

DEATHS.

The Johnstown Democrat of 3rd instant gives this account of the death of Rev. Samuel Krider, a native of Ferguson township:

The Rev. Samuel Krider, for many years the pastor of nearby Lutheran churches, died at the Memorial Hospital early yesterday morning of pneumonia after an illness of but a week's duration. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Moxham Lutheran church, the services to be conducted by the Rev. H. S. Rhoads, the pastor, assisted by several other ministers of the Lutheran denomination.

The Rev. Mr. Krider was born Nov. 13, 1841, at Gatesburg, Centre county, the son of John and Elizabeth Krider and served three years in the civil war. He also taught school for some time and later was graduated from the Susquehanna University. His first charge was at Turtle Creek and later he was the pastor of the Lutheran churches at Elderton, Armstrong county; Cookport, Indiana county, and Hooversville, Somerset county. His sight failed at one time and for nine years he resided at Windber, entering the mercantile business. When he regained the use of his eyes he again took up ministerial work, and supplied at Lovett, where he built the Lutheran church, and at South Fork, Puritan and Morrellville this city.

In 1869 the Rev. Mr. Krider married Miss Mary Royer, at Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, who survives. Beside his widow he is also survived by two sons, S. A. Krider of Starford, Indiana county, and A. R. Krider of 539 Central avenue; two brothers, Isaac Krider of Dancessville, Blair county, and Jacob Krider of Gatesburg, the old homestead, and two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Strayer of Hollidaysburg and Mrs. Mary Strayer of Gatesburg. The Rev. Mr. Krider had resided since 1907 at 528 Central avenue, this city.

Mrs. Jennie Weiser, wife of Emerson Weiser, of Altoona, died in the hospital in that city at midnight, Wednesday of last week, from appendicitis. Mrs. Weiser underwent an operation on Saturday previous at the Mercy Hospital, but without avail, for the disease had progressed to such a stage that peritonitis developed.

Her maiden name was Miss Jennie Decker and she was born at Spring Mills, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Green Decker. At the time of death she was twenty-six years, seven months and eighteen days old, and her untimely demise is mourned by a wide circle of friends. She was a kindly young woman of many pleasing characteristics. On June 20, 1912, she was married to Emerson Weiser since which time they had lived in Altoona. She leaves her husband, six brothers and one sister, namely: Miss Ella M., Chicago, Illinois; Scott W., Latche, South Dakota; Thomas J., Colonel G., Spring Mills; Joseph E., Fleisher, North Dakota; Dolen D. and Edward C., Spring Mills.

The remains were brought to Spring Mills, and on Monday the funeral was held from the home of Colonel G. Decker; interment at Millheim. Rev. John M. Price, pastor of the United Evangelical church of which denomination the deceased was a member, was the officiating pastor, and he was assisted by Rev. J. Max Lanz.

Miss Marian Burchfield and cousin, Miss Mary McClellan gave a surprise party for the former's mother, a few days ago, at Tussey Sink. The girls got up the party in quick order, yet some thirty persons responded to the invitation, and all of them enjoyed the evening very much. Refreshments were served, and all wished Mrs. Burchfield many more happy birthdays. Those present were: H. W. Franz, Verna and Sarah Franz, Charles Detwiler, Wilbur Bunkle, John and Fred Horner, Roy Mariz, William and Lee Richard, Samuel Zerby, William and George Swartz, James Foust, Charles Coldron, Mamie Weaver, Margaret Rockey, Ruth Mariz, Mary Wagner, Alma Stoner, Ada Meiss, Mary, Bessie and Hazel McClellan.

The New York Male Quartette will be in Grange Hall, Spring Mills, Thursday evening, 13th instant.

All audiences on all occasions enjoy a quartette of male voices. To the common people it is the one perfect organ, to the cultured and the critics it brings so great a message of mellow song that technique is lost in sweetness, and those who come to scoff remain to worship at the invisible throne of one of nature's purest expressions.

B Frank Reish, of Centre Hall, purchased the Milroy hotel from S. S. Brown, and about April 1st will move there and take charge of the same. Mr. Brown has been proprietor of this hotel for many years. He will continue to reside in Milroy.

Smallpox at Lemont.

Smallpox has made its appearance at Lemont, and on Tuesday the home of James Williams was put under quarantine, the head of the family being the afflicted one. Mr. Williams had been employed at Bellefonte, and it is presumed he came in contact with the disease there.

There is considerable stir about Lemont since the loathsome disease broke out there, and it is owing to the fact that up until the day the Williams home was placarded, many neighbors frequented the place.

Millheim will have a minstrel show on Saturday evening of next week. It is a home talent affair, and the young men who are taking part promise their audience good entertainment.

A company of home talent will give a play in Grange Arcadia, Thursday night, 20th instant, the proceeds of which are for the benefit of Progress Grange. A fuller announcement will appear later.

Gilliland's corn remedy is advertised in this issue. Mr. Gilliland is a State College druggist and assures those pestered from corns that they can be almost instantly relieved by his remedy, which is sent by mail.

Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lambert went to Bangor, Northampton county, to attend the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. Andrew Ruth. Northumberland county is the native home of Mr. Lambert.

There are a number of cases of smallpox in Bellefonte, but the disease is not nearly so prevalent as the reports circulated in other localities make it. There are also a number of cases of the disease at the Forge, but every effort is being made to check its spread.

A yellow label on your express package indicates that express charges have been pre paid, and a white label indicates that the package was forwarded "collect." This system of white and yellow labels has been adopted by express companies by order of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

School Code and Transportation.

Judge Orvis in an opinion filed in the case of J. H. Houck vs. Ferguson township, virtually set aside the provisions in the school code regarding transportation of school children.

Mr. Houck asked the board to transport his children to a school, because of the fact that the board had closed the school in the district in which he lived. The court decided the township did not need to do so.

BURNING WOMEN ALIVE.

A Punishment That Was Abolished in England in 1790.

The horrible punishment of burning women alive seems to have existed in Saxon England, but perhaps only in the case of slaves. Under the Norman rulers any woman, bond or free, who killed her husband was burned alive, and the same punishment for this crime and also for high treason and even for coining and other minor offenses continued or arose from time to time through the second and third periods until it was abolished by act of parliament in 1790, the last actual execution of this kind having, however, taken place six years earlier.

The whipping of women for various offenses continued even later. Public whipping was not abandoned until 1817, and cases of private whipping occurred as late as 1820.

There can be no doubt, we think, that the savage human instinct of cruelty had something to do with the barbarous punishments above mentioned. As the old Roman public longed for the carnage of the circus, as the Spanish populace crowded to the auto-da-fe in the flourishing days of the inquisition, so the lower (perhaps not only the lower) strata of English nationality took delight in witnessing tortures which in all probability were devised and kept up partly for their entertainment. Judge Jeffreys in sentencing a woman to be whipped is reported to have said:

"Hangman, I charge you to pay particular attention to this lady. Scourge her till her blood runs down. It is Christmas time, a cold time for madams to strip. See that you burn her shoulders thoroughly."—Cornhill Magazine.

The Bright Guide.

It was a party of visitors seeing the sights in Pittsburgh that finally entered the conservatory presented to the city by Mr. Phipps. The curator while showing them around was called away on business and left the visitors in charge of one of the clerks. They came to a beautiful statue which was admired immensely. It was of translucent marble. He pointed out the excellence of the statue, told the name of the sculptor and showed it from every viewpoint. One asked, "Alabaster, isn't it?" "No," he said. "Venus."—Argonaut.

Spanish Women's Hands. The hands of a Spanish woman have a classic beauty, and their movements are incomparable. Such hands cannot be described; they can only be admired. When they manipulate a fan or roll a cigarette, when they raise a skirt or arrange a mantilla, it is always done with infinite grace. A Spanish woman alone knows how to use her hands as they truly should be used.—New York Sun.

A Settler.

"Yes," said Mr. Cumrox earnestly, "but what convinces you that the duke loves our daughter deeply and devotedly?" "The fact," replied his wife icily, "that he is willing to accept you as a father-in-law."—Washington Star.

Defining a Canard.

Willie—Paw, what is a canard? Paw—A canard is when a newspaper prints a statement that a politician who is a friend of the pen-pal has had his pants pressed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
