

RITTER ON ONE CONVENTION.

Agrees in Part With Chairman Guthrie, but Wants to Decide One or Two Questions Himself that Belong to the People to Act Upon.

On the last page of this issue, second column, will be found the proposition made by the Democratic State Executive Committee to Mr. Ritter, who poses as the chairman of the Guffey-Hall followers, for one convention. Mr. Ritter has made reply, and in part is willing to accept the one convention proposition, but wants to decide the question who shall not be a candidate for national committee-man, a prerogative that belongs to the people.

On this question Mr. Guthrie, the Democratic chairman, says:

"Neither Mr. Ritter nor any one else has any right to dictate who shall or who shall not be a candidate. The delegates assembled in the convention should and must be free to choose whosoever they please. We have insisted on this principle all along and we shall continue to insist on it."

MR. RITTER'S TERMS.

Mr. Ritter's terms are that one convention be held in the Methodist theater at noon, May 7, and that Mr. Ritter call it to order, who shall at once turn it over to a temporary chairman to be chosen by Mr. Guthrie from this list of persons: Judge W. Rush Gillan, of Franklin county; William A. Glasgow, the Philadelphia lawyer or Charles J. Reilly, of Williamsport, a lawyer. Then, says Mr. Ritter, both he and Chairman Guthrie will present the name to the convention.

This chairman chosen shall preside and select other officers of the convention, and that the chairman and secretary along with Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Ritter shall make up the roll of delegates in accordance with the certificates of the county commissioners of the several counties. Thereafter the convention shall be permanently organized.

In return for this Mr. Ritter wants both Guffey and Congressman Palmer to retire as candidates for national committee-man and that at the June meeting of the State Central Committee, Mr. Guthrie preside and then both he and Ritter retire as candidates for the state chairmanship which will be filled at that time.

Yarnell's sale to-day (Thursday) near Linden Hall. Some of the finest stock any one may wish to see will be offered.

It has now been officially settled that the forty-eight stars of the new United States flag shall be arranged in six rows of eight stars each.

A most interesting session of Progress Grange was held on Saturday afternoon, at which time twenty-six new members were admitted. The total membership of this Grange is now about two hundred.

To prove that he has a lot of good cows to sell at his sale on the 30th, J. I. Shavey tells the Reporter that during the month of January he sold the Mill Hall milk condensing plant 13,558 pounds of milk, testing four and six-tenths per cent. butter fat.

Mrs. Edwin Garman, of Middleburg, writes the Reporter as follows: Please change the address of our paper to Hartleton, as we have purchased a home near there and will move in the near future. We made sale of our farm stock and implements, and everything sold at good prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Flink, of Manhattan, Illinois, will become residents of Centre Hall and in a few days will occupy the residence owned by Mrs. Sarah Kerlin. Mr. and Mrs. Flink engaged in farming while in the west. Mrs. Flink before marriage, was Miss Mary Wagner, sister of Mrs. A. E. Kerlin, of Centre Hall.

The Syracuse reversible riding plow, also called the one-way plow, is built with a view of giving strength without giving it a clumsy awkward appearance. It will plow ridges and smooth land, turn your furrows up or down the hill; draft is light compared to the work done; works equally well with either two or three horses. These plows are here for inspection.—J. H. and S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall.

Joseph Brown, aged about twenty years, and who had been clerking in Krumrine's Bellefonte drug store, became deranged in his mind and had to be locked in a steel cell in the county jail. On Saturday he stood on the railroad track and refused to move until he was forced off and taken into custody. An inquisition was held, and it was recommended by the physicians that he be sent to some hospital for treatment.

Former Commissioner John L. Dunlap, was on the south side of Centre county beginning of this week. Mr. Dunlap is on the pay-roll of the state roads department in the capacity of inspector. He is not in politics, according to his parting words, but there was a twinkle in his eye that just for all the world looked as though his trip through the south side of Centre county was in the interest of the G. H. & Co., who want to continue business at the old stand.

DEATHS.

Died on Way to Brother's Funeral.

Henry Beaver, of Millheim, died Wednesday forenoon while seated in a buggy and was on his way to the funeral of his brother, John Beaver, at Milroy. Mr. and Mrs. Beaver left their home early Wednesday morning and on reaching a point almost opposite the site where the old Lutheran church once stood at Penn Hall, Mrs. Beaver looked into her husband's face, and saw that something was wrong. In a few minutes he was dead. Luther Musser assisted in taking care of the body.

The deceased was aged sixty-two years. He is survived by a wife, two Miss Emma Ocker, and two children.—Mrs. Harry Osman, Harrisburg, and Miss Belva, at home. Samus Beaver, of Aaronsburg, is a brother, and Mrs. Samuel McDowel, of Aaronsburg, is a sister of the deceased. The funeral will be held on Saturday.

Adam Thomas, for many years a resident of Centre Hall, died Wednesday morning at the home of his daughter May, now Mrs. Crays, at Renovo, where he has made his home since the death of his wife, ten or more years ago. Death was due to diabetes.

Mr. Thomas was born at Aaronsburg and was aged sixty-seven years. He was a son of Jacob Thomas, and his wife was Miss Sallie Close. There survive two children, William F. and the daughter named above. Four of six brothers also survive, Jacob and Jeremiah, New Mexico; Aaron, Centre Hall, and Zachariah, Aaronsburg.

Mr. Thomas was a carpenter by trade and while a resident of this place was actively engaged as a builder. He was a member of the Reformed church and lived his profession.

The remains will be brought to Centre Hall for interment but no time for the funeral has been set.

Mrs. Joseph Meyer, after suffering from tuberculosis for a number of years, died at her home at Gatesburg on Sunday. Interment was made on Tuesday, her pastor, Rev. D. Y. Brouse, of the Methodist church, officiating. She was the mother of eight children, all grown up and living. The deceased before marriage was Miss Mary Rider, daughter of John W. Rider. Mrs. Devor, of Warriors Mark, and Mrs. Howard Barr, of Gatesburg, sisters, and Samuel Rider, of Huntingdon county, a brother, also survive, as does also the husband.

Mrs. Rosa Bella Lee, wife of Dr. George L. Lee, died at her home in Centre Hall after a brief illness, on Friday morning. Interment was made on Monday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. W. H. Schuyler, assisted by Rev. F. W. Barry.

There survive the deceased her husband, one brother and three sisters, namely, Perry McKinney, of Pottery Mills; Mrs. Hannah Moyer, of Millheim; Mrs. Mary J. Goodhart, and Miss Sadie McKinney, of Centre Hall.

John Beaver, of Milroy, died Sunday, and interment was made on Wednesday. He was aged sixty-five years. He was a native of lower Penna. Valley, and was married to Miss Flora Stover, who died two years ago. Eleven children survive.

Deaths Throughout County.

Thomas Merryman, in Taylor township, aged sixty years. He was found dead in bed.

W. B. Gingery, at Port Matilda, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Williams.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Samuel Bruce, west of Centre Hall, is very seriously ill.

Miss Gertrude N. Cogan, field secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Reformed church, on Wednesday evening addressed members of Reformed church at Centre Hall who are interested in Mission work.

S. M. Campbell, the Millheim undertaker, having been in charge of the funeral of Mrs. Relish who died in Millheim and was buried in Centre Hall, while in town on that mission on Monday, favored the Reporter with a brief call.

Dr. W. H. Fry made a professional call at the Bradford-Ernest farm barn at Old Fort, one of their most valuable horses having corked himself. The hoof is in very bad shape, but the veterinary surgeon thinks he can set a cure.

We call your attention to our advertisement in this issue of the Reporter. In the space occupied we have only enumerated a few of the implements and goods handled by us, but enough to show prospective customers that it will be to their interest to call at our places of business before buying.—J. H. and S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. S. W. Moore and her mother, Mrs. Teede, on Tuesday, went to Westmont, New Jersey, to visit a sister of the former, who is quite ill.

The Reporter is informed on good authority that Dr. J. V. Foster will soon drive a Ford runabout instead of the old sorrel horse. One or two others, in this vicinity, are quite seriously thinking of relieving themselves of the distress of being car-less.

John W. SickleSmith, Greensboro, Pa., has three children, and like most children they frequently take cold. "We have tried several kinds of cough medicine," he says, "but have never found any yet that did them as much good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." For sale by all dealers.

George Carper, of Spruce Creek Valley, Huntingdon county just across the Centre county line, had a remarkable sale a few days ago. Mated teams of horses brought $500, and none of the horses put up sold for less than $200. Cows also sold for $70. Mr. Carper will make Nebraska his future home.

F. W. E. Snyder, who has been the very capable superintendent of the Whitmer-Steel Co's big saw mill near Hawk Run, and who resides on South Front street, Phillipsburg, has tendered his resignation with a view of returning to Union county and engaging in the farming business. He has been in the employ of this firm at Hawk Run and elsewhere for upwards of thirty years, and his resignation will be regretted. He is succeeded by his son, Charles, who will no doubt prove a worthy successor.

Mrs. Elmira Smith, of Philadelphia, came up to the old home near Tusseyville about a week ago to visit her son who is conducting the farming operations. Mrs. Smith and her two sons, Stephen, who is a mail agent on the main line, and Raymond, a clerk in a gent's furnishing store, and a daughter, are keeping house in Philadelphia. Mrs. Smith has now been in the city for a year and she likes her new home very much. A third son, Jonas D., is also in Philadelphia, and is connected with the business end of the Philadelphia Inquirer.
