Mrs. John Grenoble, of Yeagertown, stopped with the family of I. J. Zauber, on Sunday and Monday. She was on her way to Aaronsburg to assist in caring for her aged father.

The storm on Monday afternoon did considerable damage in this neighborhood. Trees were up rooted, window lights broken by the scores, buildings unroofed, fences leveled. One-fourth of the roof on the barn on the H. B. Herring farm was blown off, a chimney on the William Fredericks dwelling house was toppled over, six large window lights in the Long store building were broken.

A teacher-training class numbering twenty composed of pupils from the five local Sunday-schools and the Penn Hall and Georges Valley schools, met in the Reformed church and organized. The next meeting will be at the same place next Thursday evening, and thereafter alternately in the several churches represented in the class. All persons interested in Sunday-school work are invited to join.

ELECT COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

Prof. D. O. Etters Elected for Third Term without Opposition—Salary Increased to $2000.

For the third time Prof. D. O. Etters was elected superintendent of the public schools of Centre county, the latter two times without opposition. The election was a matter of form, but the increase of the salary from $1692 the present salary, being the minimum under the school laws, to $2000 required three votes for its accomplishment.

At 10:40 a. m., on Tuesday, the directors were called to order in the court house by superintendent Etters, who in the briefest form stated the object of the assembling of the body, on the first Tuesday in May every third year. Capt. C. T. Fryberger, of Phillipsburg, was named chairman, Charles F. Cook, of Bellefonte, secretary, and P. J. McDonald, Unionville, and J. C. Stover, Millheim, tellers. The chair thanked the directors for the unsoiled position, and stated he would endeavor to be fair with all and serve to the best of his ability.

Prof. M. S. McDowell, of State College, placed in nomination Prof. Etters for re-election. He dwelt briefly on his ability and general fitness for the position, and of his past record in the office. The roll call revealed that all of the 123 directors present, except one, favored his re-election. This stray director performed as though he had just previously and repeatedly been admitted to the "bar" and it is safe to say that his actions in convention were not the result of solicitation on the part of Mr. Meyer, superintendent of the Phillipsburg schools, for whom he voted.

The question of salary was then brought before the convention. Col. D. F. Fortney moved that the salary be $2400. The proposition received fifteen or twenty votes. Ex-Senator Heinle then proposed, as a compromise, $2150 as the salary, claiming that $2150 was the average salary paid superintendents in the state. This sum is $150 over the salary proposed in the school code before the legislature, but the ex-senator thought it would be a good thing to be a little in advance of the times in the matter of salary.

The vote to make the salary $2150 proved to be a tie—sixty-one for and as many against the proposition. The chairman cast his vote in the negative, and the motion was lost.

The third and successful move to increase the salary was then made, the sum being $2000. This measure carried by a very fair majority, the number voting for and against not being counted.

Chairman Fryberger then called for the superintendent-elect and asked that he address the directors. Superintendent Etters expressed himself as highly pleased over being elected for the third time and without opposition. He called the attention of the directors to the necessity of forwarding reports on time, and gave two instances where secretaries almost lost the appropriation on minimum salaries on account of neglect. On the question of when school boards should re-organize he was unable to give any light.

Prof. McDowell spoke for a few minutes on the boys' corn contest which is being conducted by Pennsylvania State College.

After the chairman thanked the secretary for his good work, and the tellers for their good intentions, the assembly adjourned at 11:38.

She will graduate in June, this being the only full school year she attended the normal, her previous work having been done at the spring terms after the close of the public schools in the townships named.
