

LOCALS.

There is a shortage of dwelling houses in Centre Hall.

The Stoners have been made a good offer for the Wilson farm, at the Centre Hall station.

"The Collegian" is the name of a publication, the first number of which has just been issued by the students of Claremont College, at Hickory, North Carolina, the institution in which Rev. John H. Keller holds a position.

W. O. Rearick, of Milroy, is thoroughly investigating the lumber business in West Virginia, and is very seriously considering a proposition in that state. If he concludes to invest he will take his two sons in business with him.

A car load of alfalfa hay was sold C. L. Goodling, superintendent of the Pennsylvania State College farms, by S. W. Smith. The price was $20.00. Undoubtedly this is the only car of Pennsylvania grown alfalfa hay put on the market.

The Reporter subscribers whose tags indicate January, 1910, are kindly requested to advance their subscription so as to bring their dates within the postoffice regulations. All the subscribers are used alike, and all alike are requested to remit.

A saloon closing order has gone into effect in Snyder county. By decree of Judge McClure all saloons must close at ten o'clock and open not before six in the morning. Formerly the saloons could stay open from midnight Monday morning to the following Sunday.

The landlord who wants a hustling young farmer can find one in Roy Sheffer, of Potter township. He can give his landlords—the Brisbin Lumber Company, at Centre Hall—as reference, and that alone means much. The farm was sold, making it necessary for the tenant to vacate.

The dog belonging to George Houck, of South Phillipsburg, which was killed by the latter after it had bitten his little son as well as a young son of Charles Stover, proves to have had rabies according to a diagnosis made of the head which was sent to Philadelphia experts. The boys were sent to a Pasteur Institute.

On leaving Centre Hall last week, Rufus Strohm, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Strohm, went to Scranton, Philadelphia, and other points, and Saturday will again sail for London, England, to resume his work there as one of several Americans who are conducting a branch of the International Correspondence School in England.

The largest ingot of Krugg steel in the world was cast at the Homestead steel works just before Christmas. The ingot was thirteen feet four inches high, ten feet eight inches wide, and four feet four inches thick and weighed thirty-five tons. It was pressed into a plate eighteen inches thick, and will be used on a land fort on the Panama Canal.

When it comes to feeding hogs E. W. Fehl, of Aaronsburg, must be considered. He developed a twelve months old hog so that it weighed 450 pounds. A feeder who can develop pork at the rate of a pound a day from the birth of the hog does much better than the ordinary feeder. Mr. Fehl has exceeded that weight by almost one hundred pounds.

J. W. Whiteman, one of the section hands at Centre Hall, on Saturday returned from a week's visit to Millinburg and Trevorton. At the former place he was the guest of O. F. Mader, who Mr. Whiteman says, has a very comfortable home of his own and is getting along nicely. At Trevorton he was the guest of the Rakers, who are relatives. The death of Solomon Derrick, at Trevorton, caused the only sadness connected with the trip. Mr. Derrick visited Mr. Whiteman last summer.

The Stowell, Texas, country has proven to be all that was claimed for it according to reports brought back by Messrs. Jacob Gephart and his son-in-law, Ammon Schroyer, both of Rebersburg, who accompanied the parties who went to the southwest in a special car from Coburn on the 19th ult. Mr. Gephart and several others are contemplating the purchasing of a section—640 acres—in addition to the land already purchased by Mr. Gephart. Nearly all those who went to the Stowell country had made purchases of land before Mr. Gephart returned.

In this issue will be found a quarter page advertisement devoted to poultry. It is the space purchased by C. D. Bartholomew, who advertises everything needed in the poultry business from a nest egg up to a large incubator. Mr. Bartholomew is making a special drive on incubators and feed. He has the exclusive agency in Centre county for Essex supplies, and can sell them to his customers at their nearest railroad station at the same price that you are asked at the factory. "The Centre Hall scratch feed" is a combination that is being offered at a very moderate margin above its cost to him, but much less than the cost to the individual poultryman were he to make it up from grain and seeds. Read the advertisement.

DEATHS.

Thomas Kennelly, an old and respected resident, died at his home on Wednesday morning of pneumonia and other complications.

He was born and lived in Spring Mills all his life with the exception of the time he served in the Civil War. He leaves a wife, two sons and one daughter. One of the sons is Rev. M. A. Kennelly, of York, and the other is B. F. Kennelly, of Spring Mills. The daughter is Mrs. Daisy Beaton, of Spring Mills. He leaves also three brothers, James, Daniel, and Robert G., all of Spring Mills, and five sisters, Mrs. Susan Burrell, Mrs. Rebecca Sweetwood, of Spring Mills; Mrs. Jane Miller, of Mill Hall; Mrs. Dubbs, of Phillipsburg; and Mrs. James Smetzler, of Centre Hall.

He was sixty-five years of age. Interment was made in the Cross Church cemetery, Georges Valley, Rev. H. A. Snook, pastor of the United Evangelical church officiating.

Mrs. Henry Gentzell, of York, died at her home in that place on Christmas day, and Wednesday following the remains were brought to Spring Mills, and interment was made in the Cross church cemetery, in Georges Valley, the officiating minister being Dr. G. W. Enders, her pastor at York. Mrs. Gentzell was aged sixty-seven years, nine months and six days, and died from pneumonia. Her maiden name was Anna Elizabeth Hettinger. She is survived by a husband and three children, namely, Robert, of Niagara Falls, New York; Jacob, of Bellefonte, and Miss Mary, at home. One sister, Mrs. Weaver, of Aaronsburg, also survives.

Howard M. Buller, superintendent of the state fish hatchery at Pleasant Gap, died there Thursday, December 22d.

Howard M. Buller was one of four prominent fish culturists, widely known as the Buller brothers, all employed as superintendents of hatcheries by the department of fisheries of the state. They were William Buller, superintendent of the Corry hatchery; Howard Buller, superintendent of the Bellefonte hatchery; Nathan R. Buller, superintendent of Wayne hatchery, and A. G. Buller, superintendent of Union City hatchery.

John Olewine, a prominent hardware merchant and widely known throughout Centre and adjoining counties, was attacked with a hemorrhage of the lungs late Thursday night December 22d, and expired in a very short time. Mrs. Olewine and son were in Williamsport at the time, they having gone there to have the eyes of the son examined.

Deceased is survived by his widow, one daughter, Adeline, and a son, Harris. The funeral took place from his late residence at Bellefonte on Monday following, and interment was made in the Union cemetery.

Daniel Ryan, aged fifty years, for a number of years superintendent of the Bellefonte water works, dropped dead at his office about seven o'clock Monday morning, 26th ult. When he left his home he was apparently in his usual good health and spirits and in less than an hour after he was brought back a corpse. A wife and several children survive.

The members of the Lady Violet Rebekah Lodge on Saturday evening will serve an oyster supper in W. C. Meyer's store building. Everybody is invited to attend.

The Christmas service entitled "The King of Glory" rendered in the Methodist church on Christmas eve, was a decided success. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and filled to its utmost capacity. The children performed their parts nobly and deserve much credit. The musical program was one of the premier musical events ever held in this town.

Ambrose Gentzell, of Shamokin, and Roland Gentzell, of Altoona, were guests of their father, George Gentzell, in town a few days last week.

Daniel Condo and family, of Lock Haven, were guests at the home of S. L. Condo, over Christmas.

Rev. M. A. Kennelly, of York, was a Spring Mills visitor a few days last week.

Robert Meese, of Auburn, New York, spent his holiday vacation with his sister, Miss Alice, in town.

W. Calvin Meyer, who recently bought the old Duncan store stand has become a citizen of town and will in the near future open a general store.

E. C. Houseman and friend, of Millheim, were guests at the home of Edward Winters, last Tuesday night. S. L. Winters, disposed of a carload of sleighs over the holidays.

Prof. Boyd S. Auman, recently accepted a position with the Adams Express Company, at Newark, New Jersey, where he is now located.

Daniel Kennelly, of Shamokin, spent Sunday in town.

Mother Lantz, of Lewistown, spent Christmas with her son, Rev. J. Max Lantz, at the Methodist parsonage.

Spring Mills.

Those who spent the holiday season in town are Charles and William Allison, of New York; A. Merrill Allison, of Highland Park, Illinois; Roland and Grover Gentzell and their families, of Altoona; Rufus Finkle, of State College; Archie Condo, of Swarthmore College; and Mabel Long, of Lock Haven Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meese, Sr., had a family dinner on Saturday. Their two sons, William and John, and their families, were with them.

The Shook home was sold on Tuesday. The purchaser was Andrew Rote, of Farmers Mills. Consideration, $1915.

The body of Mrs. Gentzell, of York, was brought here for burial on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made at Cross church cemetery.

The Faxon family, of Rebersburg, spent Tuesday with Warren Wood and wife.

Calvin Meyer and family have moved into their new home, which they purchased from G. H. Long.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

THE FELLOW WHO REFERRED to life insurance as a gambling game may have had good intentions, but he had bad judgment. It is the one business transaction which is not a gamble. Life insurance is intended primarily to offset as far as possible the loss to the world by reason of the death of a producer. And death is a sure thing. It is the one safe bet. That is why it will pay you to anticipate the inevitable. It is well known that a dead man's salary continues, but not in a satisfactory manner. It is drawn by the other fellow. There is such a thing as arranging so that your widow can draw yours. We can show you. That is why we ought to get together. We also have some easy chairs for old age. They are called Endowments.
