

Magee-Huyett.

The chief social feature in Centre Hall for some months has been the wedding of William Austin Magee and Miss Leila May Huyett on Wednesday evening, and the reception immediately thereafter.

The ceremony took place at exactly six o'clock when the groom was led to the altar by his brother, Forest N. Magee, and by his father, E. M. Huyett, following the flower girl, Miriam Huyett, the little sister of the bride, carrying a French basket filled with apple blossoms.

The mother of the bride was gowned in a gray crepe de chine, and the mother of the groom wore a black chantilly robe of lace draped over white satin.

The bride was dressed in white batiste trimmed with valenciennes lace. As previously intimated the bride is the eldest of the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett, and is a young lady of the highest qualities.

The groom is a son of Mrs. R. M. Magee, of Philadelphia, and holds a position in the Philadelphia Customs House, having been there for a number of years. He is a young man of sterling qualities and worthy of the prize he won.

After the wedding ceremonies were over, and the couple made man and wife were congratulated by the immediate families, a reception was given to a large number of invited guests, and elaborate refreshments were served.

Many and costly were the wedding presents. It was by great odds the finest collection displayed at any similar local event.

After mingling with the guests for a short time, Mr. and Mrs. Magee started on a short honeymoon trip, taking the train at Bellefonte. The objective point of the tour will be a resort in Canada, but their stay from home will be short. They will live in Philadelphia, where the groom has a home in readiness.

LOCALS

Jacob F. Orr came to Centre Hall on Wednesday morning.

Progress Grange will meet Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Stuart E. Jordan, tenant on the C. S. Buttorf farm, near Colyer, on Monday lost a valuable horse. The animal was but five years old, and died of lockjaw, caused by a decayed tooth which also afflicted his jaw.

Among the progressive farmers in Potter township is E. H. Grove, who lives on the R'shel farm, near Centre Hill, which farm he purchased from H. E. Shirk. Mr. Grove prides in keeping good horses, and has a number of heavy drafters at work on his farm.

Forest Commissioner Conklin has prepared plans for a home for the state forester who cares for the state's property in the Seven Mountains. The dwelling house will be pretty and conveniently arranged. The location of the house will be at the Forest place along the pike.

Dr. George W. Hull, head of the department of Mathematics at Millersville State Normal, will deliver the commencement address next Monday evening in Grange Arcadia. Dr. Hull comes highly recommended as a lecturer and has a state-wide reputation as a speaker at teachers' institutes.

George E. Meyer, of Boalsburg, has taken the agency for the Metz automobile, and is the owner of a new machine of that make. Mr. Meyer is also giving time to the sale of pianos and other instruments of music, as well as to the tuning of the same. He will be pleased to wait on any who are in need of his services.

The members of the Y. P. B. had a most delightful time at the opening of the hall on Saturday evening. Light refreshments were served. The hall, as the opening program indicated, will be open to the young people every Saturday evening. The young are welcome to any recommendation and convenience the hall affords.

Prof. A. Merrill Allison, of Chicago, Illinois, came to Centre Hall on Wednesday to visit his brother, Dr. J. R. G. Allison. Prof. Allison is one of the professors in one of Chicago's largest high schools, and is meeting with success. There are twenty city high schools and the one with which he is connected is second in the largest. It is eleven years since he taught the local high school, and made a good record here.

DEATHS

Mrs. Mary Harter, nee Musser, the youngest daughter of the late Rev. Sebastian and Polly Musser, died at her home in Coburn, Thursday of last week, at the age of sixty-nine years and twenty-one days. She was married to the late Reuben Harter, May 4th, 1862. Surviving this union are two sons, W. J. Harter, of Coburn, and A. M. Harter, of Harter, West Virginia. Two grandsons and one great grandson, also survive. Mother Harter was a faithful and constant member of the Evangelical Church for forty-nine years. The funeral services were held Sunday morning from her late home in charge of Rev. W. J. Dice, and interment was made in the Fairview cemetery at Millheim.

Mrs. John Sterrett died at her home in Milroy, after a week's illness with pneumonia, aged fifty-seven years. She is survived by a husband and these children:

Robert Sterrett, assistant superintendent of the Hempfield coal mines at Greensburg; Andrew Sterrett, of Milroy, star pitcher on the Milroy baseball team; Charles Sterrett, first baseman and catcher for the New York American League baseball team, and Miss Helen Jane Sterrett, at home.

Centre county is entitled to one of the McAllister freshmen scholarships in Pennsylvania State College for the year beginning September, 1913. The scholarship will be awarded in this county on a competitive examination to be given at the college by the faculty committee on entrance, July 12 and 13, 1913. This examination will comprise English grammar and composition, American history, algebra, and plain geometry.

For any further information desired address the Registrar, State College, Pa.

Marriage Licenses.

Joseph Griffin, Phillipsburg Anna Swanson, Phillipsburg Joseph Graf, Jersey Shore Mary Chapman, Howard John Tressler, Bellefonte Bertha Musser, Evansburg William A. Magee, Philadelphia Leila May Huyett, Centre Hall Lloyd C. Shuey, Jersey Shore Lillian Stein, Stormstown Gust Tekely, Phillipsburg Annie Jacobs, Clarence

G. Bruce Goodhart, of Orangeville, Illinois, was elected tax collector in the district in which he lives. The district is Republican, but he won out by over fifty of a majority. The office is worth several hundred dollars annually. Mr. Goodhart is a son of former commissioner George L. Goodhart, of Centre Hall, and that settles the quality of his democracy.

Seven in the Bible.

The number seven plays a prominent part in events in the Bible. The creation took six days, and on the seventh there was rest. On the seventh day of the seventh month a holy observance was ordained, and the Israelites feasted seven days and rested seven days. Noah had seven days' warning of the flood, and the seven years of plenty were foretold in Pharaoh's dream by seven fat beasts, as were the seven lean years by seven lean beasts. We speak of the seven heavens, and the seventh son was supposed to be endowed with pre-eminent wisdom. In short, there is no other number which enters into the Bible so often as seven. No doubt the wide popularity of the number and the superstitions which are connected with it came from its wide use in the Bible.

Tacking Explained.

"What do people mean when they talk about tacking?" asked Bobby, who had listened to a detailed account of his sister's first experience in a sail boat, but in considerable confusion of mind. "Oh, you'll know when you're a little bit older," said his sister, but the small round face wore an expression of inquiry, and she had to explain further. "Why, it's just—turning halfway round," she said, with slight hesitation, "and then—and then you sail on the bias."

The Gurgle in the Bottle.

Why does water gurgle when poured from a bottle? As water pours out air attempts to pour in. Occasionally the hand holding the bottle may move and give the air the opportunity. The quick rush of the water to fill the hole made by the air causes the gurgling sound.

Grading the Rulers.

Themistocles, it is said, declared that his son was the strongest man in Greece. "For," said he, "the Athenians rule the Hellenes, I rule the Athenians, your mother rules me, and you rule your mother."

A Really Smart Man.

"He always says the right thing at the right time, doesn't he?" "More than that. He always keeps still at the right time."—Houston Post.

Very Much Easier.

"Any man can make a fool of himself." "True, but with a woman's help it's much easier."—Boston Transcript.

First Public Flight of an Aeroplane in This Country.

In "The Curtiss Aviation Book" Glenn Curtiss describes the first public aeroplane flight in America, in the days before any one had ever heard of the young Yankee inventor, and he was experimenting with Alexander Graham Bell and others:

"Baldwin climbed into the seat, took the control in hand, and we cranked the motor. When we released our hold of the machine it sped over the ice like a scared rabbit for two or three hundred feet and then, much to our joy, it jumped into the air. This was what we had worked for through many long months, and naturally we watched the brief and uncertain course of Baldwin with a good deal of emotion.

"Rising to a height of six or seven feet, Baldwin flew the unheard of distance of 318 feet 11 inches! Then he came down ingloriously on one wing. As we learned afterward, the frail framework of the tail had bent and the machine had flopped over on its side and dropped on the wing, which gave way and caused the machine to turn completely around.

"It had taken just seven weeks to build the machine and get it ready for the trial; it had taken just about twenty seconds to smash it. But a great thing had been accomplished. We had achieved the first public flight of a heavier than air machine in America!"
