VANISHED MOUNT MAZAMA.

It Was One of the Loftiest Peaks in the United States.

The highest mountain in Oregon is Mount Hood, 11,225 feet above the sea level. Compared with Mount Whitney, to the south in California, and Mount Rainier, to the north in Washington, each rising well above 14,000 feet, Mount Hood does not appear as a skyscraper.

Crater lake is the caldera of this extinct and collapsed volcano and is nearly six miles in diameter. The inside walls of the rim of the ancient mountain are in places nearly 4,000 feet high and almost perpendicular.

MARKS ON THE BAGGAGE.

They Tell Waiters Abroad the Kind of Man the Owner Is.

Much traveled persons who carefully examine their trunks will find there on a number of casual marks which they probably put down to the wear and tear imposed on the baggage.

The traveler who arrives at a hotel with his baggage marked with a straight upright line on either side of the locks is sure of good attention.
