One of the most delightful social events of the season was the I. O. O. F. banquet held in Grange Hall on Washington's birthday. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there were present a large number of the Order. The members of the Lady Violet Rebekah Lodge were the caterers, and served a five-course dinner, fit for a Mikado. The ladies deserve much credit for they know just how to cater to the satisfaction of a Lugny Old Fellow. After all present had done justice to the inner man, toasts were in order. Music and entertainment were furnished by the I. O. O. F. Orchestra, and solos were rendered by C. C. Barts and G. Cleve Geuz I. The chicken and waffles supper given in the evening by the Rebekah lodge was also a decided success, and netted a nice sum of money.

ROBERT M. LEECH KILLED.

Sun Down by Engine at McGarvey—Two Weeks a Fireman—Second Member of Family to Lose Life Railroading in Three Years. Robert M. Leech, of Boalsburg, was instantly killed at McGarvey on Thursday. Mr. Leech began his work as a fireman just two weeks previous. His train stopped at the point named, where there are numerous tracks, and a number of engines were shifting back and forth. The track next to the one on which Mr. Leech's engine stood was apparently vacant, and the young man went to cross it, when he was struck, and as stated above was instantly killed.

The body was brought to Altoona, and Thursday afternoon his mother, Mrs. John Leech, a brother, William Leech, and William H. Stuart, all of Boalsburg, went to Altoona to claim it, and brought it to the Leech home from which place the funeral was held on Monday. Mr. Leech was aged a little over twenty-three years. Besides his mother there survive him one brother, William, at home; Mrs. William H. Stuart, Boalsburg; Mrs. Blaine Brown, Tyrone; Mrs. Harry Muser, State College; and Anna, at home.

John W. Leech, a brother, died May 1st, 1909, from injuries received a few days previous on a railroad in the vicinity of Altoona. The young man was very popular among his acquaintances, and made friends wherever he went. The funeral services were held from the Leech home on Monday forenoon, Rev. J. I. Stonecoper, pastor of the deceased officiating. Interment was made in the family plot at Boalsburg. The members of the Bear Meadow Commandery Knights of Malta attended the funeral in a body. This was the first death in their order, and this made the rites performed by them at the burial all the more solemn and impressive.

The floral tributes were beautiful, and were presented by individuals and families in Altoona, and a pillow represented the Malta order. A Pardonable Paradox. "That young son-in-law of mine," said Mr. Curock, "says I'm unreasonable. And maybe he's right."

"What's the trouble?" "Before their marriage I objected to his attentions to my daughter. Now I'm objecting to his inattention."—Washington Star.
