

PENNSYLVANIA FOR WILSON.

Reorganizers Elect 130 of the 182 Delegates to the State Convention—seventy-four of the Seventy-six Delegates for Wilson.

Seventy-four of the seventy-six delegates to the National Convention at Baltimore will be Wilson men, there being but two delegates elected favoring Clark, and these come from the twenty-eighth congressional district composed of the counties of Mercer, Warren, Forest, Venango and Elk. Please note that this is the district in which J. K. P. Hall operates.

The twelve delegates-at-large will be elected by a convention controlled by the Reorganizers, and these added to the sixty-two district delegates will make a total of seventy-four Wilson delegates.

The Reorganizers elected one hundred and thirty of the one hundred and eighty-two delegates to the state convention which will give them complete control of the convention.

Democrats identified with Re-organization movement, whose names are familiar to the R-reporter readers, elected National Delegates, are these:

Vance C. McCormick, George W. Guthrie, William H. Berry, John C. Barclay, Asner R. Johnson, James I. Blakesley.

The Republicans in Centre.

The official vote on the Republican ticket in Centre county had not been totaled at the time the Reporter went to press. It is known, however, that these nominations and elections have been the result:

For Congress, Charles E. Patton. For assembly, C. L. Gramley.

Delegates to National Convention, instructed for Roosevelt, F. G. Boose and Guy B. Mayo.

Delegates to State Convention, Harry P. Austin, George N. Fisher. County chairman, H. C. Quigley.

Franklin County May be Dry.

Judge Criswell granted but two retail licenses in Franklin county, and they are in Franklin. The Judge handed to the district attorney evidence against these two hotels and four others in Franklin, whose applications are being held under advisement. If the charges against the proprietors of these six hotels can be substantiated, Franklin county will be dry.

Judge Criswell is himself a temperance man, and has declared in open court that the people who advocate a license is necessary to furnish first-class accommodations, are grafters, because they contend that the man who drinks intoxicants pays for a part of the accommodations the temperate man receives without paying for it.

The judge pointed out that it is a misdemeanor to sell to a man who is intoxicated. He defined a man of known intemperate habits as one who becomes visibly affected by the use of liquor repeatedly whether at long or short intervals. Judge Criswell also declared that the law provides that both proprietor and bartenders shall be temperate men.

The McAlister Scholarship.

Centre county is entitled to one of the five McAlister Freshman scholarships at Pennsylvania State College for the coming year, beginning September, 1912. The holder will receive a rebate of dormitory room rent and incidental fees amounting in value to about $55. The scholarship will be rated for one year, at the end of which time the holder will be eligible for one of the four Louise Carnegie scholarships, and the John W. Hopkins scholarship assigned to members of the three upper classes on a basis of scholarship, character, and need. The McAlister scholarship is open to both sexes, but only to a member of the entering class. A competitive examination to determine the award will be held under the direction of the faculty at the College, June 13 and 14, 1912. The subjects in which candidates will be examined are English Grammar, Composition, American history, Academic algebra through quadratics, and plane geometry. Any inquiry addressed to the registrar of the College will receive prompt attention.

April Showers and Hail.

During the past week there have been a number of April showers, followed by sunshine. The grass and winter grain are growing nicely, the general appearance of the crops having improved very much Monday night there was almost a continuous display of electricity and heavy peals of thunder, and in Brush Valley and lower Penna Valley there was considerable rain fall. Tuesday afternoon the same sections of country experienced a severe hail storm, and at some places the hail wholly covered the ground. At Centre Hall only a few hail fell, but at a point less than a hundred rods to the east the fall was heavy. To the west of here plowing continued throughout the week, there having been no precipitation since Saturday night.

Hon. Benjamin K. Foelt was re-nominated for Congress. He got a splendid vote in his district.

DEATHS.

The first quarterly conference will be held at Spring Mills, in the Methodist church, Friday, at one p. m. The new district superintendent, S. P. Evans, will be present.

W. B. Mingle, Esq., advertises the J. Shannon Boat property in Centre Hall for sale or rent. The property is well located, and is desirable in all respects.

C. D. Bartholomew is having a private garage built to accommodate his five passenger Ford car that is ready for delivery to him.

Robert Miller, aged twenty-eight years, son of William Miller, of Williamsport, died at the home of his parents, of tuberculosis. Interment will be made at Millheim, Saturday morning, Rev. J. Max Lantz to officiate. He was a barber by trade and was formerly a resident of Millheim. He had just returned from Colorado, where he had gone with a view of regaining his health. A widow survives.

Mrs. Mary Beck, aged seventy-four years, died at the home of J. H. Orendorf, at Carroll, in Sugar Valley.

Mrs. Deessie Lamey, wife of Lee Lamey, aged twenty-five years, died at her home at Greenburr.

Roosevelt Carries State.

Fifty-six Roosevelt delegates to the National Convention were elected on Saturday. He will also get the twelve delegates-at-large, or a total of sixty-eight from Pennsylvania.

LOCALS.

Kill every fly you can early in the season; kill flies all summer long.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Neese, of near Hartleton, drove to Centre Hall and Bellefonte on business, last week.

Farming is on in real earnest. It will be a matter of hustling to get oats and barley crops out in seasonable time.

Dr. C. E. Emerick is now located in Palmyra, Lebanon county, having moved from Grantville, Dauphin county, to that place.

Mrs. Shm Hakenberg will open her ice cream parlor Saturday evening, 20th, at Spring Mills, and solicits the patronage of all.

Mrs. Ezra F. Smith, of Freeport, Illinois, is in the east, having come here to be near her brother, M. L. Rishel, at Farmers Mills, during his illness.

The Kemmerer property on East College avenue, State College, occupied by the Blue Goose restaurant, has been sold to John Ishler. Consideration $6,750.

William Lonberger, son of Oscar Lonberger, of near Pleasant Gap, had his hand badly cut by getting it into a saw on the Robinson saw mill, at Unionville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Booser left Centre Hall on Monday. On their way to Chicago they will stop at Altoona, Pittsburg, Columbus, Ohio, and other points.

Merchant C. W. Swartz captured the limit of trout on the first day of the season. Thirty-three were taken in the morning and the remainder of the forty in the evening.

J. O. Deininger on Wednesday celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary. Mr. Deininger says J. P. Morgan, the millionaire, also celebrated his anniversary on the same day, but is several years younger.

C. D. Bartholomew sold two building lots to the east of the Howard Creamery Corporation's plant, near the railroad station, to Andrew Zettie. It is Mr. Zettie's intention to erect one or two dwelling houses on these lots.

Instead of coming to his home in Centre Hall over Sunday as is his custom, William H. Bartholomew, bookkeeper for the McNitt-Huyett Lumber Company, went to Altoona on Saturday, returning on Tuesday.

George W. Potter, who lives on the Brockerhoff farm south of Old Fort, accompanied by his son, George F. Potter, tenant on the Nathaniel Grove farm, northeast of Lemont, were callers at the Reporter office on Saturday.

Over in Snyder county, at Shadel, plaster in a cellar wall a number of plaster of paris moulds were found by Mrs. Jacob D. Shaffer whose husband recently bought the property from William P. Selgfried, who last winter died in Millinburg. The moulds were for making half-dollars, quarters, dimes, nickels and five dollar gold pieces. O. H. Graybill was executor of the Selgfried estate, and received letters from Selgfried during his last illness that a certain box in the house named should be destroyed, but Graybill was never able to find a box that needed destruction. It is now presumed that Selgfried had reference to the moulds. It appears there are a number of counterfeit coins in the neighborhood of Shadel that correspond to the date in the moulds. The box and moulds are being preserved until a United States Treasury official looks them over.
