LOCALS

Frank Geary added to the appearance of his tonorial parlor by having it papered.

Mrs. Mary Shoop is back from an extended visit to her son, J. M. Wix, at Penn Brook.

Elwood Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, beginning of this week, plastered the annex to the Reporter building.

Cloyd Brooks, tenant on Rhoney-mede farm, lost a valuable four year old sorrel horse by death, one day last week.

F. A. Carson, merchant, farmer and justice of the peace, of Potters Mills, runs a five passenger 40-horse power Buick car. It is a fine machine, and a splendid traveler.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer, on Sunday, went to Millinburg and brought back with them their daughter, Mrs. I. V. Musser and grandsons, Harold and William.

Contractor John D. Lucas, assisted by Messrs. Milford Luse, Lawrence Runkle, and Harry Weaver began work on the Bartholomew building, in Centre Hall, on Thursday of last week.

Byron Garis spent a few days at the home of his stepmother, Mrs. Anna Garis, at Uniontown, Dauphin county, last week. His chief mission there was to assist in settling up the estate of his deceased father.

Mrs. Lydia Meyer, of Aaronsburg, just passed her eighty-fifth birthday, and for one of her age is in remarkably good health and spirits. Mrs. Meyer is a native of Potter township, her maiden name being Strohm.

The Bell Telephone Company's managers, in Bellefonte, are sporting an automobile. Trips through the country hereafter will be made much quicker, and the "trouble" worked off much sooner after being reported than heretofore.

The Reporter is indebted to S. W. Gramley, of Millheim, for a sweetly scented bouquet of Cape Jasmine, which was a portion of a large number of these very pretty flowers sent to him from near Houston, Texas, by a friend. This particular flower is grown in great profusion in the south. The bushes, which are evergreen, grow as large as small trees, and are beautiful to look upon. When in bloom the whole country is scented with the perfume the flowers give off.

On Saturday morning Mrs. William Bower and daughter, Miss Ruth, started on a trip to Chicago and other points. Their first stop was in Altoona, where they visited Clayton McKinney and family. At Chicago they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Landis, Mr. Landis being a half-brother of Mrs. Bower's husband. At Freeport, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stiffler will entertain them. On their return home they will run up into Michigan and pay Fred Stiffler, at Towas City, a visit.

Dr. Charles W. Kinney, of New York City, was in Centre Hall on Saturday between trains, and while here was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weber. Dr. Kinney is operating surgeon in the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, New York, and came here especially to see little Miss Mary Weber, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weber. The noted surgeon learned to know the child while she was in New York with her parents, and at one time when the mother was in a hospital, little Mary became very ill, he took charge of her, secured nurses and paid all expenses, mentioning the incident casually for the first time while in Centre Hall. The little girl is very fond of the surgeon and accompanied him on many trips through the city. It was a happy meeting and a sad parting of the two on Saturday afternoon.

50th Marriage Anniversary.

On May 28, the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Corl, at the old homestead west of State College was celebrated in an appropriate manner. This is one of the old families of Centre county and are widely known. Mr. Corl is a son of Benjamin Corl, who moved from Chester county, to Union county, and from there to Woodward in 1823. In 1843 Benjamin Corl moved from Woodward to a farm west of State College and resided there to the end of his days. There were eight children in this family, five boys and three girls, of which Peter Corl is the youngest. Peter Corl, in whose honor the 50th wedding anniversary was held, was only five years of age when his father moved to this farm. In 1863 he was married to Miss Anna Barbara Reish, of Millinburg, by Rev. W. H. Groh. He moved home and after a period of seven years his father died. He then purchased the homestead and continued to farm up to the year 1908. After this he retired and built himself a beautiful home at State College where he now lives.

In the Corl family there are twelve children, ten of whom are living and all reside in Ferguson township and are engaged in farming. They are as follows: William K., Clayton, Samuel T., Mrs. D. H. Krebs, P. Milford, D. Olla, occupying the old homestead, Mrs. Chas. Strouse, Alvin K., J. Madison, and Miss Cora Corl, at home.

Only the immediate family and a few others—sixty in all—were present. There were thirty-five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren present. After the repast, Rev. S. C. Stover, the pastor, made an appropriate address and in the name of the family presented to each of the parents ten dollars in gold so emblematic of the pure and noble life which these parents have led.

Mrs. Edward Kreamer, Mrs. Sarah Hunter, and Wm. Hunter, of Hollidaysburg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Wm. Beck and son Paul, all of Altoona, were at Boalsburg for Memorial Day.

The Memorial service in the Reformed church on Sunday was well attended; six veterans were present: John Hook, James Poorman, Joseph Hettlinger, Israel Young, and George Kaup, of Boalsburg, and John Stover, of Pleasant Gap.

A general invitation was given by Theodore Boal to the women and girls of Boalsburg to a lawn party, at his home Monday evening, from 4 o'clock to six; about seventy accepted the invitation. Mr. Boal showed them through the chapel, after which a delicious lunch was served on the lawn.

The usual impressive Memorial Day services were observed at Boalsburg at 6 o'clock. The parade was formed on the central square, underneath the stars and stripes, the veterans carrying wreaths, the children bouquets, and the band playing National airs led the procession to the cemetery. Thirty-six graves were decorated. Owing to the rain, all returned to the diamond immediately after the decoration, when Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, delivered an address from the porch at the Stuart home.

The Best Newspaper.

It is seldom that there comes to us a paper we can praise as wholesome and clean in every respect, but "The Philadelphia Sunday Record" certainly deserves its title as "the greatest home newspaper of all."

It has feature pages for every member of the family. We were surprised at the variety and scope of its articles. The best artists and authors each week contribute some of the work that has made them famous.
