

Cashier D. K. Keller.

The stockholders of the Penna Valley Banking Company met on the first of the year in annual session. The most important business was to elect a cashier to succeed the late W. B. Mingle, who since the opening of the institution, in 1875, filled that position, and to declare the regular annual dividend. David K. Keller, one of the stockholders, was elected. Mr. Keller is well qualified and fitted for the place. He is conservative, obliging, a man in whom everyone will have confidence. Charles D. Bartholomew retains his position as first assistant cashier, and for the present W. Gross Mingle will be on the clerical force. Hon. William M. Allison, of Spring Mills, continues as the president of the bank.

The stockholders have in no wise changed, the heirs retaining the interest of Mr. Mingle.

Transfer Goes Over Embankment.

The large transfer car used to transport passengers between Rebersburg and Coburn and intermediate points was demolished by summersaulting and then rolling down an embankment at a point known as Walker's hill just before entering the narrows over the Brush Valley side. The car was moving at a moderate speed and was being manipulated by Victor Walker, and the only passenger or that trip was Lyman L. Smith, of Centre Hall, a representative of the International Harvesting Company. The road was smooth, and in some way the car got the better of the driver and before he could get it under control the railing was struck, and torn away, the car making a complete evolution and then turned three times on its side.

In some almost miraculous way neither of the occupants were hurt beyond severe bruises and a general shaking up. The car was demolished, and much regret is expressed over the loss as the modern method of travel between Brush Valley and its railroad centre was much appreciated and generally patronized.

New Trust Company.

"The Farmers' Trust Company" is the name of a new banking institution being established at State College. The stock has already been subscribed, and was secured with little or no effort on the part of the promoters. The capital stock is $125,000, and the institution was organized in conjunction with the National Bank that did business there for a number of years.

On Saturday the stock holders held a meeting, and Cashier Kapp presided. The directors elected are John T. McCormick, Dr. William Frazier, N. E. Hess, C. H. Foster, George Shull, Thomas Huey, E. C. Musser, W. D. Foster, J. L. Foster, J. L. Campbell, Dr. L. E. Kidder, J. P. Jackson.

The Trust Company officers are these: President, Hon. J. T. McCormick; First Vice President, N. E. Hess; Second Vice President, L. E. Kidder; Treasurer, D. F. Kapp; Secretary, N. E. Robb.

The National Bank officers are: W. L. Foster, President; C. H. Foster, First Vice President; A. F. Markle, Second Vice President.

Reitz-Thomas

William W. Reitz and Miss Ruth Thomas were married in Johnstown Saturday afternoon after Christmas by a minister who is a personal friend of the former. Mr. Reitz is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, and until last fall was an instructor in one of the divisions of the Agricultural Department. He is now teaching at Jarrettsville, Maryland, in the Harford County High School. They will board until the close of the school term.

Before going to their new home the young couple came to Centre Hall, and for a day or two were here with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Thomas.

Brungart-Rishel.

On Saturday evening at the Lutheran parsonage, in Centre Hall, Rev. F. W. Barry united in marriage Miss Rosie Irene Rishel, daughter of the late M. L. Rishel, of Farmers Mills, and Harry I. Brungart, of Pittsburg. The bride is well known and popular in this section. The groom is a native of Rebersburg, and is a sales agent for the Grand Rapids Plaster Company, whose factory and main offices are in Grand Rapids, Michigan, with quarters in Pittsburg. Wednesday the young couple went to Pittsburg, but they do not expect to take up housekeeping until spring.

Bartges-Miller.

The marriage of Thomas C. Bartges, of Centre Hall, and Miss Annetta Miller, of Madisonburg, was consummated at the home of the parents of the groom, at Clover Dale Farm, south of Centre Hall, the afternoon before Christmas. The officiating minister was Rev. R. R. Jones.

Magee-Huyett Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett, of Centre Hall, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lella May, to William Austin Magee, of Philadelphia, son of the late R. M. Magee, formerly of Bellefonte. The wedding will take place in the spring, after which the couple will reside in Philadelphia, where the prospective groom is now located.

Horn-Maser.

A quiet wedding took place at the First M. E. parsonage, McKeesport, December 30th, when Wallace O. Horner, of Pleasant Gap, and Miss Minnie Maser of McKeesport, were united in the holy bond of marriage, by Rev. Arthur Staples.

Only a few of their nearest friends were present, and on the next day they came to Pleasant Gap to the home of the groom's parents.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Maser, and is held in high esteem by her many friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Horner, of Pleasant Gap, and is first assistant to J. G. Dauberman, the local dealer in meats.

The young couple expect to start housekeeping at Centre Hall as soon as they can get quarters.

Their many friends wish them a long and happy voyage through life.

Spring Mills

C. C. Bartges, on Tuesday made a business trip to Lock Haven.

Wm. H. Meyer and wife spent Christmas at Millheim.

Robert W. Neese, of Auburn, N. Y., is a Spring Mills visitor.

Benjamin Donachy, of Lewisburg, spent his Christmas vacation in town.

Mrs. P. K. Detwiler, on Christmas, returned from a trip to Harrisburg.

Mrs. Ellis Hazel, of Bucyrus, Ohio, is at present visiting her mother, Mrs. Beatty.

Robert Kennelly, and wife, of Yeagertown, were Spring Mills visitors over Christmas.

Prof. Chas. H. Auman and wife, of Danville, were guests at the home of P. R. Auman over Christmas.

Harry Kresmer, who is employed by the P. R. R. at Northumberland, spent Christmas with his parents.

Bruce Gramley, of New York, spent his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Gramley.

Mrs. John F. Meyer, on Friday morning, went to Huntington, to visit her mother, Mrs. J. C. Morris, who is ill.

There were a good many out sleighing on Christmas, presumably for the novelty of the thing, because sleighing was not very good.

W. S. Resman, who is employed as railroad agent on the P. & R., near Philadelphia, spent the Yuletide at his parental home.

The Christmas entertainments held by the various churches were all well attended, and were of a high order, and a credit to the Sunday Schools.

Misses Ruth Smith and Sara Fisher, who are students at the West Chester State Normal School, spent their Christmas vacations at their homes, at Spring Mills.

Prof. M. T. Zabler, and Miss Lodia Rishel, two of Gregg township's popular school teachers, were married on Sunday evening, December 22nd. Congratulations.

Among these thus far reported who are moving out of town, in the spring, are F. M. Ream, to Boalsburg; Irvin Zettle, to Centre Hall; Doner Emwick, to Altoona; C. E. Ziegler, to State College; and G. S. Walker, to Penn township.

Secrets of the Underworld.

For the first time the country is going to have a clear view of the "seamy side" of New York life—the vast ramifications of graft and crime of which a glimpse was seen in the trials of Police Lieutenant Becker and the four gunmen who killed Rosenthal.

These revelations will be made in a series of articles, entitled, "My Life in the Underworld," which will appear in the Philadelphia North American on successive Sundays, which began last Sunday, December 29.

LOCALS

John J. Arney is confined to bed with pneumonia.

The Y. P. B. will meet at the home of Miss Freda Bailey, this (Thursday) evening.

After a visit to her mother, Mrs. Knorr, in Reading, for a period of several weeks, Mrs. E. M. Huyett returned to her home last week.

John F. Foreman, who is employed at Altoona, was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Foreman, for a few days during the holiday season.

Mrs. Susan A. Page died in Pittsburg. She was the widow of the late Samuel Page, and for many years lived at Mackeyville. The deceased was the mother of Mrs. Thomas Meyer, of Lock Haven.

In its last issue of the old year the Millheim Journal stated that diphtheria had developed in several sections in Penn township, and that the homes where the cases were had been placed under quarantine.

John Dale, of State College, is in a very serious condition, suffering from blood poisoning caused by a wound on his thumb. Two physicians, a trained nurse and Mrs. Dale were kept busy for several days waiting on him.

Miss Grace Musser, daughter of Frank Musser, was elected to teach the Penn Hall public school by the Gregg township school board, the resignation of Mrs. M. T. Zabler, formerly Miss Lodie Rishel.

William H. Meyer became seriously ill the latter part of last week. He had been over to his farm at Centre Hill, and in the evening took a chill, then came an alarmingly high temperature. Monday afternoon he recovered sufficiently to be out of bed.

The purchase of the Henry Pennington farm, south of Fillmore, by William Johnstonbaugh, makes five farms owned by that gentleman, or a farm for each of his five children. His latest acquisition contains one hundred and sixty acres, and $5000 was paid for it.

Donald Strieby, a farmer of near Montoursville, fired a load of buck shot into a chicken thief who was pulling pullets from his roost. The thief was Gus Updegraff, and he fell with such severe wounds that he died a few minutes after reaching the Williamsport hospital.

P. W. Young, of Port Matilda, was appointed mercantile appraiser for Centre county by the board of County Commissioners. Mr. Young is thoroughly capable of filling the position, and his appointment is entirely satisfactory to the rank and file of the Democratic voters.

A number of persons in the vicinity of Hartleton who are served on rural mail routes have been annoyed by some one tampering with the mail after it is placed in the mail boxes. A few days ago some mail intended for George Harter, one of the patrons on the route, was found under a stone pile.

Prof. Vernon W. Godshall is due in Centre Hall today (Thursday), having landed in New York on Friday from Porto Rico. Prof. Godshall for a year or more occupied a chair in the University of Porto Rico, a government institution, but conditions there were not altogether to his liking, which caused him to resign. Next spring he will go to Chicago, take a higher degree in his line of work, and engage somewhere in the states. The professor sent Mrs. Godshall and children a Christmas box containing a collection of choice tropical fruit, a goodly sample of which found its way to this office, and for which the editor and family return thanks.

F. J. Tibbitts will leave Centre Hall for Maine within a few days, having purchased an undertaking establishment at Bethel, Oxford county, and will devote his entire attention to that business. Mr. Tibbitts came to Centre Hall from Harmony, Maine, last spring, and for several months was engaged in the undertaking and furniture business, having been the successor to L. G. Rearick. Later he sold his business to F. V. Goodhart, and for several months was looking about for a new location, finally making a trip to his native state where he found an attractive proposition. Mr. Tibbitts will be accompanied to Maine by his eldest daughter, Miss Lella. His second daughter, who is engaged in teaching school, will remain here for the present.

By the time the reader has this issue of the Reporter before him, Prof. Charles F. Shaw will have been installed at his new post on the Pacific Coast, as the head of the department of Agronomy in the College of Agriculture, Berkeley, California. He will be required to do pioneer work, for that institution does not have such a department now in operation, but he will be abundantly able to do so, for it was he who built up the department at Pennsylvania State College, and after a life of six years proved to be such a grand success. Mrs. Shaw accompanied her husband to California, and since neither of them had before been to the Pacific slope, their new home is new in every way. They carry with them the best wishes of all their acquaintances here.

LOCALS

Miss May Rhone was home from Harrisburg over Christmas.

Two letters, one addressed to Mrs. S. F. Smith and the other to Mr. Nevin Royer, are unclaimed at the Centre Hall postoffice.

Many personal notices appear in this issue. If your friend is not mentioned, please ask yourself whether or not you passed along the news to the Reporter.

After a few days visit in Centre Hall with her father, Dr. W. H. Schuyler, Miss Eloise Schuyler returned to Cape May where she is teaching in the city high school.

Mrs. Gertrude Weber, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weber, of Centre Hall, underwent an operation for appendicitis in a New York hospital. Her condition is very favorable.

The circular saw has added another to its list of mutilated. The man is John Schultz, of Spring Bank, who had the little finger on the right hand and two fingers on the left hand mutilated while sawing wood.

Isiah Bierly, of Clintondale, while out gunning a few days ago in Lamar Gap, shot a golden eagle, which measured seven feet from tip to tip, and weighed 12 pounds. This bird is rare and one seldom seen in this section.

The Potters Mills mummers made their appearance in Centre Hall on New Year's day, as has been their custom for several years. In their bizarre costumes they formed a parade that brought forth much laughter all along their line of travel.

Harry Jenkins has resigned his position in the First National Bank of Howard and on the first of the year will move to Tyrone where he has been selected as cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank to succeed Frank W. Warring, resigned.

Mrs. A. L. Vogt, formerly Miss Emily Alexander, who with her husband are located at Phoenix, Arizona, is in very delicate health. The last heard from her was that she was threatened with appendicitis, and that other complications made her condition extremely serious.

The southeastern section of Pennsylvania had considerable more snow than the central portion. There were ten to twelve inches of snow in Chester and Montgomery counties, and in Fairmount Park there was good sleighing where it kept one busy to pass over the roads on runners in Penna Valley.

Last Thursday morning while Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Musser, of near Fairbrook were at the barn doing the morning chores the house caught fire and the flames almost reached a point beyond control. Two little boys were left alone in the house, and it is thought they tampered with the stove and set the interior furnishings on fire.

The case of Nearhood vs. Snyder county is one that will at least interest Centre county threshermen. While passing over a county bridge in Snyder county with a traction engine hauling a wagon loaded with lumber, the structure gave way and damage resulted to E. E. Nearhood's outfit. He sued the county, and before the case came before the court the commissioners offered the plaintiff $350, but this was refused. The case went to the jury and a verdict was given in favor of the county, and costs to be paid by Mr. Nearhood. It was contended that the weight was excessive. Application for a new trial was made.

Colyer.

William Mulberger spent a few days at Colyer.

Della and Lettie Klinefelter are paying their parents a short visit.

Miss Blanche Reiber is visiting in Johnstown.

While Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Klinefelter and children, of Boalsburg, were in Altoona on a visit to the former's brother, Lyman Klinefelter took care of the farm stock.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Phillips and daughter Margaret spent a week with William Phillips, a son of the former, who lives at Altoona. While in that city Miss Margaret and a friend, Mr. Shearer, of Altoona, boarded the train and went to Pittsburg where they visited Miss Phillips' sister for a few days.
