

BACKACHE "GETS ON THE NERVES"

Many who suffer from backache and weak kidneys are unnaturally irritable, fretful and nervous. Not only does constant backache "rest on the nerves", but bad kidneys fail to eliminate all the uric acid from the system, and uric acid irritates the nerves, keeping you "on edge" and causing rheumatic, neuralgic pains. Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills by curing the kidneys. Here's proof:

A North Carolina Case:

Mrs. J. W. Williams, North Carolina, writes: "I suffered acutely from backache, inflammation and tenderness in the region of the kidneys. My usual weight was 140 lbs., but I had run down to 90. Doctors said an operation was my only hope, but I would not consent and was given up to die. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me completely."

MAKES SORE EYES WELL

IN THESE DAYS OF DIVORCES

Really Nothing Remarkable in the Simple and Frank Explanation of the Small Boy.

We were walking down the street Sunday and we saw the most beautiful child sitting on the front steps of a pretty house, says Ted Robinson. His eyes were so big and blue, his curly head so golden, his innocent smile so frank and inviting that we could not resist the temptation to enter into conversation with him.

"Well, son," we said in the idiotically genial way with which an adult usually addresses a child, "how old are you?"

"Four," lisped the infant. (He didn't really lip it, because you can't lip when you say four; but that's the way children are supposed to do.)

"Isn't that fine!" (It would have been just as fine if he'd been three, though, or five. More idiosyncrasy.) "And whose little boy are you?"

"Mamma's little boy."

"Aren't you papa's little boy, too?"

"Nope."

"Why aren't you papa's little boy?"

"The decree gimme to mamma."

Then we went our pleasant way. —Savannah Morning News.

Was Not Guilty.

"Mordcau Judson," roared Colonel White, who had been aroused in the middle of the night by a suspicious noise in his poultry house, "is that you in there, you black thief?"

"No, sah," humbly replied a frightened voice. "Dis is muh cousin, Ink Judson, dat looks so much like me and steals everything he kin lay his dog-gawn han on. Ah's at home dis minute, sah, asleepin' de sleep o' de jest." —Puck.

Old Foes.

"How was the labor strike defeated?"

"It was done by capital management."

"PROUD AND GLAD"

Because Mother Looked So Well After Quitting Coffee.

An Ohio woman was almost distracted with coffee dyspepsia and heart trouble.

Like thousands of others, the drug—caffeine—in coffee was slowly but steadily undermining her nervous system and interfering with natural digestion of food. (Tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the poisonous drug found in coffee.)

"For 30 years," she writes, "I have used coffee. Have always been sickly—had heart trouble and dyspepsia with ulcers in stomach and mouth so bad, sometimes, I was almost distracted and could hardly eat a thing for a week."

"I could not sleep for nervousness, and when I would lie down at night I'd belch up coffee and my heart would trouble me. It was like poison to me. I was thin—only weighed 125 lbs., when I quit coffee and began to use Postum."

"From the first day that belching and burning in my stomach stopped, I could sleep as soundly as anyone and, after the first month, whenever I met any friends they would ask me what was making me so fleshy and looking so well."

"Sometimes, before I could answer quick enough, one of the children or my husband would say, 'Why, that is what Postum is doing for her—they were all so proud and glad.'"

"When I recommend it to anyone I always tell them to follow directions in making Postum, as it is not good to taste it weak, but fine when it has the flavor and rich brown color." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

JAMES S. SHERMAN

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN DEAD

End Comes After Long Suffering With Uraemic Poisoning.

SPEECH STARTS SETBACK.

Extraordinary Demand Upon Vice-President's Strength On Day of Notification the Final Blow, Although It Was Discovered in 1908 That He Had a Kidney Difficulty.

Utica.—After a long illness Vice-President James Schoolcraft Sherman died at his home, in this city, at 9:42 o'clock Wednesday night of uremic poison, caused by Bright's disease.

He had been sinking since early morning, and it was realized that death was a question only of a few hours.

There was slight relief shortly after 7 o'clock, caused by an apparent improvement in the condition of the kidneys, but it did not prove real or lasting and at best gave only temporary hope.

At 9 o'clock the patient's temperature rose to 106. From that time his condition rapidly passed from bad to worse until the end. Mr. Sherman was unconscious when the end came, and had been in that condition for hours.

All the members of the immediate family were witnesses to the final scene.

Soon after Mr. Sherman's death Dr. Fayette H. Peck, the attending physician, issued the following statement:

"The Vice-President died at 9:42 P. M., without regaining consciousness for a moment. He was perfectly quiet. He died in the presence of his wife, her brother and sister, his two brothers and his three sons and their wives. He had been entirely unconscious since 7 o'clock, when he had a period of partial consciousness lasting for about 15 minutes. He died in a uraemic coma as a result of Bright's disease, heart disease and arteriosclerosis."

The first discovery that Mr. Sherman's kidneys were affected was made at the beginning of the national campaign in 1908. At that time he was suffering from gallstones and his physician informed him that one of the kidneys had become diseased and advised moderation in work and diet. The advice was followed in the latter but not in the former respect. Mr. Sherman became most abstemious in eating, taking nothing but the simplest foods, but he persisted in giving the closest personal attention to his official duties as well as to his extensive business interests. So completely did he keep himself occupied that Dr. Peck found in this fact the principal reason for the Vice-President's breakdown.

Apparently Mr. Sherman did not weaken under this strain until last spring. Required by the tense parliamentary situation in the Senate to be constantly in his seat during the recent session of Congress, he began to fall in March. A medical examination then revealed Bright's disease in an advanced form and he was advised to suspend all labors and devote himself to an effort to counteract the ravages of the disorder by building up his physical system as a whole.

Big Moose, in the Adirondacks, was chosen as the place of resort because of its seclusion and to that point the Vice-President went in June, yielding the senatorial gavel most reluctantly. The change came too late, however. Already the heart had become involved and the Big Moose attitude of 8,000 feet came near causing death.

He had not been there 24 hours when he was violently attacked and as soon as he could be moved he returned to his home in this city. Here an immediate improvement was noted and the family and friends were much encouraged. Not until the latter part of August did he enter upon a continuing decline and since that time the downward trend had been rapid and steady.

Dr. Peck attributes the change last August to the rashness of his patient in persisting in making a set speech in response to the official notification of his second nomination for the Vice-Presidency, which took place in this city in that month. Standing in the hot sun he then spoke for half an hour. The speech was delivered with much fervor which, it soon developed, had been imparted at the expense of vitality.

The bad conditions which followed immediately could not be shaken off. Each day was worse than the preceding. When, some two weeks since, the time came to register for next Tuesday's vote, the Vice-President's physician forbade his patient to leave the house for that purpose. This protest was disregarded, with the result that the fatal malady was greatly aggravated.

All the remedies known to physical science were used, but none of them gave more than temporary relief. So long as he remained rational he was what the physicians call "a good patient," but when delirious he resisted the application of all remedies.

A LONG POLITICAL CAREER.

James Schoolcraft Sherman was born in Utica, N. Y., on October 24, 1855.

His parents were of English descent, his father establishing the Utica Morning Herald and becoming a prominent journalist.

He attended the Utica public schools and was graduated from Hamilton College in 1878. He practiced law until 1907.

Although his father was a Democrat, James S. Sherman became a Republican at the age of 22. He became mayor of Utica when 29 years old. He entered Congress in 1887 and served continuously, with one year's exception, until he ran for Vice-President with Taft.

Was the only Vice-President to receive a renomination. Shortly after entering Congress he was recognized as one of the really influential men in the national legislature. He was one of the most popular men in Washington.

He could have held many important federal positions, but he always preferred to remain in Congress. His family took prominent part in the social life of Utica. He was a member of the Dutch Reformed Church and belonged to many clubs. Baseball was his great hobby and he would go out of his way to see a game.

The death of Vice-President Sherman will have no effect on the election. The Taft electors in case of a Taft victory will choose a Vice-President.

Floorwalker Hardly Had to Think to Make Satisfactory Answer to the Inquiry.

"Silk stockings must be very cheap in America. Nowhere in the world do women's slim and supple ankles gleam in lustrous silk as they do here."

The speaker was Robert Loraine, the English actor. He continued:

"A married man told me the other day that, going into one of your department stores, he said to a floorwalker:

"I'm looking for something pretty in silk stockings."

"The floorwalker smiled, and with a gesture embraced the long rows of counters with their charming saleswomen."

"That remark," he said, "describes, I believe, practically every one of our young ladies."

AWFUL ECZEMA ON FACE

Freeland, Md.—"Baby's eczema started in little spots and would burst and run all over his face and wherever the water would touch his face, it would make another sore. Pimples would break out and make his face sore and inflamed, and he was very cross and fretful. It was awful. He suffered tortures from it, and we had to the mittens on his hands to keep him from scratching. A friend of mine told me of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I went to a drug store and bought them."

"When we would bathe his face with the Cuticura Soap and apply the Cuticura Ointment, he would be much better. He would wake up in the nights and cry with his face and we would put on some of the Cuticura Ointment and then he would rest all night. They have cured him completely of the eczema." (Signed) Mrs. Harry Wright, Mar. 21, 1912.
