Reformed—Tusseyville, morning; Centre Hall, evening.
Lutheran—Union, morning. Harvest Home services; George's Valley, afternoon, regular service; Centre Hall, evening, Harvest Home service.
United Evangelical—Egg Hill, morning; Tusseyville, afternoon; Centre Hall, evening.

LOCALS.

The primary election held on Tuesday will cost the State between $400,000 and $500,000. A neat sum indeed.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Krape are moving from Bellevue, Ohio, to Centre Hall and will occupy the home vacated by Prof. and Mrs. V. W. Godshall.

Miss Mary Hart of Altoona is the guest of Miss Besse Breton, in Centre Hall. The two are chums, and are greatly enjoying each other's company.

Miss Ruth Kries of Johnstown came to Centre Hall Monday afternoon, and is a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kries.

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Park came to Centre Hall from their home at New Milford in a machine, and are at the home of Mrs. Park's father, Capt. G. M. Boal.

To avoid the dust and aid in making the newly built street more durable, a number of citizens purchased road oil and had it applied on several sections. The results are satisfactory.

The Philadelphia North American has headquarters on Grange Park, and the paper's interests are being diligently looked after by James S. Lawson and Thomas D. Andrews.

Merchant and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cook, at Glen Iron, last week. They formerly lived in that place where Mr. Odenkirk was the station agent on the L. and T.

In order to give the employes in this office an opportunity to attend the Grange Encampment and Fair, this issue is printed earlier than usual. This accounts for lack of primary election news.

Farmers are busy cutting off corn. The crop in some sections of Penna Valley was frosted, in others no damage was done. The drought through August lessened the yield of corn on many farms.

Martia Lovette of Phoenixville, a room and classmate of Miss Sarah Neff, was the latter's guest for a day on her way to Penn State. The two are members of the sophomore class, and went to State College on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner Shirk of Seymour, Missouri, are at the Brisbin home in Centre Hall. Before coming here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson in Hartford, Connecticut, and accompanied them to this place.

Messrs. William and George Swartz, sons of Merchant and Mrs. Charles Swartz of Tusseyville on Tuesday went to 8-linegrove where they became students in the Susquehanna University. Both these young men will prepare to enter the Lutheran ministry.

A bunch of election officers in Northumberland county missed their guess when they calculated the calibre of the court, and resigned thinking that by so doing the court would reappoint them and in that way they would get the benefit of the increased salary provided for in a new law. The court turned the trick, and appointed new men.

Mrs. Margaret Dikeman and granddaughter, Miss Constance Roberts Smith, of Washington, D. C., were in Centre county visiting their many relatives. Mrs. Dikeman's mother was a Durst, and consequently has a large relationship in Penna Valley. It is a long while since they left the Keystone state, but through the Reporter keep in touch with the local affairs here. At present the Washington people are in Petersburg, Huntingdon county.

AARONSBURG.
Warren Winkleblech and family were Sunday guests in Brush Valley.

O. P. Adams is transacting some business at State College.

Mrs. Jennie Sylres and son Russell are spending the week on Grange Park.

Earl Fassett of Isolan, Indiana, visited at the Evangelical parsonage last week.

Mrs. Elvina Winters of Rebersburg spent a few days with her aged mother, Mrs. Mary H. Hefley.

Mrs. Bertha Treasler, nee Musser, of Bellefonte was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Musser.

Mrs. E. R. Wolfe and son Jason of Wolfe Store were the guests of her sister, Mrs. William Haines, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Pauline Beirly of Rebersburg, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Miller of Millheim, called on Mrs. Perry Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry McKinney, of Potters Mills, and Mr. Clark Herman of State College visited Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gamley of Millheim spent part of Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Durst and her aged aunt, Polly Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCormick and son William of Potters Mills were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Mingle over Sunday.

Mrs. Calvin Eby of New York City is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Caroline Maize, but on Friday she will again return to her home.

The schools in Haines township will be closed today (Thursday) so that all will have an opportunity to attend the Grange Encampment and Fair.

Mrs. Effie Weaver was very agreeably surprised Monday afternoon to have Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osman and daughter Maude of Harrisburg come to see them.

Mrs. Annie Wyle of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Emma Beaver of State College, passed through town on Sunday morning to take dinner at the home of Will Guisewite.

Miss Marion Stover is in Williamsport with her brother Paul, a railroad ticket agent at that place. From there she will go to Harrisburg where she is employed as a stenographer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Mingle had their five children with them on Sunday. The children are William and Henry, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. George McCormick, Potters Mills; Mazie, Buff Lo, N. Y.; Albert, at home. Also their grandchildren, Isabel, Herbert, Hosterman and William E.

Object of the Work and Results Obtained—Some of the Prominent Features.

GOING TO THE FARM HOMES

Thirteen Campaigns Have Been Carried on in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois—Holden's Plan Meets Warm Reception With the Farmers.

Prof. P. G. Holden, director of the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, has planned and put into operation a new method of extending agricultural knowledge.

Holden was the originator of agricultural demonstration trains; of agricultural short courses, and many other effective plans, through the agency of which millions of dollars have been added to the agricultural wealth of this country.

The latest plan of Holden is to place alfalfa upon every farm. There are three prominent features in his plan:

- (1) The introduction of a comparatively new crop into the Corn Belt, Southern and Eastern states.
- (2) Going direct to the homes of the farmers, where meetings are held in the fields, and success and failure discussed according to local conditions.
- (3) The use of that most modern vehicle—the automobile.

Purpose of Campaign.

The primary purpose of the campaign is to show the American farmer that alfalfa is the most profitable crop he can grow; that it can be grown profitably upon every farm; that it enriches the soil; increases farm values; stimulates live stock growing and dairying; produces double that of other hay crops, and is better feed.

Thirteen campaigns have thus far been successfully conducted in Michigan, Ohio and Illinois.

Some of the Results.

Results of the Kent county (Mich.) campaign are:

- (1) Six thousand farmers visited at their homes during a five-day campaign.
- (2) Thirty-two meetings held.
- (3) Three hundred and seventy-five miles traveled by the Alfalfa Automobile Train.
- (4) One hundred and thirty-six alfalfa talks made by the Holden staff of alfalfa lecturers.
- (5) Many applications for similar campaigns from all parts of the United States.

The Kent county campaign has been followed by campaigns in Allegan, Barry, Grand Traverse and St. Clair counties, Michigan; Van Wert, Marion, Fulton, Williams and Champaign counties, Ohio; and Sangamon, DuPage and Kane counties, Illinois.

Great Meeting in Ohio.

At one meeting in Ohio upon the farm of Joseph E. Wing, near Mechanicburg, nearly 4,000 people gathered from all parts of Ohio and adjoining states to learn more about alfalfa. At this great meeting the Ohio State Alfalfa Growers' association was organized. Over 300 automobiles made up the alfalfa train. It is recorded as the greatest agricultural assemblage in the history of Ohio. Other Ohio counties where the work has been taken up report success on every hand.

Sangamon and Kane counties, Illinois, have both conducted great campaigns. At one meeting in Williams-ville, Ill., over 1,200 farmers came to hear the alfalfa lecturers.

In all of these campaigns which were conducted within a period of about two months nearly 50,000 farmers have been reached with the gospel of alfalfa.

As a result also of the campaign work it is conservatively estimated that 200,000 acres of alfalfa will be seeded during this and the coming season.

Such is the result of the initial work of campaigning for alfalfa, but vastly more than this tangible result has been accomplished. Every farmer throughout the region where the work was conducted is talking about alfalfa. The co-operation of the schools in the territory is a very important and effective feature. School officials, from the highest to the lowest, have never failed to appreciate the opportunity.

Professor Holden has expressed himself as considering it the most wonderful experience and the most efficient work from the farm standpoint that he has ever taken.

But this is not all—wherever the farmers of any community are interested in the growing of alfalfa, when possible a follow-up man, thorough in his knowledge of alfalfa culture, will be sent out to assist them in getting a start. He will live with the farmers and aid them in solving the problems at home. He will go from farm to farm upon request and study success and failure.

Before the coming of 1914, campaigns will have been conducted in every part of the United States and Canada. Interest is growing so rapidly that many counties have organized campaigns and undertaken the work without assistance from the outside.

Joke of a Sultan.
The sultan of Turkey once played a joke at the expense of some medical experts at Constantinople. When the plague broke out in his capital the sultan asked if anything was known as to the cause. On being informed that it was to be found in the state of the drinking water, he called at once for six empty bottles, which he had filled in his presence, all from the same one of the palace wells, placed his own seal upon them, and then, without divulging their community of origin, handed all six to a prominent analyst. To his amazement the report sent in was that four of the samples contained plague microbes. The fifth was merely putrid water, and the sixth was quite pure. Abdul Hamid calmly shrugged his shoulders and kept his thoughts to himself.

Would Fill the Bill.
Some who have attended councils and associations can appreciate this story of the late Rev. Dr. Norman Macleod of Edinburgh. Going into a room in which was a cage containing a large owl, he surveyed it for a long time. The owl sat unmoved, placid and erect. His men were dignified, his horns impressive, his eyes cold and observant, his countenance sagacious and critical. At length Norman broke silence, "Man, ye wad mak' a splendid moderator!"—Christian Register.

Sentimentalism.
"Here's a very good definition of a sentimentalist."
"Let's hear it."
"A sentimentalist is a person who weeps over a fallen column, but is too lazy to help set it up again."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Gifted.
"I am convinced," said Mrs. Meekton, "that women are especially qualified for the duties of statesmanship."
"Why?"
"Because most of the women I have known were natural born lecturers."—Washington Star.

His Undertaking.
Young Timesed—This term I am going to undertake the study of Latin and Greek. Old Hardfax—H'm! I suppose them dead languages does need an undertaker.—Chicago News.

A Realist.
"If there were four flies on the table and I should kill one, how many would be left?" Inquired the teacher.
"One," answered a bright little girl—"the dead one!"—London Tit-Bits.

Model Husband.
She—My husband has never spoken a harsh word to me in his life. He—Too considerate, eh? She—Oh, no. Too cautious.—London Opinion.

Windolph Bible.
Miss Margery J. Bible, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bible of Charlestown, Chester county, was married to Mr. Harry J. Windolph, Wednesday evening of last week, at the home of her parents, near Charlestown.

The house and lawn were artistically decorated with golden rods and ferns. As the wedding march from Lohengrin was being played by Miss Elizabeth Dunmore the bridal party appeared on the porch where the ceremony took place. The Rev. David Lord, pastor of the Charlestown Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Miss Joyce Bible attended her sister as maid of honor. Frank Windolph, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Herbert Windolph and Paul Sanders of Bethlehem and Clyde Bible.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Windolph will go to housekeeping at Rapp's Corner, West Pikeland, where they have their house ready for occupancy.

By all means see Stetson's famous Uncle Tom's Cabin Show—Garman's opera house, Bellefonte, September 25

Grass and Clover Seeds.
We have on hand timothy and other grass seeds, as well as clover seed. Your attention is called to a first grade western re-cleaned timothy seed. A comparison of this seed with the best home grown seed will convince any one of the superior quality. Price is right.—J. H. WEBER

Potters Mills
Mr. and Mrs. William Mingle of Ohio visited in town last week. Mrs. Armstrong fell last week and broke her shoulder.
Mrs. Tunnel of Spring Mills spent Saturday night at this place.
Miss Berger of Tiffin, Ohio, visited her aunt, Mrs. William Blauer, several days the past week.
Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Alexander and son, Elmer of Bellefonte spent a few days with the Smith families.
Mrs. G. H. McCormick and little son spent the last of the week with relatives at Aaronsburg.
Miss Nellie Wilkinson left on Wednesday for State College, where she expects to spend the next three months.
Mr. and Mrs. William Maritz of Tusseyville and Mr. and Mrs. William Carson of Spring Mills spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Armstrong.
