Ben's Logic.

"Ben," said his friend, waking up from a reverie in which he had been gazing abstractedly at the shiny expanse of Ben's skatin'-rink-for-dies, "is there nothing you could do for your baldness?"

Ben, by the way, is on forty.
"No, lad!" he replied with decision. "Fifteen years ago I was courting strong, and I tried lots o' things. But about that time t' prince of Wales—Edward, you know—came to open t' new hospital and I said to myself as soon as I saw him liftin' his hat to t' crowd, 'Ben, my lad, that can give it up as a ba' job, and save thy brass. If there was owt 'at 'ud cure a bald head they'd ha' cured his.'—Tit-Bits.

A New Sensation.

Little Jean had visited one of the large summer amusement parks for the first time, and with the courage possessed only by those girls whose playmates are boys and girls older than themselves, she had not hesitated when invited to take a ride on one of the "thrillers" that abound in such places.

To her mother, on her return from the park, she confided the emotions she had experienced as she swept round the curves of the "figure eight" with her elder brothers.

"Mamma," she said, "when I went round those awful turns so fast I felt just as if I had freckles on my stomach!"—Youth's Companion.

HEART RIGHT.

When He Quit Coffee.

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble.

The reason is obvious.
This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an unexpected thing and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings.

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till on applying for life insurance I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum I began its use.

"The change in my condition was remarkable. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared, and, most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the Life Insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the change."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

STATE CAPITAL CHAT

HARRISBURG CORRESPONDENCE

State School Board Named.

The members of the first State Board of Education have been named by Governor Tener, being selected from the members of the commission which drew the school code under which the board was created.

Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is to be ex officio president of the board. The members of the new board are:

Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, Philadelphia, named for six years.
David B. Oliver, Pittsburg, five years.
Dr. George M. Phillips, West Chester, four years.

John S. Rilling, Erie, three years
William Lauder, Riddlesburg, two years.
James M. Coughlin, Wilkes-Barre, one year.

Dr. Brumbaugh is Superintendent of Public Schools of Philadelphia. David B. Oliver is president of the School Board of Pittsburg; John S. Rilling, a lawyer of Erie, James M. Coughlin, superintendent of schools in Wilkes-Barre; Dr. George M. Phillips, principal of the West Chester State Normal School, and William Lauder, a merchant of Riddlesburg.

Each member of the board has a direct part in drafting the new school code. The six colleagues of Superintendent Schaeffer are appointed respectively for one, two, three, four, five and six years, their terms of office beginning July 1. Annually thereafter the Governor will appoint one member of the board for six years.

The members are to serve without compensation, other than payment of the expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as members of the board.

The board will be required to recommend school legislation to the Governor and General Assembly; to equalize educational advantages of the different parts of the State; to encourage agricultural education, manual training, domestic science, etc.

The board will also be expected to prescribe rules for the construction and equipment of school buildings.

The offices of the Board of Education will be in the State Capitol, but it may meet elsewhere when it is deemed necessary to do so. The board is authorized to employ such assistants and incur such other expenses as it finds necessary for the performance of its duties, but is confined within the limits of the appropriations made for its use.

Locusts in All Sections.

State Zoologist Surface announces that the seventeen-year locust has now appeared in all parts of Pennsylvania where they will occur this year, and there is, consequently, no need of any further delay of pruning in order to avoid the ravages, and no need of keeping trees covered for protection from them in regions where they have not yet in an appearance. According to schedule, these peculiar insects appeared in the mountainous and hilly regions of Pennsylvania, from the Susquehanna River to Harrisburg, eastward to New Jersey.

In some places they were very abundant. Mr. Surface is engaged in seeking information as to the exact localities in which they were present, so that these can be charted on maps for future practical use. This information should be sent to him together with specimens. In some regions of the State persons who planted young fruit trees, followed the directions of Prof. Surface in delaying pruning until after the locusts had deposited their eggs, so that the injured branches could be cut away without concentrating the injury into a small area.

Troops' Names Changed.

General orders issued from National Guard headquarters changes the designations of the two cavalry squadrons. The Philadelphia troops, now known as Squadron A, are to be known as the First Squadron, and the Harrisburg, New Castle and Tyrone troops as Second Squadron, instead of Squadron B.

Beetle Attacks Alfalfa.

Officials of the State Agricultural Department were stirred by a report of a beetle attacking alfalfa crops in Cumberland county. The investigations of State Zoologist H. A. Surface show that the blister beetle, a species of the potato beetle family, is responsible for the damage and he will prepare a remedy.

Escheat Act Explained.

An opinion was given by Attorney General John C. Bell establishing rules for compensation in escheat cases under the act of 1911. It holds that an informer who presented notice prior to the approval of the act, shall be entitled to one-third of the estate under the old act, instead of one-fourth, as under the new. The escheator, provided he was named before the new act, is to get but 5 per cent, instead of 15, as under the new.

ODD ANIMAL FAMILIES

SOME STRANGE ADAPTATIONS HAVE BEEN NOTED.

Friendly Relations Often Formed Between Cats and Dogs—Story of French Chicks That Had a Feline Foster Mother.

The cases in which cats and dogs have formed close relations are, of course, too numerous to mention. It really seems as if there were no animal friendship so strong and lasting as that between cats and dogs when once it is formed. It is well known that mother cats when deprived of their new-born progeny will adopt puppies, rabbits, monkeys or almost any other tender young creatures that may be handy. But there recently came to light a case for which there is no such apparent explanation.

A cat and a female fox terrier, which had brought into the world their progeny at about the same time, deliberately swapped their young, the cat taking the puppies to bring up and the dog the kittens. The exchange was satisfactory, and both litters were brought in good health to the weanable stage. Nobody knows what led to such abnormal conduct.

A somewhat similar case is reported from Halle, Germany. A householder there having a female cat and a female dog with families of young, felt that his house was in danger of becoming a sort of Noah's ark, and took away and drowned all the kittens. The puppies found favor in his eyes.

Deprived of her little ones, the cat began to "spell" the female dog in taking care of the puppies. As soon as the mother dog left her nest the bereaved mother cat crawled into it and nursed the puppies. Nothing loath, the puppies took all that came to them, and thrived prodigiously. The cat licked them and took care of them as she would have taken care of her own.

A certain cat, the story of whose career is vouched for by a cat club, adopted a litter of young rabbits and nourished them well. This cat was, for that matter, very sociable and inclusive in her likings. One year her constant companion was a chicken. The two ate habitually out of the same dish and slept every night in the same inclosure.

There is an authentic story of a male and a female cat in France that lived on terms of perfect amity with all the animals on the place—dogs, chickens and what not. It so happened that a hen which had a brood of seven chickens was killed accidentally. The cat, which some two weeks before had been deprived of her kittens, appeared to observe the predicament of the seven little chickens. She crawled into their nest and the chickens, looking for warmth, nestled into her warm fur, peeping gratefully. The chickens, fed by their owner, thrived perfectly, and every day the strange sight was presented of their following the mother-cat about the premises, as if expecting her to find them food after the manner of a hen.—New York Press.

What Should Be Done With Parents.
It seems remarkable that with about sixteen thousand new criminal statutes recorded each year nothing has yet been done for the regulation of parents.

Children are daily, nay, hourly, subjected to mortification because their parents commit some breach of modern etiquette or betray hopeless ignorance on some vital point, and this goes on day after day and year after year and nothing is done about it.

Too much, of course, should not be expected of our modern parents; that they know nothing of geography is, for example, not necessarily to be laid to their discredit. But that they are hopelessly ignorant of slang, that they sniff at cigarettes and rouge and that they like to see plays where the villain meets his just due and virtue its reward, and that they wear shockingly old-fashioned clothes, are all matters for public as well as private concern.

What are we to do with parents who never drink anything stronger than lemonade, leave their spoons in their coffee cups, refuse to sit in roof gardens until midnight and dislike to ride in a motor going more than thirty miles an hour?—Life.

Mating.

"This is the mating season," said a clergyman. "I shall add appreciably to my income by mating youths and maidens in this soft, brilliant weather."

"I mated a girl yesterday," he said, "to a youth with a rather thick head. At the beginning of the ceremony I said to him:

"'You are to repeat this after me.'
"And then, prior to beginning the declaration, I whispered:
"Take her right hand.'
"Take her right hand,' the stupid fellow bellowed, and everybody in the church laughed.

"Afterward he couldn't get the ring on the bride's finger.

"Wej it," I whispered.

"And acting on my advice, he put her little white finger in his mouth, and, after lubricating it thoroughly, succeeded in making the ring slip on."

Its Style.

"Do you know her cool impudence is like a condiment to the others' conversation."

"Yes; something of what you might call Chili sauce."

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Dun's review says: Bank exchanges this week make a very favorable exhibit with the total at all leading cities in the United States aggregating $2,765,136,710, an increase as compared with the corresponding week last year of 13.2 per cent, and a loss of only 2.7 per cent, as compared with the same week in 1909. New York city reports the remarkable gain over last year of 17.1 per cent, which is especially notable because of the fact that stock exchange operations were on a smaller scale than at that time. On the other hand, activity in the stock and financial markets in 1909 to a larger extent accounted in part for a decrease of 9.1 per cent, in comparison with that year. Returns from the cities outside the leading centers are also extremely favorable. In fact, the total is larger than for any corresponding week. Every city, except Pittsburg, where a decrease of 20 per cent, reflects prevailing conditions in the iron and steel markets, reports gains, which at some points are very large, while compared with 1909 there is pronounced increase at every city, except Boston and Cincinnati. The daily average also shows improvement, there now being a gain for them on that date over last year of 0.2 per cent., whereas preceding months exhibit loss.

WHERE THEY DRAW THE LINE

Naturally Men Disapprove of Extravagance When Their Own Purse Is Concerned.

Mrs. William B. Leeds, who took Mrs. George Keppel's house in London for the coronation season, came from New York with 40 huge trunks, all the same size, all mounted with shining brass, all claret-colored, and all as lustrous as the body of a motor car.

Mrs. Leeds, as her 40 trunks imply, dresses very beautifully. She spends a large amount on her wardrobe, and discussing the fact that woman's dress is so much more expensive and so much less durable than men's, she once said:

"We women dress foolishly, and we will continue to do so till men disapprove; but"—she smiled on the men at the table—"no man in the world ever disapproved of dress extravagance in a woman unless she happened to be his wife."—Detroit Free Press.

BABY'S HAIR ALL CAME OUT

"When my first baby was six months old he broke out on his head with little bumps. They would dry up and leave a scale. Then it would break out again and it spread all over his head. All the hair came out and his head was scaly all over. Then his face broke out all over in red bumps and it kept spreading until it was on his hands and arms. I bought several boxes of ointment, gave him blood medicine, and had two doctors to treat him, but he got worse all the time. He had it about six months when a friend told me about Cuticura. I sent and got a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. In three days after using them he began to improve. He began to take long naps and to stop scratching his head. After taking two bottles of Resolvent, two boxes of Ointment and three cakes of Soap he was sound and well, and never had any breaking out of any kind. His hair came out in little curls all over his head. I don't think anything else would have cured him except Cuticura."

"I have bought Cuticura Ointment and Soap several times since to use for cuts and sores and have never known them to fail to cure what I put them on. I think Cuticura is a great remedy and would advise any one to use it. Cuticura Soap is the best that I have ever used for toilet purposes."

(Signed) Mrs. F. E. Harmon, R. F. D. 2, Atoka, Tenn., Sept. 10, 1910.

Lead in Salt Industry.
The five leading states in the salt industry are Michigan, New York, Ohio, Kansas, Louisiana and California, and in 1909 these six states produced salt valued at $7,714,557. The salt from these states is obtained from rock salt, sea water and natural brine—in other words, from all the known sources of salt.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house."
"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her."

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."
