36th Anniversary.

The local order of I. O. O. F. celebrated their thirty-sixth anniversary on Monday evening. The lodge when organized had a membership of twenty, and now there are over one hundred members. Of the charter members there are these: S. K. Emerick, of Fleming; W. R. From, of Millinburg, and B. D. Brieblin, of Centre Hall.

Hockman-Sharer.

At the Reformed parsonage, Boals-burg, on Thursday evening, of last week, John H. Hockman, of Mingoville, and Miss Grace Sharer, of Zion, were united in marriage by Rev. S. C.
Stover. The bride is a cousin of the pastor. A number of relatives and friends accompanied them to the parsonage, in the presence of whom they were married. May they have a happy voyage.

LOCALS

Mrs. Samuel F. Reeder recently moved from Farmers Mills to State College.

The morning mails from the east failed to arrive in Centre Hall twice during the past week.

The Modern Woodmen will meet this (Thursday) night at which time the officers for the ensuing year will be installed.

Hon. C. E. Patton has announced himself a candidate for a second term in the lower house of representatives in congress.

Miss Ella Ruth, of Reading, niece of Mrs. William Keller, was in Centre Hall for a short time, returning to her home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snyder, of Milton, accompanied by their children, are in Centre Hall, the guests of Mrs.
Snyder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Garis.

Every family has need of a good, reliable liniment. For sprains, bruises, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains there is none better than Chamberlain's. Sold by all dealers.

W. B. Mingle, Esq., cashier of the Penna Valley Bank, has been unable to attend to business this week. His illness began with a chill on Sunday, and later pneumonia developed. Although quite ill his condition is not alarming.

An acetylene lighting plant has been installed in the residence of John H. Weber, at the station. The plant was put in place by R. W. Powell, representing the Acetylene Apparatus Company of Chicago, and works to perfection.

Mrs. S. R. Kamp, of Look Haven, accompanied by her son John, are in Orangeville, Illinois, with the former's son Rufus Lee. They will also visit Mrs. David Sweetwood, at Syme-ton, a sister, and other friends before returning.

The borough auditors' statement is published in this issue. For the first time in many years does the statement set forth in plain figures the conditions of the treasury and the cost of conducting the several departments of the borough. Every tax payer should give the statement a careful reading.

The auditors appointed by the Centre county Grange to audit the accounts of the officers of the several business interests of that order met at the home of Hon. Leonard Rhone on Monday. On account of illness in the family, D. M. Campbell was unable to attend. Others who had business there were Master Willard Dale, F. W.
Musser, G. L. Goodhart and D. K.
Keller.

J. H. Weiser and Roy Schaefer, both from the south side of Potter township, were among the Reporter's callers on Tuesday. Mr. Weiser and his landlord, H. C. Shirk, will make a joint sale of their stock on Wednesday, March 13, as will be found advertised in the sale register, and about the first of April the former will move onto the F. M. Rossman farm, near Tussey Stuk. Mr. Schaefer and his landlord, J. H. McCool, think they will be able to divide their stock and thus avoid having a public sale. Mr. Schaefer will become tenant on the farm of Cyrus Brungart.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers' Correspondent Column—New Department.

January 13, 1912.

Editor Reporter:

I notice in the columns of the Reporter occasional reference to weather conditions and thermometer records.
It may be of interest to have a gentle diversion by a knowledge of the South Dakota temperatures even if it makes you shiver to think of them and imagine just what they really mean. The extreme continuous cold weather for the last seventeen days might be called a record breaker in many parts of the country but especially so in the Northwest. Here are the thermometer records from New Year's day to January 12th: 20, 20, 22, 25, 28, 26, 31, 13, 12, 20, 24, 44 degrees below zero. The 12th was the coldest day I ever experienced, that is, when I dared to venture outside the house. I had heard of 42 below zero weather and even lower, but I now know more about it than by the other fellow's shivering and then telling about it.
Fortunately the night was calm which greatly reduced the suffering that otherwise would have been the case among those unprepared for such extreme tests of endurance.

I notice at Pembina, North Dakota, the thermometer registered 54 below yesterday morning; accordingly, we here can endeavor to imagine how ten degrees lower than our temperature would affect us. The atmosphere here is dryer than in your state and lower temperature here is not as penetrating as that much damper there.

We are having fine sleighing, but most too cold to thoroughly enjoy it.
I have given you temperature records but do not know what my record is on your books so will raise it two degrees by Post Office order.

Very truly yours,
D. J. MITTERLING.

TIFFIN, OHIO,
January 15, 1912.

Dear Editor Reporter:

Enclosed find one dollar to pay for the dear old Reporter for 1912. We would be lost without it, as it brings to our minds each week the words of the poet: "How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood."

We like Ohio very well. Since leaving here we have enjoyed good health, and enough prosperity to provide us with the necessities of life.

I am employed by the Seneca Lumber Company. They do a retail lumber business and planing mill work.
Our son and daughter are employed by the Consolidated Telephone Company (Bell system)—the former as equipment inspector, and the latter as night operator.

Tiffin is a live, bustling city. Everybody seems busy and happy. Cost of living is high here as elsewhere. Some of the retail prices at present are: creamery butter, 40c; eggs, 36c; potatoes, $1.20 bu.; lard, 10c; milk, 6c; beef, 10 to 12c; pork, 8 to 10c.

We are having cold weather now, the temperature ranging from 6 above to 5 below zero.

With best wishes for the Reporter, and its many readers,
Very truly,
M. J. BARGER.

Centre County Pomona Grange.

The first quarterly meeting of the County Grange will be held in Grange Arodis, Centre Hall, Thursday, January 25th, at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.
All members of the Grange are cordially invited to attend, as this will be one of the most important meetings of the year.

The Grange Fire Insurance Company, the Grange Telephone Company, and the Grange Equipment and Fair Association will make their annual reports, giving the financial standing of each of these companies.
Therefore all desiring to learn the standing of these important business enterprises of our Order, should endeavor to be present. Especially should every subordinate Grange be represented.

The question of milk condensing creameries and butter making will be discussed. The question of the selection of seed corn will be discussed by D. F. Luse.

At this meeting the officers will be installed. The Fifth Degree (Pomona) will be conferred in full form, with much other Grange business to be considered.

No Lottery Notices.

The Clinton Democrat got a talking to by Assistant Attorney General R. P. Goodwin for making mention in its columns that a piano chance off for the benefit of the Modern Woodmen had been won by John E. Shaffer. The officer says the item refers to a lottery enterprise and the issue of the newspaper containing it should have been treated as unobtainable. In view of this, the Reporter requests that none of its correspondents make any reference to games of chance, no matter who conducts them. Newspapers are held strictly to the laws by the postoffice department, and no publisher cares to receive mail on such subjects from these Washington officials.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The public meeting held in the Methodist church by the W. C. T. U. on Monday evening, was well attended. The president of the society, Mrs.
S. A. Snyder, presided. There was scripture reading by Rev. Snyder, singing by the children of the society, and prayer by Rev. R. R. Jones.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs.
Addie Bollean Parsels, of Philadelphia, the wife of a prominent Methodist minister. She gave the best talk on the subject ever given by any speaker in Centre Hall. She is full of her subject and is capable of imparting it to her audience.

The burden of her address was that it is the duty of the church to put down the liquor traffic, not by love and prayer alone, but by voting for clean legislators who will enact laws that will legislate out of existence the hated thing.

She cites that tuberculosis, small-pox, and other diseases are now being legislated against and through that agency it was proposed to eliminate them entirely, and it could and would be done; the same can and will be done in reference to the liquor traffic.

Mrs. Parsels is not a freak, nor one who has neglected her home duties.
She is the mother of ten children, eight of whom are living, and has taken into her home five other children (strangers to her) that have no other mother's love than her's. She is a power on the platform, as well as in her home, and words flow from her lips like water in a stream. She is a marvel.

The local temperance organization was increased by twenty, a number of whom were men, made honorary members.

Road Supervisors Report.

The report posted by the road supervisors of Potter township is very complete, but by being posted only and not advertised in the Reporter, few tax payers will be able to inform themselves. The Reporter's charges for the auditors' statements in both the borough and township are less than one-fifth the legal rate, and it would appear that when the work is being done at such a low figure the supervisor's account should find its way into these columns.

These figures are taken from the report: Total available funds, $3115; total expenditures, $3530; amount due from collector, $1267; valuation in township, $688,271; tax levied, $3436; roads improved during the year, 93,250 feet; taxables in township, 564.
There is much other information in this report of interest that reaches the public in no other way.

Harris township.

Oscar Gilman, of near Millheim, is visiting with relatives and associates in this place.

Theodore Boal departed on Friday for a trip to France, and other European countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Snell, of Niagara, were relatives who visited at the home of H. M. Hosterman the early part of last week.

A company of young people from State College took supper at the Boalsburg tavern on Saturday and spent the evening in dancing and other amusements at the Boal hall.

The thirty seventh anniversary of Boalsburg Lodge of I. O. O. F., No.
894, will be observed this (Thursday) evening. A number of their friends are invited to spend the evening with them.

John Hockman and Miss Grace Shearer, of near Zion, were married at the Reformed parsonage at Boalsburg on Thursday evening, January 17th, by Rev. S. C. Stover. Those present were the pastor's family, Mr. and Mrs.
Mervin Kuhn and daughter Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Durst, and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Stover and son Riley.
Mr. and Mrs. Hockman remained until the following day with the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Kuhn. Best wishes are extended to the young couple.

Relatives from a distance who attended the funeral of Mrs. Cyrus Durst were Samuel Showalter and son Willard, of Cowan; Mr. and Mrs.
Wesley Showalter, Mr. and Mrs.
John Showalter, of Millmont; Mrs.
William Spigelmeier, of Millinburg; James Grove and daughter Mrs. Grace Aldright, of Spring Mills; Daniel Showalter, Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Durst, Howard, Christ and Mary Durst, Al. Krape, P. H. Meyer, Mrs. John Durst, Mrs. Virgie Keiler, Mrs. Katharine Saunders, Centre Hall; and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Tressler, of Pine Hall.

Brush Valley.

Mrs. Colonel Decker is on the sick list.

Quite a few people from here were to the horse sale at Millheim last week.
Rev. J. F. Blamant had preaching services here on Sunday afternoon.

Jacob F. Musser and daughter Carrie, were to Bellefonte one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rossman were to Spring Mills on Sunday to visit friends.

J. W. Brock has purchased a new gasoline engine, with which he expects to saw wood, shred corn fodder, and grind chop.

LIFE OF THE SUN.

Old Sol's Heat Will Warm the Earth
For Millions of Years.

The reason why the sun retains its heat in spite of the quantity that it gives out is explained by the fact that heat is generated by the fall of particles toward its center. The diameter of the sun diminishes annually by 150 meters, a little more than the ten-mil-lionth part of its total.

According to estimates made, 30,000 years will pass before the solar radius diminishes enough to produce an effect appreciable by the most delicate instruments, always supposing that the astronomical instruments of the future will be similar to the instruments of the present. By like calculations it is estimated that the sun will send heat to the earth between six millions and eight millions of years longer.

Radium, which emits heat spontaneously and without cessation, is present in the sun. One gram of radium frees enough heat in one hour to raise a gram of water from the temperature of ice to the temperature of boiling water. Hence the presence of this element assists in the preservation of the sun's heat. The spectroscopic reveals great quantities of helium in the sun, quantities great in proportion to the sun's other elements. The presence of helium is due to the disintegration of radium. Two grams of radium per ton of the sun's elements would be enough for the entire regeneration of all the heat lost by the sun.—Harper's Weekly.

SUNFLOWERS.

Their Pith Makes Fine Interlining For Battleship Armor.

The most remarkable use to which the sunflower has been put is in the construction of battleships. The stalk of the plant is very pithy, and even when compressed into blocks this pith is capable of absorbing a tremendous quantity of water. These blocks, in which the pith retains some of its flexibility, have been employed with much success in the solution of the vexed problem of the lining of a battleship's sides. They are placed between two walls of steel, and the substance is so resilient that it completely closes up the hole made by a projectile, keeping out the water for a long time.

Another little known use of the sunflower is in the manufacture of cigars.
There is not a part of the plant that is without commercial value. The seed, which is raised by hundreds of millions of pounds every year in Russia, makes a palatable edible oil, with a residue of seed cake for cattle, or it may be fed in the kernel to poultry. The blossoms furnish honey first and then an excellent yellow dye. As for the stalks, the Chinese are clever enough to get a sort of silky fiber from them, and they are also good for fuel and for the production of potash. In New England it is believed that the sunflower "keeps away malaria." It is also believed that the blossoms follow the sun in its daily course, but that is not true.

When the Immortals Nodded.

The French papers have made much of a slip by M. Emille Faguet in his oration before the academy. The academicians rendered to Caesar more than was Caesar's, for he gave the "fighter and writer" credit for a line which belongs to Cato. But it seems the immortals are not immune from lapsus lingue. General Langlois got mixed up with Palestro and Solferino.
Even Scribe and Mollere refer to the relocation of the edict of Nantes, which took place in 1685, twelve years after Mollere's death. But perhaps a more glaring instance is that of Montesquieu, who, in his "Esprit des Loix," volume 1, chapter xxi, 22, writes, "I have many times deplored the blindness of the council of Francis I, who rebuff-ed Christopher Columbus when he proposed his scheme for India." But Francis I ascended the throne in 1515, nine years after the date of the death of Columbus—London Globe.

What Gold Beaters Can Do.

Gold beaters by hammering can reduce gold leaves so thin that 282,000 must be laid upon each other to produce the thickness of an inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes that one of them laid upon any surface, as in gilding, gives the appearance of solid gold. They are so thin that if formed into a book 1,500 would only occupy the space of a single leaf of common paper, and an octavo volume of an inch thick would have as many pages as the books of a well stocked library of 1,500 volumes with 200 pages in each.

The Wrong Market.

Mrs. Newlywed—Have you any nice slumps this morning? Butcher-Slumps? What are they? Mrs. Newlywed—Indeed, I don't know, but my husband is always talking about a slump in the market, and I thought I should like to try some.—Philadelphia Record.

Plenty.

Wife—But we—we shall not begin our married life with a secret, shall we, dearest?
"No, darling," he murmured, "there's plenty of time."

Wares Luck.

Fatigued Philip—Did the lady 'trow bolin' water on youse? Wandering Walter—Worse'n dat, Phil, worse'n dat. It was soapuds.—Toledo Blade.

Rules.

Weary—It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways. Willie—G'wan! It's a poor rule to work at all.—Toledo Blade.

APES OF GIBRALTAR.

Highly Prized and Carefully Protected by Martial Law.

Major is the name of the chief of the highly prized and carefully protected tribe of Barbary apes that inhabit the rock of Gibraltar. There is a saying in the fortress to the effect that it were "better to kill the governor than Major."

There are only about twenty left of this band of monkeys, which in some mysterious manner came over from Africa many years ago and claimed citizenship in Europe. They are protected by martial law, and any addi-tioned by birth to their number is carefully chronicled and announced in the local paper. The apes change their place of residence from the highest peaks of the rock to lower and more sheltered portions and back again, according to the state of the weather.
They show their sense of humor by throwing stones at the soldiers, but they are often not seen for weeks at a time save in the early morning.

A few years ago, on account of the diminishing numbers of these animals, some apes were procured from Barbary and turned loose upon the rock.
But resident monkeys killed them all.
Although so fierce to intruders of their own kind, they never attack human beings and are greatly beloved and esteemed.—New York Press.

PIES FOR THE KING.

Ancient Customs That Are Still Kept Alive In England.

The city of Gloucester, in England, annually presents the king with a pie.
Almost from time immemorial Gloucester until the year 1834 followed the custom of expressing its loyalty to the throne by sending to the sovereign a lamprey pie. In 1834 the custom was suspended, but it was revived in 1893 and has since continued.

It was felt that the year of the diamond jubilee required some special effort, and therefore the 1897 pie, which was in "May" dispatched to Balmoral upon a gold dish, was of a more than usually elaborate character. This pie weighed twenty pounds and was adorned with truffles, fine prawns on gold skewers and aspic jelly. On the top was a representation of the royal crown and cushion, with a scepter to which were attached streamers of royal blue, and at the base were four golden lions.

By the survival of an ancient custom the town of Yarmouth is bound to furnish to the sheriffs of Norwich annually a hundred herrings baked in twenty-four pies, which are then sent to the lord of the manor of East Clare-ton, who conveys them to the king.—

ZEBRAS IN AFRICA.

They Are a Fearful Pest and a Menace to Civilization.

Zebras in Africa are a nuisance and a menace to civilization, according to John T. McCutcheon in "Hunting Adventures in the Big Game Country." He says:

Then there's the ubiquitous zebra, almost as numerous as the kongoni.
You see vast herds of zebras at many places along the railway, and thereafter, as you roam about the level spots of east Africa, you are always running into herds of them. At first the sight of a herd of zebras is a surprise, for you have been accustomed to seeing them in the small numbers found in captivity. It is a source of passing wonder that these rare animals should be roaming about the suburbs of towns in hundred lots.
You decide that it would be a shame to shoot a zebra and determine not to join in this heartless slaughter.

Later on your sentiments will undergo a change. Everybody will tell you that the zebra is a fearful pest and must be exterminated if civilization and progress are to continue. The zebra is absolutely useless, and efforts to domesticate him have been without good results. He tramps over the plains, breaks down fences, tears up the cultivated fields and really fulfills no mission in life save that of supplying the lions with food. As long as the zebras stay the lions will be there, but the settlers say that the lions are even preferable to the zebras.

Under the old game ordinance expiring December 15, 1909, a sportsman was allowed two zebras under his license. Under the new one he is allowed twenty! That reveals the attitude of east Africa toward the jaunty little striped pony.
