A thing which many voters do not appear to clearly understand is that every voter is entitled to cast two separate and distinct ballots at the primary election next Tuesday, if he chooses to do so and is enrolled by stating his party preference when he registered.

He has a right to vote for a non-partisan ballot for judge of the superior court, and another ballot containing the names of candidates for local offices—two separate tickets.

There will be no mark on the non-partisan ballot to indicate what party the candidates belong to. It is the intention of the law that the Judges shall be nominated and elected without any regard to party politics.

It is important that every voter shall clearly understand these things in order that he may exercise all his rights as a free American citizen.

The following letter from H. R. Austin, county secretary of the county committee Y. M. C. A., explains itself:

"On Wednesday, September 17, at 1:30 p. m., there will be given at the Grange Encampment and Fair, under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association of Centre county, a "Play Demonstration," for the school teachers of the entire county. This will consist of practical demonstrations of group, team, and other games for boys and girls, and explanation of a comprehensive plan for rural school athletics, for the benefit of those teachers who appreciate the high physical and moral value of play, and who would be glad to avail themselves of an opportunity to learn new outdoor games such as will be presented at this time.

All county school teachers are especially urged to attend, in company with their pupils, this Play Demonstration. The sacrifice of school time will be well worth while.

Mrs. Maggie Clippell of Lincoln, Nebraska, is spending some time with relatives in this place. She was formerly Miss Maggie Dale a daughter of Amos Dale who at the time of her birth resided at Shingletown on the farm now occupied by E. W. Hess. At an early age she, with her parents moved to Michigan, this is her first visit to Pennsylvania; she is much interested in her native home. One of the pleasures of this visit to be held in remembrance was her attendance at the celebration of Mrs. Margaret Keller's birthday.

A notable gathering was that recently in honor of Aunt Margaret Keller, Boalsburg's oldest citizen, who on that day attained the ninetieth year of her age. The aged lady, so well preserved in mind and body, enjoyed the occasion to its fullest extent. There were gathered about her her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and this alone was joy sufficient. The speakers were Rev. S. C. Stover and Clement Dale, Esq., and Miss Ethel Dale of Bellefonte recited one of Longfellow's poems entitled "The Old Clock on the Stairs."

Mrs. Keller is the widow of David Keller, and before her marriage was Miss Margaret Shenberg. For the many, many years she lived here she has held the respect and esteem of all. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sinclair of Clinton county were guests at the J. N. Meyer home Sunday and Monday Tuesday and Wednesday were spent with the John Carper and J. M. Rosa families at Linden Hall, going from there to Spring Bank. Mrs. Sinclair's name before her marriage was Miss Katharine Meyer a daughter of Samuel Meyer who occupied the Meyer farm east of Boalsburg. At this place she was married to Mr. Sinclair in Jan., 1892, by Rev. W. H. Gr-h. Soon after their marriage they left Centre county, living part of the time in New York. They attended the Harvest Home service in the Reformed church on Sunday, this being the first time since the day of the dedication of the church. The aged couple have retired from active farm life and expect to spend the remaining days of their life with their children. At present they are at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Nelson at Keating.

Supporting a Husband in Wales.
The quiet Pembrokeshire village of Langwyn and the Gower village of Penclawdd have something in common besides their Flemish connection. In both the woman takes a leading place. At Langwyn when a forthcoming marriage is announced one often hears the exclamation, "Peggy, can she keep a man?" At Penclawdd when a young woman gets married the very first thing some of the staunchest old maid asks is: "Dear me! Ffordd mae hona'n myn'd i gadw gwyr?" ("Dear me! How is that one going to support a husband?").—Western Mail, Cardiff.

Lazy Man.
"Toodles is the laziest man I know. He has an invention fixed so that by merely pulling a wire in bed he can light the fire. But that don't seem to improve matters any."
"Why not?"
"He's too lazy to pull the wire."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Purifying the Language.
The female red deer is known as a blind and not a doe. The young red deer is known not as a fawn, but as a calf. These trifles are very shocking to sensitive ears.—London Spectator.

Candid.
Brown—I wonder if Smith would endorse my note. Jones—How long has he known you? Brown—A month. Jones—I'm afraid that's too long.—Chicago News.

Not Possible.
We have never seen a man whose conversation was so interesting that he could make the landlord's agent forget what he came for.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Origin of the Christmas Stocking.
From Italy comes the legend from which we are supposed to get the time honored custom of hanging up the Christmas stocking. Good old St. Nicholas of Padua used to throw long knitted purses tied at both ends into the open windows of the very poor people, and these purses were of yarn and not unlike a footless stocking. Finally it became the custom of the people to hang these empty receptacles out of their windows on the night before Christmas so that St. Nicholas would put a gift into them as he passed by. By and by, when the coin of the realm became scarce, toys were put in for the children and useful presents for grown people. In the north country, where it was rather chilly at Christmas time, the purses were hung on the mantelpiece, and it was believed that the good old saint would come down the chimney and fill them. When these purses went out of fashion stockings were substituted and have been used ever since.
