There are 40 women students in the department of Home Economics. The faculty now numbers 169.

Grindstone Bursts.

Newton Yarnell, of near Linden Hall, had a narrow escape with his life on Tuesday morning, when a piece of a bursted grindstone struck him on the arm and badly lacerated it, necessitating several stitches in dressing. Mr. Yarnell was operating a chop mill and his sons were grinding an axe, the machinery being driven by a gasoline engine, when the stone attained a high speed and burst, one of the pieces striking Mr. Yarnell with the above described result, and other portions of the stone flew in all directions, but did no harm, except the wall and ceiling where they struck.

Quite a number of residents of Howard and Howard township attended a hearing before Judge Orvis, the case being one of the poor overseer of the township against the poor overseers of the borough to have the borough removed from the township and maintain J. K. Boney and family. For the borough it was contended that the Boney family were legal residents of the townships and that the expense of maintaining them properly belonged to the township. The contention of the township overseer was that the Boney family had lived for eighteen months in Howard borough and had, therefore, established a legal residence there. Judge Orvis reserved his decision.
