

THE HUNTERS.

Mountains Raked for Deer and Bear—Game Rather Plentiful—Reports Meager.

The mountains inhabited by deer and bear are raked once or twice each day by the many crews of hunters who are camping within easy reach. The reports from the camps are meager, but the Reporter is able to give a partial list at the game taken.

The most successful party of hunters are the Wingerts, at Paddy Mountain. They have two deer and four bears. The Bradfords on the Sunday farm—two deer.

The "Tigers" on Taick Head and "Loopers" in the Kettle combined on Saturday—one deer.

Georges Valley party, on the Summit, in Poe Valley, two deer.

Musser party, in Pine Creek hollow, Canada lynx.

Aaronsburg party, on Green Knobs, southwest of Woodward, one deer.

Rebersburg party, at Stover's, along Brush Valley Narrows, one deer.

Wilmer Kersterer, of Green Brier, a lone hunter, one deer.

A Millheim and Aaronsburg party, in Little Sugar Valley, one deer, weighing 174 lbs.

The Raymond Crew are at the upper end of Bear Meadows, at Three Mountains, no report.

The Rileys, in Bear Meadows, no report.

The Modocs, at Old Ross Place, no report.

The Reitz party, of Linden Hall, one deer.

The Musser-Gilliland-Preacher party, one deer.

Rev. W. H. Warburton and party, at Crystal Springs, one deer.

The Ellsworths, at Shells Gap, on Tussey, no report.

Roosevelt Club, at Hunter's Springs, no report.

State College Gun Club, at Sand Knob, no report.

The Zimmermans, in the Alleghenies, no report.

The Regulars, at Pat Garrity's, no report.

Leeter Shaffer, of Milroy, killed a 250 lb. buck, with six prongs, in Little Kettle.

The Johnston Party, of Reedsville, killed a black bear weighing 185 lbs. The party is camped at Coulter's Shanty, in Little Kettle.

Five or six deer were taken in the Seven Mountains by various hunters who entered from the Milroy side.

A Mr. Callahan hunting with a party located between Cammal and Slate Run, was drawing a bead on a bear a rifle ball fired by an undiscovered hunter passed through bushes and struck him on the hand. The bear escaped. Another hunter, James E. Buzzard, of Lock Haven, on Hicks Run, had one of his ears penetrated by a stray game shot.

DEATHS.

Postmaster Daniel W. Reynolds passed away Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at his home on Main street, Reedsville, aged fifty-five years, eight months and five days. During the past several years Mr. Reynolds has been in failing health. At times he was able to attend to his duties at the postoffice, but part of the time he was confined to his home by ill health. Hardening of the arteries was the cause of his death.

Mr. Reynolds has been a life-long resident of Reedsville, except for two years which he spent in Centre Hall, where he was engaged in the butchering business. Upon his return to Reedsville he became an employee of the William H. Mann axe factory. Sixteen years ago Mr. Reynolds was appointed postmaster of Reedsville, which position he filled acceptably and continuously until the time of his death, he having received his fourth appointment recently. He had three years of the fourth term yet to serve.

Surviving him is his widow, whose maiden name was Louise Kelley, daughter of the late Joseph and Ellen Kelley, of Reedsville. Two daughters, Miss Louella Reynolds, who is at home and is a teacher in the Reedsville public schools, and Miss Anna Reynolds, a student at Temple University, Philadelphia, who arrived home Monday evening to attend her father's funeral. Miss Edna, another daughter, died a number of years ago at the age of twenty-one years. One brother, Israel Reynolds, who lives in the state of Illinois, and Mrs. Edward Thompson, a sister, of Altoona, also survive.

Mr. Reynolds had also a number of half-brothers and half-sisters, and these survive: Joseph Relp, of Beloit, Wis.; Mrs. Katharine Rice, of Reedsville; Mrs. Annie Gower, of Ohio; Mrs. Rebecca Longshore and Mrs. Martha Harris, of California, and Mrs. Marjorie Lucas, of Unionville.

For many years Mr. Reynolds was a member of the Reedsville Lutheran church and filled the office of elder of the church. He was also a member of the Knights of the Golden Eagle lodge in Reedsville.

The funeral services will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence of the deceased, Rev. A. H. Spangler, officiating. Interment in Church Hill cemetery, near Reedsville.

Daniel Heiser died at his home in Lewisburg, last Friday night at about eleven o'clock, aged nearly eighty-two years, his death being due to senility.

The deceased was born at Kratzville in 1830, where he spent his boyhood days. At the age of twenty-one he moved to Aaronsburg where he met and married Miss Phoebe Ann Mussina. In 1855 they moved to Millheim, and the year following to Mount Carmel, where Mr. Heiser engaged in the mercantile business. They moved to Ashland in 1861, and six years later located in Lewisburg, where Mr. Heiser resided until the time of his death. He purchased the Chillisque mill property, and in addition to operating the mill he conducted the farm adjoining. He later engaged in the Mussina-Heiser Store at Cowan. Later he was lumber inspector at the Lewisburg Chair Works, but for the last several years lived a re-

THE BOSTON MALE QUARTETTE.

In Grange Arcadia, Evening of Thanksgiving Day.

The second number of the Centre Hall Lecture course will appear in Grange Arcadia, on evening of Thanksgiving Day. It is because the committee agreed to have the quartette come here on a holiday that it was able to secure musicians of such a high order, for otherwise the cost would have been beyond the reach of the purse it had access to.

The personal of the Boston Male Quartette is as follows:

N. C. L. Jensen, manager, first tenor, saxophone, piano; has a brilliant, strong, flexible accurate voice. His vocal training was secured in Denmark, Europe, in the "University of Music." For five years he was the leading tenor in the Peoples' Theatre, in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Robert Rofnot, second tenor, mandolin, bells, reader. Mr. Rofnot comes from a musical French family; a soloist with high, clear voice, able to sing either second or first tenor.

Harry C. Stowell, director of orchestra, baritone, violin, mandolin, piano, secured his musical training in the New England Conservatory of music, and has had large experience in solo and ensemble.

Philip Daudurand, bass, piano, drums, is a son of the Ohio Northern University, of Ada, Ohio. He is a famous soloist, with rich deep voice, and capable of easily reaching lower "C."

The committee has the personal assurance of Mr. Arnold, manager of the Central Lyceum Bureau, that the quartette will give the best musical entertainment ever given here. To fulfil that promise the four young men will be able to fully gratify the most exacting of critics.

FORSAKES HUSBAND AND CHILDREN

To Jola Widower of Two Months—Penn Hall Woman and Lover Walk Through Penns Valley Narrows—On to Virginia.

Quite a sensation was created in the lower end of Penns Valley last week, when it was learned that Elmer Smith and Mrs. Emanuel Crader had eloped, their destination being Virginia. In September Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, who were working in a lumber job in Virginia, started to come to Centre county to attend Grange Picnic, at Centre Hall. On the way Mrs. Smith took sick and died, her husband continued his journey, and brought her body to Millheim for burial.

After the funeral Mr. Smith went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Crader, at Penn Hall. He stayed there until 12th inst., when he left, saying he was going to Virginia, but really only went to Union county, hired a rig there and drove back to Woodward, where Mrs. Crader had gone to visit relatives. Here a series of misfortunes began. When Smith got out of the wagon that was to convey the bride and had helped her into it, the horse took fright and ran away, leaving the prospective groom alone and anxious as to the outcome. The runaway horse did not carry the runaway mother and wife very far, until she either jumped or fell from the vehicle, the horse dashing on and in his mad run demolished the bridal carriage.

Old enough to be determined not to be thwarted by such little incidents, the pair, after a brief consultation, decided that the trip should and would be made on foot. The journey was begun at Woodward and ended at Glenn Iron. It was a walk through the famous Penns Valley Narrows—lonely, but not too lonely for lovers. At Glenn Iron the couple boarded the first train east on the following morning, and went to Virginia, and it is presumed were married.

Mrs. Crader leaves a husband and four or five children.

DEMOCRATIC FUNDS AND CONTRIBUTORS.

91,000 Individuals Contributed to the Wilson Campaign Fund.

The statement that 91,000 persons contributed to the Wilson and Marshall campaign fund of $1,100,000 is accompanied by the information that the number of contributors is the largest on record, while the fund itself is the smallest on which a successful campaign has been made in recent years. Here, then, are three interesting facts: An appeal to the people for campaign contributions is answered by less than 100,000 out of more than 6,000,000 voters belonging to the party; the amount is less than half what the corporations have given to the high-protection party in times past; yet it was enough for victory.

Money is needed in large sums to manage national campaigns. Socialists can obtain what they need by charging admission fees to their mass-meetings. The party of high protection can get money from protected interests. The Progressives can get it from monopolists that wish national incorporation and an Interstate-Business Commission. Democracy must look to the people for funds, even as the people must look to Democracy for justice and fair play.

LOCALS

D. H. Shlegal came to Center Hall on Tuesday and for several days was engaged in lathing at the Reporter building.

Mr. Frederick Kurtz, of Bellefonte, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rebecca Murray, in Centre Hall, for a week, returning home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Axmann, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sunday, of Burnham, visited their aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Flory, in Centre Hall, as did also Jacob Fultz, a brother, of Woodward.

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Braucht of Spring Mills, were in Centre Hall on Tuesday, having made the trip in their car. The doctor is very busy these days, giving attention to his many patients.

Prof. McDowell, of State College and Hon. P. E. Womelsdorff, of Phillipsburg, at the annual meeting of the County School Directors were elected delegates to the State Directors convention to be held at Harrisburg in February.

The Williamsport Sun and The Williamsport News have merged into one publication. The new publication is to be independent in politics, but its owners are Republicans. This leaves the city of Williamsport without a Democratic newspaper.

In this issue appears the list of applicants for liquor licenses in Centre county. The advertisement is one of the requirements of the law, the purpose being to impart to the public the names of the applicants, their locations, and the character of license desired.

Mrs. J. C. Blair, who a few years ago gave to Huntingdon a magnificent $200,000 hospital, announced she had set aside $20,000 for a nurses' home, in connection with the institution. Mrs. Blair is the widow of J. C. Blair, one of the wealthiest men in that section.

William H. Cummings, farmer in the Manor Hill district, drove a few cattle to Centre Hall on Tuesday and disposed of them to a Salona buyer. It is not because he is short of feed that he sold, for he informs the Reporter that one field of corn yielded almost one hundred and forty bushels per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Buttorf, who have been buying and selling real estate in Mifflin county to such an extent that they would be entitled to put a sign over the door, purchased a home on Main street, Burnham, and will move there December 1st. They are now living on a farm in Ort Valley.

About ten days ago, Dr. H. S. Braucht took to a Philadelphia hospital Frank Harshberger, son of H. K. Harshberger, of Sprungtown, to be operated on by Dr. Davis, the noted surgeon. The young man had a severe attack of typhoid fever several years ago, and since he has had ulcers on his hip, the hip bone being affected. The case is one that will require a very difficult operation.

Among the hunters in the Seven Mountains who were formerly from points in Penns Valley but now engaged elsewhere in various pursuits are Rev. B. F. Bieber, of West Milton; Korman Spicher, of Philadelphia, mail clerk; T. F. Farnar, Philadelphia, railroad mail clerk; Lloyd M. Kerlin, farmer, Liverpool; Rev. J. R. Sechrist, Bellwood; J. Frank Smith, Bellefonte, Register Centre county; J. M. Gilliland, New Bloomfield, hardware dealer.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers. adv.

Aaronsburg.

Goldie Kreamer, little daughter of Roland Kreamer, is seriously ill.

Miss Verna Fisher, of Nittany, is at the home of Walter Orwig.

Nelson Wert, of Akron, Ohio, came home last week to spend some time with his family.

T. C. Weaver returned home on Monday from Akron, Ohio, where he was employed since May.

Mrs. David Breon and children, of Rebersburg, spent a few days at the home of Robb Weaver.

Wilmer Stover took Miss Rieff and Mrs. Brum to their home in Harrisburg in his touring car. The ladies spent the summer in Aaronsburg.

Willie Wolf with a number of friends from Woodward are out for game, and your correspondent wishes them success. While they are hunting, Mrs. Wolf and sister, Ida Boob, of Woodward, are on a trip to Howard, Beech Creek, Bellefonte and Spring Mills.

John C. Stover, one of the most highly respected citizens of Aaronsburg, died Tuesday of last week, aged seventy-eight years, four months and nineteen days. He was born and raised in Haines township. He was married to Amsia Hosterman, of Feldler, who preceded him in death six years ago. There were born to this union six children, namely, Mrs. John Grenoble, Yesertown; Mrs. E. E. Arbery, Bellefonte; Mrs. Frank Gausewitz, Feldler; Mrs. George Weaver, Aaronsburg, with whom he had his home at the time of death; Mrs. Thomas Meyer, Coburn; Clymer Stover, Lewistown. He was a life long member of the R-formed church and for years was an elder and trustee. The remains were laid to rest in the Reformed cemetery, his pastor, Rev. W. D. Donat, officiating.

Spring Mills

Mr. and Mrs. James McCool were in town on Tuesday.

Ira Bartly moved into the house he bought from Mrs. Barree.

Eugene Allison, of Renovo, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Allison.

Mrs. Close and children, of Bowsburg, spent a few days with her brothers, Wm. and John Meyers.

John Smith purchased a Ford car for his daughter, Mrs. Windom Gramley, and presented it as a birthday gift.

B. Ice Brown, the newly appointed mail carrier, was in town on Monday. He will begin to carry mail on Route No. 1, on the first day of December.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grenoble, of Yesertown, passed through town on Sunday. They attended the funeral of the latter's father at Aaronsburg.

The week of prayer is being observed in the Lutheran church. The ministers of the different congregations are assisting the pastor Rev. Barry to conduct the services.

The lecture given in the Grange Hall by Mr. Abbott on Friday evening was well attended, and he is just what he represented himself to be, an impersonator to perfection.

Remember that the Boston Male Quartette will appear in Grange Arcadia on evening of Thanksgiving Day. You can secure tickets from Rev. S. A. Snyder, secretary of the Lecture Course Committee.

ANTS IN AUSTRALIA.

They Eat Up Wooden Beams and Even Dine on Leaden Roofs.

The following extract from an Australian diary will give an idea of the ravages of the ants in that country:

"About noon it got too hot for anything, and I took a well earned swim in a secluded creek, amid shoals of fish, large and small, who apparently resented my intrusion from the way they came and stared at me.

"I found on emerging from the water that a host of blue brown ants had taken possession of my clothes, and when they were shaken out they revenged themselves by biting my bare feet in a way which was exceedingly painful.

"There are thousands of ants everywhere. Some of the ant hills are three feet high and six feet across, but except for a sharp nip at the time the ordinary ant's bite is not noticeable. But if a soldier ant or a bull ant or a greenhead (an ant with one and a half inches long with a green head) bites you it is not to be forgotten because they take quite a big peep out.

"Then there are the white ants (not really ants, but termites), which cheerfully eat the insides out of the beams of the wooden houses and recently ate the sheet lead on top of the Sydney museum. The city fathers thought this was going a little too far, so now the ants are preserved inside the museum with samples of the half consumed lead as a warning to all who would allow their appetites to run away with them."—London Gentleman.
