Reading .-- Among the Reading's 14,000 school children none seem happier than those who attend the boys' and girls' high schools for the first time. For some years past these voungsters have been making wonderful records in grammar grades, which admitted them to high schools at tender ages, and never before have activity and buoyancy." so many of them won such promotions between the ages of 12 and 13 years as this year for there are thirty such. This happy condition was not reached simply because the scholars were naturally bright or because learning was a gift among the fortunate ones, but is due largely to the efficiency which the lower grade schools have developed in this city during the last half-dozen years as well as by the energetic co-operation of the pupils. One of the hardest workers among those now enrolled in the freshman class of the girls' high school is Miss Eleanor I., daughter of a former school controller, W. Irwin Renninger. She is not quite 13 years old and yet she ranked sixth in her class of forty scholars with an average of 86.3 for the term, though she was the youngest pupil in the room. She has enrolled herself for the Latin-scientific course and promises to be one of the best workers among the newcomers. Among the boys of tender years now marching to the boys' high school every morning are Henry Haller, Fred M. Christman, Elliott H. Hollenback, Harry S. Zimmerman and Robert Morgan Homan. Young Haller has old, finished two grades the first year "I have worked out the problem," and since that time through all the

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade says:

"Continuous advance in trade activity is the tenor of the reports from the principal manufacturing and distributing centers this week. The advance is both in actual volume of transactions and in that confidence which is the basis of healthy business. But with this advance there are still certain developments indicative of passing conditions of depression, coupled with other developments indicative of present optimism. The large number of August failures, with their heavy aggregate of liabilities, are a legacy of the now disappearing disturbances and they contrast sharply with the big August bank clearings, which are a development of present

Ten-Year-Old Julia Gets Into Bad Graces of Mother by Giving Tramp a Half-Dollar.

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

The foregoing quotation is from chapter xiii, verse 2, Book of Hebrews, and it is introduced solely because it constitutes a vital part of this story. Julia is ten years old and she goes to Sunday school. It appears that on a recent occasion the Sunday school teacher had considerable to say about this matter of "entertaining angels unawares." Anyway, it made a deep impression with Julia, A few days after the lesson Julia's mother left her in charge of the house for a few hours. When the mother returned she went to a particular cup in the cupboard to extract therefrom one-half dollar. In this cup is kept the family pin money, and Julia's mother knew that she had put 50 cents there before she had gone out. But the half dollar was gone. There was an expression of anxiety on Julia's face and mother scented mis-

"Did you take that money?" asked the mother, somewhat severely. Julia broke into tears. "I gave it to a man that came to the back door." sobbed the little girl.

"Gave it to a man!" exclaimed the mother. "What for?" "I thought he might be God," tearfully replied Julia.-Kansas City Star.

CRUST COVERED BABY'S HEAD

532 Brunswick St., Baltimore, Md.-'My baby's face broke out in pimples, which after bathing would weep and form scabs until his head and face were completely covered with a crust and his hair all fell out. It was cross and would not sleep. Each day it spread until his entire face and head were covered with weeping sores. I tried several prescriptions, but did not find any relief. Then I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"After using them two or three times the sores dried up and after a half dozen applications all disfigurement disappeared. In less than three weeks the sores and scales were completely gone, and baby's skin as smooth and clear as when he was first born. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured him." (Signed) Mrs. Lottie V. Consequently the Heralds' college is busy after the issue of a list of honors, and the total expenses of a baron are not far short of £400,
