LOCALS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. B. ob, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are contemplating a trip to Centre Hall the latter part of this month.
Mrs. Kate Conley and Miss Rebecca Derstine are contemplating returning to Centre Hall from Freeport, Illinois, in the near future.
Almost two hundred persons have purchased local lecture course tickets, which indicate that the course this year will be better patronized than heretofore.
Tuesday night of last week lightning struck a barn in Beech Creek township, Clinton county, belonging to J. A. Williams. The loss is $800, with $400 insurance. No live stock was burned.
From the Phillipsburg Journal: Miss Margaretta Goheen, of Boalsburg, but who is now principal of a township High School near Tyrone, is a pleasant guest of Mrs. L. Ray Morgan. Miss Goheen has very many warm friends here, having some years ago taught school in our city.
A game warden operating through upper Bald Eagle valley claims that wild turkeys are being shot and that arrests will be made in a few days. One of a flock of fifty turkeys seen in the vicinity of Vall only twenty are left. The warden is under the impression that foreigners are doing the illegal killing.
This prediction made by the Phillipsburg Journal last week, is being fulfilled: Phillipsburg will likely have a larger representation at the Grange Encampment and Fair at Centre Hall next week than ever before. This will be due to the fact that the attractions are greater, and that many can make the trip in automobiles.
In Snow Shoe the borough council sent out notices that at a particular time an ordinance would come before the body for consideration, and invited the citizens to file objections if they had any. In Centre Hall the council made every effort to pass an ordinance without giving to the public its contents, and there is ground to believe that an attempt will again be made to pass it when an opportune time comes.
Many automobiles have been on the Park each day since the opening of the Grange Encampment and Fair. On Sunday there were a number of cars from adjoining counties, and some from more distant points. The management, next year, may consider the advisability of setting aside a particular section for auto cars. This would be convenient both for the automobile enthusiasts and those who travel with horse and carriage.
A Boulevard arc light, fifteen hundred candle power, such as is used for street lighting, was erected on one of the main avenues on Grange Park, by Morris Breen, a member of the firm of McClellan & Breen, Camden, New York. The light is the product of the King Light Company, Peoria, Illinois, and it is claimed to be one of the best in the market. Gasoline is the fuel burned. Mr. Breen will be pleased to give any further particulars you may wish to know. He is a son of Perry W. Breen, and in company with Mrs. Breen is staying at the old home.
John D. Lucas, the contractor and builder, is expediting his work by making use of a power saw. He recently purchased a gasoline engine and a miniature saw mill. Joists, studs, rafters, sheathing boards, flooring, etc., are cut to lengths on the mill, which is conveniently located nearby the building under construction. This innovation in building, it is claimed, will greatly lessen the expense of erecting the shell of buildings, and also guarantee better "fits" than where heavy timber is worked by hand. As the building nears completion, finer saws will be supplied, so that finishing lumber may be worked to the best possible advantage.

S. S. JUBILEE CONVENTION

Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association to Celebrate Fifty Years of Organization—Great Musical Festival.

The greatest religious federation in the state of Pennsylvania is the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, for it represents practically all of the Protestant Evangelical denominations. This great organization dates its birth back to the month of May, 1862, when over nine hundred delegates coming from all parts of the state met in the First Independent Church, Broad street, Philadelphia and at the close of a three days' convention elected a permanent organization and elected ex-Governor Hon. James Pollock as its first president.

Since that time covering a period of fifty years, this organization has been an active agency in promoting Sunday school work in all parts of the State.

The association will celebrate its fifty years of organized effort with a great Jubilee Convention in Philadelphia, the city of its birth, October 8, 9, 10 and 11 next.

Pennsylvania stands pre-eminently to the forefront as a Sunday school state. It has a larger number of Sunday schools than any other State in the Union, the total being 11,083. The total present membership of these schools is 1,917,929. In other words, one out of every four of the state population is a member of some Sunday school. The State Association is making a great effort to bring the total enrollment up to 2,000,000. The increase last year was 82,163.

The Jubilee Convention to be held next October will be a great event, for which many special features are now being planned. Sunday-school folk from all parts of the State will attend in great numbers. Among the special features already announced will be a Jubilee Musical Festival in the New Convention Hall. The hall has a seating capacity of 20,000. A chorus of 5,000 singers is now in training for the event.

A great Men's Organized Adult Bible Class demonstration, with 25,000 men in a great parade on Broad street is another attraction advertised.

The Board of Directors of the State Association propose to honor all persons in the State that can be found showing a record of fifty years of service in the Sunday-schools as an officer or teacher. Medals are now being prepared to be awarded to these veterans at the Jubilee Convention.

Chestnut Tree Blight

The Chestnut Tree Blight Commission of Pennsylvania has established in the Huber building, on Grange Park, a very good exhibition of specimens of the dread Chestnut Bark disease. This disease is peculiar to Chestnut trees, very destructive and spreads rapidly, destroying the chestnut trees within a short time after they are attacked. All known means are being used to prevent the spread of this disease, and work in this state will be carried to the possible complete eradication.

All persons in the state, whether timber owners or not, should be interested in this work and help the Commission in its work in every way possible, as our chestnut timber is one of our most valuable timbers, and if the terrible menace of the blight is not checked, Pennsylvania will soon be robbed of the revenue now derived from its chestnut timber and have no prospects of a future revenue from this source.

The exhibit now at the fair ground is in charge of Mr. Walburne and Mr. Burchfield, both experts on the disease, and they will gladly explain the disease and the methods now being used for its eradication to all persons who are interested.

The Great Union County Fair.

The 59th annual fair to be held at Brook Park, Lewisburg, September 24, 25, 26, and 27, will be the largest ever held by that association. The state appropriation warrants the society to increase their premiums from fifty to seventy five per cent.

The association offers a special premium to the horse that lowers the present track record of 2:08. The attractions free to the public to be given in front of the grand stand are unusual and thrilling, and alone are well worth the price of admission. Good bands will supply a flood of music every day, and there will be many other attractions to entertain and thrill the thousands of visitors.

There will be the usual shifting of farmers in Penna Valley next spring, a number of the causes being on account of the sales of farms. Bigler Shaffer, who for fifteen years has been a tenant on the Evey farm, east of Centre Hall, is one of the farmers who must move for this reason, the farm having been sold to Mrs. W. E. Crust, who has designated one of her sons to succeed him. Mr. Shaffer has been raising good crops, and has an abundance of help to conduct much larger farm operations.

James A. Gleason, of DuBois, in company with R. M. Foster, of State College, were callers at this office on Tuesday morning. The former is the Democratic candidate for congress in this district, and will have quarters on Grange Park during the Encampment and Fair where he will be pleased to meet Democrats, Republicans and Bull Moozers. Mr. Gleason is no pigmy in stature, and he is just as broad a man in his beliefs on public questions. He is a real man, and you will believe it after you see him and shake his hand.
