SILENCE THAT WAS WASTED

Aunt Melissa supremely indifferent to fact that Pa had for days been in a "huff."

Aunt Melissa Spigott was such an exceedingly energetic talker that the youngsters of the family used to suppose that her tongue must be coppered, because it never wore out. Uncle Elias, on the other hand, was an economical words as a marketman is of early strawberries.

The too free exercising of this unruly member of Aunt Melissa's on one occasion, gave Uncle Elias serious offense, which he manifested by a severe silence lasting for several days. At the end of that period one of the older daughters approached her mother upon the subject with the remark, "Ma, seems like you ought to make up with Pa by now."

"Make up with Pa?" exclaimed Aunt Melissa, in great astonishment. "Make up what?"

"Why," returned the daughter, "don't you know poor Pa's feeling bad yet? He's still huffing."

"Huffing?" for the land's sake! How long's he been a-huffing?"

"Ever since you came down on him so hard about wasting sugar by not stirring his coffee; that's three days ago."

"Why, you don't tell me, Janie Maud!" Aunt Melissa looked amazed. "Your pore Pa! I never a-huffing for three days, and I been mistrusted a thing of it!"—Youth's Companion.

LIVE NEWS OF THE STATE

Reading.—Residents of Glenside, this county, held a meeting to consider the water question, Judge Endlich having rendered an opinion that Reading has no right to sell water beyond its boundary lines. Glenside is supplied with water by the city through a suburban company, but this will cease on August 1. The citizens present voted unanimously against annexation to Reading, preferring to carry their water rather than take this step. In the meantime arrangements will be made to get a water supply from some other source.

York.—Miss Bessie Matson, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matson, was killed in a runaway accident near Fawn Grove. The girl, accompanied by a younger sister and a companion, was driving to Delta to attend a picnic. The horse became frightened at a heavy delivery wagon and overturned the buggy on an embankment. Miss Matson was driving and she was the only one injured. One of her lungs was punctured and her spine was injured, causing death shortly after the accident.

Washington.—The watchword of the United Presbyterian Church, "a million dollars for missions and 25,000 souls for Christ this year," was forcibly impressed upon the delegates at the session of the Fifty-third General Assembly, in the speeches and reports of committees. J. J. Porter, of Pittsburg, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, outlined plans to raise the $1,000,000 for missions. Reports on the men's movement and the state of religion also dwelt upon the present campaign of the church.

Scranton.—Chairman Fred Zizelman, of Common Council, is at the head of a movement on the part of the local city fathers to attack the constitutionality of the Pittsburg-Scranton bill, signed by Governor Tener. The Councilmen have been advised, so Mr. Zizelman alleges, that it is unconstitutional to provide nine Councilmen for one city and five for another, when both cities are in the same class.

Chester.—One of the largest castings ever shipped from this city was sent away Thursday by the Seaboard Steel Casting Company. The casting, which weighs 41,000 pounds, was loaded on the steamer Fleetwood and consigned to the shipyard at Staten Island, N. Y. The steamer is equipped with a massive derrick and the casting was placed on board with ease.

Reading.—John Sobosky, aged 23 years, was found lying in a ten-foot alley in the southern section of the city by Officer DeHart, with his right eye knocked out and his skull fractured. Later it was learned that he was injured in a fight, and Peter Stroka was locked up as the alleged assailant. Sobosky's condition is serious.

Pottsville.—The old turnpike between Pottsville and Ashland, via Newcastle, which was at one time one of the best known highways in this section, but which was abandoned thirty-five years ago, is to be reopened. The Good Roads Association is back of the movement. Broad Mountain is over two miles wide on the summit at a point where this road crosses it.

Ford City.—Arthur McElfresh, aged 14, is dying of a blood clot on the brain, caused by a blow from a foul ball at a Memorial Day game. Although knocked down by the blow, McElfresh was able to get up and walk away, but later became unconscious and was taken to a hospital, where physicians say he cannot recover.

York.—Henry Strayer, of Franklin Township, was thrown from his wagon and the wheels passed over him. He was internally injured and will probably not recover. The accident was caused by the horse stopping suddenly.

Reading.—Dislocating her neck in a fall eight days ago Mrs. Margaret Blankenbiller, 80 years old, of West Reading, much to the amazement of the attending physicians lived until Thursday. She died in the Reading hospital.

Reading.—Rev. Dr. E. T. Horn, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, of this city, has accepted the call to the professorship at the Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary and will enter upon his new duties on September 1.

Shenandoah.—Joseph Mergalis, 17 years old, high school student and son of August Mergalis, district board member of the United Mine Workers of this section, was drowned while bathing in a reservoir here.

Pittsburg.—Walking in his sleep out of a third-story window, Richard B. Melvaine, aged 27, an attorney, fell and received injuries which caused his death in a short time. The accident occurred at the home of his father, Rev. Dr. J. H. Melvaine, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church.

Scranton.—John Flanagan was killed, and Guy Wetzel was badly injured in a runaway accident on Glyphant Boulevard here. Two others in the party suffered slight injuries.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Information and Gossip at Harrisburg.

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Brief Mention of Matters as They Occur at the State Capital Official and Otherwise.

Bigelow to Head Commission.
The Sproul "Main Highway" bill, designed to give Pennsylvania a system of over 7,000 miles of improved road, reaching every center of population and covering all counties of the State has been signed by Governor Tener.

Coincident with the statement that the measure had been approved, the announcement was made that Edward M. Bigelow, former director of Public Works, of Pittsburg, creator of its system of parks and boulevards, and for years personal representative of Senator Penrose in Allegheny County, had been named as the new Highway Commissioner.

The bill not only provides for a program of road construction, which will take a dozen years and over $50,000,000 to carry out, but reorganizes the State Highway Department under which the State has been building roads on a State aid system since 1903 at a cost of approximately $10,000,000.

The new act contemplates road building on the greatest scale of any State in the Union, as the State is gridironed by routes, making half a dozen crossing the State and connecting with roads in the States of New York, Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio. Under the old laws the roads reconstructed were isolated, and in only a few cases did they connect with established highways. The new law links up seven-eighths of the macadam roads and makes them part of a system connecting county seats, industrial towns and places of general interest like Gettysburg and Harrisburg.

Joseph W. Hunter, of Montgomery County, the present commissioner, who organized the department and has since directed it, will be first deputy commissioner.

The bill provides for a commissioner at $5,000, two deputies at $6,000, chief engineer at $7,000, engineer of bridges at $3,500, and a force of civil engineers, draftsmen and other attaches, together with fifty superintendents, who are to have charge of the districts into which the State will be divided.

There are provided 296 road routes, covering every section, and the new commissioner is to take over such roads by June 1, 1912, and condemn what toll roads and turnpikes he cannot buy. The main highways are to be built by the State, a preliminary appropriation of $3,000,000 being made for this work. Should the proposed constitutional amendment to enable the State to borrow $50,000,000 for road building be passed, the sum can be available, but should it fail, successive Legislatures can appropriate money to carry out the program. The commissioner may change such routes as he deems expedient, and provision is made for the division of the maintenance charges between the Commonwealth and the districts through which roads pass.

To continue the present system of State aid for road construction, the bill carries $1,000,000, but instead of the State paying 75 per cent. of the cost and the balance being divided between county, borough or township, the State will bear but 50 per cent. of the cost, the other half being paid by the county and subordinate divisions benefited.

Revenue Bill Signed

Governor Tener has approved the Pittsburg-Scranton charter bill. The so-called "Pittsburg plan" act provides for some of the principal features of the commission form of government of cities, in that it rips out of office the large Councilmanic bodies and institutes in their stead very small Councils. It also effects other changes in the form of government of cities of the second class, thus affecting only the cities of Pittsburg and Scranton. The act takes effect immediately and rips out of office the sixty-seven Councilmen in Pittsburg and sixty-two in Scranton, creating in their stead a Council of nine for Pittsburg, who shall each receive a salary of $6,500 a year, and five for Scranton, to be paid $2,000. The act gives the Governor the power to appoint the new single-chamber Councils. The present Mayors of the two cities are not affected. Under the act the Councilmen will have authority to remove heads of departments for cause, it being required that a Common Pleas Judge shall preside when an official is tried.

Three Killed in Auto.

Three persons were killed and one probably fatally hurt when an automobile, driven by C. A. Sefton, a prominent carriage manufacturer, got beyond control and dashed off the Mulberry street viaduct, hurling its occupants 50 feet below on piles of building material stored beneath the bridge. The dead are Mr. Sefton, William Harrar, of Harrar & Chamberlain, leather merchants, and Mrs. Robert W. Dunlop, wife of the manager of a bond firm.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

New York.—Dun's Review says: "Bank exchanges this week make a much more satisfactory comparison with recent preceding years than for a long time past, the total at all leading cities of the United States aggregating $2,739,867,482, an increase of 8.6 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week last year and of 8.6 per cent. over the same week in 1909. Most of the improvement is shown in the returns by New York city, but while the more favorable comparison may be due in part to more active operations in the financial and speculative markets than last year at that point, it may be noted that the excess in this respect is much less than last week, whereas the increase in exchange is 12 per cent., against 5.1 per cent. Among the outside centres the cities in the East and South also show marked improvement. Smaller exchanges than last year at Pittsburg reflect the depressed conditions in the iron industry."

PULPIT NOT IN THEIR LINE

How Men Now Eminent in Judiciary of Country Disappointed Parents' Fond Expectations.

"There were three boys in our family out in Ashland county, Ohio," said Colonel Fred Paul Grosscup, of Charleston, W. Va., at the Willard hotel, "and our good old Lutheran parents decided that one of the three should be a preacher."

"Peter, the first born, was picked for the church, while Ben and myself were allowed to think of some other vocation. Well, when Peter left college he told father and mother that he guessed the church could get along without him, as he preferred the pulpit, and after a term in college my parents were shocked to learn that I had entered a business house far from home."

"That meant the selection of Ben, the youngest, for the church, and when Ben got through his college course he told the old folks at home that he thought it wisest to follow the example of Peter and enter the legal profession. There were no other boys, so what could father and mother do but exclaim, 'The Lord's will be done,' and give us each a parental blessing."

"Years after, when brother Peter reached the federal bench and Ben achieved distinction on the Pacific coast, our parents seemed reconciled to the loss sustained by the pulpits of the country."

The Professor—An ordinary brick will absorb a quart of water.
The Pupilist—Then my brother's no brick!
The Professor—What do you mean?
The Pupilist—He never absorbed that much water in his life.

Dragging Their Hosiery.
Little Ariene was familiar with the appearance of the garden hose at home, but when she observed a line of fire hose, with its great length and bulk lying serpent-like in the street, she immediately inquired what it was. Her mother replied that was firemen's hose, and the child went on watching the fire.

In the meantime two additional fire companies dashed up, and these newly arrived fire fighters were carrying their respective lines toward the burning building, when little Ariene spied them.
"Oh, mamma," she cried, craning her neck out of the crowd, "here comes more firemen dragging their hosiery behind them!"—Lippincott's.

DROPSY. How a Terrible Case Was Cured After Doctor's Treatment Failed.

Michael J. Sharp, 129 Maryland Ave., Rosebank, N. Y., says: "I had intense pains through my back and my feet swelled so I could hardly walk. The slightest touch left a mark on the skin, showing plainly that I had dropsy. Whenever I caught cold, I lost control of the kidney secretions. My physician stated nothing would save me but an operation. It was my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and under their use I gradually grew better. The frequent flow of the urine was corrected, the brickish sediment and gravel disappeared and the color became natural. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in the highest terms."

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANET ZI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit. Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders, and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine or known composition.
