

DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Burkholder, after less than a day's illness, died on Wednesday evening of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. W. Ripka, at Centre Hill, where she was staying temporarily. Mrs. Burkholder had been in her usual health, and retired without complaint. On arising on next morning, as was stated in the last issue of the Reporter, she was stricken with apoplexy, from the effects of which she died in the evening a few minutes after six o'clock. Interment was made at Tusseyville, Saturday morning. Rev. Daniel Gress, assisted by Rev. B. F. Bleber, officiating.

Mrs. Burkholder was the daughter of Alexander McClintic, and during her girlhood lived at Earlstown. She was well known throughout the valley and had many friends on account of her amiable disposition. For many years she lived at Centre Hill, and on the death of her husband, the late Felix Burkholder, which occurred about seventeen years ago, Mrs. Burkholder continued to live there, rearing her family of five children. The children are Effie, wife of Bruce W. Ripka, Centre Hill; Morris, A., Centre Hill; Wilbur E., Bellefonte; Harry F., Logansport, Indiana; Ammon R., Phillipsburg, N. J.

The deceased is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Kate Mapes, of Berlin, New Jersey, who was unable to attend the funeral on account of her advanced age (seventy-two years) and sickness. Mrs. Burkholder was aged sixty-five years, six months, and twenty-five days. She was a member of the Reformed church, and was always a regular attendant upon services, when it was possible for her to do so. She will be greatly missed in her home community and in the church circles.

Michael Ulrich, one of the aged and well known residents of Millheim, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. H. Gettig, at Bellefonte, on 2nd inst., of apoplexy, aged seventy-seven years. Mr. Ulrich was stricken with the disease Sunday night previous and lingered until death ensued at the time mentioned. Deceased was a life-long resident of Millheim. He leaves to survive three sons and one daughter—Samuel, of near Spring Mills, William G., of Wilkesburg, and Hezzer and Mrs. Alice Gettig, wife of L. H. Gettig, of Bellefonte. Three brothers and three sisters also survive, viz: George, of Millheim; Aaron, of Penn township; David, of Illinois; Mrs. Sarah Orndorf, of Millheim; Mrs. Kate Auman, of Tusseyville and Mrs. Hetty Catherman, of Huntingdon county. Funeral services were held at the home of L. H. Gettig, in Bellefonte, Thursday evening. The remains were brought to Millheim Friday morning and services were held in the Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. Fred Barry, of Bellefonte. Interment in the Union cemetery, Millheim.

It is just forty years since George A. Hus landed in the states from Stuttgart, Germany. He was then a man of twenty-eight, and in his home country had learned the trade of shoe-making. He first located in Baltimore, and later found his way to eastern Pennsylvania, where he became acquainted with Ellen Snyder, who became his wife. About thirty years ago he located in Linden Hall and carried on business in a building where the Wieland store now stands. From Linden Hall he went to Spring Mills, where he has since lived, all the while following his trade, in which he was highly skilled.

Death came to Major Hus, as he is familiarly known, Friday evening, and on Tuesday interment was made at Spring Mills, Rev. Daniel Gress officiating. His age was sixty-eight. There survive Mr. Hus a wife and these children: John, Youngstown, Ohio; Mrs. Lizzie Wolf, Jeannette; Mary, Coronado, Long Island; Calvin, Troy, N. Y.

Two sisters—Mrs. Matthias Durner, of Oak Hall, and Mrs. Seltzer, of Philadelphia—also survive.

Mrs. James Brooks died at her home at Pleasant Gap, Sunday morning, at the age of about fifty-three years. Interment was made Wednesday morning, at Zion, Rev. Sowers officiating. Mrs. Brooks, whose maiden name was Fannie Kauwell, had been in poor health for some months, having suffered a slight paralytic stroke last summer, but her last sickness was but a week's duration.

The deceased was the second wife of James Brooks, and was the mother of these children: Eva, wife of Walter Strouse, John, Douglas and Jewett, of Pleasant Gap. Four step-children also survive, Richard and J. Cloyd Brooks, Centre Hall; Elwood Brooks and Mrs. John Royer, of Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Angeline Ruhl, widow of David A. Ruhl, died at her home at Rockford, Illinois, aged about eighty years. Deceased's maiden name was Angeline Shoob, of Middleburg, Snyder county. She resided in Millheim, but with her husband and two sons—Antis S. and Luther—left for the west a number of years ago.

LOCALS.

The "Busy Bees Mission Band" of the United Evangelical church will hold a public service on Sunday evening, 7 o'clock. All are invited.

Beginning of this month Miss Viola Sharer had the experience of being in a handkerchief shower, and was the recipient of sixty-seven tokens.

There will be a meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. W. B. Mingle on Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock. The L. T. L. will meet in the United Evangelical church at 6:30 o'clock, Saturday evening.

Miss Nellie E. Kerlin is now at Haverhill, Massachusetts, having gone there from Cincinnati, Ohio, last week. She is making her home with her youngest brother, Edward Kerlin, and is employed in a printing establishment.

Hiram Lee, of Chester Springs, speaks in a tone that would please any newspaper publisher. He stated that he never received a copy of the Centre Reporter that had not been paid in advance, and he has been a subscriber a long time.

W. H. Stuart, the Boalsburg merchant, advertises a clearance sale to begin today, (Thursday.) The goods are of such character and offered at such a reduction that it will be profitable to act on the suggestions in his advertisement in this issue.

Although the market price of wheat is entirely too low to suit the average farmer, he is chucking because of the very good condition the growing wheat was in when it wintered up. The wheat fields have been covered almost continuously since the beginning of November.

In the vicinity of Orangeville, Illinois, a farm was offered at public sale by the heirs of Fred Wells, and was bid up to $93 per acre, but was not sold on account of the low price. This indicates that northern Illinois farms are selling at the hundred dollar mark per acre.

Aside from the musical in Grange Arcadia on Tuesday evening there were several other gatherings: The Ladies' Temple, K. G. E., had their installation; there was a large surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mark, and some thirty State College people were at the Centre Hall hotel.

State Superintendent Schaeffer advocates the increase of the state appropriation for schools by two millions. He also contends that the suggestion to lengthen the term of the public schools from seven to eight months will be opposed, just the same as it was years ago when the term was increased from three to four months.

Boalsburg was represented at the Musical on Tuesday evening by Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Rothrock, Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Wieland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Ishler, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Houtz, Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Kidder. They drove to the Old Fort in the afternoon, and took supper there.

Samuel Wise will make sale of his farm stock and implements sometime during March, it being his intention to discontinue farming and move to Penn Hall. He will be succeeded by his son-in-law, William Hagen, who now lives with Mr. Wise on his farm, located east of Penns Cave. Mr. Hagen will give the farm his personal attention, which will reduce the Hagen force of carpenters by one competent mechanic.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature providing for a tax of one dollar on all hunters. The proposed law will be supported by some enthusiastic sportsmen and opposed by others. The proposed tax would pay all the expenses incurred by the commission, and it is argued a hunter wearing a badge, the number of which is recorded, will be more careful in the handling of his gun, thus insuring greater safety to all hunters in the woods, fields and mountains.

Marriage Licenses. James E. Guiswite, Rebersburg; Lottie M. Winkleblech, Rebersburg; Charles W. Williams, Lemont; Bella C. Wagner, Houserville.

Wanted—Pork, Hides, Calves. Dressed hogs, hides and calves wanted. Will pay highest market price. JOHN G. DAUBERMAN, Centre Hall, Pa.
