CHECK IT IN TIME.

Few people realize the grave danger of neglecting the kidneys. The slightest kidney symptom may be Nature's warning of dropsy, diabetes or dreaded Bright's disease. If you have any kidney symptom, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once. Harvey Rogers, Church St., Pine Plains, N. Y., says: "I was often laid up for days with gravel and serious kidney trouble and the agony I endured when the stones were passing was awful. The best medical attention failed to help me and I grew worse instead of better. It was then I began with Doan's Kidney Pills and noticed improvement. Soon I was without a trace of the trouble."

Remember the name-Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

QUITE ANOTHER THING.

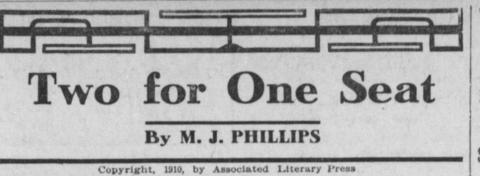

Dick-I made all my money with my voice

Fluffie-You must sing beautifully. Dick-Not as a singer, my dear-as a bookmaker!

NURSE TELLS OF SKIN CURES

"I have seen the Cuticura Remedies used with best results during the past twenty years. In my work as a nurse, many skin diseasé cases came under my observation, and in every instance, I always recommended the Cuticura Remedies as they always gave entire satisfaction. One case in particular was that of a lady friend of mine who, when a child, was afflicted with eczema which covered her face and hands entirely, breaking out at intervals with severer torture. She could not go to school as the disfigurement looked terrible. I told her to get at once a set of Cuticura Remedies. After the use of only one set she was perfectly well.

"A grown lady friend was afflicted with salt rheum in one of her thumbs. and she was cured by the Cuticura Remedies. Still another lady had dry

"Pshaw! This is no night for elec- | the girl who had sat on his lap. Coombs fancied that she blushed. tioneering."

On the back seat of the car the chairman and secretary of the county at her, Coombs realized that she was committee were arguing as to the very pretty. He wondered idly who best sort of speech for Coombs to she was. Probably the daughter of make at the Bristow schoolhouse, for some wealthy farmer of the neighborwhich they were headed. On the hood, who had been able to give her front seat the chauffeur steered the advantages beyond the ordinary. Her car straight into the harvest moon good looks and her becoming dress which was rising like a great shield were of the city rather than the at the end of the white road. Beside country. He speculated whether her him Coombs, candidate for congress, eyes were dark gray or brown. Coombs arose to make his speech was secretly indulging himself in one of the let-downs which come even to The audience applauded the handsome, boyish-looking candidate. They the best regulated candidates. He was heartily sick of the campaign; listened closely while he sketched of the daily association with small national affairs and conditions in their own state, then in their own politicians who treated him with more or less familiarity; of repeating the district. The moment had come for same things over and over to audiences friendly, hostile and indifferent. into the eyes of the girl on the front He was tired of the whole business;

seat. Doubtless she thought him like for the moment he sincerely wished he were back at Demottville pegging all politicians-ready to climb at the away at his law practice, and letting expense of another; anxious to tear down that other's reputation that he some one else work and fret for political honors. And if he were, as might build up his own. Well, he would be enjoying this perfect eve- would show her he was not an ordining-an August changeling set down | nary politician. in late October. Buggy riding with in Demottville. The car came upon a group wend- girl.

ing its way to the schoolhouse. There were five of them-two boys twelve asked. or fourteen years old, and three young women. "Oh, you candidate!" called one of the boys, as the car was rolling by. "Stop," commanded Coombs, briefly. He had been taught never to "overlook any bets," in the parlance of the politician. Every person had possibilities, no matter how humble. Every one wielded some influencepossibly commanded a vote, and a vote was a vote, wherever garnered. "All aboard!" he invited, cheerily, as the car stopped. They came promptly, the boys with whoops of delight. They dragged

For Sometime-Gen. Lugoe Reported Surrounded.

El Paso, Texas (Special) .--- Fighting continues at Galeana, south of Casas Grandes, and runners brought the news to Casas Grandes Sunday that among the dead were many women and children, killed in their homes as the Federals fired on the insurgents in the houses. Unless these couriers are greatly excited it promises to be the bloodiest battle of the present insurrection when all losses are totaled. Reports say that the dead and wounded will total 300. Casas Grandes is still in the hands of the Federals but the inhabitants are not certain how long it will be held.

It is claimed now that the rebels are attempting to take all towns along the El Paso Northwestern road south of here and hold the line in order to use it to take supplies to their troops from El Paso. Juarez, opposite El Paso, acording to these statements, is to be taken. As indicating that the Mexican government places credence in these reports it sent another hundred cavalrymen to Juarez from Chihuahua Sunday. Fiscal guards in Juarez reported Sunday that 200 revolutionists crossed the Rio Grande at Guadalupe east of El Paso Saturday going south. This report was made to their commander.

Reports from Guerrero and Ojinaga show the Federals in as serious condition there as at Galeana. Navarro is completely cut off from Chihuahua and the rebels boast that their retreat from Guerrero was to iraw him further away from his base of supplies and then annihilate his command. He has been cut off for a week and the rebels are attacking his commands in all the smaller owns, around Guerrero and Temosachic, asisted in their attacks by the Tarhuamara Indians.

At Ojinaga General Luque has had o send out all the troops he can spare to reinforce the small garrisons he placed in the smaller towns and is now said to be surrounded himself light

The Modest Model. The late Julia Ward Howe, though a woman of very good appearance, was extremely modest. "She once posed for me," said a Boston painter the other day. "But she hesitated a long time before consenting. To urge her on I said:

"'Don't be afraid. I'll do you justice, madam.' "'Ah, she answered, 'it isn't justice

I ask for at your hands; it's mercy.""

Not Just Off the Shelf. Little Marget has the childist trait of curiosity, especially in regard to the age of her elders. "How old do you think I am, dear?" counter-questioned the spinster aunt to whom the child had put the impertinent query. The little girl considered earnestly before replying: "Well, I don't know, Auntie Alice, but you don't look new!"

INSIDE HISTORY. Some Self-Explanatory Letters. Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 7, '11. Dr. E. H. Pratt.

Suite 1202, 100 State St., Chicago, Illinois. My Dear Doctor:

"Owing to some disagreement with magazine several years ago they have become quite vituperative, and of late have publicly charged me with falsehoods in my statements that we have genuine testimonial letters.

"It has been our rule to refrain from publishing the names either of laymen or physicians who have written to us in a complimentary way. and we have declined to accede to the demand of attorneys that we turn these letters over to them.

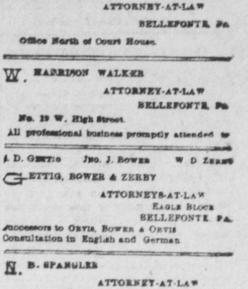

"I am asking a few men whom I deem to be friends to permit me to reproduce some of their letters over their signatures in order to refute the falsehoods.

"We have hundreds of letters from physicians, but I esteem the one that you wrote to me in 1906 among the very best, particularly in view of the fact that it recognizes the work I have been trying to do partly through the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'

"I do not sell or attempt to sell the higher thought which is more important than the kind of food, but I have taken considerable pains to extend to humanity such facts as may have come to me on this subject.

"In order that your mind may be refreshed I am herewith enclosing a copy of your good letter, also a copy of the little book, and if you will give me the privilege of printing this over your signature I will accompany the printing with an explanation as to why you permitted its use in publication in order to refute falsehoods. and under that method of treatment I feel, so far as I know, there would be no breach of the code of ethics.

"I trust this winter weather is finding you well, contented and enjoying the fruits that are yours by right.

ATTORNEYS.

BELLEFONTE,PA Practices in all the courts. Consultation a English and German. Office, Orider's kunsasge Building.

CLEMENT DALE

D. P. FORTHEY

ATTORFEY-AT-LAW BELLEFONTE, PA. Office N. W. corner Diamond, two doers from First National Bank. 1780

Penn's Valley Banking Company

CENTRE HALL. PA

W. B. MINGLE, Coshee

Receives Deposite . .

Discounts Notes

The Bristow neighborhood was a pretfy girl on a moonlight night rather disappointed in the tameness naturally appealed to the bachelor of the speech; the chairman and sec-Coombs. And there were pretty girls | retary were grumpy. But Coombs didn't care; he walked out with the "You will ride back with us?" he She shook her head, and held out her hand. "No; but thank you for what you did not say tonight."

"What do you mean?" asked Coombs. He was oblivious of the fact that two score voters, whose ballots might elect him, were also walting to shake hands.

the attack on Congressman Scott, but Coombs did not make it. He looked

"I mean," she said, "that I am Frank Scott's daughter."

The campaign drew to a close. Coombs was scheduled to spend the last week in this county, and he managed to see a good deal of Beth Scott between meetings. They avoided politics, but found many other subjects to talk about. They had read the same books and admired the same plays. There were so many things to discuss that Coombs took to running over to the home of Miss Scott's uncle, where she was visiting, mornings or afternoons o. eveningswhenever the hardworked party motor car could be spared, and he had an hour to himself. Election day came, and Coombs salt rheum in both palms of her hands every fall of the year. They used to be so painful she could scarcely wet her hands until she began to use the Cuticura Remedies which cured her. I have also seen them cure children of ringworm. The children's faces would be all circles and rings around the cheeks, and the neck ,and after treatment with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment they were completely cured. My husband had rheumatism on his arm and I used the Cuticura Ointment. It made his arm as limber and nice, whereas it was quite stiff before I began to apply the Ointment.

"Last May I had an ingrowing toe nail which was very painful, as the side of the nail was edging right down in the side of my toe. I cut the nail out of the cavity it made and of course applied the Cuticura Ointment to the part affected. It soothed it and in less than ten nights it was all healed through constant use of the Ointment. Ten days ago I had my left hand and wrist burned with bolling lard, and Cuticura Ointment has completely cured them. I have just recommended the Cuticura Remedies to another friend, and she is pleased with the results and is recovering nicely. I will gladly furnish the names of the people referred to above if anybody doubts what I say." (Sign--ed) Mrs. Margaret Hederson, 77 High-Jand Ave., Malden, Mass., Oct. 1, 1910.

When the suffragettes get in power the office may really seek the man, simply because it is trying to dodge the woman.

For COLDS and GRIP Hicks' CATUDIXE is the best remedy—re-lieves the aching and feverishness—cures the Cold and restores normal conditions. It's liquid—effects immediately. 10c., 25c., and 50e At dome stores At drug stores.

If some men were compelled to pay as they go they would stay.

FILE'S CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS Your druggist will refund money if PA20 OINT-MENT fails to cure any case of liching. Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Files in 6 to 14 days. 16c.

One of the worst things under the sun is a shady reputation.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflamma-tion, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

Many who think they mean right are right mean.

These candy tablets do just as much as salts or calomel. But Cascarets never callous the bowels. They never create a continuous need, as harsh cathartics do. Take one just as soon as the trouble appears, and in an hour its over. Vest-pocket box, 19 cents-at drug-stores. 855 Each tablet of the genuine is marked G C C. Go After Frank Scott's Record.

one of the young women, laughing and protesting, between them. They tugged at her like young bears, and before Coombs realized what was happening the girl was deposited in his lap, the others had bestowed themselves on the running board, and the car was on its way.

"I hope you'll pardon this enthusiastic response to your invitation," said the girl, striving to rise. "I had no option, you see; it was come, or get torn to pieces."

"And it seems to be stay for the same reason," replied Coombs, for the boys stood guard, shouting: "You've got to stay right there, Cousin Beth!"

"Besides," continued the candidate, "I welcome the opportunity to make a convert. In return for this ride I shall expect your vote election day."

"Indeed?" questioned his passenger, restraining herself unwillingly to the situation. "And what special you." qualifications can you urge for congress? Are you competent or experienced? Do you wield influence in Washington? Are you an orator? Can you do better than the man who has represented this district for ten years?'

Coombs considered. Then he replied, with a laugh: "To all your questions I fear I must answer no." They had reached the schoolhouse. The girl smiled at him as she stepped out of the car. "At least you have the virtue of modesty," she said. The chairman and secretary had arrived at a conclusion, and the former now took the candidate aside to say in the hoarse whisper peculiar to politicians: "This part of the county is strong for you, and they like to see the animals stirred up. Go after Frank Scott's record; go after him personally. You can't make a mistake by putting his hide on the fence out here."

Their late passengers had front seats in the schoolhouse Coombs discovered when he made his way to the rostrum and waited for the chairman to call the gathering to order. The two boys winked and giggled when they caught his eye, and then leaned over to whisper something to from his father as his income.

was beaten. He made a good run, better than shrewd politicians had expected, for Frank Scott was deservedly strong.

Coombs, somehow, did not mind the defeat; there was no sting in it. Demottvile gloried in his good showing, and received him almost as a hero when he came home. He became, almost in a night, a prominent citizen. In two weeks his law business doubled. He had "arrived."

Miss Scott was going home, and Coombs had come to say good-bye. Likewise he planned, as he had been planning for a month, to say something else. But it was hard to get it out; Beth was so unconscious of what was going on beneath the surface of his mind.

At last he plucked up courage to speak:

"Ever since that night at the Bristow school I've been wondering how you'd like Demottville."

"It's a pretty little city, isn't it?" she asked, with interest.

"Yes . . . I have a little home there, surrounded by fifty-year-old maples. There's a fireplace in the living room, and a deep-padded leather chair that I like to draw up before the fire. That chair would hold two just as easily as-as an automobile seat."

"Dh," breathed Beth Scott, comprehendingly.

"But there's no use talking about it I suppose," went on Coombs, wistfully. "Your father has won, and you are going back to Washington. the most wonderful city in the country. That's the only reason I'm sorry I lost. If I'd been successful, there'd have been something to offer

"Do you think," said the girl softly, "that would make any difference, if one-cared? And I've seen Washington. But I've never seen Demottvile and-and that chair!"

When the next session of congress opened Frank Scott was hailed as a Napoleon of politics by his colleagues. They had tried many schemes to retain the magic letters, "M. C.," after their names. But to marry one's daughter to one's most dangerous opponent-that was more than scheming; it was genius!

The Proper Answer.

Richard Harding Davis received some time ago from a magazine a gushing request that he furnish itgratuitously-with a New Year's greeting and a few appropriate mottoes.

Mr. Harding Davis replied promptly:

"I can't 'greet' people I don't know, but you are welcome to my motto, which is, 'Nothing for nothing, and very little for sixpence."

A college education enables many a young man to refer to the allowance by rebels at Ojinaga. The loss among the Federals around Ojinaga is known to have been heavy of late.

BOTH DEAD IN BED.

Two Members Of Coast Artillery Corps Asphyxiated.

Providence, R. I. (Special) .-tice. Joseph Scott and Chester Pouns, members of the Ninety-sixth Company, Coast Artillery Corps, stationed at Fort Adams, Newport, were acidentally asphyxiated at a local hotel. The men were on leave of absence and registered late last

A chambermaid found both dead n bed with the gas cock wide open.

The supposition is that one of the men bumped into the gas cock in the dark and turned it on. Scott enlisted in 1909, giving his home as Caution, Ky. Pouns, who had been in the service since 1908, came from Town Creek, N. C.

Stabbed And Killed.

Pittsfield, Mass. (Special) .--- During a quarrel over a trivial matter Sunday, James McKeever, a youth of 14 years, is alleged to have stabbed and instantly killed Francis Donovan. a playmate of the same age, while they were on their way home from zhurch. McKeever, it is charged, accused Donovan of some slight remark and drew a small pocket knife and stabbed him in the neck.

Young Girl a Suicide. Hattiesburg, Miss. (Special) .--- Miss Maud Hixon, a pretty 18-year-old girl, despondent because of ill health and the thought of being separated from her sweetheart, telephoned good-by to the latter, George Bony, Saturday night and immediately drank an ounce of carbolic acid. She died Sunday at noon. Her father had come here to take the girl to their home at Red Level, Ala.

Nursery In Church.

Fort Wayne, Ind. (Special) .--- To enable the parents of babies to attend church services Rev. H. B. Master, of the First Presbyterian Church. Sunday announced that a nursery, in charge of three kindergarten teachers, would be conducted in one of the shurch social rooms during the hour of service.

Three Boys Drowned.

Lowell, Mass. (Special) .- Three skaters who ventured on thin ice were drowned near here Sunday. William Hancock, aged 12, lost his life in a pond at Methuen, and Nicholas G. McNulty, aged 10, and Patrick H. McCue, 11 years old, were drowned in the Concord River. Mc4 Nulty and McCue, who were playing he does. Your position in this respect hockey, broke through the ice together. In a vain effort to rescue | tend my congratulations." them William H. Carey, aged 18 years, and a man who declined to give his name.

"With all best wishes, I am," Yours very truly, C. W. POST.

Dr. Pratt, who is one of the most prominent and skillful surgeons in America, very kindly granted our request in the cause of truth and jus-

Chicago, Aug. 31, 1906. Mr. C. W. Post.

Battle Creek, Mich. My Dear Sir:

"I write to express my personal appreciation of one of your business methods, that of accompanying each package of your Grape-Nuts production with that little booklet "The Road to Wellville," A more appropriate, clear headed and effective presentation of health-giving auto-suggestions could scarcely be penned.

"Grape-Nuts is a good food in itself, but the food contained in this little article is still better stuff. I commend the practice because I know that the greed and strenuousness, the consequent graft and other types of thievery and malicious mischief generally can never be cured by legislative ac tion.

"The only hope for the betterment of the race rests in individual soul culture.

"In taking a step in this direction, your process has been so original and unique that it must set a pace for other concerns until finally the whole country gets flavored with genuine, practical Christianity.

"I shall do all that lies in my power to aid in the appreciation of Grape-Nuts, not so much for the sake of the food itself as for the accompanying suggestions.

"Visiting Battle Creek the other day with a friend, Dr. Kelly of Evanston, Illinois, while I was consulting with Mr. Gregory, my friend visited your factories and came away greatly amazed, not only at the luxurious furnishings of the offices generally and the general equipment of the place, but with the sweet spirit of courtesy and kindness that seemed to fill the air with a spiritual ozone that was good to breathe.

"The principles expressed in the little booklet, 'The Road to Wellville,' I well know are practical and they work in business of all kinds, including sanitariums, as will be fairly tested before time is done.

"I know you will not regard this letter of appreciation as an intruding one. It is simply the salutation of good fellowship to you from a man who, although he has never seen you, feels drawn to you by the kinship of thought.

"The only thing that makes a man live forever in the hearts of his countrymen and his race is the good that is an enviable one and I wish to sr-

Yours respectfully. E. H. PRATT.