To the Democratic Voters of Centre County.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters as expressed at the primaries September 30, 1911. Howard township has not had a county official, for thirty-five years and as a life-long Democrat, I ask kindly support in securing representation on the Democratic ticket for this end of the county. If elected, I will do the best I can for every taxpayer in the county.

BUKLINE BUTLER.

Court Notes

Court was called on Monday morning, and the usual petitions, motions, etc., heard, as well as the reports of the constables.

The grand jury was sworn in and A. V. Daugherty, of Burnside township, was made foreman.

A number of petty commonwealth cases were heard, also the case of Weber vs. Herman, in which the jury awarded the Webers $25.00. The case concerned a hay baler, which was in storage and was used and broken, the suit being for damages.

The Commonwealth vs. John Messmer for selling liquors illegally has not yet been before the grand jury.

The second week of court has been generally continued, as announced by Judge Orvis on Tuesday.

Koonsman Arrested.

In another column, appears an account of injuries sustained by Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Ripka by being ran into with a two horse team driven by John Koonsman, of Lewistown. The man was placed under arrest, and appeared before Squire F. A. Carson, at Potters Mills, on Monday. A settlement was made, the costs and damage being assessed at $43.50. Mr. Ripka was paid $26.00.

LOCALS

For county treasurer vote for John D. Miller, the Walker township farmer.

For district attorney vote for J. M. Keichline who has had many years of practice in the criminal courts.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bradford, in Centre Hall, a few days ago. This is their third child, but first son.

As a result of the exhibiting at the Grange Encampment and Fair, D. W. Bradford has since set up seven De Laval cream separators in various parts of the county.

Mrs. A. G. Morris, Miss Lydia Morris, Mrs. A. A. Lukenbach, Mrs. C. M. Bower and Alexander Morris were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, in Centre Hall, on Monday.

To insure a "square deal" in all transactions and an "honest" administration of all matters in the office of district attorney, vote for D. Paul Fortney who has always dealt squarely and honestly.

Seeding and corn cutting will soon be over, and then comes fall plowing. With a Syracuse riding plow you can do the work easier and better than with a hand plow—J. H. and S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall Station.

Among the Reporter's callers was Mrs. Mary A. Lomberger, of near Pleasant Gap, who didn't look a bit older because she became great-grandmother of twins about four weeks ago. The babes, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Pecht, of Prince George, Virginia, and have been named Franklin Goss and Mary Alice.

Mrs. William Jordan, nee Eliza Fleisher, daughter of the late Daniel Fleisher, of Centre Hall, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin W. Sebring, of Columbus, Ohio, are in Centre Hall visiting among relatives and former associates. The Jordan family, early in the seventies, lived on the George Hoffer farm, west of Centre Hall, then owned by Dr. Dasher, of Aaronburg. A few years after leaving this farm they went west, locating in Ohio, where Mr. Jordan died some years ago. A son of Mrs. Jordan—Howard—is in the Monitor (Washington) peach belt, and is associated in the business of peach growing with his uncle, Daniel Fleisher.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers' Correspondent Column—New Department.

Dear Editor Reporter:

I enjoy reading the letters in the Reporter from former Centre countians living in the Middle West, but I think Washington will take the prize for big crops and perhaps valuable land as well.

I enclose you a clipping from the Seattle Post Intelligencer, giving an account of a big oats crop. This land lies about seventy-five miles north of Seattle, close to Puget Sound, and is reclaimed land made by dyking the Skagit River. There is close to 20,000 acres of this valuable land, divided into farms of from forty to three hundred acres. Most of it is valued at about $1000 an acre, while some could not be bought for less than $3000 an acre. Oats is the principal crop, but some wheat, hay, and potatoes are also grown. Oats sells for $28.50 per ton in Seattle; potatoes, $30.00 per ton and wheat 85 cents per bushel. Potatoes were selling for as much as $70.00 per ton last spring, just before the new ones came onto the market. Both alfalfa and timothy hay sell for about $15.00 per ton in Seattle.

Following is the clipping referred to and is dated September 14th:

"The biggest yield of oats yet reported of the Samish flats is one hundred and seventy bushels per acre. This is on the F. L. Bailey place at Le Conner, which is leased by Robert Richardson.

The land which produced the bumper oats crop was sown to cabbage for sixteen years until this year.

Harvesting is somewhat delayed by the heavy rains. There are yet a good many stands which have not been cut. A majority of Skagit county's crop is still in the shock.

W. HARRY POTTER.
Meadowdale, Washington.

Benefits of Spraying and Pruning.

The benefits of more scientific care of the orchard is being realized by John C. Roseman, of Centre Hall, who last spring became the owner of a young orchard immediately east of the borough line. This orchard was planted about nineteen years ago, and little or no care had since been given it. Last spring the trees were pruned, fertilized and sprayed twice. The fruit now is of a superior quality, and the limbs are loaded to their fullest capacity.

Another gentleman to profit from the agitation of better care for the orchard is W. Frank Bradford, the station agent at Centre Hall. He has two orchards at the Old Fort. They were long neglected. The pruning done last spring was more like lumbering than anything else. Many of the trees are now bearing abundantly and the quality of the fruit is also good. One or two years later the old trees will be in better condition to redeem themselves.

Special Public Orchard Meeting.

Arrangements have been made for a special public orchard meeting, Tuesday, October 3rd, at 1 p. m., in the orchard of Howard T. Struble, at Zion. The program will consist of a review of the results obtained in this particular orchard which, indeed, is worth while for every fruit grower in the county to observe. Up-to-date orcharding will be discussed by T. C. Foster, the local representative of the Division of Zoology. The meeting should be largely attended.

Who Are The Men Running For District Attorney?

Why not support the one who has served the Democratic party the longest?

Why not support the one who is a member of the Supreme Court, making him eligible to try all cases before this court?

He has never held a county office. You know him—the man who promised you in a letter several weeks ago, saying, "I have but one promise to make, and that is, if nominated and elected I will be district attorney for all people, and will try cases without fear or favor."

Respectfully,
J. M. KEICHLINE.

If tempers had to be sweetened with sugar there would be excuse for the grouch.

Vote for J. M. Keichline for district attorney. Why? Because he is sober, industrious, honest; his eligibility cannot be questioned, and above all his experience has made him a strong candidate.

Canvas Currency.

Banknotes appear in much the same form throughout the world and have always done so except in China, where the earliest note was made of canvas, some six centuries before the Christian era. It was more like a tablecloth than a banknote, its length being about two meters, or six feet six inches. This form of note was not very convenient when large sums were concerned, so later the note was printed on parchment, and all other forms of money were suppressed. One emperor issued notes representing more than three thousand millions. But the money was never popular, and gradually the notes were retired.

Charlotte Cushman's Warning.

One icy night Charlotte Cushman and Lawrence Barrett came out of the theater together. The steps were dangerously slippery, and it was with difficulty that they kept their feet at all. As they totteringly descended the great actress said to her companion quite in her Lady Macbeth manner: "Take a good grip on my arm, Lawrence, and if I slip hold on like grim death. But if you slip in the name of heaven let go!"

Bad Manners.

The two women stopped in front of a dentist's showcase. "There, mamma," said the younger woman, pointing, "I want a set just like that." "Hush, my child!" commanded her mother. "Don't you know that it's vulgar to pick your teeth in the street?"
