Hon. C. L. Gramley introduced a measure in the house requiring grammar and high schools to be equipped with reference books.

Ordinary common sense is a very capable guide in the somewhat complicated problems that are pretty constantly confronting human beings.

It might be well for Centre Hall board of health to acquaint itself with the rules and regulations of quarantine for smallpox. Ready to act might save much annoyance.

If you favor reviving the creamery plant in Centre Hall, now is your time to speak. And keep in mind, too, that money talks loud enough to be heard on the other side of your neighbor.

In newspaper parlance, a "sacred cow" is an institution or person concerning whom nothing but good must be printed and concerning whose affairs nothing adverse may be said. To please sacred cows the news of the day is suppressed; editorial opinions are warped; and the people must be in ignorance of the truth.

Local Option Bill.

A local option bill was introduced in the house of representatives at Harrisburg on Monday. The units in the bill are the county and municipality of 10,000 and over. If the measure passes, it is claimed by those who favor it, a large per cent of the counties will go dry.

A Suggestion.

The Reporter has concluded to quit twitting the borough fathers, but like Rip Van Winkle, "dis one don't count". The suggestion quoted below made by a German might inspire our enthusiastic councilmen to put their heads together and build for us a block street. To quote a man correctly is to quote his exact words, and here they are:

"My dear fellow-citizens and fellow-Shermans, I don't want to say noddings about nobody, but look at dem Irish in de Tenth Ward. Vot have dey got? Paved streets! Und vot have we got? Mut! Now, my fellow-citizens and fellow-Shermans, vot I wish to say is this: 'A'oom; let us put our heads together und make a block pavement.'"

The One-Term Movement.

The action of the United States Senate in adopting the Works resolution lengthening the presidential term to six years, and making incumbents ineligible to re-election, is generally regarded as a step toward heading off Colonel Roosevelt. Popular sentiment is strong against an unlimited number of terms. Grant tried to get a third nomination, and on his failure it was believed there would be no further attacks on the two term custom. Roosevelt, however, succeeded in getting before the people, and had he been elected his hold on the office might have been too firm to be shaken off. There was a fear that he might want to be President for life. To prevent this danger it is proposed to amend the constitution.

It is probable the House will follow the action of the Senate and the resolution will go to the State Legislature for ratification. If three-fourths of the 48 States approve the amendment will become effective. In that event Mr. Wilson would have two years added to his term, and Roosevelt and Taft would be eliminated as future candidates.

This shows the mischief that can be done by one man. But it seems preposterous that it should be necessary to amend the constitution to curb the overpowering ambition of an individual. It may be a wise precaution, but we do not believe the people would permit any President to have more than two terms.

LOCALS

Several cases of black diphtheria are reported from Blanchard.

Miss Margaret Furey, of Bellefonte, is a guest of Mrs. John G. King.

Mrs. Cleveland Mitterling continues to improve, but she is yet a very sick woman.

Miss June Robinson, of Martha, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Benner.

Miss Margaret McFarlane, one of the nurses at the Bellefonte Hospital, was operated on for appendicitis on Tuesday.

Miss Cora Barry, who had been in Centre Hall for a short time with her brother and sister at the Lutheran parsonage, went to Pittsburg.

About a week ago Miss Anna Ward, daughter of Merchant Warren S. Ward, of Baileyville, underwent an operation at the Bellefonte Hospital for appendicitis.

Just now we are able to see what the benefits would have been had strict quarantine regulations been enforced when the first smallpox case made its appearance in the vicinity of Bellefonte.

Roy Raymond and Robert Burchfield, who are taking a course at the Central State Normal School, at Lock Haven, notify their friends that they are highly pleased with the institution.

Among the Reporter's callers on Saturday was Ernest Treater, who will begin farming on the Reber farm, at Colyer, next spring. He will be in the market for a full equipment of farm machinery and stock.

Miss Ella Decker, of Chicago Illinois, and Scott W. Decker, of Latches, South Dakota, came east last week on account of the death of their sister, Mrs. Emerson Weiser. Both of them will remain in the east for a short time.

The newspapers are printing a story of how a Drake is rearing ostriches. The Drake referred to is D. S. Drake, of Huntingdon, and is one of the original boosters of the African Ostrich Farms and Feather Company, at Bloomsburg. This is the only ostrich farm in a cold climate, but it is making money for its owners. Last year $12,000 worth of plumes were sold.

The Pennsylvania State College observatory reports that the average temperature for January was thirty-four and eight-tenths degrees, and the average temperature for the month of January for a period of thirty-one years was twenty-six degrees. The warmest January during this period was in 1890, when the average temperature was thirty-six and six tenths degrees.

Harrisburg's Best Newspaper.

The Harrisburg Patriot is the only newspaper in Central Pennsylvania that is not controlled in politics by party alliances or political advertising. It is a clean, bright, independent and newsy paper, carrying the Associated Press reports and special features which are unmatched by any paper in the territory which it reaches. It is issued every week day in the year and is the paper for the home. The Patriot is the only daily newspaper published at Harrisburg which reaches its mail and rural free delivery subscribers on the same day it is issued.

Centre Reporter, $1 per year.

Formation of Worlds.

There are two hypotheses in reference to the condition of the matter of the universe at the moment when science begins its discussion of the formation of the worlds. Both these agree that the matter was in a nebulous condition. As Professor Young says: "This does not assume that matter was created in a nebulous condition. As the egg may be taken as the starting point for the life history of the animal, so the nebula may be taken as the starting point for the life history of the planetary system." On one theory the nebula was in the form of a heated gas; on the other, it was a cloud of cold meteoric dust. This latter many astronomers think is more likely to be true.—Scientific American.

Clever Feat.

The girl was talking to the ex-college man. "And what are you going to do now that you have completed your education?" she asked. "Oh, I think I'll live on my income," he answered airily. "I am disappointed in you. Live on your income, indeed! Why don't you do some great deed to show the world how clever you are?" "My dear young woman, if I succeed in living on my income it will be the cleverest deed any man ever accomplished."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He Got on Deck.

A sailor who had landed after a long voyage, and having been paid off, called a cab, threw his luggage inside and jumped on top himself. "Beg pardon, sir," said the astonished cabman, "but you should get inside and put your boxes on top." "Steer the craft ahead, Jarvey. Passengers always go on deck and luggage in the hold." Was the reply from the top.—London Tit-Bits.

Able Officeholder.

"I understand that you once sang in a glee club." "Yes," replied the great politician. "And I want to tell you when a man with a voice like mine can hold a position in a glee club it shows that he is some officeholder."—Los Angeles Listener.

Breakage.

"My new cook broke her word to me to come early." "Well, if her word to you is all she breaks in the house you are getting off easy."—Baltimore American.

Unsophisticated.

"Darling," said the fond youth, producing a ring, "which is the right finger?" "For goodness' sake, Algy!" responded the maiden. "Don't you know? Nineteen years old and never been engaged to a girl before!"—Chicago Tribune.

YEAR BOOK of
Stark Bro's Nurseries & Orchards Co.
MAILED TO YOU FREE
Just say on a Postal Card: "Send me a copy of Stark Year Book for 1913." When writing, also tell us how many trees, shrubs, vines, etc., you will probably plant this season.
This Year Book is more than a mere catalogue of Stark nursery products, it is a practical, easy to understand text book for the guidance of the man who plants trees. Our own experience of nearly 100 years, the reports of experiment stations and the opinions of planters from all sections are condensed and reproduced for the benefit of busy people. An encyclopedia of orchard information, containing full size color illustrations of gloriously tinted fruits and many photographic reproductions in black and white; also information on many subjects in which the orchardist is interested.
Hundreds of varieties of apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, apricot, quince, grape and all small fruits are described; weaknesses of each variety are pointed out and good points are explained. We feel that planters should know both.
Those interested in growing fruit or flowers or shrubs or shade trees will find this book of inestimable value; totally different from the average nurseryman's publications. It is a book you will keep for reference, and one on which you can depend as being absolutely accurate. Write today for your copy.
