DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Sheriff: A. B. LEE
Prothonotary: D. R. FOREMAN
Treasurer: JOHN D. MILLER
Register: J. FRANK SMITH
Recorder: W. FRANCIS SPEER
Commissioners: WILLIAM H. NOLL, DANIEL A. GROVE
District Attorney: D. PAUL FORTNEY
Coroner: PHILIP S. FISHER
Auditors: JEREMIAH BRUNGART, S. H. HOY
Surveyor: J. H. WETZEL

The Republican papers acknowledge that the old board of county commissioners was renominated because there was no desire to abandon the time-honored custom of renominating for that office. No one will deny the statement.

Really now, don't you think it is a mistake to begin the campaign by calling Francis Speer "a half-baked experiment," Mr. Editor of the Republican? Mr. Speer is very well known all over the county, and the Reporter is almost certain there is not another person within its borders who would speak of him in that way. Shame!

The voters of Centre county have an opportunity to approve or disapprove the business management of the board of county commissioners, during the past three years. If they have performed the business of the county in a business-like manner, no one can have complaint, if they have not, Messrs. Woodring and Zimmerman cannot complain if the voters deny them a second term, and elect in their stead Messrs. Noll and Grove, both acknowledged business men of rare ability. The voter is the judge.

The south side of Centre county has three Democratic candidates—Lee, Smith, Grove, for the offices of sheriff, register and commissioner, respectively, and their election as well as the election of the other candidates on the Democratic ticket depends on what the south side of Centre county will do on election day. Many of the Republicans who held office in Centre county during the past fifteen years did so because of the Democratic stay-at-homes. The Democratic voters in this county are largely located in the rural sections, while a large per cent. of the Republican voters is found in the boroughs and the more thickly populated sections, but that will not relieve the rural Democratic voter of his obligation to pass by the ballot box on Tuesday, November 7th, and with his own hands place therein his ballot. Let the slogan of the Democratic voters everywhere be "to the polls."

Rebersburg.

Farmers in this section have commenced to husk corn.
Benjamin Beck, an aged citizen of near Wolfs Store, is seriously ill.
Jacob Bower, of Coburn, is spending several weeks at the home of Lloyd Luce.
Mrs. J. B. Kreamer is at present visiting relatives in Philadelphia and Harrisburg.
Mrs. Glasco, of Spring Mills, spent several days in this place at the home of George Miller.

On last Thursday the remains of Chester Stover were brought to this place and were buried Saturday in the Union cemetery. Mrs. Stover was a daughter of the late Adam Bair.
One day last week two young men of Wolfs Store appeared before Justice Meyer on the charge of scutching chestnuts on other peoples private land. After listening to the reading of a few sections of the law pertaining to trespassing and stealing they were released on paying the costs of prosecution.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers Correspondent Column—New Department.

Dear Mr. Smith:

Enclosed find one dollar for the Reporter, without which we could not get along.

About a month ago I wrote you a letter from Illinois which you published in the Subscriber's Column. We spent five weeks in that state, and again as long a time could have been spent there with much pleasure, but the season for putting away the fall crops came on, and we were obliged to return to our home. Many of the Reporter readers personally know Henry Jordan, of McConnell, Illinois. His chief delight seemed to be to take us from place to place to see former Pennsylvanians, and the country in which they lived. Among other persons we had the pleasure of meeting in their homes besides Mr. Jordan, was Levi Stiffler, Frank Jordan, Samuel Jordan, Henry Matters, Jacob Stam, John Stam, Fred Stam, and Adam Stam, in or in the vicinity of McConnell. At Orangeville we saw Samuel Huss, Levi Bobb, Jacob Detwiler, Oscar Walters, Jeremiah Walters; Buehavia, William Gift, a merchant; Cedarville, William Schrack, and while at that place we attended a meeting of the "Old Settlers." Alfalfa, Boyd Jordan, William Griffin; at Damascus, Simon Fogel; Waddams Grove, said to be the highest point in Illinois, we attended the Labor Day picnic, and also paid Mrs. Supherus Jordan and family a visit, at Lena.

On our way home we took a branch road at Chicago to Peatone, in Will county, where we visited my uncle Limmil Love. He made our visit very pleasant, and took us around to see many acquaintances, among them being Mrs. Edward Dietzman, Manhattan, R. D.; Mrs. John Lichtenwatter, Elwood, R. D.; and on the same evening we took supper at the home of Peter Klinger, where we met Mrs. Arthur Kerlin, of Centre Hall; the following day (Sunday) we ate dinner with C. F. Bitner, who knows how to farm, and keeps some very fine stock. While at his home we met his nephew, C. A. Boyer, telegrapher at the Lock Haven (Pa.) railroad station. On the same trip we called on Mrs. Augusta Dentshman, Mrs. Horace Jordan, and others.

The farm land in Will county is fine, all level. One thing that appeared odd was the fog which made it look as though it was about to rain.

We cannot thank the people in Illinois enough for their splendid treatment, but if they will come to Pennsylvania we will try to return their hospitality as best we can.

The Jordans, at McConnell, had planned a surprise for us the last evening we were in that section, but a rain storm prevented us from reaching the scene. We do hope they were able to get away with the ice cream and other good things without having had to call a doctor.

Very truly,
MRS. CHARLES WHITEHILL.

CENTRE PENNSYLVANIA SYNOD

and various Protestant churches since the time of its institution.

Following this session, the young ladies of the Busy Worker's Society of the church tendered a reception to the members of Synod, congregation and friends.

The sessions on Friday were correspondingly interesting. The report of the trustees of the Orphans' Home, at Loysville, reported the health at the home as being the best for some time. There are at present two hundred and nine children in the home. Quite a number of improvements have been made, consisting of a new hospital, a home for the superintendent and provisions made for housing of the help.

The needs of the Pastor's Fund was presented by the secretary of the board, Rev. J. E. Dietterich. The needs of this worthy benevolent object was emphasized and pastors were urged to present these needs to their people.

The Synod, by a resolution, ratified the action of the General Synod, at its meeting last June, to amend its constitution relative to the number of representatives to be sent from the District Synods to the General Synod. A second resolution ratified also the action of this same body, regarding the new system of entertainment for delegates to the General Synod. Each Synod provides for such entertainment, where it is not possible for free entertainment to be offered.

The Synod again adopted the report of the General Synod committee concerning the doctrinal basis of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church.

Improvement in church property was reported in the report on the state of the church. There is evidently great room for improvement in regularity of attendance at church services, at the mid-week prayer service and catechetical classes. Where there are Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, these ladies of the church are found to be faithful and progressive.

On Friday afternoon there was a special meeting held for the laymen in the interest of the Laymen's Movement and the Lutheran Brotherhood. This meeting was addressed by Mr. H. Gerhardt, secretary of the Laymen's Movement. He presented to the men a three-fold program to be adopted by the Brotherhood, viz.: 1st, A Program of Education, for the education of the men of the church along the lines of the work of the church and the boards and fields of the church; 2nd, Program of Finances, to consider the best methods for financing the local congregation and the benevolent objects of the church; 3rd, Program of Prayer, the need of the men of the church coming together in meditation and prayer for the guidance of the Lord in all matters of individual and church life.

An evening at the next meeting of Synod was set apart for a grand rally of the Brotherhoods of the churches in the Synod, and Mr. T. M. Gramley was appointed chairman of the committee.

Friday evening two sermons were preached, the first by Rev. F. S. Shultz, Pine Grove Mills, and the second by Rev. M. S. Romig, Liverpool.

Rev. A. H. Spangler and Mr. John N. Young were re-elected trustees of Tressler Orphans' Home. Rev. J. C. Reighard and Rev. M. S. Cressman, D. D., were elected directors of the Theological Seminary.

Three invitations were given for the entertaining of Synod next year. They came from Millintown, Millburg and Bellefonte—the former was accepted.

Rev. C. F. Aiken, president of Susquehanna University, presented the claims of that worthy institution.

By motion, the time for the next meeting of Synod was set for Monday evening, October 12th, 1912.

The evening sermon was preached by Rev. W. J. Wagner, on the theme, The Church.

On Sunday various services were held, and addresses delivered to the Sunday-schools, the children, Luther League, closing with a service in the interest of Foreign Missions.

Colyer.

Bruce Weaver spent Sunday with Ralph Runke at Tusseyville.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neff and Ezra Ripka and family spent Sunday at the home of William Moyer.
Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Palmer and family, of Potters Mills, spent Sunday at the home of Stewart Jordan.
Many farmers in this vicinity are husking corn while others are busily engaged in their fall sowing.
Misses Sarah and Adelaide McClenahan, of Centre Hall, accompanied Miss Blanche Reiber to her home on Saturday where they spent the day.
An Old Folks and Orphans' Home rally was held at Tusseyville in the United Evangelical church last Sunday morning by Rev. W. C. Hoeb, of Millburg.

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. Crider's Exchange Bellefonte, Pa.

Practical.

"My good woman," said the social reformer, "your children seem to be slightly obstreperous. Have you any clearly defined theories about bringing up your little ones by scientific methods?"

"No, I haven't, madam," answered the much tried mother as she firmly grasped a squirming child in one hand and her slipper in the other. "I'm bringing them up by hand."—Baltimore American.

A Terrible Storm.

The most violent storm that ever ravaged England occurred Nov. 26 and 27, 1703. The loss in London alone was $10,000,000. Eight thousand people were drowned in the floods. Twelve warships, with more than 1,800 men on board, were lost. Trees were uprooted—1,700 of them in Kent. Eddy-stone lighthouse was destroyed, and Winstanley, its contriver, was killed with several others.

Information.

Johnny—The right way to spell 'high' is h-i-g-h, isn't it? Annie—Yes, dear. Why do you wish to know? Johnny—'Cause I'm writing an English composition about the hyena.

One Exception.

Wildman Senior (to son home from college)—Well, Richard, how have things been going with you this term? Wildman Junior—Pretty slow, dad—except the cash.—Exchange.

A Gentle Hint.

"But look here, Snip," said Slowpay, "you haven't put any pockets in these trousers. What's the matter with you?" "Why, Mr. Slowpay," replied the man of clothes, "I was going to suggest that in case you ever had anything to put into them you send it up to us to keep for you."—Harper's Weekly.

Not True to Life.

"How very few statues there are of real women."
"Yes, it's hard to get them to look right."
"How so?"
"A woman remaining still and saying nothing doesn't seem true to life."—Boston Transcript.

His Curiosity.

Stranger—I noticed your advertisement in the paper this morning for a man to retail imported canaries. Proprietor of Bird Store—Yes, sir. Are you looking for the job? Stranger—Oh, no. I merely had a curiosity to know how the canaries lost their tails!

Not Worth Bothering About.

Customer—Confound you, that's a piece of my ear! Barber—Only a small bit, sir; not sufficient to affect the 'earring'—London Opinion.
