

REV. DORNBLASER'S PRAYER.

Unusual scenes attended invocation at Bull Moose Convention.

Rev. Thomas F. Dornblaser, who was reared in Porter township, Clinton county, and a brother of the late Puella Dornblaser, but now pastor of a Lutheran church in Chicago, delivered the opening invocation to "Teddy's" new National Progressive party at Chicago.

The Rev. T. J. Dornblaser, of Chicago, then contributed an invocation, or rather read it, that provoked a most unusual demonstration. Instead of being an invocation, the minister's effort was more of a stump speech and a long review of a history of our country.

"Give us another Joshua, who can command the political sun and moon to stand still. Give us a Joshua who can lead us into the ultimate triumph of the right."
