

Stops Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a reliable remedy for any kind of horse lameness. Will kill the growth of spavin, curb or splint, absorb enlargements, and is excellent for sweeny, fistula and thrush.

Here's Proof.

"I used Sloan's Liniment on a mule for 'high lameness,' and cured her. I am never without a bottle of your liniment; have bought more of it than any other remedy for pain." BAILY KIRBY, Casady, Ky.

"Sloan's Liniment is the best made. I have removed very large shoe boils off a horse with it. I have killed a quarter crack on a mare that was awfully bad. I have also healed raw, sore necks on three horses. I have healed grease heel on a mare that could hardly walk." ANTHONY G. HIVER, Oakland, Pa., Route No. 2.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for all farm stock.

"My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got your liniment, which I was advised to try. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the liniment, but I have not lost any since." A. J. McCARTHY, Idaville, Ind.

If They All Knew.

A woman speaker told a New York suffrage meeting that "we women haven't concentration. Our minds just go flitting around and don't get anywhere." Considering which, is it not superfluous for mere man to muss about in women's affairs when they know themselves so well?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Appetite Not a Necessity.

Dr. John R. Murlin of New York, as assistant professor of physiology at the Cornell university medical college, in an article in the October number of the Journal of the Outdoor Life, compares the food we eat to the fuel used in furnishing steam and power for an engine. In selecting our food he says that we should eat enough to furnish energy for the day's work, but that much more than this is not needed. He holds that the appetite is not a necessity for good digestion. "There is no fallacy of nutrition," he says, "greater than that which supposes that a food cannot be digested and utilized without appetite." Most of the food we eat, fully four-fifths, goes to supply energy for our every day tasks, while less than one-fifth goes to supply building material.

RED.

It's the Red Blood Corpuscles That Proper Food Makes.

An Ohio woman says Grape-Nuts food gave her good red blood and restored the roses of youth to a complexion that had been muddy and blotchy. She says:

"For 10 years I had stomach trouble which produced a breaking out on my face. The doctors gave it a long Latin name, but their medicines failed to cure it. Along with this I had frequent headaches, nervousness and usually pain in my stomach after meals. I got disgusted with the drugs, stopped them and coffee off short, and quit eating everything but fruit and Grape-Nuts, with Postum for my table beverage.

"The headaches, stomach trouble, and nervous weakness disappeared almost like magic, which showed that when the cause was removed and good food and drink used nature was ready to help.

"My blood was purified and my complexion became like a young girl's, while my weight was increased from 90 to 120 pounds in a few months—good, solid firm flesh, where it used to be soft and flabby.

"I recommended Grape-Nuts and Postum to one of my friends, who was afflicted as I had been. She followed my advice and in a short time was restored to complete health and in about 8 months her weight increased from 100 to 145 pounds.

"Our doctor, observing the effect of Grape-Nuts and Postum in our cases, declared, the other day, that he would hereafter prescribe these food products for gastritis." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ALL OVER THE STATE

TOLD IN SHORT ORDER

Mountville.—The estate of Andrew L. Lane has sold to Elmer Lane, a farm in Manheim township, containing 128 acres and 107 perches, for $147.39 an acre.

Allentown.—Rev. Robert H. Kline, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, was chosen foreman of the Lehigh County Grand Jury. There are several clergymen on the petit jury.

Reading.—Stricken with apoplexy while on a trolley car on his way to work, Cyrus W. High, of Shoemakersville, died before medical aid could be summoned.

South Bethlehem.—Miss Florence Vogel, of Allentown, committed suicide by drowning in the Lehigh River here. The act is said to have followed a quarrel with a young man of this place.

York.—Henry Wagner, of North Hopewell, reports a yield of four hundred bushels of unshelled corn raised on two acres of ground. Some of the corn is 17½ inches in length and 5¼ inches in diameter.

Bradford.—Because her mother refused to allow her to celebrate Halloween with a party of boys and girls here, Mary Hays, aged 15, ran to her room and shot herself through the head. She lived only a few minutes.

West Chester.—While clambering over a fence with a loaded gun William Harrison, of Glen Moore, was killed by the discharge of the gun, the top of his head being blown off.

York.—A. B. Farquhar has given to the Park Commissioners an additional plot of ground of five acres, valued at $9,000. The ground is adjacent to Farquhar Park and will be utilized for an artificial lake.

Pine Grove.—The sight of harvesting hay, the second crop in November, is to be observed in Wayne township, where several farmers who through lack of help and wet weather were unable to harvest it at the right time.

South Bethlehem.—John L. Koch, a prominent Hellertown merchant and a Civil War veteran, died in fifteen minutes at his home when he swallowed a dose of carboic acid in mistake for medicine. He was seventy years old.

Bethlehem.—While Annie Holben, the thirteen-year-old daughter of James Holben, was driving a colt from pasture to the barn, she got too near the animal, which gave her a violent kick on the jaw, fracturing it in two places.

Chester.—Hugh Martin, fourteen years old, an orphan, of this city, was struck by an automobile driven and owned by James F. Dougherty, of Lehighville, here. The lad, who was seriously injured, was removed to the Chester Hospital.

Allentown.—G. Tilghman Reichard, aged eighty-two, died from injuries received in a fall from an apple tree while he was picking fruit, several days ago. For fifty-eight years he was bass soloist of St. Peter's Church choir at Rittersville.

Reading.—Investigation is being made by Coroner Wagner into the circumstances attending the death of Edward Summers, aged sixty-nine years, who was found lifeless in bed at his home. Mr. Summers was fully dressed and lay across the bed.

Coplay.—Frank Kollar, aged thirty, an oiler at the Coplay Cement Mill, was caught in a shaft. He was whirled around several hundred times a minute by the swiftly moving machinery and by the time the engine could be stopped he was dead.

Macungie.—An old Indian tradition indicates that the coming winter will be a severe one and that there will be sufficient snow to cover up the wild flowers, known as Indian posies. They are already higher than they have grown in years.

Pittsburgh.—Henry J. Ruslan, a clerk, has petitioned court to change his name, because people call him "Ruzzielamb." He says the embarrassment on the street caused his girl to turn him down, and he also had to quit his job.

Lewisburg.—The plant of the Lewisburg Chair Company was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $100,000. An automatic extinguisher had the fire practically under control when the fire department attached a hose to the same main, which proved insufficient to support both.

Slatinton.—Just before a heavy blast was set off at the Washington Slate Company's quarry at this place, eight men rushed to a nearby shed for shelter. While they were in the shed, a huge boulder crashed through the roof of the building and almost instantly killed Steve Bolga, and seriously injured his seven companions.

Huntingdon.—Joseph Morland, a well-known acrobat of this place, while hunting wild turkeys was shot by a fellow-hunter, who mistook him for a turkey. Morland was using an artificial call to lure a turkey to him, which resulted in his receiving a load of large shot in the thigh.

Williamsport.—The first day of the hunting season in Lycoming county was productive of a fatal accident. While George Warner, of Mill Creek township, and his hired man, John Hall, were hunting rabbits, the latter accidentally shot Warner, blowing his face away and killing him instantly.

MAR FOOTBALL GAMES

Right to Question Decisions Belongs to Captain.

Nothing is More Repulsive to Spectators Than Constant Squabbles Between Competitors and Officials During Contest.

In football as well as in every branch of sport, nothing is more repulsive to spectators than constant squabbles between competitors and officials.

To question the decision of judges at a horserace, or a footrace, automobile, or trotting race stamper is a waste of time, and these decisions cannot be reversed unless there is a wrong interpretation of rules which govern such contests.

If coaches would enforce a rule that only captains of elevens could question or ask an interpretation of an official's decision football certainly would be placed on a higher plane and one of the most distasteful features of the game so far as the spectators are concerned would be obliterated, writes Walter Eckersall in the Chicago Tribune. Football officials are selected because of their known impartiality, their thorough knowledge of the rules, and their sense of honor.

The men, all college graduates, officiating in gridiron contests this year have been put to many severe tests, and in few instances have they erred. Spectators never should condemn an official for levying a penalty, for the arbiters of the game are in better position and understand more thoroughly the exact interpretations of the rules. Use of hands in the interference, conching from the side lines, holding in the line of play, and a number of other infringements of the rules are points which the average spectator does not see, but when an official inflicts penalties for such breaches of the rules he generally meets with criticism from the stands.

Those who have played football and have been in many hard fought contests have had fouls called when they did not believe they were guilty of any infringement. In such cases, these players have been so carried away with the excitement of the contests as to be unconscious of any breaches in the rules they made, but when apprised of the conditions by officials they have admitted their guilt.

In the large universities, where it is part of the preparation of an eleven to teach the players the rules and their possibilities, the players seldom question an official's decision. The members of these teams are so well versed in the rules as to know when an arbiter's decision is right or wrong and for this reason few disputes arise.

If the colleges in the eastern, western, and Missouri valley conferences would follow the precedent established at West Point, one of the most distasteful features of football would be done away with. Discipline reigns supreme at the army institution. The captain of a football team controls his men the same as a colonel of a regiment or captain of a company. If any member of a West Point football eleven questions the orders of the captain he must report to higher officials as soon as the same is completed if the captain files charges.

TENNIS CHANGES IN ENGLAND

Lawns Gradually Being Replaced by Hard Surface Courts in Vogue Elsewhere—Experience Wins.

"Go it, baldhead!" was a cry frequently heard at the recent lawn tennis tournament at Wimbledon, and a spectator could not help observing that gray hairs and bald heads outnumbered the locks of youth among the players after the first day or two. Yet lawn tennis is an athletic game, perhaps the most active of all summer pastimes, demanding unusual powers of endurance, and one looks for endurance and agility in the young.

Finding that the daring and physical strength of youth are beaten by the experience of age, the conclusion to be drawn is that the new generation is not learning the essentials of the game. The group of veterans who beat the youngsters this year cannot be expected to do these wonders again. Young men from other countries will come again and they will win because there will be no opposition to prevent them from doing so. And why? Because, some critics say, the continent has learned the game from professionals and has learned it upon hard courts.

There is a freedom and power in the foreign style which is absent from the English game, in which few risks are taken. In all probability this springs from the fact that the typical courts of the continent are not grass, but have a hard, smooth surface from which every ball makes a true bound. Scarcely one grass court in ten can be relied upon for a true bound of the ball. On such inferior surfaces style becomes cramped. First-class players are not to be trained upon third rate courts.

The best promise for English lawn tennis is the fact that the clubs are losing their faith in grass. In 20 years' time the very name of lawn tennis may appear strange to our ears, the number of actual lawns devoted to the game will have become so small. Already hard courts are being constructed in every direction. In a few years they will probably give England a new school of tennis players who will meet on equal terms the best products of the continental and American clubs.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENGLISH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.
