

No Coloring in Oleomargarine.
The proposed law permitting coloring of oleomargarine in imitation of butter was defeated in the House by 145 nays to 42 yeas. Its defeat was so overwhelming that there is no likelihood of any attempts to resuscitate it. It is entirely dead for this season. The farmer element in the legislature, and many members from the cities, opposed the bill on the ground that the real effect of coloring oleo would be to deceive the people into buying it for butter.

Church Rededication.
Services of rededication will be held in Zion Lutheran church, Rebersburg, on Sunday, May 11th, at 10 o'clock a. m. The sermon will be preached by Rev. C. T. Aikens, D. D., President Susquehanna University, Selins Grove. Evening services at 7:45, when the sermon will be preached by Rev. L. Stoy Spangler, the newly elected pastor at Pine Grove Mills. The public is cordially invited to all these services.

Church Rededication.
Miss Lois Krise, daughter of W. S. Krise, and J. Frank Sharpe, a druggist, both of Johnstown, were married in the woman's parlor of the Presbyterian church in that city, Thursday evening of last week. The bride is a granddaughter of Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Krise, of Centre Hall, where she frequently visited.

Signed Mother's Pension Bill.
Governor Tower has signed the mother's pension bill and now any abandoned mother or widow can claim benefits under the law. Under the law each county availing itself of the provisions is to have a commission of from five to seven members, all of whom will be women to be named by the governor.

LOCALS.
Much corn will be planted in Penns Valley this week.

The Centre County Pomona Grange will meet at Unionville, Thursday, 22nd inst.

Mrs. W. A. Krise and Mrs. W. S. Slick attended the funeral of Mrs. John Sterrett, at Millroy, last week.

Miss Esther Ozman, of State College, was the guest for several days of Miss Besse Breen, in Centre Hall. She came here for the Magee-Huyett wedding.

During the past few weeks William H. Homan, east of Centre Hall, has had sickness among his horses, as many as three at one time requiring attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCormick, of Spring Mills, have moved to Sunbury, where Mr. McCormick is a fireman on the Pennsy. He is getting along nicely, and soon hopes to have a steady run.

Mrs. Jennie H. Springer and son Walter have moved from Millhelm to Akron, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Springer accompanied them to their new home, returning the latter part of last week.

Monsieur Fisher, of Philadelphia, is spending several days this week at Zion with his brother, Dr. Philip S. Fisher, prior to sailing for Rome. Monsiogn Fisher will be accompanied aboard by his little niece, Miss Mary Fisher, of Fayette county.

Miss Bertha Myers was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Saturday morning suffering from ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating lobsters. She is getting along nicely, and her early recovery is looked for. Miss Myers is a trained nurse, a graduate from a New York hospital.

Charles R. Kurtz, editor of the Centre Democrat, accompanied by his mother and A. C. Derr, associate editor of the Democrat, were in Centre Hall on Monday. Mr. Kurtz came here to attend a meeting of the stock holders of the Centre Hall water company. While in town they paid their respects to the Reporter.

The frequency Grange Arcadia is being used for entertainments has aroused Hon. Leonard Rhone to agitate better seating for it. At the play given by the graduating class of the Centre Hall High School, Mr. Rhone informed the writer that it was his intention of taking up the matter of better and larger seating capacity with trustees of the hall. One of the improvements Mr. Rhone has in mind is to raise the rear seats. This will be very desirable and will be greatly appreciated by those who regularly attend entertainments there.

The members of the graduating class of the Centre Hall High School and the principal, Prof. C. R. Neff, and several others in the under classes and former students, were at State College on Friday. Those who visited the State's institution were these: Misses Verna Rowe, Hazel Emery, Jennie Stahl, Ruth Smith, Ruth Lambert, Mary Dinges, Anna Bearick, Carrie Sweetwood, Helen Luse, Laura Mitterling, Nina Slick, Messrs. Henry Mitterling, George Harter, James Keller, James Lingle, Bruce Stahl, William Bailey, Earl Lambert, William Reish, William Bradford, and George Boczer.

THE TOMB OF JONAH.

Said to Be in a Mosque Adjoining the Site of Nineveh.
The site of Nineveh is almost perfectly level. But adjoining the western wall are two huge mounds concealing the palaces of the greatest kings of Assyria. The lower or southern mound is occupied by a mosque and a village of considerable size. Its name is Nebi Yunus, or the Prophet Jonah, for in the mosque is the tomb in which Jonah is said to have been buried. The age of the tomb is uncertain, yet probably it dates from long after the Hebrew prophet's time. However, the place is now sacred, so sacred that pilgrims visit it from afar.

I rode up the steep, narrow streets of the village to the mosque, and, to the amazement of the natives, I dismounted and entered the mosque yard. A crowd of excited men quickly surrounded me. To a priest I explained that I had come to see the grave of Jonah, and with a motion of the hand I made it understood that he would be rewarded. Removing my shoes I followed the priest through a dark passageway. There he pointed to a wall and said that the tomb was just beyond. I wished to enter the prayer room from which the tomb itself might be seen, but the place was considered far too sacred for my profane feet. However, the few Christians who have been permitted to see the tomb may look only through a small window into a dark chamber in which a cloth covered mound is scarcely discernible. It is said that no Moslem even will enter the inner shrine.—Christian Herald.

A CITY OF CHANGE.

Ephesus, Once on the Seacoast, Is Now Located Far Inland.

Sir William Ramsay characterizes Ephesus as the "City of Change." And truly it has seen marvelous changes and its inhabitants many removals. In the days of St. Paul and St. John Ephesus was a city of the seacoast; the waters of the Aegean lapped its busy wharves. Now the traveler to Ephesus can scarcely imagine that he is near the sea. To all appearances he is as far away as on one of our inland prairies. The Caister during all these ages has brought down mud and silt from the mountains until now Ephesus is miles from the seashore. Even in St. John's time the port was open only by strenuous effort and constant dredging. These changes wrought by nature have compelled frequent changes on the part of the inhabitants. The original city was built not far from Ayasoluk and "the whole Ephesian valley was an arm of the sea dotted with rocky islands and bordered by picturesque mountains and wooded promontories," we are told. As the sea receded in the course of the centuries the population moved with it until the Roman city, the city of St. Paul and St. John, was some miles from the original site. At last this port became impossible and the inhabitants moved farther back, nearer to the site of the more ancient city, where today the few inhabitants that still remain are found.—Christian Herald.

When England Needed Bread.

England was once on the verge of a bread famine. That was in 1800, when the wars with France combined with a succession of bad harvests to plunge the country into a state of general destitution. "A law was enacted," writes Mr. F. W. Hackwood, "prohibiting the sale of bread till it had been out of the oven at least twenty-four hours. Food was so scarce and dear that a portion of the population refused to starve in silence, and rioting broke out in many parts of England. The acts against 'forestalling and regrating'—that is, anticipating the markets so as to raise the price of foodstuffs—were rigorously enforced. A royal grant of £500 was made to one Thomas Toden, to enable him to prosecute a discovery made by him of a 'paste' as a substitute for wheat flour."—London Standard.

Hodgepodge.

We are told that rest is a great beautifier—yet hebeos are not handsome. From a school examination paper: Positive, much; comparative, not much; superlative, nothing.

On a bill of fare we read: "Deviled crabs a la diable"—which somehow reminded us of the man who ordered "a small demi-tasse of black cafe noir."

A southern paper prints this bright bit from a correspondent: "The difference between life and love is that life's just one darned thing after another and love's two darned things after one another."—Boston Transcript.

He Loved His Teacher.

Teacher—Well, Tommy, can you tell me the meaning of "repent"?
Tommy—I don't know, sir.
Teacher—Well, suppose I stole a purse and got locked up; wouldn't I repent?
Tommy—No, sir. You'd be sorry they caught you.—London Tit-Bits.

It Happened in Boston.

Visitor—Put me off at the next corner, please, conductor.
Conductor—Madam, I shouldn't like to do that; but I will stop the car and help you get off.—Judge.

Equally So.

Jack—I tell you when you get around the proposing point with a girl the suspense is awful. Tom—Well, and how about the expense?—Boston Transcript.

Rebersburg.

Henry Shtyzer is at present engaged at grafting fruit trees for parties in this vicinity.

This week the farmers in this section are very busy getting ready and planting corn.

The cherry crop in this section will be small as the frost killed much of the fruit while in blossom.

Wm. Minnich and family, of Aaronsburg, spent last Sunday at this place with Lester Minnich.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Walker, of Pittsburg, are at present visiting relatives in Rebersburg.

Last week Dr. H. G. Krape traded his unsbought auto off on a horse and buggy to a party at Tylersville.

Last Thursday Edwin Guistwite moved into one of Prof. Gramley's tenement houses in the eastern part of town.

Last Thursday Lee Weber lost a valuable cow by death. The animal committed suicide by hanging while tied in the stable.

During the past week shade trees were planted all along the eastern side of the Union cemetery at this place by the citizens of the town.

Miss Maud Hosterman, of Aaronsburg, spent the past week at this place at the home of Samuel Gephart, where she was employed as a seamstress.

The County Sunday-school convention held at this place on last Monday and Tuesday in the Lutheran church was largely attended by Sunday-school workers from various parts of the county.

Prof. Edwin Brungart, of Selins Grove, is at present visiting in town. Mrs. Brungart came here several months ago on account of her health, which has been falling during the past year.

A. B. Wolf, an east end road supervisor, quite recently quarried on the Royer farm several miles east of this place several hundred loads of stone which will in the near future be crushed and placed on the public roads.

Last Friday Miss Byrd Stover, a music teacher from this place, met with an accident while in Sugar Valley. She was being taken from place to place by Mrs. Lemay, the conveyance being a horse and buggy. On one of the trips the horse took fright and ran away, throwing Miss Stover from the vehicle. She received painful but not serious injuries. Mrs. Lemay remained in the buggy until the runaway horse was captured by a farmer who was nearby the road and was not injured.

COURT PROCLAMATION.

Whereas the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Forty-ninth Judicial District, consisting of the county of Centre, having issued his precept bearing date the 29th day of March, 1913, to me directed for holding a Court of Common Pleas, Orphans Court, Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre, and to commence on the THIRD MONDAY OF MAY being the 19th day of May, 1913, and to continue two weeks.

Notice is hereby given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace, Aldermen, and Constables of said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 19th, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertain to be done and those who are bound in recognizances, to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just. Given under my hand at Bellefonte, the 21st day of April in the year of our Lord, 1913, and the one hundred and thirty-sixth year of the independence of the United States of America.

THE CENTRE REPORTER

They Sacrifice Men, Women and Animals to Their God of War.

More unattractive savages than the Abors it would be hard to find. Of Tibet-Burman origin they speak a language which is allied to that of the Tibetans, while their arts, such as they are, probably come from Tibet.

Their religion is animistic. The deity, Piang, is the god of war and the chase, and is believed to favor attacks on defenceless neighbors and the ruthless destruction of all game. In pursuance of a policy to propitiate him, men and women are killed or taken as slaves, big game is hunted, birds, squirrels and fish are trapped.

The elemental belief in man as the hunter, and consequently the more fitted to be the protector, still holds good, so the women and slaves toil unceasingly at the crops as hewers of wood and drawers of water, and my lord, bow in hand and with quiver on his shoulder, stalks off on the warpath, his arrows poisoned with aconite or croton berry.

Their burial rites present points of interest similar to those of African savages. Over the grave of each defunct warrior is a grass shelter, where are hung his cane helmet, dao, bow and arrows, the horns of the tame bison which furnished the funeral feast, with a basket containing food to propitiate the deity.—New York Telegram.
