The Greatest Woman. Who was or is the greatest woman in all history? Two hundred teachers answered the question and with enthusiasm and unanimity the judges awarded the prize to the one who made this reply: "The wife of the farmer of moderate means who does her own cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, brings up a family of boys and girls to be useful members of society, and finds time for intellectual improvement."

Marie Divided the Candy. When the uncle of a couple of Brooklyn youngsters last called at the household whereof they form a part he brought with him some pieces of candy, which were given to the little girl to divide with her brother. Later the uncle summoned this child to the living room and asked: "Marie, when you divided those five pieces of candy with your brother, did you give him two and a half pieces?" "No, sir," said Marie. "I saw they weren't going to come out even, so I ate one before I began to divide."—Lippincott's Magazine.

He Knew. "Where there's a will there's a way," avers Taylor Holmes, appearing in The Million. "The way, however, varies, as in the case of a certain pickpocket, who was convicted and promptly fined. "The lawyer of the pickpocket took the fine imposed upon his client very much to heart. "Twenty-five dollars!" he expostulated. "Your honor, where is this poor, unfortunate man to get $25?" "His honor did not know, or if he did he refrained from saying so, but the prisoner was less discreet. "Just let me out of here for ten or fifteen minutes," he said, "and I'll show you!"—Young's Magazine.

HEAVY PAYMENT BY TREASURY

Wright's Statement Shows a Tremendous Outlay by State LARGEST IN MANY YEARS

Appropriations for Highway Improvement, Schools, Hospitals and Charity Aggregate Nearly Five Million Dollars.

(Special Harrisburg Correspondence.) Harrisburg.—Payments by the state treasury during the month of September, according to the monthly report of State Treasurer C. F. Wright, reached the huge total of $4,955,738.66, the largest expenditures made by the treasury in any month in years, being due to the large appropriation falling due for highway improvement, schools, hospitals, charities and other objects. During the month the receipts of the department aggregated $2,736,244.17, or $2,219,394.49 less than the disbursements. Thus far the treasurer has paid 749 school districts the sum of $1,640,649.86, against 694 districts paid $1,715,622.98 up to this time last year. The balance in the treasury on September 30 amounted to $7,279,655.37, being reduced in one month over $2,000,000 by the heavy payments. The balance on the same day in 1911 was $10,508,693.46. For the fiscal year up to and including September 30, the payments by the treasurer have amounted to $25,299,244.14, against $20,315,696.76 for the same period in 1911, an increase of $5,083,548.38. The receipts for the fiscal year up to date have been $19,755,528.90.

Boys Make Fun. A bunch of Technical High School boys caused all kinds of fun on Walnut street and incidentally made one of the turnkeys at the county prison wonder what was coming off. The boys had come from the island and were wearing their football garb when they fell into line and began to parade. When they reached the jail pavement they began a lockstep and the leader at once marched up the steps of the prison, halting long enough to meet the surprised eyes of the turnkey and then wheel about. Each of the boys marched into the vestibule, made a grimace at the man on the door and marched out again, the lockstep never being broken. The fun made every one in sight laugh except the man at the door.

Cattle Men Ask Protection. The State Cattle Men's Association is raising a fund to draft a bill to be presented in the coming legislature for the protection of the farmers, dairymen, drovers and slaughterers of cattle. The association has just been formed by the members in Dauphin, Lancaster and Cumberland counties, who declare that in many cases cattle are tubercula tested, condemned and killed, and when the carcasses are examined it is found that the animals are healthy. The owners are paid from two or three cents a pound, and if the carcass were diseased, and often it is, said the state does not pay this sum for many months because of "insufficient funds."

Bear and Woodcock. The bear season opened. They are quite plentiful and hunters can kill as many as they please. The use of steel traps is forbidden and the season will close January 1. The woodcock season is also open, and many hunters from Harrisburg and vicinity went out. There is a limit to woodcock. Only ten can be killed by one hunter in a day and not more than fifty in a season. The season will end December 1. The opening of the bear and woodcock season make it necessary for the game wardens to get busy and locate in close proximity to the popular hunting grounds, as sometimes hunters see other game and bag it, providing they are sure some one is not watching them.

Lantern Slides for Schools. The lantern slides, furnished to schools, women's clubs and other organizations that request them for educational exhibits have been gone over by Curator Boyd P. Rothrock, of the State Museum, and many new subjects have been added to the collection. The slides will be sent upon request.

Oleomargarine in Demand. An interesting commentary on the high cost of butter was afforded at the Dairy and Food Commissioner's office when eighty-one licenses for the sale of oleomargarine were issued. This is the largest ever issued on the first of any month except January 1, when all licenses must be renewed. The state gets a good revenue from the licenses.

State Charters Issued. Charters were issued to the East Indiana Avenue Building and Loan Association, Philadelphia, capital $1,000,000; St. Lawrence Rural Telephone Company, St. Lawrence, capital $5,000; the Consumers' Milling Company, Forest City, capital $50,000; Grantham Preserving and Pickling Company, Grantham, capital $50,000. The incorporators of the latter company are S. R. Smith and A. B. Muser, of Grantham, and Aaron W. Oberholser, Amos J. Rosenberg and M. H. Oberholser, Chambersburg.

Willing to Wait. A Baltimore clubman tells of two convicts who met for a moment alone in a corridor, and took advantage of the fact for a hurried interview. Said one, "How long are you in for?" "For life," responded the other. "And how long are you in for?" "Twelve years," responded the other.

Which Is the True Dream? Once upon a time, I, Chuang Tzu, dreamt I was a butterfly, fluttering hither and thither, to all intents and purposes a butterfly. I was conscious only of following my fancies as a butterfly, and was unconscious of my individuality as a man. Suddenly I awoke and there I lay myself again. Now I do not know whether I was then a man dreaming I was a butterfly, or whether I am now a butterfly dreaming I am a man.—From the Teachings of Chuang Tzu.

Tiger's Make-Believe Eyes. Attention has recently been called to a peculiarity of the ears of tigers which, it is thought, may be classed under the head of "protective markings." On the back of each ear is a very bright white spot and when the ears are directed forward these spots are conspicuous from the front. It is suggested that when the tiger is sleeping in the dim light of a cave or thicket the spots on its ears may appear to an enemy, looking in, as the gleam of its watchful eyes, and thus save the sleeper from an unexpected attack.

Wireless Distress Signals. It will be practically impossible in the future for wireless distress signals to go unheard, as was the case at the time of the Titanic disaster. Steps were taken at the recent Radio-Telegraphic conference in London to prevent this, and a rule has been laid down calling for almost constant attendance on the wireless apparatus aboard ships. On vessels of the first class the conference rule requires a permanent watch, which means that two operators must be employed. Ships of the second class, which employ only one operator, must provide a watcher for the wireless apparatus during the first ten minutes of each hour. This provision will allow the regular operator to have his rest unbroken while off duty, and will necessitate the training of some member of the crew to receive the distress signal. It will be his duty to listen during the ten minutes beginning each hour.

Pinturicchio's Frescoes Stolen. The Cicerone reports the sensational theft of Pinturicchio's frescoes from the Palazzo del Magnifico, in Sienna. They were soaked off, and secretly carried away. With them disappears the last of the treasures in the Palazzo of Pandolfo Petrucci, which in its decline is still called "del Magnifico." Built about 1505, it had a great hall decorated with the mural paintings of Girolamo Genga, Luca Signorelli and Bernardino Pinturicchio. One of the paintings was Signorelli's "Triumph of Chastity," another Pinturicchio's "Return of Ulysses to Penelope," and both, transferred from the walls to canvas, in 1844, were purchased at the Barker sale in 1874 for the National gallery, London. Two other paintings from the walls by Genga are in the Accademia di Belle Arti at Siena, and the rest of the contents have been scattered among the museums of Europe.

Economizing Electricity. According to the Scientific American of recent issue, a method of economizing electrical energy employed for domestic heating or cooking is to receive the energy continuously at a low rate in a resistance apparatus which transforms it into heat and then stores the heat for use as needed. In a new electrical cooking apparatus operating in this way the heating unit, consuming 500 watts total, or 12,000 watt-hours per day of 24 hours, serves to keep a mass of cast iron hot enough to cook food in ordinary utensils placed in contact with it. The cast iron block is thermally insulated by being inclosed in a surrounding wall of lamplight or powdered silica, and a movable block is arranged to be raised above the main mass, so as to expose its upper surface when cooking is to be done. The small current consumption, less than that of an electrical flat-iron, enables the device to be operated on the ordinary electric light wiring of the house.

COMMERCIAL
Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says: "Buying in person, by mail order or through the medium of road sales maintains activity in the various lines of distributive trade. "Shipments on orders previously booked are going forward in volume, and one of the most significant features of the general situation is the insistent call for prompt deliveries, which indicates that stocks do not lag superfluously on purveyors' shelves. "In a host of lines one hears the expression that conditions as regards sales are better than for some years past. Withal buyers are not making large forward commitments, probably fearing future political developments, but within the week purchasing of heavy winter goods became more animated, a touch of frost in parts of the West, Northwest and Southwest having been the stimulating factor. "Business failures in the United States for the week were 228, against 279 last week, 248 in the like week of 1911, 211 in 1910, 195 in 1909 and 225 in 1908."

Women
From Forty-Five to Fifty Are Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The "change of life" is a most critical period in a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. When her system is in a de-rated condition, she may be predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of some organ. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Mrs. Estella Gillispie

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected. These symptoms are calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared to meet the needs of women's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

ONE CASE OUT OF MANY TO PROVE OUR CLAIMS.
St. Anne, Ill.—"I was passing through the change of life and I was a perfect wreck from female troubles. I had a displacement and bearing down pains, weak fainting spells, dizziness, then numb and cold feelings. Sometimes my feet and limbs were swollen. I was irregular and had so much backache and headache, was nervous, irritable and was despondent. Sometimes my appetite was good but more often it was not. My kidneys troubled me at times and I could walk only a short distance. "I saw your advertisement in a paper and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was helped from the first. At the end of two months the swelling had gone down, I was relieved of pain, and could walk with ease. I continued with the medicine and now I do almost all my housework. I know your medicine has saved me from the grave and I am willing for you to publish anything I write to you, for the good of others."—Mrs. ESTELLA GILLISPIE, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 34, St. Anne, Illinois.
