LOCALS.

May 2nd. Just a little oats and barley was sown in April.

Sheriff A. B. Lee made a business trip to Potter township on Saturday.

Miss Helen Bartholomew was the guest of Miss Orpha Gramley, at Spring Mills, over Sunday.

John A. Strunk, who early in the spring came east from Kansas, and is now located near Warriors Mark, and is farming, reports that "all's well with him and his."

The Milesburg Electric Company agrees to pay Milesburg a pole tax of twenty cents per pole each year. That's too little, but it is infinitely better than nothing.

A band of gypsies camped on the mountain side, above Centre Hall, one night last week, and in the morning there was a new member in the camp—a child having been born that night.

W. E. Yearick, tenant of the Daniel Daup farm, near Potter Mills, had a valuable brood mare die for him a few days ago. He is obliged to replace the animal in order to properly perform his farm work.

If you will go to the trouble to read over the little yellow slip you got from Mercantile Appraiser Zimmerman you will find that everybody subjected to a mercantile tax is required to have a sign at his place of business.

Many towns throughout the state are naming "clean up" days in May. Centre Hall is always in the pink of condition so far as private property is concerned. There are but few points in the alleys, and but few back lots that would not stand inspection any day in the year.

Dr. G. W. Hosterman is home again after a visit of several weeks with his son, S. V. Hosterman, Esq., in Lancaster. While in that city he and his son called on Messrs. John C. Bailey and Bruce Hagan, who are students at the Lancaster Business College, and took them to several points of interest in the city, and among them was Franklin and Marshall College.

This week Hon. Leonard Rhone has planned to plant over one thousand forest trees on his country homestead, Rhoneymede, west of Centre Hall. The varieties of trees are white pine, chestnut and walnut.

Hon. Harry W. Shoemaker, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Quiggle and Miss Myrtle Quiggle, of McElhattan; Prof. J. M. Black, of Williamsport, and a driver, Edward Harmon, were a party of sight-seers who drove through Nittany and Penns Valleys, Friday and Saturday of last week, stopping at Centre Hall on Friday night.

Elaborate preparations are being made by local committees of the Knights of Malta for the twentieth annual convocation of the grand commandery of Pennsylvania, which will be held at Butler May 14 to 16.

The order has about 28,000 members in the 450 commanderies throughout the state, and about a thousand delegates and visitors will attend. On Tuesday, the big day, when the parade will be held, about 20,000 persons are expected.

Aaronburg.

Walter Orwig left on Tuesday for Altoona at which place he is employed. Mr. and Mrs. William Guisewite spent Sunday with friends at Pine Creek.

Mrs. D. K. Heckman, of Millinburg visited at the home of Sara Kline. William Summers has gone to Butler at which place he expects to get employment.

Walter Orwig and John Bright visited the former's parents living at Hartleton, a few days last week.

Misses Lizzie Everett and Vivian Black, of Coburn spent Sunday at the home of Gilleard Eisenhauer.

Mrs. Thomas Meyer, of Coburn, spent a few days at the home of her son-in-law George Weaver. Miss Marion Stover who has a position at Harrisburg is home for a few weeks vacation; her many friends are always glad to hear.

Miss Lida Hosterman, of Woodward, was a guest at the home of William Wolfe on Sunday. Miss Mabelle Boob accompanied her to her home.

The Holy communion services held in the Lutheran church both morning and evening were largely attended, fifteen new members were added to the church.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.

Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific, Regular Price 50c, Murray & Bitner Price 25c.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Murray & Bitner means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Each 50 cent bottle (Murray & Bitner sell it for 25c) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble.

If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Murray & Bitner are making this week on Dr. Howard's specific.

Murray & Bitner are giving their customers a chance to try Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at just half the regular price, 25c. And every package is sold under their personal guarantee to refund money if it is not satisfactory.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newburg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effective and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

Advise to the Trustees. In handling other people's money the principal must be kept intact. If, as a trustee, those to whom you are responsible insist upon an income which you in your heart know cannot be obtained without taking some slight chance, give up the trust without hesitation, says World's Work. There is no more bitter experience through which an honest trustee or executor can pass than the rendering of an accounting for a lost or depleted trust.

Reminders of Napoleon. "I never knew Missouri was filled with reminders of the Napoleonic wars until I took a trip over the Missouri Pacific's river branch to Boonville," a traveling man remarked. "Thoughts of the great struggle in France commenced to dawn upon me when the brakeman went through the train calling 'Napoleon.' I recalled the career of ambition of the great Corsican general and was allowing my thoughts to wander in that vein when the next station was announced—Waterloo. I began to recall further incidents and thoughts of the victorious general who blasted Napoleon's hopes of a great empire. Imagine my surprise when I found the next station was Wellington. The next stop had nothing to do with the French wars, so I thought the coincidences were over. But I wanted to learn the why of it all, so I asked the conductor. He didn't answer. He was grudging."—Kansas City Journal.

A Chinese Printing Office. The difficulties of making up a font of Chinese types are very great. Kang Hsi's dictionary, the standard and most comprehensive work of its kind, contains 40,800 characters, but it has been found that for all practical purposes a font need contain only about 7,000. With a font of this size the Chinese printer, in the course of setting up a book, will frequently find that he lacks a dozen or so unusual characters, a difficulty which he meets by having these missing symbols hand cut on blank type by skilled engravers.

Press Enterprise in the Early Fifties. A bit of up to date enterprise on the part of the Pienyune in 1853 was the early publication of the president's message. Printers were sent on a steambot to Mobile by the paper to receive the message. As soon as they arrived there they boarded the North-car steamer, which, of course, reached Mobile before New Orleans, and put the message in type on their way home aboard ship, so that on arriving at the office of the Pienyune it was all ready to be printed.—From B. F. Zeller's "Recollections of the Early Fifties," in New Orleans Picayune.

A Philosopher. "My! You wanted fried potatoes, didn't you?" said the careless waitress as the customer in the restaurant finished his meal and rose to leave. "That's all right," answered the patient man. "I've wanted so many things all my life that I didn't get that I'm used to it."—Newark News.
