There are few tracts of virgin timber in Penns Valley, and one of these was until recently owned by C. P. Long, and is now being cut by the Myers Brothers, of Coburn, under a timber lease. There are a large number of large trees, and the tract will panion. turn out many thousand feet of timbar, and will require most of the three years over which the lease extends to manufacture it into lumber. The shipping will be done from Ripka's landing, which is a convenient place to load. Bark is also being hauled the first thing we ask is whether a from the tract, and C. P. Long's teams are engaged in that work.

Saturday was Flag Day. It was June 14th, 1777, that Betsy Ross sawed the stars and stripes together and created Old Glory. General Washington was chairman of the committee that called on the Philadelphia upholater's wife with a rough design of the flag. And this woman made suggestions for changes that satisfied the committee, and then she made the first flag; and from that day to the present its proud folds have guy that (resuming business)-want it waved over the land.

The two of Venice has been celeorated for many centuries. It was unide originally by mass within the walls of convents for ecclesiastical garments. Then, with the fall of the enetian republic, the convents were losed and the lace industry ceased to exist for an entire century. In 1870 the Princess Margherita, afterward queen of Italy, took measures to revive it. especially as a means of providing empleyment for Venetian women. At present there are several schools subddized by the government in which the art is taught. The pupils are women of all ages. Each sits on a low stool and holds a plump square cushion in her lap. On this cushion is pinned a strip of paper marked with the pattern to be followed, and into this pattern the nimble fingered worker sticks glass headed pins, about which she twists her

From twenty to fifty shuttles depend from all sides of the gustion, and these are thrown across and back with the rapidity of a typist handling the keys of her machine.

The process is so simple that it looks like play, but the lace produced represents thousands of dollars. The simple laces grow rapidly under the dexterous fingers of the women, but the gaquisite rose point and other similar sorts are evolved much more alowly.-Harper's

This Ship's Cat Was Saved,

About twenty years ago, when I was resident in north China, the British squadron, then in far eastern waters. was steaming out of the port of Chefu when a little black cat fell overboard from H. M. S. Wanderer. At once the ship stopped, signaled to her consorts "Cat overboard!" and the entire squadron came : a standstill. A boat put off from : ; Wanderer and rescued pass, who tas swimming for dear life after the saip. The officer who told me the story said the sailors would have been furious if the iittle cat had not been saved, for not only was she a great pet, but they firmly believed that disaster would follow if a black cat was allowed to drown .-London Spectator.

To Straighten & Warped Board.

The amateur craftsman is sometimes in doubt how he can flatten a board that has warped. One way is to lay a thick mass of wet sawdust or a thickly folded wet cloth on the concave side and expose the convex side to gentle heat or very dry air. The moisture enters the fibers of the wood of the concave side of the board and causes them to swell. Heat, on the other hand, or very dry nir, removes the moisture from the convex side and causes the fibers to shrink. In consequence the board gradually flattens .- Youth's Com-who had the unusual good fortune to have his merit appreciated early in life. But no one ever presumed less on a wide reputation. Affectation was a weakness from which his sense of humor saved him.

In his biography by Mr. W. H. Downs is printed the story of a New York gentleman of wealth and artistic Monte Carlo."-London Queen, tastes who made the journey to Scar boro. Me., where Homer had his studio, to make the artist's acquaintance.

On his arrival he found the studio door locked. The owner was nowhere to be seen. He wandered about the cliffs for awhile until he met a man in a rough old suit of clothes, rubber boots and a battered hat, who carried a fishpole. He accosted the fisherman

"Say, my man, if you can tell me where I can find Winslow Homer 1 have a quarter for you." "Where's your quarter?" said the fisherman. He handed it over and was astounded to hear the quizzical Yankee fisherman say, "I am Winslow Homer."

The sequel of this unusual introducion was that Homer took his new ac quaintance back to the studio, entertained him and before he left sold him

LIGHTING WITH GAS.

And the Young Scotsman Who Wore a Weeden Hat.

One morning a good many years ago young Scotsman was shown into the office of a great engineer at Bir mingham. The young man was wear lug a bat of extraordinary shape, and in his nervousness at meeting the man of fame he let the hat slip. It fel with a hollow thud upon the floor. Th engineer looked with astonishment a the thing. The owner picked it u and apologized for the noise it has caused. It was of wood, he explained He had made it himself, turning i with his father's lathe.

The engineer thought that there must be something in a man who coulthink out and make such a thing as this. He forthwith engaged him, kept an eye upon him and gave him work of responsibility. The engineer was Boulton; the new man, William Murdock. The man with the wooden hat justified the judgment of the man, who employed him. After awhile he was sent away to Corawall, and when he re turned it was to light up his master's premises with gas. The mind which first practically applied the coal gas to the purpose of lighting lived inside that wooden hat .- Bt. James' Gazette.

This famous Englishman has two distinct claims to fame. Not only was he a brilliant poet, essayist and eritic. but much that we know of Keats. Shelley, Lamb, Byron, Moore, Cole ridge. Dickens and Carlyle has been derived from the knowledge of these celebrities which Hunt gave to the world. Possessing a happy spirit and genuine scholarship. Leigh Hunt's writings sparkle with wit and clever ness, while his translations are among the choicest of their kind. His pecuniary difficulties undoubtedly prevent ed Hunt giving us his best at times but after he was granted a pension amounting in all to £320 per annum the improved comfort and augmented leisure enabled him to make his mark on English literature with essays of remarkable pawer.-Pearson's Weekly.

The Name Lehigh. On March 6, 1812, Lehigh county was formed from part of Northampton county. Its name came from the Le high river, being an Indian name de rived through the German. The original Indian name is said to have been Le-chau-weach-tals, or Le-chau-week-L meaning "the place of the fork of the road." The German settlers of the region shortened this into "Lecha," which is still in use among the Penn sylvania Germans. "Lehigh" is the English version of "Lecha." Allentown, the county seat, was called Northampton until 1838.—Philadelphia

Her Simplicity. A silly little lady had a husband, a He Got His Fee, Too, Before Ho Gave lover of gayety, who was inclined to neglect his wife. This lady while Winslow Homer was a great painter spending the winter in Devonshire said one day at the country postoffice:

"Dear me, what a silly mistake you postoffice people have made!" "How, madam?" asked the clerk.

"Why," she explained, with a titter, "here I have just got a letter from my husband, who is working hard in London, and the envelope is postmarked
