CENTRE HALL, PENN'A THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1912

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.

Lutheran—Spring Mills, morning; Tusseyville, afternoon. United Evangelical—Lemont, morning; Linden Hall, afternoon. Reformed—Spring Mills, morning; Union, afternoon; Centre Hall, evening.

LOCALS.

Mrs. John D. Long and Mrs. D. M. McCool, of Spring Mills, who had been ill, are considerably better at this time.

Sucrone Dairy Feed has proven to be an all 'round economical, practical feed, and one that brings satisfactory results—R. D. Foreman, Centre Hall.

A clay pigeon shooting match will be held at Potters Mills, Saturday afternoon, January 6. Guineas will be awarded as prizes to the best shots.

A number of young people from Centre Hall and nearby points had a delightful time in Grange Areads, one evening last week, where they gathered in a social way.

The officers of Progress Grange will be installed Friday evening, 5th instant. The members and families of Patrons and their friends are invited to attend the meeting and witness the ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Knarr, on Monday night, entertained a number of their friends in their home at Centre Hall. The ladies appeared marked. The evening was spent in a most pleasant manner.

John Kresmer made a trip to Reading, where he visited his brothers, and with a brother went to Philadelphia, where another lives. Allentown and a number of other points in that section were visited before his return to Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Fye, were recent visitors in Altoona, and while in that city were guests of Mrs. Fye's brother John Breen and sister Mrs. H. M. Hettinger. During their absence John Frankenberger and Ralph Dingus had charge of the stock on the farm.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Centre County Sunday-school Association will be held in Bellefonte, on Friday, at 10 a. m. On the same day the county anti-saloon league committee will meet. Both meetings will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Wert, who were married recently, will go to farming next spring on the farm of the former's father, John M. Wert, about two miles west of Madisonburg. The senior Mr. Wert will retire from active farming, and will occupy the Jerry Ertle home, near by his present home.

On Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer started for Columbus, South Carolina, where they will remain for the winter with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were met in Baltimore by their daughter and husband, they having come there primarily to purchase a team of horses to be used in a house.

A. C. Boyer, of Lock Haven, one of the Penn's men at that point, and Charles Lee, of Harrisburg, an electrician, were among the Reporter's cyclists this week. They were on their way to Centre Hill to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lee, and where the former's wife was ill at that time, but who has now pretty well recovered.

William R. and Victor H. Jones sons of Rev. and Mrs. R. Raymond Jones, came to Centre Hall last week, and for the first time visited their parents since they became residents of Centre Hall. The young men are students at Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, and are preparing to take up the ministry. They are both members of the sophomore class.

Miss Mary Foreman, who now has charge of a school at West Conshohocken, near Philadelphia, returned to that place on Tuesday after a brief visit to her parents. She is following a young lady who resigned to take a course in domestic science at Pennsylvania State College. Miss Foreman is a graduate of West Chester State Normal, and each appointment in school work is upward, which indicates thorough training and personal application.

John Meyer, of Loganton, and a Miss Richie, from somewhere, appeared in Rebersburg, at the home of the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bierly, and claim to have been married in Wilmington, Delaware. The former is but eighteen and the latter about sixteen years old, and their tender ages have led interested parties to make a bit of inquiry, but so far the young couple's statement must be accepted, as their marriage cannot be disproved. Until further information—congratulations.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The Kalamazoo (Michigan) Telegraph Press made this reference to a golden wedding celebrated in that city in which many of the Reporter readers will be interested:

At their home on James street Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dasher celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Fifty years ago in Centre Hall, Pennsylvania, Miss Sarah Amelia Arney, oldest of the six daughters of Jacob and Rachel Arney was married to Henry Dasher by Rev. W. H. Groh. The bride's oldest brother, John J. Arney, who was present on the anniversary, acted as best man on that happy occasion and later married the bride's maid, Miss Sallie Sweetwood. Four sisters were present, Mrs. C. E. Peck, of Sylvan Grove, Kansas, Mrs. James P. Hering, of Altoona, Mrs. Laura Lee, of Centre Hall and Mrs. John F. Mullen, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

In 1871 Mr. and Mrs. Dasher came to Michigan and lived at Edwardsburg until 1888. After a short residence at South Bend, Indiana, they came to Kalamazoo in the spring of 1887. Seven children are still living and all were present at the anniversary celebration, Mrs. J. V. Brownell, of Kalamazoo; Mrs. J. H. Korne, of Detroit; Mrs. W. C. Churchill, of Kalamazoo; William H. Dasher, of this city; Mrs. L. J. Marsh, of Madison, Wisconsin; Miss Gertrude E. Dasher, of Kalamazoo and George E. Dasher, professor of Science in Bethel College, Russellville, Kentucky. The guests also included Conrad Peck, of Kansas; Mrs. Lenora Dennis, of Edwardsburg; J. H. Krome, of Detroit; Lowell Marsh, of Madison, and J. V. Brownell, of this city.

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weaver, at Lemont, on December 29th, at six o'clock p. m. when their daughter, Helen, became the bride of Orin R. Williams, of this place. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. K. Harsh was witnessed by only the immediate relatives. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Miss Edith Williams, a sister of the groom. The groom was supported by Erie Martz of State College. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Bertha M. Meyer, of Linden Hall.

I have recently received a car of Sucrone Dairy Feed. This feed has proven to be one of the best dairy feeds on the market, one of the feeds that brings satisfactory results. Try it and be convinced. It is also an excellent feed for calves and young shoats.

R. D. FOREMAN, Centre Hall.

Rebersburg.

Prof. Stapleton spent his holiday vacation at his home at Millheim. The stork left a little baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Corman.

John Rupp, who is employed at New York, is spending a few weeks in this place.

The fantastic parade on new year's day was fine. After promading on the streets in this place they went to Millheim where they were joined by a party from that place.

Saturday evening the young men of this place serenaded Elmer Huber and bride, who were married just a week previous.

Samuel Winters, who left this place more than a year ago for Indiana, has returned home and will spend the winter with his parents.

Charles Bierly is at present building an addition to his carpenter shop, in this place, and when finished will place a new gasoline engine and other machinery therein.

Tuesday an appraisalment of the personal property of the late John Breen was made and public sale of the same will be made in the near future.

Samuel Gephart has rented George Walte's dwelling house and will occupy the same this coming spring. Mr. Walte will move onto his farm near Wolfe Store.

Rebersburg was crowded with visitors during the holidays, among whom were: Prof. Edwin Brunart and family, of Sellersgrove; Prof. Morris, of Philadelphia; Prof. E. S. Stover and family, of Bloomfield, N. J.

Calvin Auman finished sawing lumber on a tract a short distance south of this place and on Friday moved his mill to near Aaronsburg where he will saw lumber for Mr. Reish, who recently purchased a tract of timber from Benjamin Hefly.

John P. Morgan, colored, was found dead in one of the rooms in the Domestic Science building, State College, Saturday morning. It was first thought that there might have been foul play, but further investigation revealed that the man had been in Bellefonte the day previous and came home in an intoxicated condition, had gone into the building named, of which he was janitor, and had died from the effects of dissipation.

DEATHS.

While crossing the Seven Mountains on Friday evening, I. K. Hetrick expired while seated in a vehicle. Mr. and Mrs. Hetrick and J. R. Longwell were returning home from Bellefonte, and at a point near to where the road leads to Garry's, one of them inquired as to the time of day, when Mr. Hetrick unbuttoned his coat, got his watch, and at that instant he was stricken with apoplexy, death following almost immediately.

The vehicle was driven to Garry's, and Dr. Kohler was summoned, and later Mr. Camp, the Milroy undertaker took the body to the Hetrick home, from which place the funeral was held.

Mrs. Hetrick, who survives, was formerly married to Michael Burkholder, deceased, and is the mother of John Burkholder, who lives on the homestead at Centre Hill.

Mr. Hetrick had walked up the mountain some distance, but made no complaint of feeling ill when he got onto the vehicle. He was so quickly overcome that he dropped his watch, and would have fallen from the vehicle but for the aid of those with him. The timepiece was picked up by Forester McKinney, who was near by, and who otherwise aided the party.

Jared Brown was born in Gregg township, near Penn Hall, May 20, 1847, and quietly passed away at his home at Potters Mills, Tuesday of this week, making his age sixty-four years, seven months, and twenty-six days.

For the past twenty years Mr. Brown has lived in the vicinity of Potters Mills, and his entire life was spent in Centre county. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown, who preceded him to the grave a number of years ago, but is survived by a number of brothers and sisters some of whom are located in the west.

In November, 1876, he was married to Miss Joanna Shutt, who survives with two children, S. Edwin, of near Potters Mills, and Cora at home. Al- by six grandchildren; one daughter, Mable, having preceded him to the grave.

Interment will be made Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Union cemetery at Tusseyville, Rev. F. W. Barry, pastor of the deceased, will officiate.

Ida May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bitner, of near Tusseyville died December 28th, aged twenty-three years, ten months and twenty-four days. She had been in delicate health for some years, and for three or four weeks had been confined to bed from a complication of diseases, dropsy, heart trouble and gangrene.

Interment was made Saturday following her death, and the body was laid to rest in the Tusseyville cemetery. Rev. F. W. Barry, her pastor, officiating.

The deceased was prominently connected with all the societies connected with her church, and was held in the highest esteem by her co-workers. The members of her Sunday-school class sang at the services incident to her burial, and the missionary society attended the services in a body.

The parents, two brothers—John and Samuel; and two sisters—Elizabeth and Esther, survive.

Peter S. Confer, long a resident of Gregg township, died at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. James Wilson, at Burnham, Friday evening, December 23. Interment was made in the cemetery in Georges Valley, Tuesday following, Rev. H. A. Snook officiating. His age was eighty-one years and eleven months. There survive him a half-brother, Mr. Dunlap, of Spring Mills, and eleven children, namely: John H. Coburn; James H. Spring Mills; Benjamin, Sugar Valley; William M., Greensburg; Ezra, Sober; Elmer, on old homestead, Spring Mills; Mrs. O. J. Wolf, Spring Mills; Mrs. William Killefelter, Tusseyville; Mrs. A. A. Bedlyon, Burnham; Mrs. L. P. Smith, Spring Mills; Mrs. Henry Lingle, Spring Mills.

Mrs. Amelia Smith died at the home of her only son, former Prothonotary W. F. Smith, in Millheim, Tuesday morning, at the advanced age of eighty-one years, eleven months and twenty-four days. She was in bed two weeks but suffered no pain, death being due to the ravishes of time. Her maiden name was Gilbert, and she was born in Snyder county, but lived in Centre county for many years.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, services by Rev. W. J. Dice, of the United Evangelical church. Interment at Millheim.

Mrs. Wolf, wife of Charles Wolf, in Haines township, died on New Year's day, aged sixty years, four months, eighteen days. Interment will be made on Friday at Aaronsburg. Guernev, a son by a former marriage to Jack Hosterman, and Fred, both at home, and the husband survive.

New Year shooters from Potters Mills and vicinity visited Centre Hall on the afternoon of New Year's day. They were a happy lot.
