THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1912

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS

Presbyterian—Centre Hall, morning; Spring Mills, afternoon.

United Evangelical—Lemont, morning; Linden Hall, afternoon.

Reformed—Union, morning; Spring Mills, afternoon; Centre Hall, evening.

Lutheran—Spring Mills, morning; Centre Hall, afternoon; Tusseyville, evening.

LOCALS

J. H. Lambert has about completed a large porch to the front of his residence. The addition is a decided improvement to his home.

Miss Sadie Griferer, who had been at the Bellefonte hospital for four weeks for treatment, is now at the home of her brother, Calvin Griferer, at Axeman.

The Ringling Brothers and Carl Hagenback and Great Wallace shows are billing dates in Central Pennsylvania. These are rival shows and are advertising dates in the same towns.

Miss Mamie Wolfe, the Selingsgrove girl who sued Columbus P. McDevitt, principal of the Coal township public schools, for $3000 damages for breach of promise, will receive that amount. No defense was offered.

Miss Nellie Smith is happy over the fact that a new piano has been placed in her parlor. It is a Weaver and was sold to her father, J. Frank Smith, Centre county's register, by P. H. Meyer, of Centre Hall.

Dr. S. M. Huff is about to open an office in the rooms formerly occupied by the late Col. E. R. Chambers, in Bellefonte. He is now located at Milesburg, but it is his intention to also move his family to Bellefonte.

Constable Charles Frazier, who just began farming this spring on the Harter farm at Stone Mill, had the misfortune to have a brood mare die for him. He paid $180 for the animal, and was the best horse in the stable.

A district Sunday-school convention will be held in the Union church, Farmers Mills, Friday of this week. There will be two sessions—afternoon and evening. The chief speaker at the evening session will be Miss Martha Robinson, a state field worker.

Dr. J. V. Foster is skillfully handling his Ford torpedo model machine, and is using it daily in his practice. By the use of the car he is capable of making professional calls in outlying districts in much less time than heretofore, and time means much to a suffering patient.

W. H. Jones, who has for several years conducted the Central Hotel, in Philipsburg, has concluded to go out of the hotel business, having on Saturday disposed of his hostelry to W. H. Hindel, of Gearhartville, who will assume charge as soon as the license transfer can be effected.

At last Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women" has been put on the stage. Some of the heirs fought it for years, but John Alcott, the author's favorite nephew, who now controls the estate, has consented finally and the thing is done. The story as told in this month's Companion is interesting.

This is a little fish story, but perhaps not fishy, the Philipsburg Journal tells: W. D. Crosby, Esq., while fishing in Cold Stream on Saturday afternoon, caught a number of nice trout, among which was one measuring eleven inches, which had in its mouth, and pretty well swallowed, a four-inch trout.

Having had business at Williamsport, last week, E. M. Huyett of the McNitt-Huyett Lumber Company, took with him Mrs. Huyett and daughters Leila and Miriam. On their return they paid brief visits to Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Bieber, at West Milton, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ocker, at Lewisburg. They had a delightful trip, and found the former Centre Hall people in good spirits and prospering.

Bills were mailed to all Reporter subscribers who are one year or nearly one year in arrears. Those who received the notices will confer a great favor if they will remit promptly. It is a mighty good thing to look at the label on your paper occasionally. Time flies so rapidly that a year passes by before you are aware of it. Say, Reader, do you know, without referring to the label, to what date your Reporter subscription is paid? Make a guess, and then look at the label.

Dr. A. F. Dunsmore, N. L. Deim, manager of Kelley's Supply Company store; James Berkebile, editor Barnesboro Star; Lewis Tuxburg, jeweler; O. C. Campbell, hardware dealer, James Johnson, postmaster; Charles Greist, all of Barnesboro, and Al. Clark, of Hastings, composed a fishing party who stopped with Pat Garrity, in the Seven Mountains. They arrived in Centre Hall Saturday afternoon, and from here went to be cared for by Mr. Garrity at his resort, on Garrity's Creek. It's two to one that the little fishes simply nibbled.

WILL OPEN ALLISON STREET.

By this Acton C. B. Bartholomew Will Make Available Twenty-eight Building Lots in a most Desirable Section of Centre Hall.

Last week brief mention was made of the fact that C. D. Bartholomew contemplated opening a street leading east from Main street, near Centre Hall railroad station. Mr. Bartholomew now informs the Reporter that he fully intends opening this street, which street on the town plot is named Allison street. This street intersects Main street at the Logan house, that house being located on the north-east corner, and the residence of W. Frank Bradford on the south-east corner and extends eastward to the Durst line, or the borough limits.

There are twenty-eight lots abutting on this street—fourteen on the north and as many on the south side. The street is full width, and the lots are laid out in blocks of four, with a twenty-foot alley between every fourth and fifth lot, also a twenty-foot alley running parallel on the south, and Conley's lane forming the alley on the north side. The lots are sixty feet in width and one hundred and fifty-five feet deep. The plot just slopes enough to the south and west to afford drainage, and in every way well adapted to building purposes. The first lots are located but one-half the distance from Main street that those on Hoffer street are, and this will bring the residences located on this street within easy reach of Main street. Water and light are also convenient, and once dwellings are erected, the borough will be obliged to extend both over this new portion of the town.

There are but very few available building lots on Main street, and this condition will oblige those who contemplate erecting new homes to seek lots elsewhere. It is because of this fact that Mr. Bartholomew has decided to open the plot named, and this will give prospective builders an opportunity to secure lots, and will also make available lots for trucking purposes until they will be needed for homes and other improvements. Purchases may be made at very reasonable prices and terms, and, of course, as is always the case, the first purchasers have the selection from the entire plot.

A Birthday Party.

A birthday surprise party was given on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Jonas Bible by her husband and daughters Misses Bertha and Nellie. Refreshments served were coffee, ice cream, cake, candy, pop-corn and apples. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Yearick and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Witmer Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flory and family, Mrs. John Blausner and mother, Mrs. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Leaster, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. H. K. Harsbberger and daughter Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner and daughter Goldie, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier and daughter Harriet, Mr. and Mrs. Bubb, Mr. and Mrs. Goodhart and son George, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rossman and son Millard, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lee, Mr. and Mrs. James Harsbberger and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer, Mrs. Irvin Musser and son William, Mrs. Harvey Musser, S. J. McClintic, Misses Susie Bogdan, Ruth Royer, Ida Hettinger.

Another One Nailed.

The story that Vance McCormick, of Harrisburg, was in Philadelphia, and tried to induce Col. Bryan to endorse the Reorganizers in Pennsylvania is all a falsehood. The Philadelphia Record and the Harrisburg papers printed it. Mr. McCormick was in Harrisburg all the time that he is quoted as having been in consultation with Mr. Bryan. The truth is that the Guffey element made an effort to have Mr. Bryan use his influence in favor of Judge Gordon and against Mr. Palmer for national committee man. But the colonel would not commit himself.

Marrriage Licenses.

Margaret Rishel, Spring Mills
Harvey C. Decker, Potters Mills
Bessie M. Krise, Potters Mills
Calvin A. Confer, Coburn
Sarah M. Vonada, Coburn
John H. Hosterman, Haines Twp.
Hazel Stonebraker, Haines Twp.
Rufus Cupp, Half Moon Twp.
Susan L. Model, Taylor Twp.
Clyde Confer, Howard
Mildred Woodring, Port Matilda

The Pen.

Mr. Frances has not yet turned up in Bellefonte with the cash for the pen site, but papers are now almost completed that will permit the state to make payment.

The King split-log drag will have a good chance to show what it can do on Hoffer street, that is if the council orders it used. The street is an ideal one to work with a King drag.

STUDY OF MEN AND BOYS.

State Young Men's Christian Association are studying the Educational and Social Conditions Among Men and Boys in Centre County.

By the questionnaire method the state committee of the Young Men's Christian Association is investigating the religious, educational, social and physical conditions among young men and boys in Centre county with a view of later forming a county organization. The committee forwarded one of its blanks to the writer. There are thirty-four direct questions asked, one half of which refer to educational and the other half to social conditions in Centre Hall and community. It is of general interest that the Y. M. C. A. is planning to organize Centre county, and it will also be of general interest to know the line of questions asked by this association, and because of this, the questions are reprinted in these columns:

SOCIAL

Give an estimate of the number of young men in your community between 16 and 30? Between 12 and 16? What are the most popular social centers for boys and men? What lodges or secret orders? What other clubs of a social nature? What special social events connected with the school? To what extent are the homes used for social gatherings? How often are church socials or suppers held? What partcentage of the young men seek their social life in the larger towns or cities? How many licensed saloons in your community? To what extent is card playing prevalent? What influence does it exert? To what extent is dancing prevalent? What influence does it exert? To what extent is profanity prevalent? Impurity? Gambling? Intemperance? How often are shows given? Are they well attended? What class of entertainment? What is the influence of these shows? How many cheap restaurants, cigar and news stands, stores, livery barns or other centers where men and boys loaf? What is your opinion as to the social needs of your community?

EDUCATIONAL

What reading circles, debating clubs or musical societies in your community? Describe briefly? Mention any other societies of an educational nature? Have you a village improvement society? Have you a civic organization? Is there a public library? To what extent are the Traveling or Home libraries of the State used? Have you a public reading room? What magazines and newspapers are the most read? Does your community conduct a lecture course? What other entertainments are provided? By whom? What educational feature has the Grange? How many men 16 and over attend the Farmer's Institutes? How many night classes for adults are held? Is there any need for such classes? How many men 16 and over are taking courses in Correspondence Schools? Does our educational system create in the young men a desire to remain on the farm? What is your opinion as to the educational needs of your community?

Aaronsburg.

Robert Burd is not improving very fast. Chas. Grenoble, of Burnham, visited his grandfather, J. C. Stover. Warren Winkleblech and family spent Sunday with friends at Wolf Store. Mrs. E. E. Ardry, of Bellefonte, spent a few days with her aged father J. C. Stover. Mrs. William Wolfe visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Boob, at Woodward, for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. John Hosterman and two daughters, of Millheim, spent Sunday at the home of John Haines. Magdalena Weaver returned home from Hubersburg on Wednesday where she had gone to care for her aunt Mrs. Charles.

Fairbrook Country Club is the new name of the country club having quarters on Fairbrook creek, near Pennsylvania Furnace. The club formerly was called Tyrone Club, but since the members, now almost one hundred, are from widely scattered towns the local name does no longer apply. John D. Meyer, cashier of the Second National Bank, Altoona, is a member of the club, and also one of its officers.

Congressman B. K. Focht carried his district for renomination by a plurality of almost six thousand, and by a majority of almost forty-five hundred over his two opponents—Hummel and Miller. Focht is a vote-getter. Every county in the state that selected Democratic county chairmen by popular vote, elected reorganizer chairmen, just like they did in Center.

Harris township.

Mr. William Myers spent a day at Centre Hall. Mrs. Daniel Geary, of Coburn, visited at Boalsburg last week. Mr. and Mrs. John Fortney spent Sunday at Pine Grove Mills. Miss Phoebe Miller, of State College, spent Sunday at her home at Shingle-town.

J. B. Heberling and family enjoyed an afternoon drive from State College to Boalsburg. Miss Elizabeth Close enjoyed the last two weeks with her aunt Mrs. Annie Zsigler, at State College. David Kuhn, of Williamsport, is spending some time with his brothers John and Alexander, of this place. Miss Izora Rupp returned to her home at Cedar Creek, after spending the greater part of the winter at Red Hill.

Miss Ruth Rupp has gone to State College where she expects to stay for the summer at the J. B. Heberling home. William Patterson, Mrs. Israel Young, Mrs. S. C. Stover and Miss Annie Lohr are among the sick at Boalsburg.

W. C. Meyer, of State College, spent Monday afternoon with his brother J. V. Meyer who has been ill for some time, but is now improving. Mr. and Mrs. Orin Grove, of Red Hill, who visited at the J. Tresler home at Cedar Creek, attended service in the Reformed church on Sunday.

Mrs. William Close, of Oak Hall, spent Saturday at the home of her son John at Boalsburg. The chief attraction there was the little granddaughter.

Mrs. William Patterson and Miss Beulah Fortney spent several days at Harrisburg and Grafton where they attended the funeral of William A. Fortney.

Dr. Robinski, an eye specialist who has been making regular trips through here during the last twenty years, spent the early part of the week in Boalsburg.

John Musser, of Wilkesbarre, and sister Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, of Centre Hall, spent several days in Boalsburg. They also spent a day with their sister Mrs. John Stuart at State College.

Miss Amanda Mothersbaugh and Miss Spangler, of Allegheny, came to their country home near Lemont last week. Miss Mothersbaugh and nephew Edward Glenn, spent Sunday at the Hillside farm.

We had one of the most welcome April showers on Saturday. The daughters of Mrs. Emma Young had planned a handkerchief shower for her birthday. She was kindly remembered by quite a number of the ladies of Boalsburg.

Preparatory service will be held in the Reformed church on Sunday evening April 23rd at 7:30 o'clock. Communion service on Sunday, May 5th at 10:15. Meeting of the joint consistory of the charge Saturday afternoon May 4th at 2 o'clock.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.

Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific; Regular Price 50c, Murray & Bitner Price 25c. The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Murray & Bitner means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines. Each 50 cent bottle (Murray & Bitner sell it for 25c) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble. If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Murray & Bitner are making this week on Dr. Howard's specific. Murray & Bitner are giving their customers a chance to try Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at just half the regular price, 25c. And every package is sold under their personal guarantee to refund money if it is not satisfactory.

Do Not Repair an Old Wooden Porch In a few years its props and posts will decay again, through exposure to the weather, and you have the job to do over again. Better tear down the wood structure and build it of concrete—posts, steps, foundation and even the floor. Then you will have an everlasting porch of solid appearance and beautiful design, which is also fire-proof. Mix a few sacks of Universal Portland Cement with clean sand to make your concrete. It is absolutely uniform in quality and is easily handled. We will gladly show you how to use it in making concrete.
