In the care of baby's skin and hair, Cuticura Soap is the mother's favorite. Not only is it unrivaled in purity and refreshing fragrance, but its gentle emollient properties are usually sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness, roughness and chafing, soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and hair health generally. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, it is most valuable in the treatment of eczemas, rashes and other itching, burning infantile eruptions. Cuticura Soap wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of ordinary soap and making its use most economical.

In voting, Mr. Vare, who was preoccupied, voted no, but quickly changed to aye. The fact that it was a tie vote was quickly known, and interest was centred in what would be the next move. There was an intimation that in case of a tie the opponents would claim that the Powell motion was dead, not getting a majority vote; but they were not familiar with the Constitution, and Secretary Baker was. He produced a copy of the fundamental document, and there read that the Lieutenant Governor only has years the Lieutenant-Governor, as a vote in the Senate in case it is equally divided on a question. That seemed to settle the matter. The Lieutenant Governor had a vote, and his nervousness betrayed that he was Plowing is at best the hardest work our farm horses have to perform. Few plow teams are not doing 10 to tough-Coated Scotch Variety is Not 30 per cent. of unnecessary work. The writer has seen plows which he believed were pullfng 50 per cent harder than they should, writes E. W. Hamilton in an exchange.

We are told that about 50 per cent. of the draft of a plow is due to the cutting of the furrow slice. The condition of the cutting edge must then be of first importance. Expert plowmen recognize this and in competitions file their shares to knife edges. One authority claims that an old share resharpened has shown 36 per cent, heavier draft than a new share. Again, engine plows of the same make and size have under the same conditions shown 45 per cent. difference in draft in favor of the new freshly filed shares over resharpened shares in ordinary condition. It will certainly pay to keep the plowshares sharp and in proper form.

The set and adjustment of a plow has almost as much to do with the draft as condition of the share. A riding plow with rear furrow wheel should pull little or no harder than a walking plow or plows of the same widths. Yet how many do it? About 30 per cent. of the draft of a walking plow is due to the friction of the plow on the bottom and side of the furrow. In the riding plow this friction is eliminated by carrying the weight and down and side pressure of plow bottom on wheels. To accomplish this the rear furrow wheel is set out about an inch and a quarter so that landside cannot touch the side furrow. The wheel is also set down so the heel of landside is raised off the bottom of furrow. When so set the plow bottom will sink into the ground and hang there. When plow bottoms "float" in the frame none of the bottom and side pressure s removed and the draft of the bottoms is the same as that of the walking plows to which must be added that due to weight of plow frame and driver.

demanded a vote on the bill now. What was the use of postponing the inevitable? asked Herbst, meaning the bill's defeat. The Senate was as full now as it will be at any time hereafter, and action on the bill should no longer be delayed. Herbst was eager for# blood. Beidleman broke in here with a sneer at Powell as being inconsistent in pleading for Senatorial courtesy now, when he opposed it on the Snyder Attorney bill. He should be consistent, remarked the Dauphin Senator in a voice that rattled the windows, and not ask for a postponement. Powell said his action in withdrawing opposition to postponement was born of Senatorial courtesy. On the present measure he disavowed his purpose to prevent action; he merely desired to postpone until there was a full Senate present.

"There was an understanding," said

Previous Agreement Cited.

Powell, "when this bill was reported out that unless all Senators were present the bill should be postponed." and he wanted that agreement carried out. Then he served warning that if Senatorial courtesy were disregarded in this matter there would be something doing in the future that might not be so pleasant. Beidleman returned with the assertion that Powell's action was not based on Senatorial courtesy, and as this is not a Senate bill, but from the House, Powell had no right in good faith to ask a postponement. Senator Nulty favored postponement, because, as he made plain, it was a courtesy due to absent members who favored the bill.

Eagerly Keeping Tally.

Lieutenant-Governor Reynolds was about to order a call of the roll on Powell's motion to postpone, when Senator McIlhenny, of Philadelphia, arose to remark that whatever vote he cast on Powell's motion was not to be construed on the merits of the resolution. Then the vote was ordered. and the 100 or more women in the lowing was the vote in full:

House Doubles Salaries.

With eyes wide open and with deliberate forethought, the House of Representatives stood by its hasty action in voting into the hands of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board the power to increase its payroll ad libitum, without consent of anybody. and to scatter through the State paid agents, to be used for any purpose which suits the Board. By the same act it increased the salary of the Secretary of the Board by 100 per- cent. and the salary of the assistant secretary to the same tune. The bill was slipped through without comment when members were voting perfunc torily as the bills came up in their order. An effort to reconsider the vote was halted by a motion to adjourn, was renewed by its author, Bergey, Demorcat, of Montgomery county, and the matter was debated at length It was pointed out that in addition to increasing the salary of the secretary from $2,500 to $5,000 and the assist ant secretary from $1,000 to $2,000. the measure took all restrictions off the employment of agents, permit ting the board to employ "such agents as may be necessary." and to fix their salaries. Under the present law, the Farm and Home, board can employ not more than ten agents, at $1,800 a year each.
