HAS HARD TIME BREAKING IN

Major League Stands Have Proved Big Handicap to Recruits From Smaller Clubs.

Artie Hofman, the Cubs' star outfielder, frequently has interesting contributions to make to the baseball literature of the day.

"I played the outfield with minor league teams for some time, and have been with the Cubs for a good many seasons, too," says Hofman.

"Take the National league—there is Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Boston and Philadelphia—in all these cities are big, high grand stands which do not have any effect on the infielders, but hurt the work of the outfielders.

"There was a good deal of complaint from all the outfielders about this in Philadelphia during the world series; with the crowd on the field they had an especially hard time getting long flies, for they could not see the ball until it was almost on the ground.

Artie is not suggesting any cure for this evil, but merely telling about it; in fact, there is no cure—unless we are going to have the magnates tearing down all their beautiful big grand stands and making their spectators sit on nothing but little benches which won't interfere with the daylight and make it hard to catch fly balls.

MOORE BETTER THAN "MATTY"

Philadelphia Twirler Is Picked as Star Pitcher of National League by Umpire Klem.

Earl Moore, former Nap, is the best pitcher in the National League, surpassing Christy Mathewson, according to Bill Klem, a National League umpire.

"Matty knows how to pitch better than any other major league pitcher and is still a wonder, but he hasn't the stuff he had four years ago," said Klem. "He is not as strong as he used to be and wins games through the use of his brain more than his brawn.

"Perhaps Matty is easily the most valuable pitcher in our league, yet I believe Earl Moore of the Phillies has more stuff on his ball than any other pitcher I worked behind during the summer.

"Really, I never saw a more deceptive ball to judge than Moore's crossfire. It comes to you at a peculiar angle, and if it's half as hard to hit as it is for an umpire to judge, then I can easily understand why the batters don't fatten their batting averages when Moore is working.

Montgomery Park in Danger.

What is regarded as the probable passing of historic Montgomery park, for years the home of Tennessee derbies, Montgomery handicaps, and other turf classics, happened the other day when at a mass meeting of the business men a resolution was adopted recommending that the city issue bonds sufficient to purchase the property for use as a public park.

LOOKING TO EAST FOR GAMES

Michigan's Tennis Team Will Play but Two Matches With Western Schools—Both With Oberlin.

Michigan's tennis team, as well as the baseball and track teams, will look to the east this spring for its games. With the exception of two matches with Oberlin college, one to be played at Oberlin and the other at Ann Arbor, all of the games scheduled for the Michigan racquet experts are to be played in the east.

The first game of the season will be played on Ferry field, Oberlin furnishing the opposition. The remainder of the schedule, as at present arranged, are to be played away from home, as follows:

- May 6—Oberlin at Ann Arbor. May 13—Oberlin at Oberlin. May 15—Union college at Schenectady. May 17—Columbia at New York. May 18—Open. May 20—Cornell at Ithaca.

Although there are four veteran members of the Michigan tennis team in college only two of them are eligible, ex-capt. Leidy and Price having exhausted their period of eligibility. However, Captain Norrington and Shaforth both are eligible and the chances are good for a strong team, according to Captain Norrington, who already is arranging for the tournament which will decide the makeup of the Michigan team.

Sporting Gossip.

Artie O'Dea, former leader of Duluth ball teams, will have an independent team playing in the north Minnesota woods this season.

Louisville has released James Byrd, Chief Miller and Charles Schneider, pitchers, and Catcher Sewell to Lexington of the Blue Grass league.

Terry Turner's arm seems to be a hopeless case and Manager McGuire has about picked on Herman Bronk to start the season at third base for the Naps.

Lester Channell is having trouble with the ankle that he broke while with the New York Highlanders; he has been out of the Indianapolis practice work lately.

After months of dickering, an agreement has been reached whereby the varsity and freshmen crews of Cornell and Harvard will race on Lake Cayuga May 27, navy day at Ithaca.

Every spring about five out of every ten baseball players decide to quit the game. It is merely a modest way they have of demanding that their salaries shall be increased, and it should not cause serious misgivings.

HIS INVOCATION A SUCCESS

Actor Finally Got the Gas Man Awakened and Attending to His Duties.

"Years ago," says Guy Bates Post, the actor, "I appeared in an amateur performance of a play that had a distinct religious flavor. The leading player had studied for the ministry and had a deep and sonorous voice.

"Oh, Lord, deliver us from the powers of darkness." "The leading man spoke the lines, but darkness didn't follow. He spoke them again, and still the stage was distressingly light. Finally he roared: "Oh, Lord, deliver us from the power of darkness, and also give that fool gas man sense enough to turn down the lights."

"The gas lights went down and the audience roared."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

The pick of the Hildreth racing stables, including the great Fitz Herbert, winner of last year's Brooklyn handicap, is likely to be shipped to England shortly according to rumors current in New York the other day. M'GRAW FEARS CUBS IN RACE

Manager of New York Giants Expects Hard Fight With Chicago Team for Championship.

Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants tells in the Metropolitan Magazine how he expects the National league teams to finish in the 1911 pennant race.

He expects the first division teams in the National league to be New York, Chicago, Pittsburg and Cincinnati, and thinks they will finish in the order named.

In McGraw's estimation the poor showing Chicago made in the post-season games last year is no indication that that wonderful team has gone back. He expects a hard fight from the Cubs from the drop of the flag.

McGraw expects to see Cincinnati make the strongest bid for the championship that they have made since their days of glory back in the '80s.

Philadelphia's strengthened team, he believes, is due to push both Cincinnati and Pittsburg hard for first division honors.

He does not consider that the Brooklyn, St. Louis and Boston teams have been strengthened sufficiently enough to materially affect their last season's position in the league.
