LOCALS.

Ray Durst is confined to bed on account of sickness.
Dr. R. H. G. Hayes and Dr. David Dale, of Bellefonte, are in Philadelphia.
Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Brungart, of Spring Mills, have located in Williamsburg.
Mrs. D. A. Boozar continues to get along nicely after an operation, which was described in the last issue of the Reporter.
Mr. and Mrs. George L. Goodhart attended the funeral of the former's cousin, Mrs. Lewis Gagghagan, at Lewistown.
Mrs. Durst, widow of the late George Durst, is ill. She is well advanced in years and has been feeble for several years.
Mrs. Joseph K. Moyer, of Rebersburg, who was operated on in a Baltimore hospital, is improving nicely, and is now at the home of her daughter in that city.
Lumberman Zimmerman, of Millheim, is loading a car of pine lumber at the Centre Hall station. The lumber was cut on the Frankenberger farm, east of Centre Hall.
A youth nineteen years old has been locked up in Harrisburg. He was a mail carrier between the postoffice and the railroad station at Millintown. While waiting for his mail bags, it is said, he stole letters from individual boxes.
Miss Laura Runkle was entertained at the home of Miss Louise Brachbill, in Bellefonte, over Sunday, and on the following day Miss Brachbill accompanied Miss Runkle to her home in Centre Hall, where she will remain for a short time.
Mrs. George E. Heckman accompanied Miss Iona Tibbetts as far as Williamsport on her way to her home in Maine. Mrs. Heckman went to Williamsport to consult an eye specialist, her eyes having been weakening since her sickness during the past winter.
The citizens of State College raised $373 for the Ohio flood sufferers. The money was forwarded to Governor Cox, of Ohio, through Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania. Money was also raised in other sections of the state and sent to the flooded district through the same channel.
The Millheim civic club is conducting a fair in the old town hall, and will add the profits to a fund being raised by that organization with which to build a new town hall. A number of booths have been put up on the second story of the hall, and they are handsomely decorated and presided over by Millheim's sweetest of the fair sex.
Out in Pittsburgh the pretty maidens resorted to a novel and effective method of persuading workmen not to break a strike. They were stationed at the gates of the shops, and as a would-be strike-breaker approached he was hailed and offered all the kisses and hugs he wanted provided he agreed not to interfere with the strikers' movement. Not a soul entered the gates, but many kissed and hugged.
Up to this time the Reporter went to press, the court took no action in the license case for Shawer's hotel in Millheim, and since Tuesday, the first of April, Millheim has been dry. What the court will do no one knows. He has the privilege to grant the house a license at any time during the year. The peculiar condition is that there was no remonstrance against the hotel, and there is nothing on record to indicate that the laws have been violated by the landlord.

Mr. Tibbetts' House Burned.

Word was received here a few days ago that J. F. Tibbetts had a heavy fire loss. Mr. Tibbetts now lives in Bethel, Maine, where he purchased a dwelling house and undertaking establishment. A short time ago at the dead of night his home was discovered to be on fire, and was entirely consumed, together with most of the furniture in it. A local paper publishes the statement that the dwelling house was worth at least $2000. There was insurance in the sum of $1200, but this will not nearly cover the loss of the house alone. The stable was saved, as was also the undertaking establishment, which latter was located at some distance.

The Y. P. B. Social.

The young ladies and gentlemen, members of the Y. P. B., spent a very delightful evening at the Presbyterian manse last Friday evening. After a brief business session various games were introduced which afforded much amusement and made every one feel at home with everybody else. Good nature and happiness were everywhere in evidence. Refreshments were served by the losers in a contest for increase of membership. The company dispersed feeling that it was good and profitable to be there.

Harris township.

George Lohr, with his family, spent Sunday with his parents at Pine Hall. The civic club will hold their monthly meeting in the school building this (Thursday) evening.
Mrs. Edwards and Miss Freda Kennedy, of State College, were guests at the Fisher home on Sunday.
Mrs. Jacob Condo died on Tuesday evening. The funeral will take place from her home on Friday morning.
Elmer Rosenman moved to his father's farm just west of Boalsburg. The farm is generally known as the Goheen farm.
A company of fun-loving people of Boalsburg and vicinity enjoyed a dance in the Boal hall on Monday evening.
Misses Helen and Teresine Kimpert drove from Bellefonte to Boalsburg on Saturday and attended the play in the evening.
Mrs. Mary Brouse, who had been keeping house for Cyrus Durst since Christmas, returned to her home at Pine Grove Mills on Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Mouser of Lemont, and Messrs. Cohn and Raymond Rudy, students of State College, were guests at the H. M. Hosterman home on Sunday.
Mrs. Nancy McClintock had public sale of some of her household goods on Thursday and will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Korman, near Rebersburg.
Mrs. E. R. Williams visited for a few days at Altoona, while there she spent some time with her brother-in-law, Andrew Kramer, who is in the hospital suffering with pneumonia and other ailments.
Mrs. Wm. Goheen attended the Presbyterian Missionary Conference at Huntingdon, last week, and visited with relatives at Tyrone, and also spent some time with her daughter who is teaching in Blair county.
We are advancing these days. The old methods are giving way to the new, and now the mail and passengers are being carried between Oak Hall Station and Boalsburg in an automobile, the carrier being Elmer Houtz, who will at least continue the service until the 15th of this month. This change was brought about by the retirement of Cyrus Durst as a mail carrier, who was a sub-contractor under George Kaup, the veterinary surgeon. Mr. Kaup also sent his resignation as a carrier to the Post-office Department. A number of persons have made application to become carriers.
The play by the high school on Saturday evening was rendered to perfection before a large audience. Every available space in the hall was taken up, fine selections of music were given by the Boalsburg orchestra. The sum realized was sixty-three dollars, which will be devoted to purchasing a library. The play will be repeated on Saturday evening, when the Boalsburg band will join with the students in the entertainment. Admission, 10 and 20 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the band.
John Stamm, who has been the farmer on the Theodore Boal home farm, quit farming on account of ill health. He had sale on Friday and moved to Altoona. Robert Bailey is moving into the home vacated by Mr. Stamm. Mr. Boal is stocking the farm and paying Mr. Bailey wages. H. S. Harro moved from Boalsburg to Hellwood, Indiana county; Charles Segner and Harold Coxey bought the tinning tools and will carry on the business at Boalsburg; George Koch moved from Boalsburg to a Koch farm in west Ferguson township; G. W. Houtz moved from near Centre Furnace to the Kidder farm near Walnut Grove; Frank Thorpe moved from Boalsburg to the Boal farm north of Oak Hall; L. Mothersbaugh moved from the Hillside farm to Boalsburg, and his sons, Charles and Daniel, will occupy the farm.
Tener's club license bill was defeated and the woman's suffrage bill was postponed to avoid defeat.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. Lucy Henney will have her formal millinery opening on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 8th and 9th, at her store in Centre Hall. She has been in Philadelphia and personally selected a stock of goods from the best stores in the city. As is her custom, her selections were made with a view of pleasing her customers, with whose tastes she is familiar, having furnished them season after season for many years.
The styles this year are exceptionally pretty and varied, and all will be able to make selections that will be becoming and stylish.
The item of prices scarcely need be touched on, yet it might be well to say that Mrs. Henney's former reputation, and that everything sold by her will be guaranteed to be just as represented.
Keep in mind the opening days—Tuesday and Wednesday, April 8th and 9th. Come on those days, if you can, if you cannot come then, come when you can, and you will not regret your visit.

Linden Hall.

Miss Margaret Musser spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Anna Ross. Miss Louella Ross returned Tuesday from a visit at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Black at Troutville.
Misses Isabel McWilliams and Maud Miller, of Rock Springs, spent Saturday with the latter's sister and attended the play on Saturday night.
Misses Aemath and Phoebe Potter have both been on the sick list. The latter is improving, but the condition of the former is not encouraging.
John Diehl moved Monday into the Ross house vacated by J. H. Welby, and Mr. Welby moved into the one he purchased last winter from Mrs. Meyer. Jacob Zeng moved into the house vacated by Mr. Colyer.
The high school play, entitled "The 15th of January," which was given in Boal hall on Saturday evening, was so well received that the young people have been induced to give it again on Saturday evening, April the fifth, for the benefit of the Theodore Davis Boal Band. They had a crowded house, every foot of space in the hall having been taken and many were turned away at the door. The proceeds were sixty five dollars and this was applied to the library fund.

Dr. A. G. Lieb moved from Spring Mills to Centre Hall, and in a few days will have his home fixed up and his office open.

YEAR BOOK of
Stark Bro's Nurseries & Orchards Co.
MAILED TO YOU FREE
Just say on a Postal Card: "Send me a copy of Stark Year Book for 1913." When writing, also tell us how many trees, shrubs, vines, etc., you will probably plant this season.
This Year Book is more than a mere catalogue of Stark nursery products, it is a practical easy to understand text book for the guidance of the man who plants trees. Our own experience of nearly 100 years, the reports of experiment stations and the opinions of planters from all sections are condensed and reproduced for the benefit of busy people. An encyclopedia of orchard information, containing full size color illustrations of gloriously fruited fruits and many photographic reproductions in black and white; also information on many subjects in which the orchardist is interested.
Hundreds of varieties of apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, apricot, quince, grape and all small fruits are described; weaknesses of each variety are pointed out and good points are explained. We feel that planters should know both.
Those interested in growing fruits or flowers or shrubs or shade trees will find this book of incalculable value; totally different from the average nurseryman's publications. It is a book you will keep for reference, and one on which you can depend as being absolutely accurate. Write today for your copy.

SHE WAS A CREOLE.

Her Visitor Was Sorry For That Until He Was Enlightened.
It was snowing in the north, but in New Orleans the air was as soft as May, and in a garden brilliant with flowers and sunshine the winter visitors drank after luncheon the famous creole coffee.
"How good this creole coffee is!" said a young man.
"I make it," said the hostess. "I am, you know, a creole."
The young man looked shocked, hurt. "Well, after all," he said in a low voice, "you can't help that, and I'm sure no sensible person thinks any the worse of you."
His hostess, who was very beautiful, with hair and eyes like night, laughed merrily.
"Define the word 'creole,'" she said. And the young man replied, "A creole is a descendant of French or Spanish immigrants, with a touch of negro blood in his or her veins."
"And the word means just the opposite!" the woman cried. "A creole is a descendant of French or Spanish immigrants whose veins hold not a drop of negro blood."
"Well, well! I didn't know that."
"No!" she said. "Nobody from the north does. The word creole is probably the unique word of the dictionary, a word that is universally misunderstood. Why, it is as though you thought up there in the north that white meant black."—New York Tribune.

The Golf Caddie.
The earliest known use of the appellation "caddie," and then called "caddie," is to be found in the London Morning Penny Post, when George II. was still on the throne and the "Forty-five" was in very immediate popular remembrance. News from Scotland had it that "one Duncan Grant, a discharged soldier, who has passed in Edinburgh sometimes as a street caddie," had incurred a heavy penalty for a rather trivial swindle in a transaction over herrings. He was to be taken from the Tolbooth and "put in the Pillory, to stand for the Space of an Hour, with half a Dozen Herrings about his Neck, and thereafter to be banished the City of Liberties for ever."
It was a rough sort of making the punishment fit the crime which some irate golfers would desire to revive for their caddies even in this more humane age.—Westminster Gazette.

Japan's Musical Trio.
In Japan a favorite musical instrument is the koku, a kind of two stringed violin. It is supposed to have had the same origin as the violin and to have been brought to Japan by the Portuguese about 300 years ago. The koku is played with a bow, like the violin, but instead of being held under the chin is held vertically upon the lap by the left hand. The samisen and koku are often used to accompany the koto, and when played together they are called "the musical trio" by the Japanese. The samisen is the most generally played by the people.
