POLLY VICTIM OF DECEPTION

Bird Realized Period Between Its Temporary Oblivions Had Been Materially Cut Short.

The Goodleys have a sailor son, who on one occasion brought home a parrot for the amusement and enlightenment of the family. They kept it for the sake of the donor-on no other accoun- would it have been given house oom. Of course, it was a perfectly respectable bird-occasionally; but on Sunday evenings, when young Mr. Saintly paid his regular visit, it was deemed advisable to cover Polly with a cloth

Recently, however, Mr. S. took advantage of a half-holiday accruing to him, and made an extra call on the two houses and makes $3.50 a day in Wednesday. As he was ushered in a rolling mill. Miss Mary Goodley dexterously threw the cloth over Polly's cage. Greetings over, there ensued the usual awkward pause, which was broken by a squawk from the covered cage.

'Well, I'll be everlasting blessed," said Polly. "This has been a thundershort week!"

Suffers From Fish Bite. Allentown .- Colonel Harry C. Trexler, Quartermaster General of the state and president of the trustees of the Rittersville Asylum is nursing a sore finger, the result of being bitten by a trout. In the pond at Colonel Trexler's summer home at the Cedarville fishing grounds are about two dozen fish of large size which he has made and a large watch chain alighted from family pets, and they have become the train at a junction in a western so tame that they will eat grasshopstate, and rapidly made his way to the pers and worms out of his hand. A dining-room of the only hotel in the few days ago the Colonel was teasing a big trout by holding a juicy worm just over the water. As he lowered the worm the fish, with the rapidity of lightning, jumped a foot out of the water, seizing not only the worm but Colonel Trexler's hand as well, giving him a painful nip with "Open-faced, cross-bar, kivered up, its sharklike teeth. If you is small of stature, told Chief Green tell a woman that she is gaining weight that she had a bitter quarrel with you might as well tell her not come that it pays to be dicreet when you are weighing a woman. You can judge from their conversation how much they think they weigh, and never weighs more.

"Don't pay any attention to the scale if it shows that the correct weight is five or ten pounds more than the amount the woman said she weighed. Use your head and you will be able to retain customers. Other butchers have lost customers because they made the mistake of telling correct weights.

"Most women go to the country in the summer to gain weight. The best plan when they come home is to tell them they gained a few pounds. The first thing a woman does when she comes home is to come around here and have me weigh her. To make her feel happy and to satisfy her that her trip to the country has been beneficial to her health I add a few pounds to the amount the scale registers. There are many women who do gain weight while they are in the country. To these I always -tell the correct weight because, if one of them thought she was getting too heavy, she might cut down her purchase of meat.

"In the winter I pursue a different course. Most women like to think they are getting slimmer in the cool months. When they come around to be weighed I slice off a few pounds from the figures on the scale and send them away feeling fine. How do I remember their weight? No, I do not keep a record of it. I don't have to. The women do 37; No. 4 white, 341/4 @ 341/4. it for me. A woman's weight is one of her chief sources of worriment and she keeps her weight in mind and daily informs me of it.
