McClellan and Fleisher Reunion.
The McClellan and Fleisher families will hold a reunion in the Tussey Sink grove, on the McClellan farm, Thursday of next week. Over two hundred invitations have been sent to relatives and friends. A large turnout and an enjoyable day is expected.

P. R. Telephone Directors Meeting.
Thursday, 15th inst., the directors of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company will meet in quarterly session in the Grand Jury room, Court House, at ten a. m. The principal business of the meeting is to arrange for the distribution to the various companies of the earnings of the company as a collecting agency.

LOCALS
James Sweetwood, the lad who was injured in falling off a telephone pole, is getting along nicely.
Dr. J. V. Foster, last week, took Elizabeth, daughter of Roland Fye, of Decker Valley, to the Bellefonte hospital. She is suffering from kidney trouble.

Misses Elizabeth Bitner and Margareta Rockey, of Tusseyville, were the guests of Miss Laura Mitterling on Monday night at the Mitterling home in Centre Hall.

The Millheim Water company is making extensive repairs to the reservoir and expect to lay a larger main from the reservoir to the pike. The work is in charge of John F. Musser.

P. B. Jordan, of Colyer, one of Potter township's school directors, and also treasurer of the Colyer Rural Telephone Company, was in town on Friday, and while here paid his respects to this office.

Hon. and Mrs. J. W. Kepler, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Krebs, Miss Maude Decker, C. A. Kepler, of Pine Grove Mills, and Charles C. Goss, of Harrisburg, composed an auto party who on Sunday drove to Penns Cave, stopping at Centre Hall for supper.

A county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the Evangelical church, Centre Hall, the beginning of September. Besides the county president, Mrs. A. M. Cless, of Philipsburg, Mrs. Patosils, of Philadelphia, and other speakers, will be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McClellan, of Osbanter, were at Mrs. McClellan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Geise Wagner, near Centre Hall for a few days, and beginning of this week they were accompanied to their home by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, of Washington. D. C. The McClellans traveled in a car.

Dr. H. C. Campbell, one of the owners of Penns Cave, Mr. and Mrs. William Menz; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Terkesbury, all of Philadelphia, are at Penns Cave. Dr. Campbell is connected with the veterinary department of the University of Pennsylvania, and is a brother of Robert P. Campbell, the host at Penns Cave.

James Potter, of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Company, is improving, and daily takes walks from his Bellefonte home. F. M. Crawford, also a Potter-Hoy hardware man, who was injured while cranking an auto, is also improving but is not yet able to use his arm. He is now off on a trip to the lakes for two weeks, but he's not a Bull Moose.

Meessrs. Hugh A. James F. and Robert R. Brown, sons of Mrs. Emma Brown, of Urbana, Illinois, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Potter, in Centre Hall, from Friday until Monday. Their father was the late Hugh Brown, formerly of Millin county, who will be recalled by many of the Reporter readers. The former Mr. Brown is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and holds a position with the General Electric Company, at Schenectady, New York. He is a close observer of public affairs and a reader, and although he did not express his political preference, he is not a Bull Moose. The younger brothers are students in the university named in this article.

MOTHER-OF-PEARL WORK.

Method by Which the Designs Are Built Up Bit by Bit.

Wonderful is the work of the designer in mother-of-pearl. With tiny segments of this iridescent material he builds up a beautiful design bit by bit, section by section.

First, from the cabinetmaker he receives the woodwork upon which his design will be formed. It may be the top of a carved chest, a portion of a stool or table, or some dainty neck-piece to delight a lady's heart.

Then upon the wood he roughly draws the design and gathers together the crude pieces with which to form the mosaic in the wood. Selecting a piece of mother-of-pearl, he fits it in a vise, and then with a tiny file he shapes it to occupy the required space. Deftly he sets the section in the wood, fixing it with warm paste to fill the crevices.

Another piece is then selected, fashioned and secured, and so day after day till the piece is complete. The design is then rubbed with pumice stone to give enhanced color, varnish is applied, and the finishing touches are given.

Tonquin, a division of French Indochina, furnishes the finest native layers of mother-of-pearl. — Pearson's Weekly.

A MUSICAL RIOT.

One of the Attractions at an Old Time Virginia Celebration.

Here is a program observed in the celebration of St. Andrew's day in an old Virginia town in 1737:

That a fiddle be played for by twenty fiddlers, every person to bring his own fiddle. After the prize is won they are all to play together and each one a different tune and then be treated by the company.

That twelve boys of twelve years of age do run for 112 yards for a hat at the cost of 12 shillings.

That a flag be flying on said day thirty feet high.

That after dinner the royal health, his honor the governor's, is to be drunk.

That a pair of silver buckles be wrestled for by a number of brisk young men.

That a pair of handsome shoes be danced for.

That a pair of handsome silk stockings of one pistole value be given to the handsomest young maid that appears in the field.

It is probable, says the Ohio State Journal, our tastes are too much changed to enjoy such a list of attractions, but one may imagine what fun they must have caused.

Ocean Cannibals.
Such fierce voracious fishes as exist in the depths of the ocean are unknown at the surface. There is a "black swallower" which devours other tiny creatures ten times as big as itself, literally climbing over its victim, first with one jaw and then with the other. Another species is nearly all mouth, and having no power of locomotion, it lies buried in the soft ooze at the bottom, its head alone protruding, ready to engulf any prey that may wander into its cavernous jaws. There is a ferocious kind of shark resembling a huge eel. All of these monsters are black as ink. Some of them are perfectly blind, while others have enormous, goggling eyes. No ray of sunlight ever pierces the dark, unfathomable caves in which they dwell. Each species is gobbled by the species next bigger, for there is no vegetable life to feed on.—Spare Moments.

As Others See It.
Every two or three weeks I approach my house from the unusual side and make a note of the effect of porch, windows and the curtains. Then I try to go into the house as a stranger. Pictures which have become so familiar that they were a part of the wall I see the need of changing, and so I see things all through the house. I think more than anything else I find the rooms overcrowded and fussy and something can be banished. Of course I can't always do these things at the time, but I make a note of them. This has worked so well with my house that I am trying it for myself. When dressed for the street or house I step to the glass and say, "Let me present you to Mrs. —" and try to look at myself as a stranger, and I see many things to improve. It is a good thing to "see ourselves as others see us."—Harper's Bazar.

The Lobster's Color.
The shell of the lobster is imbued with a black or bluish pigment secreted by the true skin, which also give out the calcareous matter after each molt, so that lime and pigment are blended together. This pigment becomes red, pale and intense in water at a temperature of 212 degrees Fahrenheit, and the same effect is produced by the action of alcohol, ether and various acids.

A Sad Discovery.
"How does Brown like the high position he was recently promoted to?"
"Not very well."
"But I thought it was paying him $10,000 a year?"
"So it is. But he's discovered that his employers expect him to earn it!"—Detroit Free Press.

With Variations.
Smithers—He who courts and runs away may come to court another day Jenkins—But he who courts and does not wed may find himself in court instead.

Time mispent is not lived, but lost—Fuller.
