Lawrence, Kans.—"A year ago I was suffering from a number of ailments. I always had pain and was irregular. During the delay I suffered a great deal with headache, backache, dizziness, feverish spells, nervousness and bloating. I had been married nearly three years. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel better than I have for years. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all who suffer as I did."—Mrs. M. ZEUNER, 1045 New Jersey Street, Lawrence, Kansas.

Montana Woman's Case. Burns, Mont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me of awful backache which I had suffered with for months. I always recommend it to my friends and tell them what a grand medicine it is for women. You may use my name for the good of others."—Mrs. JOHN FRANCIS, Burns, Montana.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

Very Plain Criticisms.

Children are not always grateful beings, and they are notably hard to entertain. At a birthday party a kindly natured adult had toiled hard in the effort to amuse the children by means of parlor magic, ventriloquism, burlesque dancing and the like. The other adults present were highly amused, and some of the children deigned to chuckle mildly. The mother of the hostess, however, felt that full justice had not been rendered, so before announcing refreshments she took pains to thank the entertainer, and to call the attention of the youngsters to his gifts.

"Mr. Blank is very funny, isn't he, children?" she concluded. From the rear of the room came a small, shrill voice: "Yessum, but not so funny as he he thinks he is!"

Unnamed Heroine.
The anniversary is responsible for the publication of many reminiscences concerning the sinking of the Titanic. What the survivors and the chroniclers most like to dwell upon is the heroism displayed by passengers and crew aboard the vanished liner. There are tales of Major Butt, the Strausses, First Officer Murdoch and many others, who showed fine metal in the hour of disaster. But there goes quite unmentioned, as she went almost unmentioned a year ago, the little English woman who said to the officer who would have thrust her into a lifeboat: "Oh, no, sir, I'm only a stewardess."

Right Course.
The late Edward Dowden was being discussed in Philadelphia. "Dowden's style was ponderous and somber," said a sonneteer, "but I often met him in Dublin, and his talk, unlike his writing, sparkled with true Irish wit. "I once told him of my many vain efforts to swear off, and of my resolve, none the less, to make another trial. "Right!" said Professor Dowden. "Right! Turn over a new leaf. You needn't mention to any one the number of the page."

Militant Spirit.
We were lined up at the booking office window, taking our places. In front of me was a burly man. All went well until a woman broke the line and planked her twopenny in the front of the burly man. The man swept it aside. "I've always taught my wife," he said, "to be polite to gentlemen." "I'm very glad I am not your wife," said the woman. The man in front of me took his ticket and said, as he moved on, "I took that precaution some years ago."—London Chronicle.

IT'S HARD TO WORK
It's torture to work with a lame, aching back. Get rid of it. Attack the cause. Probably it's weak kidneys. Heavy or confining work is hard on the kidneys, anyway, and once the kidneys become inflamed and congested, the trouble keeps getting worse. The danger of running into gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease is serious. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, a fine remedy for backache or bad kidneys.

HAS AVERSION TO SWEET-SCENTED NOTES

Arthur Shafer, Clever New York Shortstop.

Arthur Shafer spoiled a romance and made a good baseball item when he reported to the Giants at Marlin this spring. The romance concerned his aversion to playing Joseph to Potiphar's wife. The public prints last winter printed the story that Shafer had decided to quit the game because he objected to so many mash notes. Shafer says the man who sent out the story exaggerated it, to say the least. He admits he did say that a ball player was burdened with a lot of scented missives from love-sick girls and that they got mighty tiresome, but he denies that he ever said a thing like that would make him quit baseball. He will play the game, he says—and throw the notes in the waste basket. The item of interest to the fans on his reporting to McGraw was that the leader of the Giants would make him the regular shortstop this year in place of Fletcher. Shafer accepts the job with all its responsibilities and says he will play out the string. If the girls like him, let 'em write, but they must read their answers in the stars; he positively will not waste postage making dates.

TELLS ONE ON JIM CALLAHAN

White Sox Recruit Willing to Accept Tickets "Bought and Paid For"—No Appliance Needed.

Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Chicago White Sox, celebrated his thirty-ninth birthday, and his friend Frank Fogarty, the "Dublin Minister," sent a telegram to him wishing many happy returns and big success the coming season. Fogarty tells a clever little yarn on Callahan: "Jimmy and George M. Cohan are very warm friends," said the comedian, "and whenever Callahan and his team strike New York while Cohan is playing there George sends a batch of tickets around for the bunch. On one of these occasions when Callahan was handing out the pasteboards he told the boys to give Cohan a good round of applause when he made his first entrance for the evening, and also at the finale. The gang went to the show and several of the recruits were busy discussing baseball when Cohan made his entrance. They forgot to applaud. Callahan was wild and at the close of the performance he panned the boys severely.

"Some weeks later one of the players met another in the hotel elevator after the game and told him that the boys were going to a show that night. "Going to a show tonight, did you say?" asked the recruit. "Yes, Callahan has the tickets—" "Bought and paid for," repeated the youngster. "That's good; the last tickets we got bawled out because we didn't applaud the guy that gave 'em to us. Now that these tickets are bought and paid for he probably won't care whether we clap or not."

Tigers Sign a Catcher.
Detroit has signed Russell Brieux, catcher of the Louisiana university. He will report to the Tigers in June.

STRIKE-OUT RECORDS

Twirlers of Eastern Clubs Excel Those of West.

New York Team Has Furnished King in Seven of Last Sixteen Years—Chicago Supplied Two in Jeff Overall and Beebe.

Inspection of the pitching records of the National league for the last sixteen years develops the fact that the leading strike-out artist has generally been a member of one of the eastern clubs.

Only during five campaigns from 1897 to 1912, inclusive, did a western team supply the pace setter in making men retreat to the bench after hitting nothing but atmosphere. Frank (Noodles) Hahn of Cincinnati twice was the strike-out king of the National league. "Rube" Waddell of Pittsburgh once enjoyed this honor, and so did Fred Beebe during a cam-campaign when he wore the liveries of both the Chicago and St. Louis clubs. Hahn's years of prosperity in the strike-out line were 1899 and 1901. Waddell was the leader in 1900 and Beebe ranked first during 1905, which was the last year a westerner was in the king row. "Jeff" Overall, the big Californian, who has just returned to the Chicago club, after an absence of a year, was the hero in 1909.

The New York club has supplied the strike-out king in seven of the last sixteen years. Christy Mathewson having been the leader during five campaigns, Richard Marquard in one and J. Bentley Seymour in one. Matty hung up the high mark in strike-outs for a season in 1903, when he whiffed 267 of his adversaries. The previous best record was 249, made by Seymour in 1898.

The Phillies have twice furnished the senior league with its Walter Johnson. Earl Moore led in breezing men in 1910 and Grover Cleveland Alexander was the hero last year.

Below will be found a list of the leading strike-out pitchers in the Na-

Rooting for Stallans.
Manager George Stallans of the Boston Braves sent Manager Chance a telegram saying he is going to root for the New York Americans. "I am going to root for the Yankees this year, because some of my old players are with them. They are the finest lot of men I ever met in baseball, and I feel sure that they will work for me as they worked for me," read the telegram.

MIX-UP MAKES SAVED MAN HERO

Medal and $1000 Create a Life-Saver Out of Rescued One

REAL PLUNGER MAY WIN

Possibility of Classing Him With Fellow He Found Drowning—Error Sending Reward of Carnegie Fund Astounds Its Adviser.

Greenville.—A peculiar mix-up in the awarding of a Carnegie Hero Fund bronze medal and $1,000 in cash has come to light in this city. Instead of the man who actually rescued two persons being given the awards, one of the two, who was nearly drowned, was granted the medal and money. On August 25 last Milton A. Reed, now a resident of Erie, and formerly a resident of Greenville, rescued Benjamin J. Vetrono and William J. Arthur from drowning. The rescue took place in Lake Erie, off Waldemeer Park. Vetrono was bathing in the lake and got out far beyond his depth. In trying to make the shore he became exhausted. Arthur, hearing the call of Vetrono for help, sprang into the water and made for the exhausted man. The latter, however, found his strength was not equal to the effort, and in a few minutes he was making a desperate effort to save his own life. Reed, who happened to come down to the shore at the moment when both men were about to sink, sprang into the water and with almost superhuman effort swam to the exhausted men and succeeded in bringing both of them to safety. Charles Russell, of this city, a friend of Reed and Arthur, took the matter up with the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and was successful in securing an award of a bronze medal and $1,000 for the hero, but by some mistake the award was made to William J. Arthurs, and Reed was ignored, although he was the man who did actually save both lives. Russell, who brought the incident to the attention of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, was astounded when the awards were made, and has since been trying to obtain recognition for the heroic action of Reed.

Many Tax Collectors Go.

West Chester.—As two dozen tax collectors in that number of townships and boroughs in Chester county have failed to file their bonds, Judge Butler has filed this decree: "The Court declares the office of tax collector vacant in the townships and boroughs named, for the reason that the persons elected to said office have failed to file their bonds at the proper time, as required by law, or that the term for which they were elected has expired." These delinquent officials will have to get out petitions for reappointment if they desire to resume business.

Appeal from an Injunction.

Sunbury.—Judge Moser, in the Northumberland County Court, filed an opinion in which he ordered a continuance of the injunction restraining the Sunbury & Susquehanna Railroad Company from laying its tracks on a portion of Market street here, until the Court can have a further hearing. Attorneys for the railroad appealed to the Supreme Court.

Commissioners Tie Up Schools.

Tamaqua.—Owing to the fact that the county commissioners have not as yet completed the revision of Tamaqua's tax assessment list, the tax duplicate for the year is tied up, leaving the school district without funds. At a meeting of the School Board bills amounting to $2,000, including pay for April teachers and janitors, were held up.

Eye Peeled for Illicit Rum.

West Chester.—The 70 or so constables have made their quarterly reports to the court, and several of them made return that the public roads and index boards in their bailiwicks are in bad condition. Constable Edward Bon-sall, of West Bradwintown township, reports: "I have been informed that liquor is being sold at a certain place without a license; I am watching it."

Best Peace-Making Court.

Altoona.—Judge Baldrige established a new record for the expeditious transaction of business in the Blair County Court when he disposed of 39 cases before noon. In most of them the attorneys got together and agreed, so the Court handed down decisions from the bench.

Dies After Crushing Agony.

York.—Run over by a wagon loaded heavily with baled hay, Isaac Ellis, a Peach Bottom township farmhand, lay upon the road suffering until discovered by passersby. He then expired in a short while.

Biggest Tax Boost Yet.

Shamokin.—The valuation of anthracite coal land in Northumberland county was announced here as having been increased from $6,000,000 to $20,000,000, being such a huge advance that there is no doubt the Reading Coal & Iron Company, Mineral and Lehigh Coal Companies, principally affected, will contest the valuation to the end. The assessment was arrived at by a special commission consisting of former Judge C. R. Sauridge, James McDevitt, County Commissioners' solicitor, and Charles Manna.
