

Two Horses Die for Farmer.

A few weeks ago mention was made in these columns of the fact that farmer William H. Homan, east of Centre Hall, had a number of sick horses. Since two have died, one being a particularly valuable brood mare, and there are five other sick horses in the same barn, two of which are in very bad condition, and for one of these there is no hope of recovery; the other may get well.

Mr. Homan has a fine lot of horses and colts, better than the average on farms in this section. The mare that died last was easily worth $300.

General Synod in Session.

The General Synod of the Lutheran church is in session at Atchison, Kansas, and will continue for a week or more. The delegates from Centre Pennsylvania Synod, all of whom are in attendance except Hon. C. L. Gramley, so far as can be learned, are these: Rev. E. M. Morgan, Milltown; Rev. W. J. Wagner, New Bloomfield; Rev. C. T. Atkins, Selting; Rev. W. M. Reardon, Millburg; Rev. A. H. Spangler, D. D., Yewertown. The lay delegates are: Hon. C. L. Gramley, Hebersburg; H. S. Bollinger, Lock Haven; W. C. Gaylor, Abersdenburg; James E. Harter, Coturn.

Father and Son Killed.

William F. Tozier and son Ira, aged eleven years, were instantly killed on Saturday evening by being struck by a locomotive while crossing the Pennsylvania tracks at Madera, in Clearfield county. The horse they were driving was also killed. Mr. Tozier was aged fifty-five years.

LOCALS

Progress Grange will hold a regular meeting on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Rebecca Scholl is back from Altoona where she was visiting her son, John O. Scholl.

Elmer E. Herlacher, a Sugar Valley lumberman, shipped a car load of basket bottoms to Canada.

Byron Garis and sons William and Sheridan, are laying the foundation walls for the Bartholomew building in Centre Hall.

George Horner and Mrs. Milton Bradford are the representatives from the local order of K. G. E. and Ladies Temple at the State Lodge in session in Harrisburg.

To be at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward L. Bartholomew, in Altoona, on the first birthday anniversary of her grandnephew, Mrs. J. Q. A. Kennedy went to that city on Monday to remain for a few days.

Charles A. Miller, of Colyer, was a caller on Monday, and reports farming conditions first class in his district. Mr. Miller is a successful farmer, and has not only the goods up his sleeve, but the gray matter under his hat to get the best from the soil.

Clyde E. Dutrow is improving the interior of his dwelling house on his farm, east of Centre Hall. Stairways are being moved, various partitions changed. He is also building a large manure shed to the south of his barn. Mr. Dutrow is a carpenter, and will be able to do much of the work himself.

Mr. and Mrs. George Micheal, of Spring Mills, had planned to adopt a day-old babe from the Maternity Hospital, Sunbury, but on going for the infant, Mrs. Micheal found it too delicate to remove and was obliged to come home without it. In a few days, the infant died, to the great disappointment of the intended foster-parents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Homan, and the latter's mother, Mrs. William Clark, of Altoona, came to Centre Hall on Sunday in their new Overland car, making the trip in fine style. They remained in Centre Hall until Wednesday, and returning took with them Mr. Homan's mother, Mrs. Emma Homan, who will be their guest for a short time.

A cigarette tip was responsible for a $1,000,000 forest fire, according to a statement made by Captain Samuel T. Moore, of the State Forestry Department, sent out from Lewistown on Friday. The little bronze tip of a cigarette was conspicuous in debris left along the creek by the saw-mills of the Vincent Lumber Company, where the fire certainly had its inception.

D. J. Meyer has removed the wooden walk to the front of his residence, and is preparing to put down one of concrete. The members of the United Evangelical church, convenient building walls to the front of the church and parsonage and also to the entrance of the church. A. W. Alexander is also planning to have a concrete walk constructed to take the place of the brick shift now there.

Fire insurance agents have the credit of being hunters for business, yet they do not succeed in getting all the business that they ought to for occasionally there is a fire loss and the late end of "no insurance." Among the doubly unfortunate in this respect most recently is Fred Gearhart, whose stable located just outside of Pine Grove Mills was burned, and with it a buggy, sleigh, feed, etc., and almost two thousand feet of lumber. Mr. Gearhart is a mail carrier, and was at State College on the afternoon his property was destroyed.

While walking through the woods above Centre Hall in company with several others, William Kerlin saw in an unusual altitude a large black snake. The reptile was climbing the trunk of a large tree and was making good headway at a height of about six feet. The snake was going in as straight a line as a snake can travel, and not circling the tree as one would suppose. Fearing the cursed thing might climb too high and not be able to turn to bite the eye, it was killed, but it did not lose its bold until its back was broken, and while Kerlin was practicing in hitting the mark, the snake climbed higher and higher.

Poor appetite is a sure sign of impaired digestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will strengthen your digestion and improve your appetite. Thousands have been benefited by taking these Tablets. Sold by all dealers.

DEATHS

William Kreamer died at his home at Millheim Tuesday morning at 5:30 of kidney trouble, aged seventy-four years and ten months. He is survived by his wife and four grandchildren as follows: Leon R. Anna M., Paul K. and Dorothy E. Klepper, children of Hon. W. H. Klepper, of Lock Haven, also a brother, Jared Kreamer, of Rebersburg.

Mr. Kreamer was born and reared on a farm in Brush Valley, near Rebersburg. After reaching manhood and marrying he continued to reside on the homestead farm of his father until about twenty years ago when he and his wife removed to Millheim, where he has lived a retired life with the exception of the care of certain investments and loans. He was an active member of the Lutheran church nearly all his life. He was at the time of his death and for many years previous a director of the Farmer's National bank of Millheim. Politically he was an unwavering Democrat and while adverse to holding office yet he filled several of the local offices, among which he served as school director for almost a score of years. A sincere, useful and most hospitable citizen has gone to his reward, which has saddened the hearts of many friends throughout Centre county where he was well known.

His funeral will be held today (Thursday) from his home at Millheim and burial will be made in Fairview cemetery.

A Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shreckengost, on the return of their son William L., from Akron, O., had a birthday party for him on Monday evening to celebrate his twenty-first anniversary. Since last November he has been employed as carpenter in Akron, and on his return home his friends were glad to see him and ready to give him a surprise. The evening was spent pleasantly in games and music. The Farmer's Mill string band was present and rendered appropriate selections.

Choice refreshments were served, and this was not a small part of the program. Mr. Shreckengost received a fine lot of useful presents. The guests present were these: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Racheau, Mr. and Mrs. James Breon, Mr. H. D. Hagon, Mrs. William Long, Mrs. E. Rosa Stover, C. B. Stover, Margaret Scholl, E. J. Mel, Mildred and Mary Long, Emma Vonada, Mary Frankenberg, Helen and Sara Hibel, Lettie and Ruth Racheau, Viola Sharer, Verma Hagen, Bruce, Archie, Merrill and Russel Hagen, Earl and Boyd Vonada, John Frankenberg, Walter Forsterman, Ralph and Jay Racheau, Earl Bartges, Ray Sharer, Ralph Hagen.

LOCALS

John Maritz, a railroad section hand and member of the borough council, will improve his home by building a concrete walk to the front of it.

George A. Crawford, one of the graduates of the class of 1913, is taking the short special term of school at Spring Mills, under Prof. Moyer.

Rev. J. A. Horner, of Youngville Warren county, has been visiting at his old home in the vicinity of Tusseyville. He is now in Williamsport, but will return in a few days.

Maple trees may safely be trimmed now that the leaves are full grown. There are many shade trees in town that could be improved by judicious trimming, and now is the time to do it.

Rev. Ralph W. Illingworth, pastor of the Bedford Presbyterian church, and at one time pastor of the Penns Valley Methodist charge has accepted a position as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at Tyrone.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Weber went to Altoona on Saturday, and remained there until Wednesday. They went there to attend the funeral of Mrs. Gertrude Weber, their daughter-in-law, an account of whose death appears elsewhere in this issue.

Two of the graduates of the Reedsville High School name Centre Hall as their birthplace. The ladies are Miss Miriam Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meyer, and Miss Helen Widenau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Widenau.

Thomas E. Weber, the State College house painter, was in town being trains on Friday, and beginning of this week began painting the residence of Mrs. Little Alexander in Centre Hall. He has eight men employed on the various jobs now being done by him.

S. Ward Gramley and Nathaniel Roob, of Millheim, were in Centre Hall on Thursday evening, the former having delivered a five-passenger Ford to William F. Keller, the rural mail carrier. While in town Mr. Gramley called on several parties who have the thought of purchasing machines. He hopes to make several sales here within the next few months.

Oscar H. Osmond, of Columbus, Ohio, formerly from this county, was acquitted of robbing a dead body. The jury first came into court with a verdict of guilty, but for some reason had made a mistake, not having named the amount taken from the dead victim. The jury was sent back in correct its error, and then returned with a verdict of not guilty.

Over at Colyer William C. Farner is growing four-legged chickens, the additional legs being set back on the body farther than those of common birds. It was a nice plump peep that emerged from the shell with this surplus of legs, and Mr. Farner thinks that had he taken the forethought to let the little critter it would flourish. He learned to properly use its legs and not scratch itself to death as it did. What a capacity for garden-making hens with four good legs set with four good toes would have!

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Dowsney, of Newberg Junction, N. B. writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effective and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.
