Will You Change Your Address April 1st?

The patrons of the Centre Reporter who contemplate moving April 1st, or thereabouts, will confer a great favor if they will forward to this office their new post office address, and also give their present address. Please note that it is important to send us both the new and old address, and do it at once.

State Accepts Lands for Pen.

Mr. Eagan and Mr. Dunlap, representing the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, filed their acceptance of the several tracts of lands comprising the site for the pen. This means that the state will take over the land, and that the pen will be located on the McBrides Gap site.

Starling Pony Farm.

E. P. Hook, of Spring Mills, purchased five Shetland ponies, and will begin breeding them. A three-year-old stallion heads the list; two are mares, two years old weighing 320 and 310 pounds; and two are yearling colts. They are a fine lot of animals.

Brungard-Snyder.

Joseph F. Brungard, of Salona, and Miss Eva M. Snyder, of Greenbush, were quietly married on the 2nd inst., at the Reformed parsonage, Rebersburg, by the Rev. G. A. Stauffer.

Reporter Supplement.

In this issue will be found a supplement, containing a statement of the finances of Centre county.

LOCALS

Horses are cheaper; yes, until you go to buy a good one.

There will be a regular meeting of Progress Grange in Grange Arcadia, Saturday afternoon.

Court was called in continued session on Tuesday to hear the case of the Penn Chemical Company vs. Mary C. Ammerman.

Miss Bertha McCormick, one of the Commercial exchange telephone operators at Centre Hall, went to Altoona Wednesday morning to visit friends.

A. C. Ripka, of Centre Hill, reports a pair of twin calves. When well calves are worth as much or more than yearlings. It is surely good luck to have a cow bring you two instead of one calf.

State College is preparing to vote on the question whether or not it shall have a thirty thousand dollar school building. It is proposed to bond the borough for that sum, provided the majority of the voters favor the proposition.

Isn't it remarkable how well the hen coops in this locality have been protected during the past few years. The song rendered by the colored artists entitled, "Who Broke de Look on de Chicken Coop Door," did not have its origin here—unless it was suggested in the last century.

A report was circulated that the options on the lands comprising the pen site had been extended, but the truth is as stated elsewhere, the state has filed its acceptance of the lands under the options. George E. Thomas, of Nittany Mountain, displayed a copy of the acceptance notice in this office; there is no mistake of the intention of the state.

DEATHS.

William Harvey Bailey, a prominent Penn township farmer, died suddenly on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, while lying on a couch at his home. Mr. Bailey began complaining the day previous, but no one thought his ailment of a serious character. Death was due to dilation of the heart.

Mr. Bailey was the son of Tobiah Bailey, and was born in Sugar Valley, December 9, 1857, and was therefore aged fifty-five years, three months and two days. For a number of years he lived in Penn township, and for eleven years on the J. S. Meyer farm, near Salem Reformed church, below Penn Hall.

Interment will be made in the Salem Reformed church cemetery Friday forenoon.

The deceased is survived by his wife, nee Amanda Zarby, and these children: Margaret C., Franklin L., Edward W., Harvey L., Bruce Z., all at home. The surviving sisters and brother are: Mrs. Daniel Long, Nittany; Mrs. Joseph Alters, Bellefonte; Mrs. Foster Bower, Aaronsburg; Mrs. Jared Mowery, Youngstown, Ohio; Lewis Bailey, Sugar Valley.

Mrs. Barbara Coble died at her home at Houserville, on 25th ultimo, aged eight-four years, three months and twenty-three days. There survives her husband, William C. Coble.

The deceased was twice married, first to Mr. Bible, who lost his life on the battle field during the Civil War.

By this union there survive four children, namely, Frank Bible, former recorder of Centre county, now in China; Dr. George P. Bible, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Burd, of California; and Mrs. Annie Oyer, of the state of Washington. Grant Coble, a son of the second marriage, also survives.

Mrs. Coble was a consistent member of the Reformed church, and is credited with having lived a Christian life. She was an invalid for a number of years, but bore her affliction without a murmur.

John H. Harter, of Osceola, Ohio, died at his home from Bright's disease Saturday morning, aged seventy-six years.

He was a son of William and Rebecca Harter, and was born at Aaronsburg. During the war he served as captain of Co. D, 150th Regiment. For many years he has lived in Ohio. He was twice married, his second wife surviving, as well as one child by his first wife, and four by the second. There also survive these brothers and sisters: Mrs. F. Kurtz, Bellefonte; Jonathan, Millheim; Mrs. Sarah Mensch, Aaronsburg; William, Harterton; Daniel, Sterling, Ohio; Mrs. Rebecca Murray, Centre Hall; Andrew, Rockford, Illinois; Aaron, Harrisburg; Thomas H., Bellefonte; Mrs. S. M. Campbell, Millheim.

Bertha Emeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wolf, of Avis, died Wednesday of last week and the remains were interred at Pine Hall on Saturday, the funeral services having been conducted by Rev. C. S. Stover, pastor of the Reformed church, at Boalsburg. The child was aged two years, three months and twelve days.

Spring Mills

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jamison are both ill with grippe.

A little boy came to gladden the home of S. G. Walker.

Miss Blanche Bariges went to Bellefonte on Monday morning.

Roy Raymond, of Linden Hall, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. William Myers.

W. O. Gramley and wife attended the funeral of Mr. Gramley's mother, at Millburg, on Monday.

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Harvey Bailey, who lived on the J. S. Meyer farm, northeast of town.

The play entitled "A Quiet Family," given by the members of the Literary Society, will be played in Millheim, on Saturday evening.

Colyer.

Miss Sadie Lee was a guest at the home of her brother, G. B. Lee, of Tusseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Ripka and family spent Sunday at the home of Ralph Rickert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashbridge Thomas spent a day last week at the home of Mr. Summers, of Axeman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moyer visited at the home of Mrs. Moyer's parents Mr. and Mrs. Hookman, of Helos.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNeill, of Mifflin county, spent Sunday at the home of Orvis Horner and family.

Miss Anna Berkins, who spent the winter at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Orvis Horner, returned to her home at Millroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slutterbeck spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitmer, of near State College.

The most common cause of indigestion is disorders of the stomach. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets correct these disorders and enable you to sleep. For sale by all dealers.

LOCALS.

John Potter, of Philadelphia, is at the home of his brother, J. T. Potter, in Centre Hall.

Miss Emma Wolf, of Ardmore, who was threatened with appendicitis, has recovered.

Rev. C. C. Shuey will hold services at the Pine Stump school house at three o'clock next Sunday.

Miss Sara Neff, for several days last week, was the guest of her uncle, Prof. W. F. Ziegler, near Aaronsburg.

Nathaniel Ziegler will move from the farm, near Centre Hill, to Linden Hall, and expects to engage in hauling.

Rev. S. A. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church, at Centre Hall, has been returned to this charge by the conference.

If you want parcels post, the real thing, write to Congressman Patton and Senators Penrose and Oliver, and ask for it.

Dr. W. H. Fry, the Ferguson township veterinary surgeon, attended the sessions of the Pennsylvania Veterinary Association in Philadelphia. The Captain never misses an opportunity to attend these meetings and further inform himself in the profession.

W. O. Gramley, at Spring Mills, advertises sale for Friday, April 5th, o'clock. He will sell two horses, fifteen Holstein Friesian cows, a thoroughbred Holstein bull, etc. Some of the cows offered by Mr. Gramley give as much as from sixty-five to seventy pounds of milk per day. See sale register for full description.

J. Nevin Moyer bought a tract of land from the Royer estate close to his farm in Rebersburg. Mr. Moyer is a school teacher by profession, and makes good use of his time during the summer months, but does not neglect adding to his store of knowledge so that he can keep abreast with the forward march of the profession.

The following is from the Keystone Gazette: William Goben, the veteran auctioneer of Boalsburg was in town one day last week and while here paid his annual visit to the Gazette office to pay his subscription. Mr. Goben cried sales for over thirty years—averaging probably seventy-five sales a year—and some running to nearly five thousand dollars. He was one of the best auctioneers the county has ever had, but the silent messenger of time has practically put him out of business. He is a fine old fellow and it does one good to meet him.

A representative of the Curtis Publishing Company recently picked up a copy of the Centre Reporter while in this office and observed the financial statement of the auditors of Potter township, and then remarked: "The publishing of complete financial statements by townships and boroughs indicates that the taxpayers are awake to their interests; and it further indicates that the people in the districts are intelligent above the average, else they would have no desire for such a statement." The gentlemen was altogether right and his conclusions were based on a wide knowledge of affairs in rural districts.

Reporter Register.

C. F. and J. F. Muser, Penns Cave; Frank Letzler, Centre Hall; Ruth Bergson and Rose Fisher, Centre Hall; N. K. Gove, Elizabethtown; A. C. Ripka, Centre Hill; George P. Thomas, Pleasant Gap; J. T. Potter, Centre Hall; Mrs. S. I. Poorman, Centre Hall.

The Dairyman.

I have recently received a car of Surenre Dairy Feed. This feed has proven to be one of the best dairy feeds on the market, one of the feeds that brings satisfactory results. Try it and be convinced. It is also an excellent feed for calves and young steers.

R. D. FOREMAN, Centre Hall.

Four-horse power New Holland gasoline engine, Stanley feed cutter.

Forged Postage Stamps.

Bad money and spurious banknotes are as common as sparrows, but forged postage stamps are seldom heard of. The most glaring case of stamp forgery in Great Britain occurred in 1872 and 1873, and its origin has never been discovered. In those days the minimum rate for telegraphic messages was 1 shilling, and the stamps that were forged were all for such amount, each being passed through the Stock Exchange telegraphic office. One of the principal reasons against postage stamp forgery is the keenness of philatelists. The vigilance of the collector would speedily bring to light the existence of any faulty stamps. Of the many thousands of varieties of stamps issued, only about 100 are known to have been forged, and these specimens have usually been skillfully faked more with the object of trapping the collector than robbing the postal authorities.—London Standard.

Keep the Machine In Repair.

Think for a moment. A man who would no more run his motorcar on deflated tires or with sand in the gear box than he would use sulphuric acid for motive power will keep going right on at his business when the tread of his own physical mechanism is flattening out and the gear box of his mind is filling with the wrong kind of grit. The impatient optimism that shakes off a vague oppression with the assurance "I'll be all right tomorrow" has had as much to do with lengthening out the list of bankrupts as any other one thing I could mention. You can't correct a bad condition by persisting in the things that cause it. You will only make it worse. You can easily enough, if you are obstinate enough, make it so much worse that it will "be the death of you," or, anyway, put you out of business.—National Food Magazine.

Stone That Bends.

"Firm as a rock," "bending as flint," are phrases often used; but, as a matter of fact, there is a sort of stone that is as flexible as wooden fiber. It is, of course, very rare, and the few specimens known are now in museums. One of the finest is in the Hartley Institution in Southampton, England, having been found near Delhi, India. It is lathlike in shape, about an inch thick and two feet long. It is a particularly flexible specimen and can with the hands be curved several inches from the horizontal; otherwise it is hard and mineral-like, having the grain of ordinary gray sandstone.

Hard on the Ladies.

Very few remember the existence of a certain remarkable statute which was passed in the early days of George III, if indeed they ever heard of it. It runs to the effect that if any woman "entices any of his majesty's male subjects into marriage by the use of any powders or paints or false hair or wool on the cheeks she shall be prosecuted for sorcery." What a cause celebre it would be if any of his present majesty's male subjects were to endeavor to put the law into action! What a rush there would be of fashionable ladies to secure front seats in court for the hearing!—London Tatler.

His Belief.

"I used to believe there was a pot of gold at the end of every rainbow." "Well," his wife replied, "you don't seem to have thoroughly outgrown the belief. At least you seem to believe there's a pot of gold at the end of any highly colored story that a promoter cares to tell you."—Judge's Library.

Question and Answer.

"What's that big iron thing?" asked Laura. "Locomotive boiler," replied Tom. "After a moment's silence Laura inquired, 'Why do they boil locomotives?'" "To make 'em tender!" said Tom.

in nearly all localities are building their farm improvements of cement. Sidewalks, steps, cellars, well curbs, cisterns, posts, troughs, barn floors, and so on, may all be built of cement, and in many cases, the first cost is less than for wood. Besides, cement construction is clean, everlasting and cannot be burned.
