DEATHS.

After being confined to bed since last February, Mrs. Catharine C. Albright died at her home near Bellefonte Friday morning. Interment was made Monday morning, at Shiloh, Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, pastor of the Lutheran church officiating.

The deceased was the wife of Samuel Albright, and was aged seventy-two years, six months, seven days. The husband and six children survive, namely, Mrs. Alice Stephenson, State College; Mrs. Maggie Sunday, Rock; Mrs. Lydia Rodgers, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Annie Jessups, Clair; Scott and Frank, Pittsburgh; William, Rock View.

Death was due to a growth which began its development several years ago after the lady received a hard fall.

Mrs. Jesse Long died at her home in Spring Mills, Monday last week, after an illness extending over a period of some weeks. Interment was made last Thursday, at Farmers Mills, Rev. Snook officiating. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Edward Decker, of Spring Mills.

LOCALS

The sunshine, how welcome it is this week. Tuesday night mercury dropped to 43, just eleven degrees above freezing; cool enough.

A cloud burst in the vicinity of Tyrone did considerable damage to the Bald Eagle Valley and Lewisburg and Tyrone railroads. An old house occupied as a residence was washed away. The family was rescued with some difficulty.

The Millheim school board has decided, as in former years, to enforce the vaccination law. By many it is thought the vaccination law is a dead letter, but these are in error. The new school code says nothing on the subject of vaccination, but the health laws do.

Mrs. Clyde Spencer and daughter, of East Chicago, Indiana, is at the home of C. D. Bartholomew. She is accompanied by her son and little daughter, and her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Bartholomew. Mrs. Spencer's husband is a policeman in East Chicago, and is on duty while his wife and two of the children are in the east.

Practically no wheat has been sown up to this date in this locality. There yet remains considerable plowing to be done. Early in the season the stubble fields were too hard to turn, and after rain set in the fall was so great that the ground became too wet for plowing. Seeding, on account of these conditions, has been delayed.

Former Auditor General William P. Snyder, of Spring City, and former Superintendent of Grounds James M. Shumaker, of Johnstown, are to be released from the Eastern Penitentiary on October 8th. They were convicted of conspiracy to defraud the state in the finishing of the state capitol, and were sentenced for a term of two years. Under the commutation act their sentences have been reduced to nineteen months. Both will return to their respective homes.

The citizens in and about Bellefonte, on Monday evening, held a mass meeting for the purpose of formulating plans to obtain favor with the commission appointed to select a site for the state penitentiary. The one thing that is needful is for landowners to accept a fair price for real estate, and that, so it appears, will be the attitude of the land owners about Centre Hall. If Penna Valley wins this prize, it will win because its people are not disposed to act the hog. Plain, but true.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Homan, of Toledo, Ohio, are at the home of the former's mother in Centre Hall. Mr. Homan is connected with the Willys Overland Automobile Company, a position he has held for several years. Penna Valley is so attractive to Mrs. Homan that she never leaves slip an opportunity to accompany her husband to the old home. Archie Homan, a brother of the former, located in Cincinnati, Ohio, is also at the old home. He is employed by the Machinery Supply Company in that city.

MONDAY A BUSY DAY.

The Early Morning Shower Followed by Sunshine—Placing of Exhibits.

Because of Saturday's rain, into Monday was crowded two days work. The day began with a slight shower while the campers on Grange Park were partaking of their breakfast, but soon thereafter the sun pushed aside the clouds, and real activity began.

The placing of exhibits was the order of the day. The large permanent exhibition building devoted to exhibits from the field, orchard, vineyard, garden and antique was opened to receive the exhibits, and a half dozen clerks were kept busy putting on record the names of the exhibitors and as many more in locating the meritorious exhibits. By the close of the day's work the tables were pretty well filled with exhibits of a wide range.

Down the avenue was another class of exhibitors unpacking machinery and erecting tents. All day long they worked cheerfully, for they felt a harvest was before them. In the morning there was scarcely a sign in place, but after a hard day's work the section devoted to the exhibits of implements and machinery became one worthy of study. The acquisitions on Tuesday will make this particular department of more consequence than at any previous year.

The tenters who were storm-stayed on Saturday were early arrivals on Monday—some of them, others coming in the afternoon. The temporary homes were fitted up quickly, and all of them present a home-like appearance, not even the baby omitted to make it so.

VETERAN'S REUNION.

The Soldiers of the Sixties Met on Grange Park in Reunion.

A goodly number of the soldiers of the sixties, who make up the Veterans Club of Centre County, met in reunion on Grange Park on Tuesday. They assembled at the headquarters of the association and were escorted by the State College drum corps to the auditorium. General James A. Beaver, president of the club, and after the preliminaries were disposed of. Dr. C. T. Van Tries made an address full of interest and instruction.

Dr. Sparks, president of Pennsylvania State College, who was on the program, was unable to be present on account of an important engagement.

The former officers were re-elected, and are these: President, General James A. Beaver; First Vice President; Dr. W. H. Fry; Second Vice President, Austin Curtin; Treasurer, G. M. Boal; Secretary, W. H. Musser.

Brooks-Breon.

John Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, and Miss Sarah Breon, daughter of John H. Breon, of Axe Mann, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Juniata, by Rev. Walton, on Thursday. The following day they went to Barborton, Ohio, where the groom is employed. For the present they will board, but later expect to take up housekeeping. Congratulations.

While in a friendly tussle Edward Brown and Bruce Arney tripped and fell, resulting in a dislocated elbow joint in one of the former's arms. The accident happened on Grange Park on Tuesday, and Mr. Brown was hurried to the temporary office of Dr. Foster, where the dislocation was soon righted.

WEDNESDAY'S PROSPECTS.

Camp Active Early in the Morning—Looking Forward to Two Great Days.

Grange Park became a scene of activity early on Wednesday morning, and everybody began looking forward to witnessing two great days on the camp.

The exhibits, in all departments, were never more elaborate nor more tastefully arranged.

Every tent on the camp is occupied by as many people as can conveniently be accommodated in them. Tuesday night several thousand people slept on the grounds, and enjoyed a peaceful rest.

The Reporter goes to press earlier by a half day than at other times and is therefore not able to report the proceedings for today (Thursday).

Lewistown Man Kills Self and Wife.

Frank Brennan, fifty-two years old, on Saturday night killed his wife and then himself. He became eccentric a few years ago, obliging his wife to leave him. He went to her home on Valley Street, in Lewistown, and there the tragedy took place.
