthusiasm are here to stay.

Although there are dark sides which will in all cases appear, no one but the unwise would overlook that matter. But I do not think there is another country to be found that will afford the opportunities for a man of limited means to get a start in life financially, equalled to the gulf coast country in general.

The proof is plentiful, all necessary is ambition enough to push the work along, and not let little things worry you too much. And one of the important things is to depend on yourself as much as possible. But never overlook good advice which is of much importance to the settler. I can say that I found conditions in general better than I expected and I am very well pleased with the country.

Yours truly,
J. WALLACE BRUNGART.
Houston, Texas, November 30.

Find enclosed money order for the Centre Reporter, which we do not want to do without. Although most of the people whose names are mentioned are strangers, we also find items concerning old acquaintances. We have very fine winter weather; warm, and an abundance of rain. The summer was very dry, crops very good notwithstanding.

MRS. E. G. HOFFER.
Marcus, Washington, Dec. 15.

The man who argues that the "cabbage snake" or "thread worm" is deadly poison is likely to have a head on his shoulders that this particular kind of "snake" would thrive on. The "cabbage snake" and its deadly poison has been widely exploited. There is such a thing as a "thread worm" sometimes found in cabbage heads, but the "beast" has no poisonous qualities. Cabbage is just as wholesome a food now as it was before some misinformed smarty discovered the "snake" in question.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

You are reading the last issue of the Reporter for 1910.

Winter is just two days old. What a husky youngster it is.

Friday night the zero point was reached. This was the second offense.

The supply of sleighs and sleds was considerably less than the demand for them during the past few weeks.

Miss Ruth Krise left for Johnstown on last Saturday to spend the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Krise.

Mrs. I. V. Musser and sons, Harold and William, of Millinburg, were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer, in Centre Hall.

A. B. Loe, Esq., administrator on the estate of Amos Lee, Potter township, deceased, advertises the real estate of the decedent. See advertisement in this issue.

Miss Fernore Hoover, who for some years has been a member of the family of James W. Runkle at the Centre Hall hotel, is spending the Christmas season in Lock Haven, with her mother.

Kerlins Grand View Poultry Farm received an order of twelve S. C. W. Leghorn cockerels from the Department of Animal Husbandry, Penn. State College. Shipment was made last week.

The Millinburg Telegraph makes mention of the illness of Miss Maude Ocker, a clerk in the Gast store. Miss Ocker is a sister of Forest Ocker, and was a member of his family when he lived in Centre Hall.

The Millinburg Telegraph is persuading itself that because the Pennsylvania Railroad Company knows it needs a station at Millinburg, it will build one. The Centre Reporter had the same idea as to Centre Hall, but it was mistaken—the old station was simply enlarged.

With a long list of applicants to select from, the County Commissioners appointed S. S. Miles, of Port Matilda, mercantile appraiser. If they could have done so, no doubt these officials would have been willing to favor each of the aspirants with an appointment of some kind.

Among the young men who will begin farming next spring is Charles Ross, of Linden Hall, who will move onto the Miss Mary Potter farm, west of Centre Hall. George Harshbarger, the present tenant on that farm, will move to Hubersburg, to occupy a farm owned by his father-in-law.

Saturday evening the Sunday-school connected with the Lutheran church, in Georges Valley, will hold their Christmas exercises. The program is entitled "That Wonderful Night." This Sunday-school, in years gone by, has held a number of most excellent entertainments, and the one announced for this year will no doubt excel any of those in the past.

D. L. Bariges and granddaughter, Ruth Irene Bariges, were among the Reporter's callers on Saturday. Mr. Bariges was seriously considering taking the Texas excursion on Monday, but at the last moment decided to later on in the winter accompany Julian Fleming to Seattle, Washington, and from there follow the coast to Texas. Mr. Bariges will go west and south with pleasure only in view.

While Millheim, Coburn and Boalsburg have somewhat of a reputation for growing heavy hogs, Centre Hall is by great odds the poultry centre in Penna. Valley. Besides the large henneries of Kerlin & Son and Charles D. Bartholomew, there are a number of others who have flocks of birds receiving the best of attention and are earning a good dividend. Among these latter are Mrs. John G. Dauterman, Frank E. Arney, Reuben Garis, ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart, Rev. S. A. Snyder, John G. Roseman, James From, H. W. Dingee, B. H. Arney, W. E. Crawford, D. W. Bradford, and I. A. Sweetwood.

The agents along the L. & T. were called to Williamsport, Thursday of last week, to hear more talk on good roads—not good railroads, but good wagon roads leading to the stations on the Penna's branch. The road problem is such a great one that it will require much agitation before the roads in rural sections will be materially improved, yet every little helps. When the road question once reaches a point where money on the public roads is not wasted, the question will have reached a new solution. There is much good, hard earned money misapplied by well-meaning supervisors. The first aim should be to correct this condition. If all the money and labor expended on the roads during the past twenty years would have been well directed, the present roads would show the results, but do they?
