

LOCALS.

Miss Mary M. Farner has opened a millinery store, near Colyer, and has on hand fall and winter hats and trimmings. All calls will be appreciated.

Mrs. I. Y. Moyer and son Frank O. Moyer, of Cleveland, Ohio, came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and are guests of Mrs. Mary Reardon, Mrs. Moyer being her daughter.

The foundation for the dwelling house to be erected by Samuel Shoop has been staked off. It is on a site where, forty years ago, the late Rev. J. K. Miller made excavations for a grist mill.

Mrs. W. W. Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Royer, of Juniata; Mrs. W. W. Bible, of Bellefonte, Mrs. Anna Harter and daughter Anna, of Spring Mills, were a party of callers at the Reporter's headquarters on Grange Park.

The average automobile driver is a poor sign reader, for the "run slow" signs at the borough limits were unheeded. Some of the machines were run like forty, and others like sixty, while the borough dad's regulation calls for a fifteen-mile-an-hour-gait, and this in itself is a violation of the state law for speed.

It is on the farms where lima is being used that you see the best stands of young clover. This has been a good season for young clover, but if the farmer will go to the trouble to make a bit of investigation and comparison, he will find limed soils having a much more uniform and heavy growth of young clover plants than the unlimed fields.

One of Shook's Shetland ponies threw Fred Lucas, son of John D. Lucas, from his back, and splintered one of the bones in his right arm. The lad, who is quite small, was riding the pony on Grange Park, when one of his companions hit the little animal, causing him to make a dash for which his rider was unprepared, the result being as noted above. Dr. J. R. G. Allison reduced the fracture.

Misses Isabella Rowe and Cora Luse have returned to the Central State Normal School, Lock Haven; Miss Mary Dellinda Potter is back to Bucknell University to enter the senior class, and Miss Sara Neff entered the Freshman class at Pennsylvania State College. Messrs. Ralph Bitner and Gross Allison also returned to State, and Messrs. Earl Lambert and William Bradford are preparing for college work in the Bellefonte Academy.

Aaronsburg.

Mrs. Foster Bower, an aged lady, enjoyed a day at the grangers picnic.

Clarence Eisenhauer, who is employed at Altoona, was home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ebon Bower were guests of E. A. Bower.

Miss Gutillus and Miss Barber, of Millburg, spent a few days at the Foster home.

Albert Johnson, of Altoona, spent a few days with his family in Aaronsburg.

John Haines and family attended the funeral of Frank Hosterman at Penn Hall.

Mrs. Zwigle Haffley and children have gone to Altoona at which place Mr. Haffley is employed.

Mrs. John Goodman and baby, of Lewistown, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Acker.

Thos. Weaver moved from East Main street into the home formerly occupied by J. D. Bowersox.

Mrs. John Grenoble, of Yeagertown, came to help care for her father, J. C. Stover, at the home of George Weaver.

Grover Beaver, of Youngstown, Ohio, is spending his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Beaver.

Mr. Aurand and family, of Milroy, and Mrs. Clarke Herman, of State College visited at the home of A. S. Stover, Esq.

Miss Edna Ream, of Spring Mills, is at the home of Warren Winkleblech, from which place she expects to go to school.

Misses Jennie Gramley, Esther Knarr, Alice Zimmerman, Edna Whitman, of Millheim, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Effie Weaver.

Centre Mills.

Arthur Cumings lost a valuable horse last week.

A little son of J. H. Stover, at Spring Bank, is seriously ill.

Howard Weaver expects to move on the Vonada farm near Madisonburg.

Roy Held, who had been suffering from ivy poison is again able to work.

Miss Wingard, of Colyer, is spending some time at the home of Arthur Cumings.

Miss Sadie Miller has gone to Millheim to become an operator in the Bell exchange.

Mrs. Joseph Moyer and daughter, of Raroburg, visited their former home last Saturday.

Jesse Day and Fred Meese left on Monday for Lock Haven where they will be employed in a brick yard.

ARCTIC INDIAN LIFE.

A Heroic Mother and Her Reward When Her Son Was Grown.

In "The Arctic Prairies," by Ernest Thompson Seton, a gruesome picture of Indian life is given in the following incident:

"One winter, forty or fifty years ago, a band of Algonquin Indians at Wayabimika all starved to death except one squaw and her baby. She fled from the camp, carrying the child, thinking to find friends and help at Nipigon House. She got as far as a small lake near Deer lake and there discovered a cache, probably in a tree. This contained one small bone fishhook. She rigged up a line, but had no bait.

"The wailing of the baby spurred her to action. No bait, but she had a knife. A strip of flesh was quickly cut from her own leg, a hole made through the ice, and a fine jackfish was the food that was sent to this devoted mother. She divided it with the child, saving only enough for bait. She stayed there living on fish until spring, then safely rejoined her people.

"The boy grew up to be a strong man, but was cruel to his mother, leaving her finally to die of starvation. Anderson knew the woman. She showed him the scar where she cut the bait."

ODD OLD CHOCTAW LAWS.

One-Made the Selling of Their Land a Capital Crime.

In an old set of laws of the Choctaw Nation there is a clause which relates to the killing of witches. For witchcraft the penalty was death, and for alleging oneself to be a witch or for saying that any other person was one was punishable by sixty lashes on the bare back.

Another declared that no doctor could take money or any of the belongings of a patient he treated if the patient died. If the patient were raised up from a sickbed the doctor could accept what was offered to him, and if nothing was offered then he could take in goods what was his just compensation.

In 1834 the Choctaw council passed an act which made a person who bargained to sell any of the Choctaw land a traitor and punishable by death. Any white man who encouraged such action was deported. An Indian who sold or disposed of land either to individuals or to the United States in toto should be considered a traitor and shot on conviction. This was just preceding the beginning of the work of the Dawes commission.

Instinctive Mimicry.

Why if one man on the street takes out his watch do others do the same? Among the very early instincts recognized in the human mind are mimicry and curiosity. Mimicry develops into habit, as when we see many persons walking faster than we do we gradually fall into their gait and in time this faster gait becomes habitual with us. Every instinct emanates from one or the other of the fundamental instincts, self preservation and race preservation. Every action that benefits the human being can be traced back to the instinct of self preservation, and among these actions are the acquisition of knowledge, even the knowledge of the time of day.

Instinctive mimicry creates an impulse which in the case of the man looking at his watch upon seeing another do the same, is supported by another instinct, curiosity, and by the human faculty, reason. We therefore follow the impulse and look at our watch.—New York American.

Moroccan Toilet Accessories.

The native ladies of Morocco are very particular about the preservation of their complexions. They wash their faces in rosewater in which sprit kernels baked and powdered are introduced as an aid to preserve the natural tint of the complexion. Some ladies employ a wash which contains red radish scrapings powdered. They have also a peculiar method of removing superfluous hairs. A paste is made of lemon juice and sugar. This is applied and allowed to dry and then removed, taking, it is said, the hair with it. A hair preparation seems no less strange to Europeans. It is composed of aloe leaves, henna and red grass. This is applied to the head, and when dry it is washed off with soap.

As to Clocks.

"What an elegant timepiece that is," said the old time friend.
"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox: "that's about as elegant a clock as money will buy."
"You were once content with a much simpler affair."
"Of course. Nobody wants to waste more than a dollar on a clock that wakes him up and tells him when to go to work. But when it wakes him up and reminds him that he doesn't have to go to work he feels more friendly and liberal."—Washington Star.

A Woman's Reason.

"Why," asks the inquisitive person, "do you enjoy having some one tell you that you are pretty when you know you are not? Does it make you believe that you are?"

"No," she answers readily. "But it makes me believe that he believes I am."—Judge's Library.

Escaped.

Gillet—So you've just come from Henpecked's funeral. How did the old boy look? Natural?
Perry—No; relieved.—New York Times.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Indiana, writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by all dealers.

Stimulate Children?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a strong and safe tonic for the young. Not a drop of alcohol in it.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick-headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them. Made by the J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Farmers, Attention

This is the time to make those much needed repairs about the house and barn. Arrange to make them of

Concrete

Cheaper and more Lasting than Wood

I have just received another car of Portland Cement, thus assuring you a fresh article, which is so much appreciated by users of cement, as that stored in warehouse since early Spring is often partly set in the bags when purchased.

I have also two sizes of Crushed Lime Stone, and sharp river sand, especially adapted for cement work. Plans and specifications for concrete work on the farm, may be had free for the asking.

Might be well to look after your chimneys before cold weather sets in. A few brick and a bag of cement may save your home from destruction. I have two grades of brick suitable for the work.

Also makers of Waverly Special Auto Oil. FREE—200 Page Book—tells all about oil.

Attention, Farmers

Seeding time is on, and the question of fertilizing will, no doubt, be carefully debated by you. I want to call your attention to the fact that I have in stock ROYSTER FERTILIZERS. If you have failed to place your order in time for fertilizer, or find that you have insufficient for your requirements for Fall seeding, I invite you to give the Royster a trial. I have the goods here and you can drive in at your convenience and get them—the only right way to handle fertilizer. You need not inconvenience yourself by hustling out at a time when you are busy with some other work to get your fertilizer out of a car. When you need the fertilizer, come in, or if you are in town with a team, take some along and save an extra trip.

You will not go wrong on Royster goods; they are founded on Merit and based on Quality. Royster Fertilizers are compounded, not merely mixed. Don't delay; come early.

Oh yes, you no doubt have been thinking of doing some concrete work this Fall yet. In case you do, you will need good cement, for you cannot make good concrete work with poor cement. For all round concrete work the ALPHA PORTLAND CEMENT stands second to none. It will make a good substantial job and color out right. I have sold lots of it and not one sack went wrong. Try it.
