The House of Lords on Nittany Mountain today (Thursday) is the scene of a large picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Duck, of near Yearick's church, in Brush Valley, are recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever, and in a few days hope to be able to leave the house.

Mrs. Charles Decker, accompanied by her son Ray, and mother, Mrs. Musselman, of East Downingtown, are at the home of Mrs. J. W. Whitman in Centre Hall, and expect to remain for a week or more.

The Bell telephone company broke ground for a conduit on Allen street, in State College. It is the purpose of the company to extend the conduit to other parts of town and thus do away with all overhead wires.

At Deal, the plumber, has purchased the property formerly owned by J. Fred Weibly and later by the Presbyterian congregation, in State College. He will have the building removed to the rear of his lot on Highland alley.

The engine hauling the east bound passenger train on Monday afternoon was put out of commission in the vicinity of Oak Hill Station, where it was necessary to await a freight engine before the run to the east could be made.

The undertaking business of F. J. Tibbitts, at Centre Hall, is being carefully looked after by Frank V. Goodhart, who very successfully conducted the funeral of Mrs. Lingle, on Tuesday. Mr. Tibbitts, it will be recalled, is in the Bellefonte hospital.

Mrs. John H. Bitner and little daughter, of Altoona, came to Centre Hall on Friday, and for a short time will visit Mrs. James B. Strohm, her father Robert M. Smith, at Centre Hill, and other relatives and friends. Mr. Bitner is too much engrossed with business to take a vacation this summer.

There will be a union meeting of Christian Endeavor societies in the United Evangelical church, Centre Hall, Sunday evening, 6-8:30 o'clock. All endeavorers and others are invited. A feature of the meeting will be a report of the State convention of the Christian Endeavor Union at Wilkes-Barre, which gathering was attended by Rev. R. R. Jones.

A little more than a week ago, John, aged nine or ten year, son of William J. Haines, of Aaronsburg, became paralyzed to such an extent that he cannot move his lower limbs, and has practically no use of his hands. The lad has not improved to any perceptible extent since the disease first attacked him, although everything possible has been done for him.

Merle Taylor, son of Jacob Taylor, of Milroy, was accidentally shot through the right lung by Station Rice, in the Fayette hotel in McAllisterville, Juniata county. He was brought to the Lewisburg hospital for treatment. The young man was one of a party employed by the State Chestnut Blight Commission, who have their headquarters at the hotel named.

On the third day of July, Robert Glasgow, of near Potters Mills lost a pocketbook between Benzer's store and his home. The purse contained about nineteen dollars and a few trinkets highly valued by him. If the finder thinks he must retain the money for his labor, Mr. Glasgow would appreciate the returning of the trinkets, which are of no use or value to any one else but him.

The John Clark tenement house, located near the greenhouse on Buffalo run, was burned to the ground, to gether with its contents, Wednesday morning about two o'clock, says the State College Times. The inmates barely escaped with their lives. How the fire occurred is unknown, as there had been no fire in the cook stove since four o'clock the previous afternoon, nor had the family any light burning after retiring.

Mrs. Edward Lockner and three children, of Jeannette, are summering in the Seven Mountains. Mr. Lockner, who is a contractor, will be along in a few days to join the family. He will be remembered as the hunter who killed the albino deer in the Seven Mountains. The Lockners purchased the Summer property along the turnpike above Potters Mills, and have made it into a camping place. Instead of going to the fashionable resorts, they will live in the midst of the mountains, where real rest and recreation worth the while may be had.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers Correspondent Column—Interesting Communications.

Dear Editor Reporter:

We have had a dry summer here. The fruit and corn have suffered greatly, but during the past week we have had three or four nice rains, which may help us some with the corn and garden truck. We have a peach and quince orchard of 500 or 600 trees, but we will have no fruit this year. We have reduced the number of cows in the dairy owing to scarcity of pasture and high-priced feed. The farmers are all beginning to buy cows again since we have had these few showers. There were two cow sales near here on the 19th and 20th; they sold good— from $50 to $95 per head, but the $95 kind are very scarce.

When you get down this way, stop and see us, as we are always glad to meet our old acquaintances. I will close with regards to all.

D. C. KELLER.

Winfield, halfway between Sunbury and Lewisburg, was particularly hard stricken during a storm. On seventeen farms along Turtle creek and in what is known as the Dry Valley, wheat cut and stacked in the fields was swept down the creek and into the Susquehanna river. Tons of it went floating down the Susquehanna, a total loss. There were twenty-five or more chicken coops, hog-pens, and smaller out-buildings swept away and fields were badly washed, and roads gullied.

The Big Event Now On

And so the Clean Sweep Sale is here again. We sort of pride ourselves on the fact that we don't have to do much talking about them, their reputations precede them. This time two special features are worthy of special mention. First the fact that the sale is a week ahead of time this year, and secondly, assortments are the largest in the store's history. All in all, you're facing your big opportunity, the real sale of the town.
