Lawyer Broomall Pleads Guilty, and After Accepting Imprisonment for Short Term Escapes Another Charge on a Technicality.

Media.-Henry L. Broomall, expresident of the Media Club, headquarters for the elite of the community, ex-vice-president of the Delaware County Institute of Science, and extreasurer of the Delaware County Prison Board, was released from jail. Broomall was one of the most prominent of Media's attorneys at the time he was arrested by Herman Cope, of Moylan. This was on July 27, 1911. Cope charged that Broomall had embezzled about $900, paid to him in a suit for damages. The arrest created a great deal of excitement, and in a few days it was learned that he had misappropriated more than $50,000 intrusted to him by clients.

One Plea of Guilt. Broomall at the December term of Court in 1911, before Judge Ralston, of Philadelphia, who came to Media to try the case, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to one year in jail from date of commitment. His time expired July 27, 1912, and as he was about to walk out of the prison he was served by the Sheriff with a detainer on a charge of embezzling $5,000 from Miss Hattle Gault, former postmistress of Media, who had placed bonds to that amount in his charge for safekeeping. Broomall declined to give f o b afloat. bail, and went back to jail to awit the action of the grand jury. The December grand jury found a true bill, but before that body adjourned it was discovered that the jury-wheel had been "stuffed" and that the jury was illegal. All its findings were set aside by the court. A recent act of the Legislature prohibits a prisoner being held over two terms of court for trial, and, as Broomall's case had been continued from the September term, this gave him the legal right to be released.

Woman Sufferer Surprised. J. Watts Mercur, counsel for Miss Gault, was asked to make application for the release of Broomall, but he refused to do this. Miss Gault, the prosecutor against Broomall, was astounded when she learned that he had been given his liberty. "Why," she said, "some one came to my boarding home-a court officer, I think-and informed me that I would have to be in court on next morning, as that was the time fixed for my case." When Broomall left the jail he was taken to an automobile and hurrled out of town. His wife has taken a cottage at Chelsea, N. J.

Shamokin. - When Mrs. Michael O'Brien awoke she was almost asphyxiated by coal gas, generated during the night by a damper dropping into a heater. After a heroic effort she aroused her husband, who was in a semi-conscious condition, along with their four children. O'Brien crawled when strong enough he summoned a physician, who worked a number of hours resuscitating the children.

TRAGEDY OF AN AIR DEATH

How the Grandchildren of Colonel Nieuport Concealed His Son's Death.

"Why did not Charles come back yesterday?" querulously demanded Colonel Nieuport, the eighty-two-yearold father of the airman killed near Etampes, Seine-et-Loire, recently. His eldest brother, Edward Nieuport, was killed in the military maneuvers of 1911.

The news of the second son's death been hidden from the father, and his relatives could only reply: "Charles has gone for a great

"Ah, well! And why, then, has not Edward come to bid me good night?' They could not make him remember that Edward was long dead. With tears in their eyes his grandchildren brought him letters and flowers to distract him.

"What has happened?" asked the old colonel.

"Why, nothing, nothing, grandfa-

The old man's memory returned and he was heard muttering: "It is dreadful to lose your boy. I would rather have died before him. And the second-his brother's equal-nothing can have happened to him? Oh, no. The same house could not twice suffer a blow like that." Smiling, he thought of the honors which his younger son was gaining.

Suddenly the sound of military bushels, against 3,268,770 bushels last music came up from the street. It drew nearer, and as the beating drums passed the old soldier's window he got up with difficulty, leaned out of the window and saluted the passing regiment. Newspaper boys followed the crowd, shouting, "News of the accident." Gentle hands dragged the old man back-"Go in, grandpa! You are getting cold."-Paris Journal, Italy's Fight Against Malaria.

Reports from American consular of ficers in Genoa and Leghorn, prepared in response of inquiries from the United States as to the market in Italy for a remedy for malaria, show that the prevalence of malaria in that kingdom has steadily declined in recent years, mainly due, it is stated, to the energetic measures of the Italian government. Quinine prepared at the State Military Pharmacy at Turin is said by Consul General James A. Smith to be on sale at all government tobacco shops at 4 cents a gram and is distributed gratis to poor patients Consul Frank Deedmeyer writes that in 1911 the number of deaths in Italy caused by malaria was estimated at 3,500 in a total population of over 33,000,000.-Daily Consular and Trade Charity Without Pauperism. A great defect of many charitable schemes is their tendency to pauperiver. Head-ize the beneficiaries. This is overcome by one of the methods adopted by the Robert Browning settlement at Vealworth, which supplies boots to poor children. The footgear is handed over in return for the payment by the parents of a small weekly "rent' until the retail price has been covered. After the final payment the boots still remain the property of the settlement, without whose permission they can neither be sold nor pawned.-London

STRENGTH Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day. Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it. A Calif, business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning. but that would produce energy.

He writes: "For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments.

"Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring.

"I find four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal. and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.
