

COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION.

Sessions at Aaronsburg Largely Attended - Rev. Shuey the New President

The Forty-second Annual Convention of the Centre County Sabbath School Association assembled in the Lutheran church at Aaronsburg, Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, with fair attendance of delegates from all parts of the county, and an attendance of others that crowded the auditorium to its utmost capacity. The address of welcome by F. D. Krapp was responded to by Rev. Fred W. Barry. Mrs. Maude Juakin Baldwin, State Superintendent of Elementary Work, made a most interesting and impressive address showing the need of knowledge of the child, of method, and of subject matter on the part of the teachers. W. D. Stein, State Superintendent of O. A. B. C. Work, also gave a superior address on organized adult Bible classes. His great theme was that adults can be held in school only by giving them something worth while when they come.

Tuesday morning's session opened at 8.45 o'clock with an interesting conference of District Elementary Superintendents led by Mrs. L. W. Nuttall. The reports of the various officers showed progress, and also that there is still room for greater advancement. Rev. E. H. Yocum explained why the "teen" years are critical.

Rev. Fred W. Barry's subject was "The Adult Bible Classes and Christian Citizenship." His definition of Christian Citizenship was unique: "It is wearing one's Sunday clothes during the week."

Mrs. Baldwin told the convention how to introduce the "New Graded Lessons" into small schools. Mr. Stein spoke on "Value of County and District Organizations."

After the usual devotional exercises in the afternoon, Mrs. Baldwin suggested many excellent ways of improving the Elementary Department of the Sunday School. Rev. I. S. Sasmann, of State College, spoke on the school's obligation to young men. The successful teacher will make a special effort to understand young men, considering also their need of recreation. Pine Hall was selected as the place for the next meeting in the latter part of August.

The officers elected are as follows: President, C. C. Shuey, Bellefonte; vice president, G. L. Goodhart, Centre Hall; secretary, L. W. Nuttall, Philipsburg; statistical secretary, C. E. Royer, Spring Mills; treasurer, A. Lukenbach, Bellefonte; Elementary Superintendent, Mrs. L. W. Nuttall, Philipsburg; Home Department Superintendent, Rev. I. S. Sasmann, State College; Teacher Training Superintendent, Rev. S. H. Engler, Pleasant Gap; O. A. B. C. Superintendent, Prof. William Ziegler, Aaronsburg; Temperance Superintendent, Rev. S. A. Snyder, Centre Hall.

Rev. W. H. Schuyler called attention to the need of maintaining schools in public school houses in certain communities. Mrs. Baldwin brought the afternoon session to a close by conducting a conference of elementary workers.

In the evening Rev. W. C. Winey discussed the Sunday School and the home, or the Home Department. Mr. Stein spoke on the activities of the adult class. Mrs. Baldwin took "Paul's Spirit of Obedience" for the theme of her last address. Mr. and Mrs. Nuttall gave many reminiscences of the International Sunday School Convention held at San Francisco in June.

The above enumeration of speakers and subjects gives no idea of the able and interesting presentation of practical thoughts that characterized the convention and brought out exclamations on all sides that this was one of the best meetings of the association ever held. The people of Aaronsburg and vicinity showed an unusual interest in the various sessions and entertained the convention royally.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stuart, of Bellevue, are visiting at Boalsburg.

Miss Ruth Wagner, of Altoona, visited at Boalsburg.

Misses Gertrude Homan and Edith Summey, of State College, spent Sunday evening at Boalsburg.

Mrs. Maude Whitehill with her daughter Esther, of Lemont, spent Friday at Boalsburg.

Edward Lucas and family spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Grove, at Pine Grove Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goheen and daughter, Miss Margaretta, attended the picnic at Baileyville on Saturday.

Mrs. G. W. Garberic is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Jesse Long, who is ill at her home at Spring Mills.

A son was born to Mrs. Susie Traxler at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reitz, Wednesday of last week.

Rev. C. T. Houtz and wife, of Selinsgrove, and Mrs. Clarence Passmore, of Harrisburg, are visitors at the home of George Shugart.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and son Karl, of Spring Mills, spent Sunday and Monday with relatives at Boalsburg and State College.

Mrs. Frank Tharpe with her little daughter Elizabeth and Mrs. Harry Ishler with her children spent Sunday afternoon at Pine Grove Mills.

Master John Andrew Myers who spent the summer with relatives at State College and Boalsburg returned to his home at Spring Mills on Monday.

David Kuhn, of Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn, of Williamsport, and Sutton Kreider, of Mill Hall, were recent visitors at the home of Alexander Kuhn.

It is not infrequent that men who rise in prominence long to do something for the old home town. One of this type of men is Hon. Cyrus Woods, of Greensburg, who when a boy was a boy in Boalsburg. For the love of the old town, Mr. Woods has been keeping in repair the Presbyterian church here. He is a member of this particular denomination, and not only the members of the Presbyterian church, but every citizen of Boalsburg is appreciative of his loyalty to the church and the old home. The first improvement made was two years ago when a concrete walk was built, and last summer the exterior of the church was painted—painted white with green trimmings. Last week paper hangers from Bellefonte came on, and now the interior of the edifice has been beautified. The paper work is modern in design, and the workmanship the best.

By "trackless trolley" the members of the various Sunday-schools in Boalsburg were conveyed to a grove at Shingletown to enjoy themselves in picnic style. This was on last Saturday—ideal for picnicking. A spirit much desired, that of unity, prevailed among both young and old. Innocent games were indulged in by those so inclined. When the noon hour came the baskets laden with the choicest provisions were unpacked, and stored away by those whose appetite had been whetted by romping and entering into the picnic spirit. The "trackless trolley" will need a bit of explaining. The mode of conveying was by traction engine hitched to a number of hay wagons adequately upholstered with bright wheat straw. The experience of this way of traveling over Harris township roads was novel, and the trip to and from the grove will long be remembered by the participants. The iron horse used was that of C. W. Cori, the thresherman.

The Uplift Movement.

When he left the house Saturday morning Burton yanked at the door as if he would pull it off its hinges. When he couldn't open it he started to grumble until his wife came to his assistance.

"What'n blue blazes is the matter with this door?" he grumbled, giving it another powerful yank without being able to open it.

"The trouble with you, John, dear," the wife ventured, "is that you are always down on everything—down in the mouth, down on the world. Let me try it."

With a gentle tug upward on the knob she easily opened the door.

John was about to sputter out a sarcastic remark when the force of his wife's logic sank in his thick skull.

"I get it!" he exclaimed. "I get the lesson."

That afternoon when his wife visited his office she saw over his desk a little motto with the words, "Me For the Uplift."—Youngstown Telegram.

A Sign of a Crowd.

A very fat, puffing, elderly woman stepped up to the box office of the Chestnut Street theater and, placing a coin on the ticket window, said:

"Give me a ticket to the gallery."

"You are at the wrong window, madam," said the ticket seller. "The gallery ticket office is to your left as you go out of the door."

The old woman walked down the steps and, advancing a few feet, glanced around inquiringly and then her gaze wandered to the iron fire escape which was suspended above the sidewalk.

Going back to the main box office, she said:

"Say, me boy, Oi can't get in there; it's crowded."

"Crowded?"

"Sure, it must be," she said. "They have the steps pulled up."—Philadelphia Times.

With an Eye to the Future.

"It would probably take many generations of adversity to train Americans into the farseeing thriftiness of my people," once observed an American of Scotch birth. "I remember a case of a Scotchwoman who had been promised a new bonnet by a lady. Before she undertook the purchase the lady called and asked the good woman:

"Would you rather have a felt or a straw bonnet, Mrs. Carmichael?" "Weel," responded Mrs. Carmichael thoughtfully, "I think I'll tak' a strae ane. It'll maybe be a mouthfu' to the coo when I'm done w' it!"—Lippincott's.

Stopping it.

"Willie," said his mother, "are you making the baby cry?" "No'm," replied the boy, "I'm holdin' my hand over her mouth to make her stop."

THERE IS NO PLOW SUPERIOR TO THE SYRACUSE RIDING PLOW

It plows the same depth the whole day long; sticks to the ground in stormy soil; can be well handled on rocky hillsides. It leaves no dead furrows to wash; will throw the soil up hill better than any other plow made; it is strong enough to do its work, yet not clumsy. It is made for two or three horses.
