Two Farms Sold.

John D. Moore has purchased the upper Gregg farm and will move onto it next spring.

The farm at Tusseyville, for a number of years tenanted by Adam F. Heckman, and owned by the Franklin Hosterman estate, was purchased by John Hosterman, an heir, of Penn Hall. The price was $7000. The farm contains one hundred and twenty acres, of clear land, and a tract of sixteen acres of timber land in the Seven Mountains.

Mr. Hosterman is seriously thinking of moving onto the Tusseyville farm next spring, at which time Mr. Heckman will vacate it.

Krit News.

"One of the most consistent performers in the Post Intelligencer's Endurance Run of 421 miles was the Krit touring car driven by Harold L. Davies. The run was from Seattle to Cohasset Beach and return. The sturdy little machine took the hills and level roads with equal ease, it scooted over the rough spots with the best of them. The power of the machine and its durability soon became the talk of the run and driver Davies won the admiration of every one for the manner in which he brought his car through without a penalty. Sold by S. C. Brungart, Spring Mills.

Why Bryan Lectures.

During a brief defence of Secretary Bryan's lecture tours, Senator Martine told the senate that some of Mr. Bryan's "fixed charges" were the education of several young men.

"A few years ago Mr. Bryan was maintaining and educating two boys from Japan," declared Mr. Martine, "and today I believe he is educating three or four young men."

No other senator continued the subject and Mr. Martine's speech did not reveal who were Mr. Bryan's proteges.

"I have not talked with Mr. Bryan," said Senator Martine, after his statement on the floor, "but I believe he is now educating and supporting at least four young students. I believe further that out of his own pocket he is supporting a missionary in every independent foreign missionary field."

Potatoes wanted—Weber.

John G. King had the misfortune to fall and break a rib.

Some people leave footprints in the sands of time, and others cover their tracks.

White eggs, 36 cents per dozen; brown eggs, 30 cents per dozen. See Kerlin & Son's adv. in this issue.

The county commissioners are counting the ballots, and are having troubles of their own. The new primary law has added much work to that usually performed in the commissioners' office.

Andrew Miller, son of Mrs. Mary Miller, who now lives at Eaton, New Mexico, was hurt by being hit on the head with a piece of iron while at work. He has now fully recovered.

Equire F. A. Carson is on a study what to do with an eight-acre crop of potatoes that up to Tuesday were not frosted. What is bothering him is to decide whether to take an offer of seventy-five cents per bushel for the entire crop. Mr. Carson raises choice potatoes and always gets the top price.

SEPTEMBER COURT.

Judge Orvis Instructs Constables to Enforce Cigarette and Liquor Laws.

The September term of court convened on Monday morning. After the grand jury was called and sworn Charles Bilger was named as foreman.

Before the constables made their quadrennial report to the court, Judge Orvis specifically called their attention to the use of cigarettes and cigarette papers by boys and the legislation covering the same, and endeavored to impress upon the minds of the constables their duty in relation to the enforcement of the law in this respect as well as the liquor law.

The civil list of cases for the present week as well as next week was then gone over and the following cases disposed of:

There being no criminal cases ready for trial the first case called was that of Dr. G. S. Frank vs. overseers of the poor of Miles township.

In April of 1911 Sumner Stover of Miles township called Dr. Frank to attend his son. Six days later the doctor discovered the boy had appendicitis, and that an immediate operation was necessary. The father stated he could not pay for this, but the doctor proceeded, and with the aid of two other physicians the operation was performed on the 21st of April. The doctor attended the patient until he recovered, and presented the bill to the overseers. The overseers contended that they had a physician employed and that the Royer family was not in the pauper list; that the doctor was informed that they would not pay the bill; admitted they had not sent their physician to investigate the case. The doctor contended the case was one of emergency and that he could not cease to look after the case until some doctor would give the patient the necessary attention. The court ruled that the visits by the doctor prior to the discovery that the patient suffered from appendicitis could not be recovered for in this case, and submitted the case to the jury subject to a question of law reserved on the three questions of fact, whether it was an emergency case, whether the order of relief was valid, and whether the charges were reasonable. Verdict on Tuesday morning for the plaintiff for $97 44, subject to the questions of law reserved.

The Commonwealth vs. William Sowers, charged with desertion; prosecutrix Mary Sowers. Defendant waived the finding of the grand jury and pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay the costs, $1.00 fine, and $12.00 per month to the prosecutrix, and enter into a recognizance in the sum of $500 to carry out the decree.

Kerlin & Son—Eggs wanted, 30 and 36 cents per dozen.

Don't miss "Fine Feathers" Garmans Opera House, Bellefonte, Monday evening.

Potatoes wanted, right now. Call by telephone, or in person—J. H. Weber, Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fassett and child of Elders Ridge visited at the Evangelical parsonage during the past week.

According to a local paper published in his home town, Bruce Goodhart of Orangeville, Illinois, is raising some high priced hogs. He attended a county fair, and while there as good as sold one hog in the show pen for $100.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bressler of near Spring Mills have been entertaining Mrs. Harry Hoy of Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Hau, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raudeback of Jersey Shore, and Mrs. Hannah Luse of Centre Hall.

Farmers in Penna Valley have been busy sowing the wheat crop since the rains began falling, Wednesday of last week. By Saturday pretty nearly if not altogether all the wheat will be in the ground and in ample time for a good crop.

One of the Reporter's callers last week was Jared Mowery who came east from Youngstown, Ohio, to visit among old friends. Mr. Mowery is engaged in a vehicle repair shop that is doing a fine business. He is looking exceptionally well, and is feeling that way.

F. A. L. Harrison, the gentleman in charge of the Canadian exhibit, on Grange Park, was so well pleased with Centre Hall that he remained here until Monday. He visited Penna Cave, State College, trapped to the top of Nittany Mountain, and no doubt believes that Penna Valley is an ideal spot when agriculture is considered. Mr. Harrison is at Lewisburg fair this week.

YOUNG THUG CAPTURED.

One of the Thugs Who Assaulted and Robbed John Roush, in Fort Lee—Captured at Tylersville.

A Polander, about thirty years of age, was captured by State Policeman Burke, at Tylersville, and brought to the Centre county jail. It is thought he is one of the three men who assaulted John Roush in the Millheim Narrows on Tuesday forenoon, an account of which appeared in last week's issue of the Reporter.

Sheriff Lee and the detail of the state police stationed at Bellefonte made every effort to capture the robbers, but the Polander, who refuses to give his name or talk on any subject, is the only one arrested. It is thought the other men, or at least one of them, jumped a freight bound for Pittsburg. The other man, it is thought, remains in hiding in the mountains.

These three characters crossed Nittany Mountain on Monday previous to the robbery, and were regarded by those who sized them up as bad ones. Their guess was correct.

Mr. Roush has pretty well recovered from the bruises received on all parts of his body from the robbers. He came to Grange Park later where he joined the remainder of the camping party, and related his experiences with considerable interest. He felt that had there been but the one man who first attacked him he could have mastered him and meted him punishment, but with three he was unable to cope. He had some eighty dollars on his person that the robbers failed to secure.

1,500 AT STATE COLLEGE

Opening Day Sees Heavy Registration With 2,500 Mark Probable.

The Pennsylvania State College opened its fifty-fifth year on Friday with over 1,500 students regularly scheduled, and it is expected that the number will reach 2,000 when registration is completed. In the absence of General Beaver, president of the board of trustees, prevented by illness from attending the exercises, Vice President H. W. Mitchell of Pittsburg officially opened the college year. He congratulated the students on the remarkable growth of the college, which has doubled its proportions of five years ago.

President Sparks, in his welcome, spoke highly of the aid given by the state and of the proposed uses of the $1,200,000 appropriated. The freshman class, which numbers 600, contains no member encumbered with a condition. More than 200 men were refused admittance because they had entrance conditions. This check was resorted to in order to adequately care for the incoming class.

The Weather Man.

The September weather man has had all kinds of weather to give out. The beginning of the month was dry and hot, on the thirteenth it began clouding up, and on Tuesday night (16th) rain began falling. There were several showers Wednesday. It was very cloudy all day Thursday, and Friday, and on Saturday rain again fell, as it did also on Sunday. Monday was partially clear. Tuesday morning (22d) there was a heavy frost, mercury having fallen during the night to thirty, two below the freezing point, and this was followed by a clear day. The total rain fall for the week was one and sixty hundredths inches, sufficient to germinate sown wheat, and permit the preparation of the soil and sowing of seed.

Detective's Tales.

A new writer of detective stories, who within the last year has startled English and American readers by producing an entirely new line of stories of crime mysteries, is about to be exploited by the Sunday North American.

The first of the series of ten stories will be printed in the Sunday North American for October 5.

Dedication at Gatesburg.

The new Lutheran church, at Gatesburg, of which Rev. L. Stoy Spangler is the pastor, is nearing completion, and will be dedicated October 12th. The services will be in charge of A. H. Spangler, D. D., C. T. Aikens, D. D., and Rev. Isaac Krider. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Millinery Opening.

Miss Myra Kimport, State College, at 124 West College Avenue, announces her millinery opening Friday and Saturday, September 20th and 27th. You will find there an unusually large and fine display of pattern hats.

MONTGOMERY & CO. Bellefonte

Tusseyville
Miss Edna Ishler, who is employed at State College, is spending several weeks at the home of her mother at this place.

Mrs. Charles Frazier and son Luther and Mrs. Cora Beightol and son Steward spent Saturday at the Foster Frazier home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stoner of Millheim spent last week at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stoner.

James Runkle of Bellefonte and sister Mrs. Lydia High of Lock Haven visited at the home of their brother Hugh Runkle last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Frazier spent Sunday afternoon at the home of John Horner.

A pretty little baby girl is the latest fixture in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Horner, born to the happy parents a few days ago.

Miss Mabel Zerby, who has been employed at the Wilson home at Linden Hall, came to the home of her parents here last week where she will spend the winter.

Mrs. Maude Wolfe of Avis is spending a few weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sadie Neff.

On Friday Miss Mary Weaver went to Bellefonte where she will be the guest of Sheriff and Mrs. A. B. Lee.

The schools are in full blast here and the future resources of America are being developed by a corps of good, experienced teachers.

Recent local showers have moistened the ground somewhat, and the farmers are busy putting in their fall crops. Most of them will finish this week. Others are busy cutting corn that on high ground is ripe, while that on low land has not yet fully matured, but several heavy frosts have killed the stalk and it is all being harvested.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Royer was visited by the Death Angel on Saturday evening, 13th instant, and took hence the spirit of their beloved daughter Ethel, aged eight years. The parents are grief-stricken over their loss, and have the sympathy of the community in the hour of trial. Interment was made on Tuesday morning at the Evangelical church at Zion.

Stops Falling Hair

Hall's Hair Renewer certainly stops falling hair. No doubt about it whatever. You will surely be satisfied.

LOCALS.

Any man can tell a lie, but it is quite another matter to prove the truth of it.

There was a heavy frost Tuesday morning. Mercury had fallen during the night to 30 degrees, two degrees below the freezing point.

Read the Reporter advertisements. It will pay you. Merchants who advertise mean business; they buy right and can sell right.

Mrs. Thaddens Lindenfelder and daughter, Mrs. J. L. Rupert, of Altoona were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Knarr, last week.

The Pennsylvania railroad has placed an order for one hundred locomotives with the Baldwin Locomotive works. The cost will be about four million dollars.

William Cummings, one of the progressive young farmers in the North precinct of Potter, is just recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever which kept him on his back for about four weeks. Although not able to even direct farming operations for a time, the work was taken care of by Howard Frazier, his right hand man on the farm.

Democratic Nominations.
The returns from the primary election, so far as they concern the various townships, have not been summed up by the county commissioners at the time of the Reporter goes to press. The nominations appended were reported from the districts by telephone.
